In February one year ago the total enrollment of Bexley schools was 810. Today the enrollment is 1044, Superintendent Dieterich has announced. A gain of 28.8 per cent has been made in a year, an evidence of the rapid growth of Bexley, both in population and in children of school age. Further increase of this kind will make it imperative for the school board in the near future to make plans to take care of the rapid growth, Mr. Dieterich said.

BIG MAJORITY OF STUDENT BODY IN GYM EXHIBITION

Boys and Girls of All Grades Dance and Do Athletic Stunts At East High "Circus"

TO BUY EQUIPMENT

Practically two thirds of the student body of East High school took part in the fifth annual gym exhibition Thursday evening in the school gymnasium before a large assemblage of students, parents and friends.

Both girls and boys went through their thrilling and skillful stunts, in which they had been coached by Miss Dorothy Savage, teacher of physical education for girls and J. A. Stevens, teacher of physical education for boys. The school orchestra under the direction of Miss Harriet Batterson played, and Miss Marjorie Jones sang French songs in costume.

The program opened with figure marching by 10 A and 10 B girls after which girls of all grades, costumed in quaint dresses of the country, gave a Slovak folk dance. The boys' wand drill was a marvel of rhythm, as was the girls' Indian club exhibition, given by the advanced classes. The 11th grade girls danced a clog and a Rock and Wing and the 10 B's romped through The Jumping Jack, an athletic dance. The senior girls' advanced clogging class appeared in "Old Dutch" and the girls' basketball team had a relay race. There were group games and pyramids by both boys and girls.

The East High gym team starred in its performance on the rings. Cecil Lawson, 1177 East Rich street, a 3 sport man, showing his prowess on the flying rings, the parallel bars and the side horse. Cecil captained the '27 gym team and the '28 cross-country squad and is the pole vaulter on the track team. The solo Indian club performer was John Mercer.

The proceeds realized by the exhibition will be used to buy basketballs and baseballs and also mats for the gymnasium.

Coeds Are to Make Debut As Debaters

The first co-ed debate team in the history of Capital university will make its debut in a debate with the Wittenberg college team Monday evening in Mees hall. The Capital team, which is composed of Esther Bubels of Seymour, Wis.; Helen Zwayer of Hilliards, Ohio, and Margaret Schuh of Columbus, will defend the negative side of the question, Resolved that the United States should recognize Soviet Russia.

Superintendent Dieterich Is One Of Unusual Family Triad Of Educators

An unusual educational triad is found in the family of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Dieterich of Piketon, O., the parents of H. C. Dieterich, superintendent of Bexley schools. Three of their sons are well known Ohio superintendents, all of them having first served their native county of Pike as teacher or superintendent.

Besides their common interests in their work as school superintendents, the three brothers, George C., H. C., and E. N., have many interesting parallels in their careers. All are members of the same college fraternity, Delta Tau Delta, all are Masons, Rotarians and Methodists and all belong to the Ohio State Teachers' Association and the National Education Association.

Following his study at Ohio, Ohio State, Pittsburgh and Chicago universities, and co-incident with it, the elder brother, George C., taught in the rural schools of Pike county, was township superintendent in Scioto township, was principal of Sandusky High, superintendent at Groveport, and is now superintendent at Pique.

The second of the family, H. C., studied at Ohio State and Columbia and was teacher, high school principal and superintendent of Piketon schools, principal of Bowling Green High, teacher at Scott High, Toledo and superintendent of Ashtabula schools. His older brother is executive secretary of the Central Ohio Teachers' association and he is a member of the executive committee of the State Teachers' association.

The youngest brother, E. N., took his college work at Ohio Wesleyan, Ohio State and Ohio universities and was, successively, instructor in Chillicothe High, principal of Lockland High, superintendent of Pike County schools, instructor at East High, Columbus, superintendent of schools at Geneva and superintendent at Bucyrus.

With all their interests in common, the brothers differ in the spelling of their name. The oldest and the youngest spell it "Dietrich", while the second one holds on to his parents' version of "Dieterich".

Wilson Avenue Church People Active In Convention Plans

Rev. Mr. W. S. Collins, Pastor, Is General Chairman of Local Arrangements

YOUNG FOLKS TRAIN

East Side and Bexley residents are prominent on the local committee, making arrangements for what promises to be the biggest convention Columbus has seen since the Methodist Centenary. April 17 to 22 the International Convention of the Disciples of Christ or the Christian church will be held in Memorial hall, with arrangements made and carried out by Rev. Mr. W. S. Collins, pastor of the Wilson Avenue Church of Christ.

Assisting the general chairman, Mr. Collins, are W. R. Edmister, 187 S. Cassingham road, chairman of the finance committee; Earl W. High, 1097 Forest street, music; Charles E. Barr, 476 Linwood avenue, buildings and exhibits; H. O. Clark, 752 Seymour avenue, post office; all of whom are members of the Wilson Avenue Church of Christ.

J. F. Atkins, 64 South Eighteenth street, pastor of the Broad Street Church of Christ, assignments and registrations; J. N. Johnston, pastor of the Hilltop church, reception; H. M. Appleman, member of the Broad Street church, banquets; W. R. Walker, pastor of the Indianola church, communion; George L. Ashton, pastor of the South church, ushers; T. L. Lowe, pastor of the Fourth Avenue church, pulpit supply; F. L. Shoenberger of the Chamber of Commerce, publicity; Dr. Sterling B. Taylor of Grant avenue, hospital; I. C. Plummer, layman of the Northeast church, information, and Mrs. H. H. Shick, layman of the Broad street church, prayer room.

Expect About 7000

From 5000 to 7000 persons are expected to attend the convention, coming from Australia, New Zealand, British Columbia, England and all parts of the United States. Sixty per cent of the delegates, however, will come from within a radius of 500 miles, Mr. Collins says. It is expected that at least 2000 of the visitors will have to be housed in private homes.

In connection with the convention there will be held the Second Youth convention April 19-22 at the Broad Street Presbyterian church, with about 800 young people in attendance. Gordon Pickens, 595 Lilley avenue, is making the local arrangements.

The Wilson Avenue Church of Christ is making elaborate preparations to be ready to participate in the convention. Twenty-eight young people are enrolled in a discussion group, which meets at the Christian Endeavor hour, to take up the material for the youth's convention. Under the leadership of H. W. Emswiler, 617 Bulen avenue, principal of Starling Junior High school, they are being trained to discuss the questions to come up on the convention floor.

The Eversole guild of this church, a group of younger women, have offered to usher one day during the convention.

DAN AND DAVE HAVE BIG TRIP IN $15 FORD

Dan Gartrell, 15 year old son of Mrs. Lulu Gartrell and grandson of D. J. Fravel, 1409 Franklin avenue, and David Burnstine, 15 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus H. Bernstine, 1438 Brydan road, have just returned from an eventful trip. They traveled to Cincinnati in their $15 Ford to spend the week-end and came home in the same combination of seats, wheels, engine and tires. But not without mishaps!

The boys bought what Dan's grandfather calls the "Christopher Columbus model" about a month ago, paying $15 cash money for it. They tinkered at it for several weeks and finally got it in shape for the big trip. Friday they left Columbus at 2 o'clock and arrived in Cincinnati at 5:45, not a bad record for "Chris." At Cincinnati they had to buy a few parts, they admit, but they saw the sights of the city and started back to Columbus Sunday about noon, hoping to get home in time for school Monday morning.

They jogged along the highway uneventfully enough until they reached Cedarville, when three punctures happened all at once. A friendly garage man happened along and so encouraging were his overtures that at 7:20 p. m. they telephoned their homes to say that they hoped to reach the East Side that night. The friendly man, entertained by the sight of three punctures all at once, had given them one inner tube, and although they had to ride from there to Columbus without lights, they returned at 10 p. m. Sunday night.

"Oh, we tinker three days and ride one, but we get there," the boys say.

LYNCH FORD HAS HARD WEEK-END

New Auto is Banged Up by Run-Away Horse; Neighbor's Has Similar Bad Luck

"Bent Fender Corner" is what business men at Main and Twenty-Second streets are calling that intersection, following "accident days" Saturday and Monday. Most of the damage was done to the new Ford of Ed Lynch's dad, but Norbert Ryan's car, an innocent bystander, also suffered.

Ed Lynch, dry cleaner, 1016 East Main street, is waiting delivery on a truck, and was using his four-year old Ford as a substitute. He had a chance to sell it at a bargain and did so last Friday. Saturday he persuaded his father to let him use his brand-new Model A, with a mileage of only 420 miles, and parked the shiny vehicle outside his shop. Two squares east Henry Meisner had left the milk wagon, which he drives for the Central Ohio Dairy Co., while he took milk to a neighboring housewife. The horse, thus left alone, became frightened when a careless driver dumped a load of coal into Main street with a great clatter, and galling the wagon behind him, tore through the red light at Ohio avenue, and collided with "dad's" new car.

The car, feeling the bump, rolled ahead into a truck, which in turn crashed into Ryan's auto. Lynch's new machine, when it emerged from the fracas, had a rolled-up rear fender a similar front fender, a smashed bumper, a broken tail-light and a broken horn. Ryan's car had a bent fender.

Monday the insurance company promptly made adjustment on Ryan's car and again he parked it in front of his father's restaurant at 1012 E. Main street. At noon he heard a crash and running to the street, he found that a Chrysler 50 coupe cab had hit him and had curled up the same new fender.

MAIN ST. FILLING STATION HELD UP

A thief with a blue steel revolver held up Harry Cruikshank, 31 Auburn avenue, attendant at the Scarlet and Gray filling station, Main street and Nelson road, Sunday and took $90. The man than ran north in Nelson road and escaped.

TRAFFIC VIOLATORS PAY FINES

J. M. O'Neill, 1102 Westwood boulevard, paid the largest fine from among traffic violators who were up before Mayor Stephen Ludwig of Bexley Saturday morning. He was assessed $25. R. L. Snyder, Fort Hayes hotel; E. E. Hoadley, 1001 Northwest boulevard and Randall M. Mitchell, 362 East Broad street, each paid $10, while Price P. Kenor, 670 East Town street; Fred Schell, 1064 West Broad street; and J. P. Armstrong, 234 North Vine street, were fined $5.

Bond was forfeited in the case of E. H. Forsythe of Battle Creek, Mich., and the case of Frank Tuthunter, 1483 South High street, was continued.

The safety of the children of Bexley as they go to and from school or as they run errands for mother is the constant concern of the village councilmen as they make plans every two weeks for paving streets, laying sidewalks, cutting down noxious weeds and regulating traffic. The beauty of the village and the convenience of the residents are also guiding principles, but even they must be cast aside when the safety of children is involved, the council members agree.

The biggest problem council has on its hands at present is the regulation of traffic near the Junior High school on Cassingham road. Some time ago council decreed that there should be parking only on the west side of the road and that there should be one-way traffic, northbound, from Fair to Powell avenues, making a detour at Powell avenue necessary. The regulation was rigidly enforced for some time, then everyone grew careless, and the result has been a congestion that is dangerous to the lives of small children.

Parking and driving rules are now to be rigidly enforced with Chief of Police Gray on hand to remind motorists of the law. But the situation cannot be adequately handled unless every Bexley motorist cooperates with him. There must be no grumbling because a motorist has to walk several blocks—time was not very far distant when we all walked more and probably were better for it.

Councilman Allen Pretzman is considering having a list of instructions for motorists printed and placed in the autos of everyone who parks near the school. When he does so, take the list home with you and study it and abide by its suggestions. It may mean the saving of a life of a small child and that consideration looms higher than any other with Bexley residents as well as with its councilmen.

FLYS THROUGH AIR BUT LANDS SAFELY

A helper on a Dispatch truck distributing papers on the East Side, had a peculiar experience last Friday afternoon, when the truck in which he was riding collided with a large sedan at the corner of East Main St. and Kelton avenue. It was a snowy day, with slush on the streets, and when the truck driver put on his brakes at the corner to avoid a collision, the driver of the other car did the same thing. Both slid on the wet streets and crashed into each other with a bump. The helper, who was counting papers on the running board, was thrown from his feet, across the driver and wheel of the truck and landed safely on his feet on the street on the opposite side.

The front axle of the truck was bent and the two front wheels were damaged.

"A MANICURE — QUICK!"

The "Times" hadn't been out two hours Friday evening before the Directory Editor's phone began an almost incessant ringing.

Among our calls was one frantic appeal: "I see you have a list of East Side beauty parlors in your directory; would one of them give me a manicure right away, tonight?"

We're not supposed to know quite everything, but we were glad to name those most likely to accommodate her. Then, "Oh, thank you. I was invited out to a dinner and just had to ———" Click! The remark was probably finished as she dialed the first number we gave her.

If you are in a profession or in business on the East Side or in Bexley you should be in the Directory!

Churches Plan Extra Services As Holy Week Celebration

Many Congregations To Gather For Week-Day Meetings Each Evening

PREPARE FOR EASTER

The full measure of devotion, which Holy Week and the Easter season symbolizes, will be accorded the church by East Side and Bexley churchgoers next week. All denominations of churches have planned extra services, many of them to be held each night in the week.

The two East Side catholic churches are planning special masses for Thursday, Friday and Saturday, as well as for Sunday. Holy Rosary and St. John the Evangelist churches are announcing masses for the three week days at 7:30 o'clock both morning and evening, with special music by the choir for the solemn high mass Easter Sunday.

Three Hour Passion

As a proper observance of Holy Week, there will be special services in St. Alban's Episcopal church of Bexley every day as follows: Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Holy Communion at 10 a. m. and Litany and Penitential office at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, Holy Communion at 10 a. m. and a service in commemoration of the institution of the Lord's Supper at 7:30 p. m. TRUCK SMASHES PLUG AND POLE

Driver Loses Control of Car in Trying to Avoid Non-Stopping Ford

A fast-riding Ford, which failed to make a stop at Main street as its driver turned off of Linwood avenue from the south, caused a bad mix-up near the northeast corner of Main street and Linwood avenue Tuesday morning.

A Holsum Bakery Co. truck, driven by M. A. Rooney, 880 Oak street, was riding east on Main street, expecting all drivers turning from side streets to stop for the main highway. The Ford driver, however, failed to do so, and in swerving to avoid hitting him, Rooney lost control of the truck. The big car rolled across Main street, struck the fire plug and broke it and did not stop until it had smashed the electric light pole nearby. Rooney had his hand cut and his chest slightly injured and his truck got a badly-bent front axle, a smashed steering gear and shifting apparatus and a broken windshield. The Ford drove on without stopping.

As the result of the broken electric light pole current was turned off in the district between Bryden road and Main street for a few hours and many telephone calls were received, complaining that washing machines could not be used. A new pole was installed in several hours' time and the Columbus fire department had a new fire plug in by noon.

All Bexley schools will hold mid-term examinations Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, April 2, 3 and 4. FIFTY GIRLS GET "TIGER" EMBLEM

Must Receive 210 Points Based on Athletic Ability and Sportsmanship

Fifty East High school girls are to receive the orange and black emblem of the Girls' Tiger association next week, denoting that they have been playing on one of the class basketball teams, and have received points for being prepared, for being sportsmanlike and for having few or no fouls on the floor. The emblems are given to those students who have received 210 points.

The points are based on the following accomplishments: turning out when unable to play, playing in a game, having a complete uniform, for no or one or two personal fouls during a game, for sportsmanship and for originality.

The last of the inter-class basketball games are being played off this week to decide the school championship. The 10 B's have been eliminated; the 10 A's played the Juniors Tuesday and the winners play the seniors Friday with the championship at stake.

Nineteen players on the boys' basketball team received their E's and became members of the East Tiger association at a mass meeting in the auditorium Thursday morning. Members of the swimming team were awarded E's also.

MAIN ST. FRONTAGE SOLD TO STALLMAN

William A. Wharton has sold the two-story brick storeroom and apartment and the one-story frame storeroom at 2256-58-60 East Main street, opposite Capital university, to Howard P. Stallman, according to announcement made by Fred W. McCann, realtor. It is understood that Mr. Stallman will replace the frame storeroom with a brick building about June 1 to extend over additional frontage and to contain storerooms and apartments.

Mr. Wharton has been in this Main street location for 12 years, having erected the present buildings, where for several years he conducted a hardware store. Selling that to F. B. McIntyre, the present owner, he built the frame building and with J. L. Kruckeberg opened a grocery. Since last December the Bexley post-office has been located in Wharton's grocery and has been operated by Mr. Wharton. He will continue to handle a general line of insurance from his apartment at 2256 East Main street, but will give up the Bexley post-office. TO MAKE PERMITS CLEARER AS TO SET-BACK LINES

Committee Appointed to Designate Exact Location of Each Outside Wall

REYNOLDS HOUSE EXCEPTED

A movement to make the Bexley building permit clearer and more definite in regard to the exact location of each outside wall of a new dwelling and also as to what constitutes the set-back line was started Tuesday night by the village council, following its consideration of the application of J. P. Reynolds for th exemption of his residence, now in process of construction, from the zoning ordinance.

Mayor Ludwig appointed Councilmen Kerr and Pretzman as a committee to meet with the zoning commission and with Building Inspector J. P. Dunlop for consultation on the matter. It was suggested by W. R. Edmunster of the zoning commission that a sheet specifying what constitutes the set back line be given to each applicant for a permit, while Councilman Wheaton suggested that the building plans brought in by the applicant be stamped, marking which part of the house is to be considered the front line.

Council acted favorably upon the recommendation of the planning commission that Mr. Reynolds' dwelling be exempted from the ordinance, on the plea that Mr. Reynolds did not understand that the enclosed vestibule could not be placed in front of the set-back line. Mr. Reynold's home, located at 76 North Cassingham avenue, has an extended vestibule projecting four feet to the front of the set-back line. His counsel, Barton Griffith, Jr., said that his client had the written consent of the owner of one adjoining property and the oral assurance of the owner of other adjoining parcel and that no protestant had appeared before the zoning commission, in response to a printed notice. He contended that the stonework had proceeded to practical completion before the violation was discovered and that the removal of the vestibule would mar the house and destroy the attractiveness of the neighborhood.

The Masonic fraternity, headed by the Grand Lodge of Ohio, will lay the cornerstone of the new Bexley Methodist Episcopal church on the afternoon of Easter Sunday, the ceremonies to start at 2:30 o'clock.

The program for the cornerstone laying is being arranged by Allen W. Williams, 51 Meadow Park avenue, and will include Masons of statewide renown.

"We have had some difficulty in obtaining material for this purpose, but expect to proceed the first of April," the letter to Solicitor Peters read.

ACCREDITED LIST INCLUDES BEXLEY

Village School Remains in Favor With North Central Association of Colleges

Bexley High school remains unqualifiedly on the accredited list of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary schools.

At a recent meeting of the officers and representatives of the association Bexley High was again put on the list without any qualifications, which means that Bexley graduates who take the proper courses in high school work can enter any of the colleges of the association without examination. Included in the membership of the North Central association are all the state universities, as well as the high-grade colleges of the Middle West, thus providing a large field for Bexley graduates to enter upon presentation of their diplomas.

"This is a distinct honor and is a recommendation that excellent work is being done," Superintendent Dieterich says.

Notification of the honor came by letter from the state department of education, signed by E. E. Morley, F. C. Landsittel and T. Howard Winters, chairman, and reading as follows:

"We are pleased to advise you that your school was placed on the list of those unqualifiedly recommended by the state committee and that it was so accepted by the committee of the North Central association."

Mr. Cherry claims to be the oldest building contractor in point of service in the city, substantiating his claim by exhibiting a building permit, issued Aug. 18, 1883 for a frame house for the late George E. Bright on St. Clair avenue, near Mt. Vernon avenue.

Mrs. James M. Butler and children, James and Ellen, will return April 1 from St. Petersburg, Fla., where they spent the month of March at the Sereno hotel.

Councilmen Prepare To Meet Contingency of "No Water"

WAR ON TRASH AND WEEDS

To meet the contingency of Columbus cutting off the water supply of Bexley and thus attempting to "strong arm" the village into annexation, Bexley council Tuesday night passed a motion that the village engineer revise previous estimates as to the cost of a plant for Bexley, as to the time for installation and construction and as for operating costs.

The matter was brought up by Councilman Pretzman who told his fellow solons that Bexley must be prepared in case the contract, which expires in April, 1929, is not renewed by Columbus council. He reminded them that Columbus had threatened to cut off the village supply in order to try to force annexation and said it would be good business to have plans laid and to know what the cost will be. Previous estimates, when Bexley was looking forward to a population of 25,000, came to about $100,000 for erection of tanks and construction of artesian wells, the engineer said, but with the increase of population, the cost will now be more, he brought out.

Spring Cleaning On

A spring clean-up of alleys and yards was ordered by Mayor Ludwig and council, with the authorization of the serving of notices, addressed to householders, calling attention to the provisions of the ordinance on the disposal of trash and rubbish. After the serving of the notices by day policemen, its provisions are to be carried out within ten days. The municipal office has on file the names and addresses of men who can be employed to carry off rubbish and will give these names to anyone upon demand, the mayor said. In connection with this matter, two complaints were lodged by residents near Dawson avenue and Main street relative to the leaving of garbage, boxes and paper left by a neighboring grocery.

The noxious weed nuisance was attacked by council in the passage of [illegible] that written notice be given to householders or property owners that weeds on their property are about to spread or mature seeds and that they must be cut. In case the owners fail to comply council has power to employ necessary labor to do the cutting and enter the expenses upon the owner's tax duplicate as a lien upon the land.

Alley To Be Vacated

Property owners on Cassady avenue, represented by James Boulger, 328 South Cassady and U. C. Kaufman, 316 South Cassady, asked that the alley between Cassady and Ardmore road be abandoned at the south end or that the village give them permission to do something in the way of draining. Mr. Boulger stated that water from Ardmore road and other territory south filled Mr. Kaufman's lots, as well as lots of other residents and that if the alley were abandoned, the residents would grade it or would pay the expenses of having it graded by the village. Council agreed to entertain a petition from abutting property owners, asking that the alley be vacated, provided the village be allowed easement. "Alleys in Bexley are nuisances," councilmen stated.

Councilman Kerr and Marshall Shadrach were appointed by Mayor Ludwig to confer with residents of Roosevelt avenue, from Powell avenue south for 176 feet, in regard to having them help with the expense of putting in a temporary road and sewage. The residents have complained that they cannot get in and out their houses, but village officials say they discouraged these people from getting building permits until a road was built through.

Police were instructed to prohibit parking in front of driveways on Dawson avenue between Main and Sherwood, as the result of complaints. In order to correct the condition in Bryden road between Parkview and Drexel avenues, which constitutes a power hazard, the street light lead is to be moved. Elm street is to be paved 30 feet wide from Cassady to Cassingham, according to decision made Tuesday night. The borrowing of money was authorized for improving Dawson avenue from Main to Fair and issuance of bonds approved for improving Walnut street from Maryland avenue to Delmar drive and Drexel avenue from Maryland to Caroline avenue; also for a storm sewer in Clifton avenue between Alum Creek and 300 feet west of Parkview. Cassady avenue, between Broad street and Maryland avenue, is to have lights on both sides of the street.

From the residence of the late Mrs. Mary C. Schenk, 2450 North Commonwealth avenue, he is alleged to have taken a gun, a pair of shoes and a razor and from the G. C. Horst home at 224 North Drexel avenue, he is charged with stealing a diamond ring, watches and other jewelry and clothes.

McFarland, who has served five years in the penitentiary, was apprehended after he had pawned a $200 diamond pin for $4 and had sold a $200 gold watch to a stranger on the street.

Pioneer Dealer Has Seen Automobile Grow From Costly Toy To Necessity

An automobile dealer in the days when a one-cylinder, gas-lighted, buggy-like car cost about $1000; still an automobile dealer in these days when even four-cylinder models are most luxuriously equipped for much less than $1000—that is the record of F. E. Avery, dealer in Pontiac and Oakland cars, 1196 Franklin avenue.

Mr. Avery, who opened probably the first automobile salesroom in Columbus in 1900, is the only pioneer dealer in Columbus still in business. Through all the 28 years during which he has handled the old Winton, the Oldsmobile, the Packard, the Detroit Electric and the Pontiac and Oakland, he has maintained the same location. At first it was a small place, the outgrowth of a bicycle and tire business; now it occupies nearly half a block, with salesrooms, offices and garage.

Mr. Avery started in 1900, handling the old Winton, a model resembling the old-fashioned surrey, with a "saw-mill" one-cylinder motor. He can remember when folks gathered at their windows and on their door steps to see the horseless carriage go by and to laugh when the mechanic had to "get out and get under."

Then he took on the old curved dash Oldsmobile, boasting four cylinders and costing about $2800. It carried the generator mounted on the running board, had acetylene gas lights, tires with a clincher rim, clamped onto the fellow at five different points, and a tool box mounted behind with a "tiger" seat thereon, the ancestor of today's rumble seat. The upholstery was of red leather, the drive was a right-hand one and the brake was on the outside. Last but not least, the contraption had to be cranked and so heavy was the job, that the average car-owner carried his mechanic with him. The automobile was no toy for a poor man in those days, Mr. Avery observes.

Mr. Avery has seen the electric automobile reach the height of its popularity and then almost disappear from the streets. "It is traffic that plays hob with the electric," he says. "It takes current to start the car each time it stops in traffic and that current costs money. We still have enough electrics, however, to keep one man busy on them in the shop; there are still people who feel that they cannot drive a gasoline car after they have become used to the electrics."

For several years Mr. Avery maintained a Pontiac-Oakland agency downtown, also, but he has disposed of that and at present is confining his time and efforts to the Franklin Avenue agency, with no connection with any other concern.

Miss Grace Finney, 701 Linwood avenue, is visiting friends in Logan, Ohio.

The Mirror of our Dreams

I can think of nothing better than that a man and woman should spend their lives in making this dream come true. That they have a home of their own, a place where they can take their rest at the end of the day's toil, out under the sky, amid the flowers and vines, a place where the roses of love and happiness bloom, and where the birds come and make music all the day.

And then, when that autumn of life has come to them and the shadows are beginning to lengthen in the West, here in this spot where they have painted the background of their lives, they can truly find that peace and contentment which we commonly associate with age.

They can look upon the world, and in spite of a multitude of cares agone, which have stooped their shoulders and slowed their step, they can look into each other's eyes and say:

"Life is good, and sweet and worthwhile!"

Let us do what we can to make this a land of contentment, and beauty and happiness; a nation where every man is a freeholder, every yard a garden and every house a place of comfort and refuge against the storms and stress of life. Let us do what we can to make our homes, and the home of every man in the East Side and Bexley the MIRROR OF OUR DREAMS!

Number Of Permits For March Below 1927; Valuation Greater

Building Department Approves 58 Jobs, Which Are to Cost $326,000 to Complete

RESIDENCES LEAD

A slight drop in the number of building permits issued in March, 1928, and a $46,000 increase in the valuation of those permits was announced by Building Inspector O. P. Dunlop of the Bexley building department, in comparing figures for 1928 with those for 1927.

In March, 1928, 58 permits for houses, garages, doubles, duplexes and additions had a valuation of $326,000 while those issued in March, 1927, totaled 64 with a valuation of $280,250. The stone and stucco residence planned by Ross W. Cheek at 72 Meadow Park avenue, to cost $35,000 and the stone and stucco one planned by A. G. Lohnes at 178 Stanbery avenue, to cost $25,000, as well as the building at 523-31 South Drexel avenue, containing six storerooms with apartments above, planned by Walter Morrison to cost $35,000, helped swell the valuation total for March, 1928.

Exceeds Feb. Total

March, always a good month for the building department, had almost twice as many permits as February, with a record of 34, and the total valuation for February of $195,400 was almost doubled during March. Residences sanctioned during March, 1928 were valued at $268,000, as against $248,700 in March, 1927 and $130,900 in February, 1928; garages were valued at $7,100 in March, 1928, as against $8,650 in March, 1927, and $5,500 in February, 1928; duplexes, doubles, additions and remodeling came to $50,900 in March, 1928, as against $22,900 in March, 1927 and $50,000 in February, 1928.

The 58 permits for last month were divided as follows: 26 residences, 23 garages and 9 additions and remodeling jobs.

Residences to be built according to March permits are: H. E. Cook, 261 North Ardmore avenue, two-story brick and shingle, $11,500, with garage to cost $300; George W. THIEF SURPRISED BY DEPUTY REED

Night Prowler Flees From Bexley Grocery With Only Six Cents Loot

Anight prowler probably would have helped himself to the entire contents of the cash register at the Cenci Bros. grocery, 2461 East Main street, if Deputy Reed of the Bexley police force had not appeared upon the scene. Because of the appearance of Deputy Reed, he was frightened away with six cents in pennies in his pockets.

Informed by a neighbor that a man was forcing his way into the back door of the grocery last Thursday, Deputy Reed drove to the spot and saw a man through the front window rifling the cash register. He shot through the window, upon which the man ran out through the back door. The deputy fired two more shots and chased the prowler north of Main street, but lost track of him when he escaped in his automobile parked nearby.

The thief had made entry by breaking the glass in the back door.

AMENDMENTS ARE PASSED BY STUDENT "REPRESENTATIVES"

The Constitution of the United States has been amended to do away with the electoral college, with each state still holding its apportioned number of electoral votes, and also to establish a uniform child labor law throughout the United States. Bulletin.

But how, you say, could these important changes have taken place without you not having read about them in the daily papers? The reason is that the Bexley High school "house of representatives" works faster than the Washington body and at its last meeting in March passed the two amendments, as stated above.

Other legislation approved by the youthful "representatives" were a bill "to promote consolidation and cooperation in the mines and marketing of bituminous coal" and an act to do away with the ravages of the "corn borer." A bill providing for free trade with Canada was defeated by a small majority. The civic classes at the high school take this method of studying national law making.

THIEVES GET $400 FROM DAVIES BROS.

The sum of $147 was stolen by masked bandits, who held up the Davies Bros. grocery, 1323 East Fulton street, Saturday evening and escaped in an automobile, driven by a member of their gang.

Three men, all armed, entered the grocery at 7:35 p. m. and ordered Mr. Davies, Martin Miller, 1366 East Fulton street, and Mrs. Thomas W. Reese 1338 Cole street into a large meat refrigerator, where they were imprisoned. Hugh Reedy, 514 Carpenter street, a clerk and three boys, Richard Eckart, 1269 Cole street; Glen and Herbert Smith, 621 Kimball Place avenue, were covered while the man opened the cash register. Here they experienced difficulty and forced Mr. Davies to come from the refrigerator, open the cash register, and then reenter the ice box.

After the robbery they drove off in the automobile driven by the fourth member of the band.

SPEAKS AT MEETING RETURNED MISSIONARY

Miss Leno Russell, 761 Euclaire avenue, a missionary from India, spoke at the Sunday School board meeting of the Bexley M. E. church, held following a dinner at the Willard restaurant Wednesday evening. Twenty were present. Miss Russell arrived in Columbus Sunday morning.

SENIORS TO GIVE W. SHAKESPEARE'S TAMING OF SHREW

FOLLOW TRADITION

The thirtieth annual play given by senior students at East High school will take place May 1 and 2 in the auditorium under the direction of Miss Mabel Hughes, dramatic instructor. Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew" has been chosen, thus following the tradition of giving Shakespearean or classical plays. A tentative cast, which is double for most of the leading parts, has been chosen and is rehearsing right through the Easter holidays.

Edna Buchanan and Adeline Bornstein have been picked for the part of the wilful Katherine; Helen Levison and Marjorie Hunter for Bianca; Fred Morton and William Adamson for Petruchio; James McDowell for Baptista; Albert Glisdorf for Vincentio; Kelton Jones for Lucentio; Cloyce Jones for Gremio; Lester Thompson for Hortensio; Philip Linhart for Tranio; Robert Smith for Bjondello; Gordon Kanath for a pedant.

Dorothy Deischley and Evelyn Nassau for a widow; Walter Engle for Grumio; Ann Gastrell for Curtis; Ruth Jones, Mary Louise Miller, Frances Davis, Betty Luttrell, Marian Bagent, Ervin Fleischer, Ralph Osborn, Robert McIntyre and Eugene Fisher for servants; Marguerite Pritchett, Grace Mitchell, Virginia Axline, Maxine Myers, Thelma Scribner, Betty Dietar, Florence Frank, and Frances Burnstein for ladies-in-waiting, and Ben Harmon, a haberdasher.

Talmadge Crawshaw, John Mercer and Edward Bastian are to be stage managers; Margaret Marian and Mary Pixley are to be prompters; Dorothy Cox and Jeannette Hayes, dressmakers. Robert Collins, faculty member, is general business manager and Miss Harriet Patterson will direct the music.

Capital Dormitory Residents Are Fed From Quality Menus At $5.55 Per

Three meals a day at an average cost of 26 cents apiece or $5.55 a week, at which only quality eggs, butter, meats, fruits and vegetables are served! Does it sound possible?

That mottled question as to the minimum amount of money to be set aside in the budget for feeding a family has been solved for the year for the 80 girls, making up the family in the girls' dormitory at Capital university, in a manner that would strike envy to the hearts of the most efficient of housewives. As an experiment during the first year of the existence of the new dormitory, the college is making a charge of $300 a year, $200 of which is set aside for board. The girls gather around the table 36 weeks during the year, so that a simple problem in addition shows that each is paying about $5.55 a week, or an average of 26 cents a meal. Dean Eich in a survey of Ohio colleges has found no other college which charges less than $400 a year, so that the daringness of the experiment can be inferred from that fact.

No Weekly Duplication

Budgets are made out each week by Mrs. G. C. Gast, assistant dean, and all the buying is done by Stanton Bachman, business manager of the college. Mrs. Gast is very careful to see that there is no duplication of menus for each day of the week, so that the old game in dormitories and boarding houses of guessing correctly what is to be served every Saturday for dinner cannot be played at Capital. Mr. Bachman's slogan is "Quality even above Quantity," although it can be seen from sample menus printed below that quantity is not slighted.

During the week, April 2 to 8, Capital coeds are being nourished as follows: Monday, breakfast—grapefruit, puffed rice, toast and coffee; lunch—pea soup, kidney bean, onion and pickle salad, biscuits and marmalade, tapioca pudding and tea; dinner—ham scalloped with potatoes, scalloped corn, cold slaw, pineapple upside down cake and coffee. Tuesday, breakfast—apple sauce, oatmeal, bread and jam and cocoa; lunch—baked potato, creamed dried beef, celery and olives, canned cherries and tea; dinner—hamburg steak, spaghetti and tomato, buttered peas, Mexican slaw and chocolate pie.

Wednesday—sliced oranges, scrambled eggs, coffee cake and coffee; lunch—baked beans, bacon, bran muffins, prune whip and tea; dinner—liver and onions, mashed potatoes, scalloped tomatoes, combination salad, ice cream and cakes. Thursday, breakfast—prunes, grapenuts, toast and cocoa; lunch—sweet potatoes baked with marshmallows, cold sliced ham, pickles, bran muffins, fruit compote and tea; dinner—pork chops, mashed potatoes, string beans, celery and olives, apple sauce, pineapple cream pie.

Friday, breakfast—sliced peaches, pop, cinnamon rolls and coffee; lunch—macaroni and cheese, scalloped tomatoes, whole wheat bread, pickles, baked apple and tea; dinner—Swiss steak, creamed potatoes, buttered beets, Waldorf salad, ice cream, cakes and coffee. Saturday, breakfast—sliced bananas, cornflakes, bread and jam and coffee; lunch—baked hash, scalloped corn, celery, canned berries and tea; dinner—smothered veal, mashed potatoes, lima beans, lettuce with 1000 island dressing and chocolate pudding. Sunday, breakfast—grapefruit, pecan rolls, sausage and coffee; dinner—chicken noodles, mashed potatoes, peas and carrots, celery and olives, ice cream and cake and coffee; supper—weiners and rolls, fruit and cakes.

Home-like Atmosphere

To make the dining room as homelike a place as possible the senior at the head of each small table serves the meat and potato and the junior, opposite her serves the vegetable. The freshmen and sophomores take turns removing the plates after the first course and bringing in the dessert. Breakfast is served at 7 o'clock, that the girls may make their 7:30 a. m. classes; lunch is at 11:50 a. m., and dinner at 5:45 p. m. When the students have guests, breakfast is charged for at a rate of 25 cents; lunch, the same and dinner, 60 cents.

Mrs. Pearl Holland is the cook for this hungry crowd and since the girls help with the serving, she needs only the assistance of a boy in the kitchen, two college boys to run the electric dish-washer, one girl to set the tables, and one girl to clear them. She has a model kitchen with electric potato peeler, electric potato masher, electric refrigerators, apple peeler, electric food chopper and electric dish washer. The girls have voted her "perfect" in seasoning of food and declare that they never tire of her home cooked meals.

CLERK BARNETT WANTS TO READ YOUR METER

Semi-annual water bills are being sent out by the village of Bexley, all of them having gone out with the exception of about 300 or 400, E. D. Barnett, water works clerk reports. He states that he is having trouble finding most of the remaining residents at home that he might read the meter, and he is requesting people who are going to be away from home during a greater part of the day to call the municipal office to set a time when the meter can be read. The telephone number is Fr. 2298 and a message can be left for Mr. Barnett any time during the day.

A new Ford roadster has been acquired by the village of Bexley to be used by David Shaurash, marshal.

Sunrise Services Are Popular As Observance Of Holy Easter

CANTATAS PLANNED

The dawn of Easter Day will be a time of celebration for many of the East Side churches, which are adding a sunrise prayer and worship service at about 6 o'clock to their regular services of communion, baptism, reception of members and special Easter music.

A call to the sunrise prayer meeting will be made from the church tower of the Morgan Memorial M. E. by a brass quartet, which will play Easter hymns. Immediately after the prayer meeting members will join in an Easter breakfast, will go on to Sunday school and then to church, where children will be baptised according to the Rose Croix method, and new members will be received. A bouquet of flowers and a canary bird will be given to each child who is baptised. In the evening the cantata "Crucifixion and Resurrection" will be sung by the combined chorus.

A sunrise prayer service followed by a breakfast is scheduled for the Wilson Avenue Reformed church, where Dr. C. E. Schaeffer of Philadelphia, general secretary for home missions, will assist in the regular morning service and at the groundbreaking ceremony for the new church at 6 p. m. Rev. S. L. Royer of Canal Winchester, president of the Central Ohio classis, will help at that time. The choir will sing the cantata "Eastertide" at 7:30 p. m.

Washington Avenue United Brethren, Wilson Avenue Church of Christ and Miller Avenue Evangelical will also worship in the early morning hours. At the Washington Avenue church the vested choir including 40 voices under the direction of Mrs. Frances Campbell will appear for the first time at 10:30 a. m.

Miss Emma Ratcliff is pianist. Decision day in the Sunday school and church is scheduled for the Wilson Avenue church and there will be baptism at the sunrise meeting, where 300 are expected to attend. The Christian Endeavor societies of the Miller Avenue church will direct the sunrise service under the leadership of Mrs. C. L. Allen. The outstanding feature at this church will be the 350 Easter lilies, presented as Memory flowers, in honor of friends or loved ones who have died. The names of all thus remembered will be printed in the Easter bulletin. There will be reception of members and Easter music both morning and evening.

The Easter service of music at the Mayflower Congregational church in the evening will include anthems by the choir, assisted by Mary John Dixon, violinist; Mignon Moore Forrey, soprano; Mr. Freshwater, baritone; Mrs. Sauvegot, Agnes Enright and Florence Eilber, soloists; Anna Klages, pianist; Kenneth White and Milly Roberts, cornet and Carl Hoffman, trombone. New members will be received in the morning.

At Oakdoow M. E. the evening service will be replaced by a vesper service at 4:30 p. m., with music by the choir, directed by Arthur Roberts, and solos by Mrs. Ralph Drake, contralto, Miss Etta Mae Thomas, violinist; Raymond Humphreys, tenor; Mabel Martin, cellist; Mrs. D. Hartman, organist; Miss Florence Eilber, soloist; Dr. Leroy Johnson, soloist and Miss Harris and Mr. Keever. Baptismal service and reception of members will be followed by special music in the morning. A vesper service at 4:30 p. m. is planned also for the First Presbyterian church, at which time Miss Zella Roberts, harpist and Miss Alice Laughridge, singer, will provide the music. In the morning Miss Laughridge will sing and Miss Katherine Zettler will play the violin.

Pictures of the Holy Land and of places of interest to Bible students will be shown at Easter night service at Christ Lutheran church. They were formerly the property of the late Asis Schahla, student from Jerusalem at Capital university. Rev. Mr. C. V. Sheatsley will explain the slides. In the morning the children's class will be confirmed and Holy Communion will be celebrated. At St. Alban's church, a church school festival at 4 o'clock will replace the regular church school meeting at 9:30 a. m.

Baptism, reception of members and special music is featured by the Bexley Presbyterian, Bexley Methodist and Franklin Park M. E. churches in the morning. At the latter church, the young people's luncheon conference will be held at 5:30 p. m. Seventy-five members have been received by the First English Lutheran church during the Easter period. The Junior choir there will sing "Dawning" Easter night. The Sunday school will give an Easter program of songs, recitations and dialogues at the Hope Evangelical Lutheran and Grace Lutheran churches.

STOTZ BALLOONS HAVE 100 MILE WIND JOURNEY

An experiment with balloons tried last Saturday by clerks of Edwin S. Stotz & Son, grocers, had an interesting sequel this week with the reception of a letter from Mrs. John T. Yoder, of Wooster, O., more than 100 miles away. The fun started when the clerks inflated several balloons and sent them off, with a note written on letterheads of the store, as follows: "Let us know how far these balloons traveled from Columbus."

Monday they heard from Mrs. Yoder saying that her little son, Richard, aged 6, had found the balloons [illegible] after they landed the previous [illegible] day at 5 o'clock, having been in the air for two days. Seeing the note, the little boy ran out into the field to get it, but it burst before he could catch it. He gathered up the pieces, however, and brought them to his mother in the house, where they found the note. Mrs. Yoder, who lives on a farm a mile and a half northwest of Wooster, said the wind was quite strong from the south that day. She added that she supposed the balloons had been sent off that day and is expected she will be surprised to learn that they had been [illegible] for two days and nights.

THE JOYOUS TURN OF THE SEASONS

Spring is here! It may be snowing on the day this paper is delivered, but in spite of that fact spring is here. We may be displeased to see that snow, if any, but at least we can assure ourselves that it is the last, or next to last, storm this season and go confidently on with our preparations for spring.

The merchants know it is spring—they are advertising their cothes and hats with the assurance that now, more than any other time of the year, people are inspired to buy. The hardware dealers and the seed and flower sellers know it is spring—they are talking about lawn rollers and lawn mowers and fertilizer and gress seed and bulbs with an abandon that indicates that they have been bottling up their real feelings until spring tosses the cork off.

The boys and girls know it is spring—they have been skipping rope and playing marbles for some weeks and although, by chasing their balls or in the sheer effervescence of god spirits, they irritate the motorists when playing and running in the streets, it does the average heart good to see them outdoors again.

The coming of the spring is one of the thrills that is much less impressive to the man of a semi-tropical country than to the man in the temperate climate and when we feel the cold changing to mildness and the buds crowding to the surface, we are glad we have endured the discomforts of winter, that we may appreciate spring more.

Work On Church Is Held Up For Decision Of Zoning Commission

Neighbor Protests That New Building is Six Inches Too Near Lot Line

HEARING TUESDAY

The commencement of work on the new church building for the Wilson Avenue Reformed church at Wilson and Fair avenues, will be delayed for a week at least because of a protest made by A. B. Martlin, 121 Wilson avenue, that the proposed church is six inches too near his lot line. The case will be heard before the Columbus planning commission Tuesday and work, which was to start next week, will be held up until the planning commission gives its decision.

Mr. Martlin owns the apartment house at 121 Wilson avenue, just south of the proposed church auditorium, and lives in one of the apartments. His building has enjoyed the outlook upon the park-like lawn to the east of the present church.

It is expected that excavation will be started the week of April 22, after which time the congregation of the Wilson Avenue church will worship in the old Eastwood Congregational church building on South Twenty-first street. The first spade-full of dirt marking the new building was dug up by Dr. C. E. Shaeffer of Philadelphia, general secretary for home missions, Sunday night at the ground-breaking ceremony at 6 p. m.

MARKING BUILDINGS AND GUM CHEWING ARE TABOOED

Beware of the law! Chewing gum and marking on buildings in the vicinity of Fair Avenue school is not to be tolerated.

This is the decision made by the governing body of the Fair Avenue school pupils at their meeting Tuesday afternoon, when representatives chosen from each room, together with chairmen of the street, yard and building committees, met with the school officers to discuss school questions.

The assembly decided that gum chewing was unsightly and that marking on buildings was beneath the dignity of self-governed school children, as well as being damaging to property.

Lewis Krakoff, 144 Wilson avenue, is president of the school; Gordon Terry, 1326 Fair avenue, vice president; and Elsa Guenther, 1474 Bryden road, secretary. The school meetings open with the singing of "America" and include the reciting of the civic board creed and of the Fair Avenue pledge, as well as consideration of business.

THESE STREETS TO HAVE NEW LIGHTS THIS SPRING

The lighting program for Bexley this spring was passed on by Bexley council Tuesday night and includes the following streets:

Maryland avenue from Drexel to Cassady; Cassady road from Broad to Maryland; Ardmore road from Broad to Maryland; Cassingham road from Broad to Maryland; Remington road from Elm to Maryland; Stanwood road from Powell to Broad; Powell avenue from Stanwood to Gould; Elm avenue from Cassady to Remington; Havenwood Drive from Euclaire to Cassingham.

Cassingham road from Main to Charles; Montrose avenue from Main to Charles; Remington avenue from Main to first alley south of Astor; Vernon road from Main street to first alley south of Astor; Roosevelt avenue from Main to first alley south of Astor. Chelsea avenue from Main to Charles.

ARCHITECT REPORTS HIS CAR STOLEN

Dallas Dupre, landscape architect, 3078 North High street, who has an office also at 3266 East Broad street, reported to Bexley police that his Oldsmobile sedan was stolen while it was parked on Drexel avenue. He said he had been lunching at the Willard restaurant and had left his car for only an hour.

The sedan carried a tire cover with his name on it which covered a Kelley Springfield tire. He reported that the theft took place between 1:20 and 2 o'clock.

IS CONVALESCING

Mrs. V. D. Mansfield (Ruth King) 686 Oakwood avenue, who has been ill for nine weeks, is now able to be out for the first time since January 1. Mrs. Mansfield formerly taught at Ohio Avenue school.

STUDENT COURT TO HEAR CASES

Named by President to Pass on Breaches of Discipline Among Fellow Pupils

The student court of Bexley High school, consisting of seniors, who will hear cases of discipline among the students, has been named by Dorothy Kelley, recently elected president of the student body and of the student council. The members are Katherine Englehart, Bruce Gebhardt, Clara Frances Ketner, Lawrence Lamp, Lawrence Moyers, Catherine Singer and Kathryn Murray.

These senior boys and girls will handle cases of infraction of rules as does a government court, calling witnesses, hearing both sides of the question and determining penalties. Any decision made by the student court, however, is brought before the faculty and must receive the approval of that body before it is put in effect.

Members of the court will choose one of its number as chief justice. Sittings will be held at regular times every week and special sessions will be called, if necessary. Superintendent Dieterich recalls that several years ago when a student court was in existence at the high school, its members rendered such a severe decision after one case, that the faculty was forced to modify it. He is not apprehensive, he says, that the court will be too lenient in punishing offenses.

TO EXHIBIT BIRD HOUSES BEFORE EDWARD THOMAS

Small architects, contractors and carpenters at East Main street school are putting the finishing touches on the bird houses which they are making in the contest being conducted at the school under the direction of their principal, Miss Ruby McMahan. They will exhibit them at the meeting of the Parent Teacher association Friday afternoon, April 20, when Edward Thomas, nature and bird specialist, will give an illustrated talk.

Some of the boys and girls will put up their houses in their yards at home, so as to attract bird tenants, but others will enter them in the city bird house contest to be held later with C. E. Hambleton in charge.

WHO IS THE JOKE ON?

W. R. Edmister, chairman, and David Shaw Archer, member, of the Bexley zoning commission, were forced to be taken home in the police patrol after the zoning commission meeting Monday night.

This was the news that greeted the Eastern Times representative Tuesday at the Bexley municipal office, but further inquiry showed that other municipal employes were trying to play a joke on the two gentlemen. It came out gradually that both had come to the meeting without their automobiles and since Deputy Marshal Robert Bradfield had business in the direction of their homes, they were escorted thence by him.

REV. SPEAKER ILL

Rev. Mr. Lewis Speaker, pastor of the First English Lutheran church, has been ill since last Thursday following an attack of influenza. He was not able to take charge of services Easter Day and Dr. Paul F. Blumheart of Wittenberg college came to Columbus to preach in his stead. Rev. Mr. Speaker hopes to be well enough to preach Sunday morning and evening.

TO BANQUET TEAM

The Bexley Presbyterian basketball team will be guests at a banquet to be held Friday night at the New Willard restaurant. E. F. Arras will act as toastmaster and will award letters to the team.

Guest speakers will include Dr. John L. Tait, Dr. E. H. Guynn and J. M. Bobb.

EVEN GYPSIES HAVE ABANDONED WAGONS

Alas! Alack! How times have changed!

The shades of the old gypsies who rode picturesquely and uncomfortably in romantic gypsy wagons must have stirred uneasily in their graves as they watched a colorless, though comfortable, caravan of six Packards and Cadillacs ride smoothly down East Main street Tuesday afternoon, carrying a band of bareheaded gypsies. To be sure the gypsies were as colorfully dressed and jewelled as usual, but to the Eastern Times representative they spelled an old memory of childhood.

GETS SCARE FROM DAY-TIME THIEF

John O'Connor, Aged 13, Frightens Off Intruder Who Ramsacks Upstairs

A badly frightened young lad and an upstairs-full of overturned drawers and ramsacked closets were left on the trail of a house-breaker, who broke into the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Neil O'Connor, 694 Kelton avenue, last Wednesday about lunch time. He got away with only a dollar in money.

Mrs. O'Connor went away for the day and told the small son, John, aged 13, a pupil at Holy Rosary school, to come home and eat his lunch in the kitchen. John entered the house and went to the kitchen, when he heard a noise upstairs. Going to the stairs he called "Mother", trustfully, but received no answer. As he stood there, however, a man ran downstairs, saying in an ugly tone, "Where is that boy who called?"

John dashed screaming to the neighbors, while the thief tore out the front door and across the lawn and disappeared. School children coming home to lunch reported that they had seen him on the roof, probably trying to escape when he heard John enter downstairs. No trace has been found of the thief, although it is reported that he entered another home on Mound street, off Miller avenue.

Mrs. O'Connor is vowing vengeance on the intruder, not only because he frightened John so badly, but because it took her days to put back her belongings in the proper drawers and closets.

TO HAVE COMMUNITY ENTERTAINMENT

The last supper and entertainment of the season of the Bexley Men's club will take place Monday evening, April 23. It will be held at the new Junior High school on Cassingham road, rather than at the high school on East Main street.

One of Redpath's popular entertainers, Jess Pugh, humorist, will speak. The supper is at 6:30 for the men of the club and the entertainment at 7:30 is open to the public free of charge. The committee is hoping to make the affair a real community one.

IS GIVEN LIFE MEMBERSHIP BY FELLOW WORKERS

Superintendent of Bexley Schools Is Surprised by Teachers And Board Members

P. T. A. "AT HOME"

As a fitting climax to the open house and meeting sponsored by the Bexley Parent Teacher association at the Junior High school building Wednesday afternoon, H. C. Dieterich, 2453 Plymouth avenue, superintendent of Bexley schools, was presented a life membership in the National Educational association by teachers and board members.

Mrs. Amy C. Brightman, teacher at the high school made the presentation, declaring that the existence of the fine schools of the efficient administration and of the sympathy between teacher and pupil and between parent and administration could be traced to one source, the superintendent.

"The teachers and the board wish to make a visible expression of their regard and their appreciation," Mrs. Brightman said, "and have chosen life membership in the great association as the expression. This membership is deemed a great privilege because it gives certain rights to vote, not extended to regular members, and because the money thus raised goes toward maintaining a bureau of education at Washington, through which much legislation for the benefit of public legislation is pushed."

Mr. Dieterich accepted the honor in a graceful speech. Frank Reynolds, secretary of the Ohio State Teachers' association was present to congratulate his old friend.

Preceding this ceremony, which was a surprise to Mr. Dieterich, pupils of the grade school on East Main street of the Junior high and of the Senior high, gave a program of readings, music and gymnastic work. Hundreds of guests visited the rooms, which were especially decorated for the "at home."

OPENS OFFICES IN RADZEK BUILDING

Dr. J. T. Fulton last week opened his dental offices in the new Radzek building at Miller avenue and Main street. Since his graduation from Ohio State university Dr. Fulton has had offices at 653 East Broad street. He is the dental surgeon at the Children's hospital and is the dentist in charge at the Tuberculosis dispensary. Mrs. Fulton assists him in his office.

Dr. and Mrs. Fulton are well known also in musical circles. He is the tenor voice in the entertainers known as Johnson and Fulton" who have been heard often over the radio, but recently he has transferred his activities from the vaudeville field to that of sacred music. Dr. and Mrs. Fulton have moved to 1663 East Rich street.

CLASS GIVES PLAY

Gleaners Sunday School class of Oakwood M. E. church will put on the play, "District School at Blueberry Corners," Thursday at the church. The cast includes members of the class and of the church including Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wise, Mrs. C. E. Ray, W. R. Huston, H. E. West, Fred Kidwell and J. M. Vail. The class will have a rummage sale May 12.

ANNOUNCE DINNER

Mrs. Hugh Bone is chairman in charge of arrangements for the Mother-Daughter dinner to be given under the auspices of the Bexley Parent-Teacher association May 4, at the Junior High school.

Mr. E. H. Guenther has returned to Lockport, N. Y., after a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Guenther 1841 Bryden road.

COPY OF EASTERN TIMES PLACED IN CORNERSTONE

A copy of The Eastern Times, containing a write-up of the ceremony, was included in the packet of newspapers placed in the cornerstone of the Bexley Methodist church, at the ceremony held Sunday afternoon. Past Grand Master Charles Pretzman was in charge and Dr. W. C. Hartinger, district superintendent, made a speech. The pastor, Dr. Frank G. Fowler, acted as chaplain.

GOES OFF WITH MANY LUXURIES

Robber's Loot From Drug Store Includes Cigarettes, Cigars And Whiskey

Money, tobacco, whiskey and alcohol made up the loot obtained by the thief who made entry into the Mykrantz drug store at East Main street and Cassady avenue Tuesday at 2 a. m., according to report made to Bexley police Tuesday. The intruder had hidden inside the store before it was closed for the night or had a duplicate key, for the back door was found unlocked when the staff came on duty Tuesday morning.

Twenty-three dollars in cash, $20 worth of cigarettes, $40 worth of cigars, eleven halfpints of whiskey and a gallon of alcohol were found missing. C. F. Kunkler is manager of the Bexley store.

PLAYERS TO PRESENT HERBERT'S OPERETTA, "SWEETHEARTS"

A number of East Side people are in the cast of "Sweethearts", to be presented May 15 and 16 by the Independent Players at Central High auditorium. Albert K. Germanson, instructor at Capital university, is directing this favorite of Victor Herbert's, which the players are presenting for the benefit of the new wing of Children's hospital.

Louise Miller Yost will be accompanist; Stella J. Becker will coach the dancers and Mrs. Germanson will sing the leading part. BUILDING PERMITS TO BE ISSUED ON ONLY THREE DAYS

To relieve Building Inspector O. P. Dunlop so that he will will have more time for field work, Bexley Council Tuesday night authorized Mr. Dunlop to limit the hours during which building permits will be issued. The time fixed by the inspector is from 7 a. m. until 11 a. m. on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays only. Therefore building permits will not be issued on Mondays and Saturdays at all, and only in the mornings until 11o'clock on the other days.

Building Inspector Dunlop has been directed by the Bexley zoning commission to supplement the present form of building permit with a plat of set back lines of such size as to preclude any misunderstanding as to set-back lines of a proposed structure. Mr. Dunlop was requested to prepare a new form with this matter incorporated therein.

To Make Attempt To Get Rid Of Bill Boards On East Broad St.

Mayor Ludwig Says Residence Districts Are Being Used For Business

SEWAGE PROBLEM UP

"We must get rid of the unsightly advertising billboards in the village of Bexley, especially those on East Broad street, east of Alum Creek and on the same thoroughfare at the eastern extremity of the village."

That was the consensus of opinion among members of Bexley council as expressed at their regular meeting Tuesday night. The matter was brought up by Mayor Ludwig who declared that in his estimation renting property for billboards was a business proposition, just as renting property for a grocery and that where billboards were existing in residence districts, they were there in violation of the zoning ordinance.

Solicitor Harley E. Peters gave his opinion that any billboards built since the passing of the zoning ordinance could be pulled down by the village and he was instructed by council to look into the law regarding the matter and to report at the next regular meeting.

Favorable action was taken on the petition of residents of Montrose avenue between Main and Mound streets, asking that the proposed lights for that street be placed on the east side in front of the high school grounds rather than on the privately owned lots on the west side of the street. The petition was signed by residents beginning with Misses Amy and Thelma Lyons, 670 Montrose avenue and including Mrs. John Hoffhines, 705 Montrose avenue.

Residents in the section between College and Pleasant Ridge avenues, north of Livingston avenue, represented by H. F. Anthony, who operates a store at 1002 College avenue, and by S. H. Graves, 981 Pleasant Ridge avenue, complained that where an open sanitary sewer empties into a ditch north of Livingston avenue, very bad sanitary conditions result after a hard rain. Mr. Anthony said that the basement of his store was filled with ill-smelling sewage and Mr. Graves reported that a thin coat of sewage in the whole section made for bad odors and for a dangerous sanitary results. The matter was referred to Engineer Kennedy, who was authorized to prepare plans for carrying the trunkline from College and Livingston avenues to the disposal plant. The cost will be about $1500.

A motion was passed authorizing Marshal Shadrach to go ahead with the work of ditching and covering with cinders the roadway on Roosevelt avenue, with the understanding that residents are to pay half the cost. Clerk Roderick was asked to notify one of the residents to make the necessary collection from the others before work is started.

Upon request from J. M. McNally, it was decided to change the name of Walnut street to Northview Drive and a petition from Frank T. Rutherford for the paving of North Parkview avenue from 150 feet north of Maryland avenue, was referred to the engineer for a report.

Council was given grounds to hope that the holes near the car tracks on East Main street east of Pleasant Ridge avenue would be repaired soon by the Southern Ohio Public Service Co., with the report of a communication that the company has obtained the material for repairing and hopes to start the last of this week or the first of next.

WATCH YOUR SPEECH!

Good English Week is being observed in the Bexley Junior High school and elementary schools, with particular emphasis on the use of good English by pupils in corridors, in classrooms and on the playground. Mistakes made are corrected by teachers and pupils and are written on the blackboard for study. Placards have been printed which suggest good usage. Next week the same observance will be made in the high school.

REPRESENT SOCIAL Y.

Miss Louise Wagner, 868 Wilson avenue, president of Paloma club of the Y. W. C. A. federation; and Miss Irene H. Riley, 167 Miller avenue, representing the general membership, are among the Columbus delegates to the national convention of the Y. W. C. A. in Sacramento, Calif., April 14 to 20.

BEXLEY BOY INJURED

Paul Gerhold, aged 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Gerhold, 692 Pleasant Ridge avenue, suffered cuts on his ear, in an automobile accident Sunday afternoon, when the taxicab in which he was riding collided with a car driven by an unidentified negro at Town street and Washington avenue. Paul, a pupil at Bexley Junior high school, had four stitches taken in his ear immediately and the cut had healed enough Tuesday that the stitches were removed.

RETURNS TO DUTIES

E. H. Fowler, 676 Berkley road, returned Tuesday to his duties in his grocery at Kelton avenue and Main street, after several days' illness.

TO CONFINE TIME TO LOCAL STORES

Gordon Brawley, proprietor of the Brawley Shoe store at Miller avenue and Main street, also of stores on the North Side and in Grandview, has severed his out-of-town connections in the shoe manufacturing business to devote more time to his Columbus stores. MOVES TO EAST SIDE

E. E. Evans, proprietor of the Eastern Electric shop, 1390 East Main street and his family moved this week from 651 East Livingston avenue to 1605 Franklin avenue. The shop is celebrating its first anniversary and the large response accorded Mr. Evans' endeavors to serve the East Side through his store and service department, have made it necessary for him to move into the community nearer his place of business.

CONTRACT AWARDED

The contract for the construction of a sanitary sewer in Park Hill Dr. was awarded by Bexley council to the low bidder, the A. F. Riley Contracting Co., for $591.75.

With the completion of the first six months of existence of The Eastern Times, as announced last week, we pause to contemplate what we have achieved and what we hope to achieve during the next six months.

First of all we have established a weekly paper, that reaches 6000 of the best homes in Columbus, and have kept it going every week, in spite of the difficulties that beset any new enterprise. We have made it the medium of news and advertising for the folks in our territory, one that is eagerly looked forward to, and we have tried to make it representative of all activities on the East Side and Bexley. We have kept it clean, nighborly and newsy, both in editorial and advertising columns and we lay claim to the boast of having stimulated business in this district, and thus indirectly of having promoted the well-being of our readers.

On the other hand, speaking from the editor's standpoint, we feel that we are missing many interesting bits of news that our readers would be interested to know about. We know that many East Side and Bexley people are going on trips, getting married, having babies, having illnesses and receiving honors and distinctions, that are not adequately covered in The Eastern Times. We are anxious to know about all these things, but with a limited staff, we do not have time to call upon our friends as often as we would like. Would it make it easier for our readers to help us, if we had boxes for news placed with the corner merchants? We would like to hear your suggestions.

Soon we hope to expand our territory and thus our field of usefulness. May we count on your help?

WEEK END ACCIDENTS ARE NUMEROUS

Skimming, 172 East Frambes avenue, principal of East High school, was in an accident Sunday when he collided with the automobile driven by Stanford Withlach of Marion at the corner of Lane avenue and High street. Let our curtain dryer take this dreaded job off your hands this Spring.

Our Curtain Dryer Makes them hang true

Even after YOU spend hours washing and drying your curtain they lack that smooth finish and even "hang" they should have.

In our method they are handled gently and carefully and come off of the dryer STRAIGHT and TRUE, without pin holes or hook marks.

You'll never wash your curtains at home again after you know our quality work and low prices. Phone and let us tell you more about it.

A carding material, similar to a stiff bristle brush, holds the edges of the curtains, without hooks or pins. Corners are square, scallops even, measurements true.

The magazine rack at the Bexley Public Library in the high school building, filled with a choice selection of all types of periodicals, may be used by cardholders in the reading room, or may be taken out for perusal at home, Mrs. Sara Bilby, the librarian, announces. Only the latest current issues, that are likely to be drawn upon by students or club women, are kept for reference during the current month.

The list of magazines, a varied one, includes Atlantic Monthly, American Review of Reviews, Garden and Home Builder, Century, American, Good Housekeeping, The Woman's Journal, a periodical recording activities of well-known living women, Bookman, Foreign Affairs, Harpers, Scribners, Radio, Literary Digest, World's Work, Popular Mechanics, School Review, Poetry, Art and Archeology, The Drama, National Geographic, Outlook, Golden Book and others.

Post Office To Move

The Bexley post office will be maintained in connection with the K & W grocery, 2260 East Main street, during April, according to announcement made by W. A. Wharton. It is expected that post office officials will announce a new location this month.

PLAN SENIOR BANQUET AT CAPITAL UNIVERSITY

The Senior class of Capital university will hold the Senior banquet some time during the latter part of May. A committee of five has been appointed to get preparations under way.

It was decided to continue the step taken by last year's class to have members of the class speak in chapel during Senior Week, the first week in May. Cordelia Doekler, Twila DeWalt, Raymond Vogeley, Theodore Lindner, and Cornelius Hansen have been selected to speak.

During the course of a recent meeting the class also discussed the matter of choosing a speaker for the Commencement Day activities. The matter of getting suggestions for a speaker was placed into the hands of a committee.

The Seniors promise an interesting program for Campus Night this year. Preparations for this occasion have also been entrusted to a committee.

Bexley Will Meet South High Team Thursday at Respective Buildings

The debate between South High school and Bexley High school has been postponed from Friday, April 20 to Thursday morning, April 26. The meet will be in the form of chapel programs in the two schools, so that all students may hear the arguments, and that parents and friends may come in, without any admission charge.

The question, "Resolved, That the Primary System of Candidates for Office Should be Abolished," will be debated by the Bexley affirmative team, consisting of Dorothy Gockenbach, Ruth Phalor and Paul Tabor, at South High school, while the negative team, consisting of Dorothy Kelley, Morris Mattlin and Arch Houstle, will be heard at their home school.

Each debate will have only one judge, in place of the usual three. The main speeches will be seven minutes in length and rebuttal will occupy three minutes, each speaker to have the right of rebuttal. Miss Alice Brooks, teacher of public speaking, is coaching the two teams.

Great Grandma Celebrates Ninety-first Birthday

A grandmother to 26 living children, Mrs. Esther E. Dyke, 884 Studer avenue, celebrated her ninety-first birthday Sunday at her home by inviting 91 friends and relations to have tea with her. A cake with 91 candles was too large for her helpers to handle, so 91 small cakes, each iced with white and decorated with lavender and holding a small lavender candle, were baked for the party.

Relations came from Wheeling and Clifton, W. Va., the latter town the former home of Mrs. Dyke, and friends included a girl-hood comrade, Edward W. Cummins, 2584 East avenue, who will be 91 years old in September. Mrs. Dyke talked by telephone to one of her great-grandchildren, William Moore of Canton, who is attending school at Mercersburg academy, Harrisburg, Pa. In spite of her advanced age, she is very active, reading and sewing without glasses, going for short walks and even helping her daughter, Mrs. Etta Dyke, with whom she makes her home, wash the dishes after the party.

ARE TO ELIMINATE CREEK POLLUTION

City Engineer's Suggestions East Main St. Station Approved By Health Board

City Engineer Simpson is going right after the problem of eliminating sewage pollution in Alum Creek. Plans for putting in new equipment at the pumping station on East Main street have been approved by the state board of health this week and have been returned to the city engineer's office, so that the engineers may go ahead with the working out of details. Mr. Simpson says the work, if approved by council, will be started next year and will cost in the neighborhood of $600,000.

Although details have not been decided upon, the plan looks toward preventing the contents of both sanitary sewers and storm sewers entering the creek at the same time. According to present arrangements the sanitary sewers carry off the unsanitary matter in good shape in dry weather, but as soon as heavy rains flood the storm sewers for several days, the mixture of the rain water and the unsanitary matter floods the creek and creats a very bad condition. It is hoped that new anti-pollution plans will prevent any unsanitary matter from entering the creek until it has been highly diluted, and in order to bring about that condition, new equipment must be installed in the pumping station, City Engineer Simpson brings out. New intercepting sewers on the East Side are being considered also but it is likely that the increase of pumping facilities, so as to allow sewage to be pumped across the city into the sewage disposal plant on the Scioto river will solve the problem.

Monday night council appropriated $70,000 from the sewer relief fund for the purchase of sewage pump to be installed in the main pumping station in South Columbus, as a part of the program to increase the capacity of the plant in order to clear up the polluted condition of Alum Creek as well as of the Scioto River.

Missionary Returns From "Mother India" Where She Has Taught Girls and Mothers For 11 Years

Says Women Are Considered Unclean for 30 Days After Baby is Born

NO QUARANTINE LAW

From the land where mothers are considered unclean for a month after childbirth, where small pox patients lie sick in the same house with well folks and where a stranger is not allowed to touch the natives' cooking and drinking utensils because the very touch of an "unbeliever" is considered unclean, Miss Leno Russell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Russell, 755 Euclaire avenue, has returned.

A missionary under the mission board of the Church of Christ, Miss Russell has come home after 11 years in the Central Provinces of India as teacher in an elementary school, worker among women and evangelistic speaker. She first went out in 1914, stayed five and one half years, returned home on furlough in 1921 and took up her duties again in 1922, to remain until this year. She has been located at Damoh, a mission station where three families of missionaries maintain the girls' school, a trade school for boys, a small hospital and a big farm, where natives are trained in up-to-date agricultural methods.

"Mother India", which has caused so much discussion in America and in England, has been read by every missionary and every white man in the Damoh district," Miss Russell told the Eastern Times. "Although we all agree that it presents only one side of the picture, this side of the picture is true and we are hoping that educated and thinking Indians will profit by this portrayal of the unpleasant truth to the extent of changing it."

The most deplorable conditions in the Central Provinces, Miss Russell says, are due to ignorance and lack of sanitary conditions. "No woman has a doctor at child birth," she brings out. "A sweeper woman, a scavenger who is the dirtiest thing on earth, comes in from her sweeping to deliver the baby, without even washing her hands. The result is that only one baby out of five lives—it is just a case of the survival of the fittest. Then after the baby is born the mother is not allowed to eat anything for three days, and she is considered unclean for a month after the birth. Some houses have a little shed outside where the mother is taken at the time of delivery, while in other houses she is placed on a heap of dirty rags. She is not allowed to touch cooking or drinking vessels, for if she were to touch one accidently it would be ground into the mud from which it was fashioned."

A movement is on foot, the missionary says, to raise the age of marriage to 16, but many children become husband and wife at 12. Because there is no intervention on the part of the government to require a license, the marriage ceremony is a purely religious rite and no one can stop it. Thinking Indians are seeing the better results that come from late marriages among the English and the missionaries, however, and are gradually bettering conditions.

India has no quarantine nor segregation for infectious diseases and as a result lepers wander about, smallpox patients ride on trains and plague sufferers lie in the same room with well people. Miss Russell took smallpox some years ago from a germ left in a train and after a severe illness, she is immune from the disease and has worked among sufferers of that loathsome malady without taking it. Although there are hundreds of institutions for lepers they cannot be compelled to enter them, and although it is illegal for them to ride on trains, they hide their broken fingers and swathe their mutilated faces in veils and climb in, probably to spread the disease.

"I have seen lepers being cured by oil treatments," Miss Russell declares, "but the treatment is very severe and it is hard to persuade the ignorant classes that they can be benefited. Besides they are fatalists and argue that they are defying their gods, if they try to cure what their gods have given them to endure. Now, however, the government is compelling vaccination and government officials in each town are doing it by force, if necessary. I have been inoculated for plague, cholera, typhoid fever and have had three vaccinations since my going to India. When the natives get plague, we can try to check it, by persuading them to go outside the towns, so as not to spread it among other inhabitants."

Miss Russell, who is a graduate of the College of Missions, Indianapolis, and has studied at the University of Chicago, speaks the Hindu and Urdu languages fluently. "After all, it is the effects of religion that count and the effects of Mohammedism and Hinduism in India are depravity and poverty," she says. "I can only hope for the sake of the low caste people that England will stay on, for if the Mohammedans, who are the most aggressive people in India, would get the power, the rest of the people would fare very badly. The ordinary Indian cares for nothing except getting something to eat and to wear, for they love color and ornamentation on their persons. They care nothing about government and they could be exploited easily by unscrupulous Indians who understood them."

The faculty and students are all sorry to have her go, but they wish her great success in her new position."

CHEMICAL INDEX CARDS RETURNED

Louisville, Ky., Police Recover McGuaid's Stolen Car, Containing Collection

The American Chemical society, in general, and J. E. McGuaid, 622 Berkeley road, a chemist, in particular, are rejoicing over the recovery of Mr. McGuaid's automobile and along with it a package of index cards of a collection of chemical data, which are of priceless worth to chemists throughout the country. The automobile, which was stolen two weeks ago, was found abandoned in Louisville, Ky., last Friday and Mr. McGuaid was notified Saturday that his car and his collection of cards were safe.

The American Chemical society has been making index cards of a collection of chemical data, to which chemists may turn for information relative to problems of science published in 13,000 journals during the past 10 years, and part of the index is published in the bi-monthly journal. Mr. McGuaid was taking the cards to an express office for shipment to a printing concern, but stopped to do an errand at 50 West State street. When he came out his automobile, containing the cards, was gone.

When the car was found in Louisville, it was discovered that the package containing the priceless cards had been opened, but upon discovering that they were only pieces of paper, the thief left them in good condition.

COMMUNITY IDEAL MANIFESTS ITSELF

Since the dawn of civilization the ideal of community cooperation and mutual helpfulness has aimated the minds of philosophers and economists and history is full of instances of idealists who have founded cooperative colonies. Often these colonies have failed of success, primarily because their members were not willing to remain on an equal financial footing. But the community itself goes triumphantly on.

One of the lastest developments of this community ideal has been the community newspaper. Every part of Columbus is now being served by a weekly journal, which is able to give space to the intimate and newsy activities of a particular section, and which can cater to the advertising needs of merchants who are swamped by the tendency toward page ads of the big advertisers in the big dailies. The Eastern Times has completed six months of delightful cooperation with the East Side and Bexley and has met with favor because it has filled a community need.

The Eastern Times has remained loyal to its readers and to its advertisers, refusing to take on business which is not compatible with community ideals, and insisting upon having neighborhood service. It has received in return the loyalty of its friends, without which it cannot exist. We are pleased to not that more of our readers are sending in news items and that more of the merchants and business men are calling upon us to cooperate with them to promote the business interests of the East Side and Bexley.

We are delighted to watch the developments of this friendly cooperation.

will play its opening games on the diamonds west of Alum Creek, April 30 with the following teams competing: Morgan Memorial, Broad Street M. E., First U. P., Central M. E., First English Lutheran, First Presbyterian, St. Paul's Episcopal and Miami Avenue Presbyterian. All the games are twilight ones at 6 p. m.

The Fraternal League opens at Franklin Park Tuesday; the Franklin Independent Recreation Ball League, Tuesday; the Columbus Railway Power and Light League and the Hocking Valley League, Wednesday; the Y. M. C. A. League and the Automobiles League, Thursday; and the Dairy League and the Franklin Industrial League Friday.

The Franklin Independent League, which Mr. Seddon considers the crack East Side players, will have the following schedule Tuesday evening on the diamonds east of Alum Creek: Simpson Baptist vs. Huntington National Bank; Reed Lunches vs. Robert Lee Shop; Morley Lunches vs. Unique Cleaners; Reichenbach Fords vs. Gwinn Milling. Mr. Seddon draws the players' attention to the fact that the diamonds are not in perfect shape due to the weather, not being in mid-season condition any more than are the players, but that the recreation department is working on them as often as possible.

A meeting is called for Friday evening at 7:30 p. m. at the Central Y. M. C. A. for all recreation ball managers, captains and umpires, at which time rules will be interpreted and eligibility regulations discussed.

Among the girls the East End Church Recreation ball league is in process of formation and will start playing at Franklin Park in a few weeks. The Grace Lutheran, First English, and Broad Street M. E. leagues have already signed up and any others who are interested are asked to get in touch with Miss Morris at the recreation office. Tennis courts soon will be in shape, after which time applicants will sign up for hours of regular play, either individually or in groups. Tennis leagues will be organized among business girls and high school girls.

Playgrounds at Kent and Gault streets, Franklin Park, Livingston Park, Nineteenth and Rich streets and at the Beatty grounds will be opened as soon as school closes. Promotional examinations for playground workers will be held Saturday and competitive exams for new workers will take place the first or second Saturday in May.

COLORFUL DRAPERIES

In this modern movement of color, draperies play an important part. The best color combinations are obtained when the draperies are selected in the room in which they are to be used. Let me call at your home with samples. There is no charge for this service. Gertrude Haldy, Decorator, 30 N. Washington Avenue, Ad 4454.—Adv.

Let our curtain dryer take this dreaded job off your hands this Spring.
Our Curtain Dryer Makes them hang true
Even after YOU spend hours washing and drying your curtain, they lack that smooth finish and even "hang" they should have.
In our method they are handled gently and carefully and come off of the dryer STRAIGHT and TRUE, without pin holes or hook marks.
You'll never wash your curtains at home again, after you know our quality work and low prices. Phone and let us tell you more about it.

A resilling material, similar to a stiff bristle brush, holds the edges of the curtains, without hooks or pins. Corners are square, scallops even, measurements true.

The WILLIS DELEGATES

The candidacies of Willis delegates and alternates have been indorsed by most of the Ohio Republican delegation in Congress, the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Ohio, the Republican State Committee, nearly all of the County Committees, the Buckeye Republican Club, the Ladies Republican Glee Club, the Columbus Republican Glee Club, and by various labor representatives.

For Alternates
(Two to be elected)

This contest in Ohio is for the preservation of the Republican party. Shall the principles of Republicanism prevail?

Organized effort in the Republican party has brought repeated victories in the past, and this was the big principle which Senator Willis was battling for when he fell.

James A. White

REMEMBER

In this contest for delegates and alternates, there are but two sets of candidates: Willis candidates on one side, Hoover candidates on the other.

The Willis candidates are striving for the preservation of the Republican party---for party principles and true Americanism.

The Hoover delegates are pledged irrevocably to Hoover.

The Willis delegates will be free to vote for some other candidate whom they feel will better represent the party and our nation.

All loyal Republicans of Columbus and Franklin County are asked to vote for the Willis candidates and their cause for American party politics and against Internationalism.

BEAUTIFICATION OF JUNIOR HIGH GROUNDS PLANNED

Scheme Distinguished by School Garden With Space For Class Memorials

PLAY AREAS FINISHED

An announcement, appropriate to Arbor Day, designated for Friday by Governor Donahey, is being made by the Bexley board of education, relative to the planting and beautification of the grounds around the Junior high school building on Cassingham road, contract for which was let Wednesday Carl Frye, landscape architect, made the plans which were accepted by the school board.

The beautification and recreation scheme, which is to include boys' and girls' play areas, a roller skating square, a kindergarten play lawn, tennis courts, an elaborate plan for planting trees and shrubs and an ornamental garden, will be distinguished mainly by the school garden in front of the school to the south. It will be square in shape and will have an evergreen hedge with an ornamental wrought iron gate, which is to be donated by a friend of the school.

Inside the hedge a green background will be planted and on the outside will be flowers and shrubs, which tie in with the poetry and other literature being read in the classroom by the pupils, so that when they find a beautifully named plant, rhapodized by the poet or the essayist they will be able to identify it in their own school garden. The garden also will be so laid out as to provide spaces for class memorials in the form of statuary in bronze or stone, a sun dial, carved benches or bird baths. Among the flowers to be planted are roses, violets, lilies, daisies, snowdrops, primroses, bell flowers and fox gloves. There will be brick walks through the center of the garden and gravel paths around it.

The boys' and girls' play areas, 280 under the fine beech trees, and the lawn to the south, have been completed, as has been the tarred area for roller skating, 60 by 80 feet, in the rear, designated to keep the boys and girls off the street.

In front of the boys' play area a running track will be installed.

The kindergartners are to have a play lawn, in order to separate the little ones from the older boys and girls and it will be equipped with sand boxes, slides and a flag pole. Eventually a wading pool and a fancy shelter house with flag stone paving are to be incorporated in the kindergarten lawn and an allee of linden trees will be planted leading down to the pool and shelter.

Two twelve foot tennis courts are to be laid out to the south. The lovely grove of trees to the rear of the building have been preserved and it is planned to put in a walk from the school cafeteria door to the grove, so that the grove may be used for picnics and recreation ground by individuals and organizations.

The contract calls for $12,000 to be used for planting of trees, shrubs and flowers, and it is expected that the school grounds will be a bower of loveliness which will attract attention in all parts of the country.

That the other Bexley schools may not be entirely neglected in the beautification plans of the school board, the grade school on East Main street has been given seven new full sized trees, two pin oaks and five maples, and a new hedge along the sidewalk and entrance. At the high school farther east a woven wire fence is to be put in around the athletic field.

JOEL BASCH IS HURT IN ACCIDENT

Joel Basch, 1349 Bryden road, received body bruises and was badly cut about the head, when he was thrown from the automobile in which he was riding with Sol Mayer, 1204 Bryden road, Saturday evening following an accident at Bryden road and Parsons avenue. The Mayer car was struck by a machine driven by W. F. Hummelspach, who skidded while driving fast and turned clear around at the corner, colliding with the other car and turning it over. Both cars were demolished, Mr. Hummelspach was slightly bruised and Mr. Mayer escaped unhurt.

Mr. Basch is still confined to his bed, but is recovering.

The Church Aid society of the Wilson Avenue Reformed Church will meet Thursday at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Harry Copeland, 412 Morrison avenue.

NO MORE SPEEDING IN SIDE DRIVES

War is to be declared upon high school "kids" who use the side drives on East Broad street in Bexley for speeding purposes. Councilman Pretzman called the attention of council to the fast driving of young boys on these drives and council authorized Marshal Shadrach to watch the boys carefully. It was brought out that many youngsters use the side drives for playing marbles and for skipping rope and that speeding in their confines to avoid slower traffic on the street proper was endangering the lives of many children.

VIVIAN BECK IS PRIZE SCHOLAR

Although She is Youngest Member of Class, She Has Highest Grade Ever Attained

Vivian Beck, daughter of E. R. Beck, assistant county superintendent of schools, and Mrs. Beck, 632 Montrose avenue, has attained scholarship honors among members of the senior class of Bexley High school with an average grade of 98 per cent for her entire high school course. Not only, however, has Miss Beck humiliated all her classmates but she has reached the highest rank of any pupil in the history of the school.

Still another record is held by Miss Beck, which has impressed her teachers and fellow students, in that she is the youngest member of her class. She celebrated her 16th birthday April 7, having made the four year course in three years. She will be awarded the Parent-Teacher association prize for having attained the highest scholarship and will be presented a set of volumes of her favorite author at the commencement exercises, June 7.

Gets English Prize

The second honor student is Dorothy Kelley who had an average of 96.1 per cent. She has been awarded the prize for doing the best work in English and will receive a set of books, promised by an anonymous donor to the prize English scholar.

One fourth of students in the senior class are on the honor roll for the four years and thus belong to the senior honor society. They have had grades of 90 or above, in all their studies. The only disappointing thing, Superintendent Dieterich says, is that so few boys reached the goal, the list containing nine girls and only two boys.

Others besides Miss Beck and Miss Kelley, who are honor students are: Helen Wannemacher with a grade of 94.59 per cent; Catherine Singer, 94 per cent; Elsie Schneider, 93.63; Roger McNichols, 93.50 per cent; Dorothy Gockenbach, 92.5 per cent; Jane Roderick, 92.07 per cent; Katherine Murray, 91.25 per cent; Helen Wildermuth, 91.23 per cent and Arch Houstle, 90.62 per cent.

ATTENDS CONVOCATION

Rev. Lewis Green, pastor of Mayflower Congregational church attended the convocation for ministers at Oberlin College, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday and stopped at Steubenville en route home. He will arrive in Columbus Saturday.

Northern Star Publisher Asks "How and Where?"

There has always been the friendliest of feelings among the seven Columbus community newspapers and some of us often discuss on many problems.

It rather inflated one's pride Monday morning, however, to have the publisher of the Northern Star, a five year old paper, approach us, the youngest of the seven, with compliments on our new department, "The Eastern Times Business Directory." He didn't even mind admitting that Ella Mae Ives, a north sider and well known dietitian, whom we hear every Tuesday noon over W A I U, had called his attention to this feature in a "Times" which she had picked up in a friend's home out East. She didn't see why "The Northern Star readers hadn't had such a convenient department this long while. Why, just imagine, how splendid that would be for us to have our north side businesses listed in one classified group. Can you promise us a directory in the near future?" Whereat the "Star" publisher proceeded to get tips from the "Times" publisher and is working on a Northern Star Directory.

It's not too late to be listed IN THE "TIMES" DIRECTORY

TO OPEN UP ELM AND REMINGTON CLOSE TO SCHOOL

LIGHTS TO BE UNIFORM

Relief for congested traffic conditions in the vicinity of the Bexley Junior high school on Cassingham road is about to be realized with the opening up of Elm avenue from Cassingham road east to Remington road and of Remington road itself as far south as the school property, according to a report made Monday night to Bexley council by Village Solicitor Harley E. Peters. Council met Monday instead of Tuesday, its regular day, because the municipal building was to be used for voting Tuesday.

Mr. Peters said that A. H. Bancroft, and his sister, who own part of the property to be cut into for streets, were willing to donate 60 feet and that Charles Workman, who owns part of the Elm street frontage, had agreed to donate as much as the board of education would donate, namely 15¼ feet. It is his hope, the solicitor stated, to get hold of the land needed, by agreement, rather than by condemnation and he reported that the parties interested were to meet soon to decide upon valuation.

Revised Former Action

Street lights on Remington road and on Montrose avenue are to be placed on alternate sides of the streets, rather than only on the sides bounding the high school property, council decided after listening to opinions voiced by Remington road residents. At its last meeting council voted to place the street lights on Montrose only on the school ground side, after hearing a petition from residents favoring that system. That action, however, was rescinded upon hearing protests from other residents of the same street and of Remington road who favored the plan that the street lights on both streets be uniform with the rest of Bexley.

Council thereupon decided at the suggestion of Councilman Kerr that in the future it would not act upon petitions of citizens unless such petitions were made in writing and were certified to be 100 per cent favorable to the proposition to be considered.

Those who have bumped over the cross streets of Bexley will be pleased at the announcement made at the council meeting that workmen will start filling up chuck holes on cross streets next week, if weather permits.

Will Improve Powell

Definite assurance was given residents in the vicinity of Powell avenue south of Broad street that Powell avenue is not to be dedicated and closed and Clerk Roderick was authorized to notify residents between Drexel and Parkview avenues that council was agreeable to accepting the suggestion of abutting property owners, that they buy material for improving the street, if the village would provide workmen for the labor involved.

Council accepted the recommendation of the zoning commission that the application of Harry Cohen for permission to erect a 26 foot residence on a 40 foot lot at the northwest corner of Aster and Montrose avenues be granted, in view of the fact that he had obtained the consent of the owner of the other corner lot owners.

An ordinance was passed changing the name of Walnut street between Main street and Delmar drive to Northview drive; the sewer at the bottom of Walnut Hill, which has been stopped up, is to be investigated; Councilman Bonnet was asked to confer with the gas company about a gas contract; the contract for purchasing incandescent lights was signed by the mayor; the Railway Light Co. was given permission to set poles in the alley between Walnut street and Dawson avenue from Caroline avenue to Delmar Drive; F. L. Bonnet, chairman of the water committee was appointed to meet with the village engineer to confer about plans for a contemplated water plant and the petition for the paving of Park Hill drive between Westland avenue and Park drive was granted.

DR. TAIT BETTER

Dr. John L. Tait, pastor of the Bexley Presbyterian church, who has been ill with influenza since last Saturday, is better and hopes to occupy his pulpit Sunday morning.

Mrs. Charles D. Cussins, 358 South Parkview avenue, was elected president of the Franklin County Democratic Women's club Monday.

CHURCH WINS BUT SUFFERS DELAY OF THIRTY DAYS

ZONING BODY OVERRULED

Members of the Wilson Avenue Reformed church, who are interested in the immediate start of work on their new building, have begun to believe that when they win, they lose.

One hundred of them appeared before city council Monday night to give moral support to the arguments of their attorney, Paul Gingher, that the church property need only be three feet away from the lot line of A. B. Martlin, owner and resident in the apartment house at 121 Wilson avenue. Mr. Martlin has previously contended that the proposed new church building was too near his lot line and was cutting off his light, and had persuaded the city planning commission last Tuesday to order the church to put back its structure six feet.

Unanimous Vote

The church members then carried their case directly to city council and gained the unanimous vote of the city solons on an ordinance reversing the decision of the planning commission and allowing the church to proceed with its original plan of a set-back of three feet from the Martlin lot line. Flushed with victory the delegation planned for immediate resumption of the ground-breaking, begun with great ceremony Easter night by Dr. C. E. Shaeffer of Philadelphia, general secretary for home missions of the denomination.

But a piece of red tape thwarts them. Council requires that 30 days elapse before an ordinance becomes a law and until the ordinance legalizing the three foot set back is effective, the Wilson avenue church may not take out a building permit. Therefore by winning their case Monday night they have gained a month.

The only chance whereby work may be started next week is for both the church and Mr. Martlin to compromise and to present that compromise to the planning commission next Tuesday morning. If the set-back line protest had not been made, the foundation would have been finished this week, and work would have been projected toward the actual construction.

Late Thursday afternoon Mrs. Jeanette E. Martlin, wife of I. B. Martlin, sued the church and Building Inspector Bert Walter, asking that they be temporarily restrained from proceeding with the construction of the church. A compromise, therefore, probably cannot be arranged, attorneys say.

BEXLEY GRADUATES ENTER DARTMOUTH WITHOUT EXAMS

Arthur D. Wright, executive secretary of the committee on admissions of Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., has written to Superintendent H. C. Dieterich of Bexley schools to inform him that the village high school has been placed on the Dartmouth approved list of secondary schools. Graduates of Bexley High school will, therefore, be admitted to Dartmouth without entrance examinations.

The letter reads as follows:

"I am glad to be able to advise you that our committee on admissions after careful consideration of your application to have the Bexley High school placed on the Dartmouth approved list of secondary schools, has voted to grant your school the full certificate privilege . . . .

"Permit me to express the hope that the future relations between your school and Dartmouth College may prove to be mutually pleasant and satisfactory."

HAVE RETURNED FROM HEALTH RESORT

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Bennett, 2486 Bexley Park road, have returned from Martinsville, Ind., where they spent two weeks. Mr. Bennett, member of Bexley council, was in a run-down condition following an attack of influenza, and his stay at the Indiana health resort has greatly improved his health. Among East Side folks who have been vacationing at Martinsville are James T. Carroll, 2714 East Broad street; Harry Hughes, 73 Sherman avenue; Max Riener, 1260 East Broad street; Howard Goodman, 1725 Franklin avenue and Mr. and Mrs. George Schoedinger, 78 Auburn avenue.

RECOMEND THAT ELM BE TREE FOR VILLAGE

Bexley householders, who are contemplating planting trees for the beautification of the village on Arbor Day, will be interested to learn that the committee of citizens, appointed last year to study a beautification program, decided on the elm as the village tree and made the recommendation that all newly planted trees be of that variety. In advising that the trees be uniform, the committee is following the precedent of lovely old New England villages, which have opposed making its streets a hodge-podge of varieties, rather than of a beautiful uniformity, Carl Frye, member of the committee, points out.

LOCAL FOLKS TO HONOR SCHENK

Nieces and Nephews, Ten Strong, and Friends to Attend Birthday Celebration

The 65th birthday anniversary of Otto Schenk of Wheeling, W. Va., philanthropist and benefactor of Capital university, will be celebrated at his home Sunday and Monday, May 6 and 7, with many relatives and friends from Columbus in attendance.

His eight nephews and two nieces, most of whom live in Bexley will go to Wheeling Sunday, May 6 for one o'clock dinner and other friends will be entertained the following day. His nephews include Charles Schenk, 610 Drexel avenue; Fred, 2361 Bryden road; William, 1960 Concord road; Edward, 2347 Bexley Park road; George, 2427 Fair avenue; Harold, 2535 Sherwood road; Elmer, 710 Franklin avenue; all brothers and Robert, 1394 Hilo Lane, a cousin of the seven brothers. The two nieces are Mrs. George Koch, 2468 Seneca place and Mrs. Elmer Mohrhoff, 2566 Bryden road.

Mayor and Mrs. Stephen E. Ludwig, 2491 Bryden road and President Otto Mees of Capital university and Mrs. Mees will also attend the birthday celebration.

YOUNG POET SUBMITS EXCEPTIONAL VERSE

"I Thank God for my Dreams", a poem written by Ruth Smith, a junior in Bexley High school, is of such exceptional quality, the faculty of the high school thinks, that it is to be sent to the magazine, Poetry. Miss Smith will submit it to the editor at the suggestion of her teachers. She is in charge of the poetry department of "The Torch", the monthly paper edited by Bexley High students and has written some excellent verse.

Her latest poem follows:

I Thank God For My Dreams

I thank God for the hope that springs from dreams,
The solace that our rein-loosed thots inspire,
When destiny by fate most doubtful seems
And high ideals writhe dying on the pyre,
When constant friends dislike for us conceive,
Triumpant wax our still more constant foes,
When that One Friend of all we now believe
To have abandoned man to his own close,
Then come our dreams like sunshine thru a cloud
Diffusing Hope and Love and healthy Cheer,
And all those blessings which the Lord allowed
As blooming now to gladden every year.
And from these dreams that in men's hearts now glow
The resurrection of the world shall grow.

TABER FAMILY ILL

Paul Taber, 970 College avenue, a student at Bexley high school, who has been ill for a week with pneumonia, is getting better. His mother, Mrs. I. J. Taber, who has suffered an attack of influenza, is better also.

PRESENT AT DEDICATION

Scheme Distinguished by School Garden With Space For Class Memorials

PLAY AREAS FINISHED

An announcement, appropriate to Arbor Day, designated for Friday by Governor Donahey, is being made by the Bexley board of education, relative to the planting and beautification of the grounds around the Junior high school building on Cassingham road, contract for which was let Wednesday Carl Frye, landscape architect, made the plans which were accepted by the school board.

The beautification and recreation scheme, which is to include boys' and girls' play areas, a roller skating square, a kindergarten play lawn, tennis courts, an elaborate plan for planting trees and shrubs and an ornamental garden, will be distinguished mainly by the school garden in front of the school to the south. It will be square in shape and will have an evergreen hedge with an ornamental wrought iron gate, which is to be donated by a friend of the school.

Inside the hedge a green background will be planted and on the outside will be flowers and shrubs, which tie in with the poetry and other literature being read in the classroom by the pupils, so that when they find a beautifully named plant, rhapsodized by the poet or the essayist they will be able to identify it in their own school garden. The garden also will be so laid out as to provide spaces for class memorials in the form of statuary in bronze or stone, a sun dial, carved benches or bird baths. Among the flowers to be planted are roses, violets, lilies, daisies, snowdrops, primroses, bell flowers and fox gloves. There will be brick walks through the center of the garden and gravel paths around it.

The boys' and girls' play areas, 250 under the fine beech trees, and the latter to the south, have been completed, as has been the tarred area for roller skating, 60 by 80 feet, in the rear, designated to keep the boys and girls off the street.

In front of the boys' play area a running track will be installed.

The Kindergartners are to have a play lawn, in order to separate the little ones from the older boys and girls and it will be equipped with sand boxes, slides and a flag pole. Eventually a wading pool and a fancy shelter house with flag stone paving are to be incorporated in the kindergarten lawn and an allee of linden trees will be planted leading down to the pool and shelter.

Two twelve foot tennis courts are to be laid out to the south. The lovely grove of trees to the rear of the building have been preserved and it is planned to put in a walk from the school cafeteria door to the grove, so that the grove may be used for picnics and recreation ground by individuals and organizations.

The contract calls for $12,000 to be used for planting of trees, shrubs and flowers, and it is expected that the school grounds will be a bower of loveliness which will attract attention in all parts of the country.

That the other Bexley schools may not be entirely neglected in the beautification plans of the school board, the grade school on East Main street has been given seven new full sized trees, two pin oaks and five maples, and a new hedge along the sidewalk and entrance. At the high school farther east a woven wire fence is to be put in around the athletic field.

JOEL BASCH IS HURT IN ACCIDENT

Joel Basch, 1849 Bryden road, received body bruises and was badly cut about the head, when he was thrown from the automobile in which he was riding with Sol Mayer, 1204 Bryden road, Saturday evening following an accident at Bryden road and Parsons avenue. The Mayer car was struck by a machine driven by W. F. Hummelspach, who skidded while driving fast and turned clear around at the corner, colliding with the other car and turning it over. Both cars were demolished, Mr. Hummelspach was slightly bruised and Mr. Mayer escaped unhurt.

Mr. Basch is still confined to his bed, but is recovering.

NO MORE SPEEDING IN SIDE DRIVES

War is to be declared upon high school "kids" who use the side drives on East Broad street in Bexley for speeding purposes. Councilman Pretzman called the attention of council to the fast driving of young boys on these drives and council authorized Marshal Shadrach to watch the boys carefully. It was brought out that many youngsters use the side drives for playing marbles and for skipping rope and that speeding in their confines to avoid slower traffic on the street proper was endangering the lives of many children.

VIVIAN BECK IS PRIZE SCHOLAR

Although She is Youngest Member of Class, She Has Highest Grade Ever Attained

Vivian Beck, daughter of E. R. Beck, assistant county superintendent of schools, and Mrs. Beck, 832 Montrose avenue, has attained scholarship honors among members of the senior class of Bexley High school with an average grade of 98 per cent for her entire high school course. Not only, however, has Miss Beck outdistanced all her classmates but she has reached the highest rank of any pupil in the history of the school.

Still another record is held by Miss Beck, which has impressed her teachers and fellow students, in that she is the youngest member of her class. She celebrated her 16th birthday April 7, having made the four year course in three years. She will be awarded the Parent-Teacher association prize for having attained the highest scholarship and will be presented a set of volumes of her favorite author at the commencement exercises, June 7.

Gets English Prize

The second honor student is Dorothy Kelley who had an average of 95.1 per cent. She has been awarded the prize for doing the best work in English and will receive a set of books, promised by an anonymous donor to the prize English scholar.

One fourth of students in the senior class are on the honor roll for the four years and thus belong to the senior honor society. They have had grades of 90 or above, in all their studies. The only disappointing thing, Superintendent Dieterich says, is that so few boys reached the goal, the list containing nine girls and only two boys.

Others besides Miss Beck and Miss Kelley, who are honor students are: Heleh Wannemacher with a grade of 94.59 per cent; Catherine Singer, 94 per cent; Elsie Schneider, 93.63; Roger McNichols, 93.50 per cent; Dorothy Gockenbach, 92.5 per cent; Jane Boderick, 92.07 per cent; Katherine Murray, 91.25 per cent; Helen Wildermuth, 91.23 per cent and Arch Houstle, 90.62 per cent.

ATTENDS CONVOCATION

Rev. Lewis Green, pastor of Mayflower Congregational church attended the convocation for ministers at Oberlin College, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday and stopped at Steubenville en route home. He will arrive in Columbus Saturday.

Northern Star Publisher Asks "How and Where?"

There has always been the friendliest of feelings among the seven Columbus community newspapers and some of us often discuss on many problems.

It rather inflated one's pride Monday morning, however, to have the publisher of the Northern Star, a five year old paper, approach us, the youngest of the seven, with compliments on our new department, "The Eastern Times Business Directory." He didn't even mind admitting that Ella Mae Ives, a north sider and well known dietitian, whom we hear every Tuesday noon over W A I U, had called his attention to this feature in a "Times" which she had picked up in a friend's home out East. She didn't see why "The Northern Star readers hadn't had such a convenient department this long while. Why, just imagine how splendid that would be for us to have our north side businesses listed in one classified group. Can you promise us a directory in the near future?" Whereat the "Star" publisher proceeded to get tips from the "Times" publisher and is working on a Northern Star Directory.

It's not too late to be listed IN THE "TIMES" DIRECTORY

TO OPEN UP ELM AND REMINGTON CLOSE TO SCHOOL

LIGHTS TO BE UNIFORM

Relief for congested traffic conditions in the vicinity of the Bexley Junior high school on Cassingham road is about to be realized with the opening up of Elm avenue from Cassingham road east to Remington road and of Remington road itself as far south as the school property, according to a report made Monday night to Bexley council by Village Solicitor Harley E. Peters. Council met Monday instead of Tuesday, its regular day, because the municipal building was to be used for voting Tuesday.

Mr. Peters said that A. H. Barcroft, and his sister, who own part of the property to be cut into for streets, were willing to donate 60 feet and that Charles Workman, who owns part of the Elm street frontage, had agreed to donate as much as the board of education would donate, namely 15½ feet. It is his hope, the solicitor stated, to get hold of the land needed, by agreement, rather than by condemnation and he reported that the parties interested were to meet soon to decide upon valuation.

Rscind Former Action

Street lights on Remington road and on Montrose avenue are to be placed on alternate sides of the streets, rather than only on the sides bounding the high school property, council decided after listening to opinions voiced by Remington road residents. At its last meeting council voted to place the street lights on Montrose only on the school ground side, after hearing a petition from residents favoring that system. That action, however, was rescinded upon hearing protests from other residents of the same street and of Remington road who voiced the wish that the street lights on their street be uniform with the rest of Bexley.

Council thereupon decided at the suggestion of Councilman Kerr that in the future it would not act upon petitions of citizens unless such petitions were made in writing and were certified to be 100 per cent favorable to the proposition to be considered.

Those who have bumped over the cross streets of Bexley will be pleased at the announcement made at the council meeting that workmen will start filling up chuck holes on cross streets next week, if weather permits.

Will Improve Powell

Definite assurance was given residents in the vicinity of Powell avenue south of Broad street that Powell avenue is not to be dedicated and closed and Clark Roderick was authorized to notify residents between Drexel and Parkview avenues that council was agreeable to accepting the suggestion of abutting property owners, that they buy material for improving the street, if the village would provide workmen for the labor involved.

Council accepted the recommendation of the zoning commission that the application of Harry Cohen for permission to erect a 26 foot residence on a 40 foot lot at the northwest corner of Astor and Montrose avenues be granted, in view of the fact that he had obtained the consent of the owner of the other corner lot owners.

An ordinance was passed changing the name of Walnut street between Main street and Delmar drive to Northview drive; the sewer at the bottom of Walnut Hill, which has been stopped up, is to be investigated; Councilman Bornet was asked to confer with the gas company about a gas contract; the contract for purchasing incandescent lights was signed by the mayor; the Railway Light Co. was given permission to set poles in the alley between Walnut street and Dawson avenue from Caroline avenue to Delman Drive; F. L. Bonnet, chairman of the water committee was appointed to meet with the village engineer to confer about plans for a contemplated water plant and the petition for the paving of Park Hill drive between Westland avenue and Park drive was granted.

DR. TAIT BETTER

Dr. John L. Tait, pastor of the Bexley Presbyterian church, who has been ill with influenza since last Saturday, is better and hopes to occupy his pulpit Sunday morning.

Mrs. Charles D. Cussins, 358 South Parkview avenue, was elected president of the Franklin County Democratic Women's club Monday.

CHURCH WINS BUT SUFFERS DELAY OF THIRTY DAYS

ZONING BODY OVERRULED

Members of the Wilson Avenue Reformed church, who are interested in the immediate start of work on their new building, have begun to believe that when they win, they lose.

One hundred of them appeared before city council Monday night to give moral support to the arguments of their attorney, Paul Gingher, that the church property need only be three feet away from the lot line of A. B. Martlin, owner and resident in the apartment house at 121 Wilson avenue. Mr. Martlin has previously contended that the proposed new church building was too near his lot line and was cutting off his light, and had persuaded the city planning commission last Tuesday to order the church to put back its structure six feet.

Unanimous Vote

The church members then carried their case directly to city council and gained the unanimous vote of the city solons on an ordinance reversing the decision of the planning commission and allowing the church to proceed with its original plan of a set-back of three feet from the Martlin lot line. Flushed with victory the delegation planned for immediate resumption of the ground-breaking, begun with great ceremony Easter night by Dr. C. E. Shaeffer of Philadelphia, general secretary of the home missions of the denomination.

But a piece of red tape thwarts them. Council requires that 30 days elapse before an ordinance becomes a law and until the ordinance legalizing the three foot set-back is effective, the Wilson avenue church may not take out a building permit. Therefore by winning their case Monday night they have lost a month.

The only chance whereby work may be started next week is for both the church and Mr. Martlin to compromise and to present that compromise to the planning commission next Tuesday morning. If the set-back line protest had not been made, the foundation would have been finished this week, and work would have been projected toward the actual construction.

Late Thursday afternoon Mrs. Jeanette E. Martlin, wife of I. B. Martlin, sued the church and Building Inspector Bert Walter, asking that they be temporarily restrained from proceeding with the construction of the church. A compromise, therefore, probably cannot be arranged, attorneys say.

BEXLEY GRADUATES ENTER DARTMOUTH WITHOUT EXAMS

Arthur D. Wright, executive secretary of the committee on admissions of Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., has written to Superintendent H. C. Dieterich of Bexley schools to inform him that the village high school has been placed on the Dartmouth approved list of secondary schools. Graduates of Bexley High school will, therefore, be admitted to Dartmouth without entrance examinations.

The letter reads as follows:

"I am glad to be able to advise you that our committee on admissions after careful consideration of your application to have the Bexley High school placed on the Dartmouth approved list of secondary schools, has voted to grant your school the full certificate privilege.

"Permit me to express the hope that the future relations between your school and Dartmouth College may prove to be mutually pleasant and satisfactory."

HAVE RETURNED FROM HEALTH RESORT

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Bennett, 2486 Bexley Park road, have returned from Martinsville, Ind., where they spent two weeks. Mr. Bonnett, member of Bexley council, was in a run-down condition following an attack of influenza, and his stay at the Indiana health resort has greatly improved his health. Among East Side folks who have been vacationing at Martinsville are James T. Carroll, 2714 East Broad street; Harry Hughes, 73 Sheaman avenue; Max Rieser, 1260 East Broad street; Howard Goodman, 1725 Franklin avenue and Mr. and Mrs. George Schoedinger, 78 Auburn avenue.

RECOMEND THAT ELM BE TREE FOR VILLAGE

Bexley householders, who are contemplating planting trees for the beautification of the village on Arbor Day, will be interested to learn that the committee of citizens, appointed last year to study a beautification program, decided on the elm as the village tree and made the recommendation that all newly planted trees be of that variety. In advising that the trees be uniform, the committee is following the precedent of lovely old New England villages, which have opposed making its streets a hodge-podge of varieties, rather than of a beautiful uniformity, Carl Frye, member of the committee, points out.

YOUNG POET SUBMITS EXCEPTIONAL VERSE

"I Thank God for my Dreams", a poem written by Ruth Smith, a junior in Bexley High school, is of such exceptional quality, the faculty of the high school thinks, that it is to be sent to the magazine, Poetry. Miss Smith will submit it to the editor at the suggestion of her teachers. She is in charge of the poetry department of "The Torch", the monthly paper edited by Bexley High students and has written some excellent verse.

Her latest poem follows:

I Thank God For My Dreams

I thank God for the hope that springs from dreams,
The solace that our rein-loosed thots
inspire,
When destiny by fate most doubtful seems
And high ideals writhe dying on the pyre,
When constant friends dislike for us
conceive,
Triumphant wax our still more constant foes,
When that One Friend of all we now believe
To have abandoned man to his own woes,
Then come our dreams like sunshine
thru a cloud
Diffusing Hope and Love and healthy
Cheer,
And all those blessings which the Lord allowed
Are blooming now to gladden every year.
And from these dreams that in men's hearts now glow
The resurrection of the world shall grow.

Favoring a Civic Association

For several years the East Side has been without a civic association, making it the only part of the city which is without such a valuable co-operative link between the city government and the citizens which support, and are represented by, that government. Each week the minutes of the city council show that civic organizations of the Hilltop, of the South Side or of one of the North Side communities has addressed council upon some measure close to the hearts of the respective residents and that council has been pleased to hear the opinions of its constituents.

Only the East Side with its body of substantial, thoughtful citizens, has no such methods of making its wishes known to its legislators. Not only that, but its residents have no medium for the interchange of opinion on the problems that affect only this section of the city—and there are many of them. Students of democracy are unanimous in concluding that democracy will fail unless all the people are educated in government and civics, and what better way to accomplish that end than through a live civic association that will meet regularly and will come out strong on various subjects?

The Eastern Times would be glad to sponsor and to aid such an association, for without a newspaper it is well nigh impossible for a civic organization to live. It needs some medium for presenting its projects to the citizens and for getting to them the news of what is being accomplished. The Eastern Times stands ready to act as that medium.

Let our curtain dryer take this dreaded job off your hands this Spring.

Our Curtain Dryer
Makes them hang true

Even after YOU spend hours washing and drying your curtain they lack that smooth finish and even "hang" they should have.

In our method they are handled gently and carefully and come off of the dryer STRAIGHT and TRUE, without pin holes or hook marks.

You'll never wash your curtains at home again after you know our quality work and low prices. Phone and let us tell you more about it.

A sterling material, similar to a stiff bristle brush, holds the edges of the curtains, without hooks or pins. Corners are square, scallops even, measurements true.

Just a Little Smile

QUICK CHANGES

"Did you ever hear," inquired a Russian acquaintance, "of the American who, owing to an accident to his airplane, suddenly changed his nationality—he came down a Russian."

"Yes," we replied, falling in with his humor, "but we heard further that this aviator carried a passenger who also changed his nationality—he landed on some telegraph wires and came down a Pole."

One Method

One Maiden Sister to Another Maiden Sister—It would seem so good to hear a man's voice 'round the house.

The Other Maiden Sister—Well, let's get a radio.

Changed Days

She—Love-making is the same as it always was.

He—How can you tell?

She—I've just read of a Greek maiden who sat and listened to a lyre all night.

Not For Now

Flannagan—Since his little windfall O'Day has been going some.

Hooligan—Yes, and this morning he bought a second-hand car.

Flannagan—Well, then there is no knowing how far he will go now.

WRONG GIRL

Mamie, I love you!"

"You may love both me and Mamie, but my name's not Mamie."

Assurance

"And will you love me as much as this when we are married?"

"Darling, how can you doubt me? I've always liked married women best."

Impossible

"So you think you know as much about it as the instructor?"

"Well, he just said that it was impossible for him to teach me anything."

Pretty Thin

Landlady—How did you find your bed, Mr. Newlywed?

Newlywed—Well, I don't think the mattress will ever need to be treated for the removal of superfluous hair.

THEY'RE STILL COMING

"Willie, you have a new brother just arrived from a foreign land."

"Huh, thought they were going to stop them darn immigrants from coming in!"

Aeronautics Aids Farmer

Aeronautics, after adapting the windmill to its own purposes, is returning it to the farmer greatly improved as a result of the intensive research made by the aircraft industry. Changes in the number of blades and the pitch of the propellers used to drive electric generators on airplanes at the army laboratories at Dayton, Ohio, have resulted in a new type of wheel for ordinary windmills. This increases the speed of revolution from six to ten times that of the old-fashioned wheel.

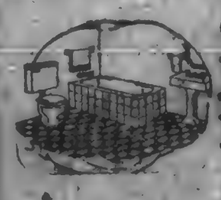
BOWS AND ARROWS FIGURE IN SPORTS

The famous old pastime of archery, which has been undergoing a revival not only in England but in this country, promises this year to enjoy a further popularity. Many London hostesses of last year included it in their morning recreation in Regent's park or Kew gardens, while in the United States, where the sport was promoted by Maurice Thompson in 1878 and revived in 1913, it is estimated that no less than 2,000 college girls are taking their bow and arrow shooting seriously.

Before the invention of gunpowder no country had been discovered in which the bow was not the chief weapon for hunting and war. It lasted longest in the Americas, where it was the main arm from Patagonia to the Arctic circle. In the 1780s in England the art of the bow and arrow became the favorite national pastime, and the Toxophilic society then formed still carries on. Before tennis and later golf ushered in the era of more vigorous sport, the bow and arrow reigned almost supreme.

BRAZIL LOOKED TO FOR TIMBER SUPPLY

American forests are being cut four times as fast as they are being replaced by new growth and replanting.



Making a general survey of present forest resources of the world and of Brazil, particularly in the vast timber reserves of the Amazon river basin in the northern part of the country, one finds the most adequate source of supply to which the American market may turn to satisfy its needs.

In fact, Brazil, with something like 5,000,000,000,000 board feet of standing timber, is in a position of special advantage when the problem of a large supply of hardwoods for the American market is considered. While it is true that such a tremendous reserve is not yet available for immediate exploitation, because of lack of proper means of transportation to the seacoast, there are at least two large sections of the country from which fine Brazilian woods are already moving to the United States and other markets.

E. H. Sell Heads Campaign To Raise Building Fund

BEGIN MAY 11

E. H. Sell, 169 North Nelson road, has been chosen general chairman in charge of the campaign to raise $48,000 as a building fund for the Wilson Avenue Reformed church during the week of May 11-18. J. W. Weaver, 614 South Champion avenue, is to be associate general chairman; C. G. McBride, 1844 Guilford road, treasurer; E. B. Furry, 1064 Oakwood avenue, commander of the men's division; E. W. Grob, 161 Tulane road, major; Mrs. C. O. Fravel, 1879 Fair avenue, commander of the women's division and Mrs. Clarence Woods, 1261 Fair avenue, major.

One hundred and twenty persons are to be included in the campaign organization, including 30 teams of four members each, of which 20 are to be men's teams and 10 women's teams. Captains for the men include G. W. Acker, H. J. Copeland, J. S. Dennis, Charles C. Fravel, L. C. Heimlein, J. A. Kehrer, C. G. McBride, P. W. Opp, R. H. Overly, H. A. Pateer, Charles Rau, C. F. Reedy, Charles Rowe, Walter Runkle, E. S. Stotz, H. J. Stotz, W. H. Weatherby, L. B. Wheaton, J. F. Wolfe, and C. J. Zelsman.

Captains for the women are Mrs. R. J. Feather, Miss Marguerite Forwick, Mrs. E. B. Furry, Mrs. B. F. Gartrell, Mrs. F. L. Kratky, Miss Marie H. Miller, Mrs. H. R. Mitchell, Mrs. A. O. Monett, Mrs. Claude Reedy and Mrs. F. S. Rowe.

Although the building of the new church auditorium and the remodeling of the present building is a $60,000 job, assets on hand make it necessary to raise only $48,000, the campaign committee points out. Since the incumbency of the present pastor, Rev. Clarence Woods, about two years, the activities of the church have more than doubled. Since this is the only Reformed church in the city, it is hoped to attract by the new program, possible in the new quarters the hundreds of Reformed members throughout the city and also the 300 students from Reformed homes who are in Columbus attending schools.

Next week will be spent in training the organization, after which members will call on 500 persons in the community.

NINE CHILDREN ARE PRESENT AT GOLDEN WEDDING DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. William Jordan, 812 Kelton avenue, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday at an elaborate affair for 32 friends and relatives, which included a dinner at noon. The house was decorated in roses, carnations and jonquils and the color scheme at the table was yellow and lavendar. Rev. John Mayer, pastor of the Livingston Avenue M. E. church, made an address in honor of the occasion and C. L. Jordan offered prayer. At the conclusion was the presentation of gifts to the happy pair, including many beautiful tokens.

Mr. and Mrs. Jordan have nine children, all of whom were present at the anniversary celebration. They include Clifford L., Millard F., Forest L., Calvin E., and Gladys, all of Columbus; Arthur J. of Fort Wayne, Ind.; Mrs. Thomas C. Henderson of Oberlin, O.; William H. of Cleveland and Mrs. William Wilson of South Bloomfield. Ten grandchildren were present also.

RECOVERS FROM INJURIES IN FALL

John Isabel, superintendent of Isabel & Co., builders, who are constructing the county school house on East Broad street, is recovering from injuries sustained by a fall from the scaffolding of the school house three weeks ago. Mr. Isabel is suffering from a trussed kidney and it is expected that he will not be able to leave his room for at least three weeks longer.

Mrs. S. J. Isabel of East Main street, his mother, has come home from West Palm Beach, Fla., on account of her son's illness. She was enjoying there the kind of weather Ohio does not get until June and was greatly disappointed to find that Columbus is having a late spring.

During the past two years Bexley and South have had four debates, with village as winner on three of the occasions.

MANY PUPILS ARE RECOVERING FROM "COLDS" EPIDEMIC

Influenza, Measles, Mumps And Whooping Cough Seriously Interrupt Studies

LITTLE ONES AFFECTED

Schools on the East Side are getting back to normal this week after a severe epidemic of influenza, measles and mumps among the children, which caused an extraordinary amount of absence, especially among the smaller ones.

The large number of cases of influenza and measles among Fairwood Avenue pupils has made the work very difficult during the past few weeks, Miss Lou E. Thompson, the principal, reports. She said that the classroom work would have gone to pieces, had it not been for the working out of the Dalton plan there, which permits the children to go as fast or as slowly in their studies as they are able. Three teachers were out at one time there.

At Ohio Avenue the absence record has gone as high as 15 per cent, Mrs. Margaret Rarey, the principal says. Influenza, a great deal of mumps, whooping cough and measles have run up the percentage among the children but the teachers have come through with scarcely any illness. As many as 50 children a day have been out at Main Street during the latter part of March and April, causing the percentage of absence to increase to 15 per cent. Attendance usually averages up in the ninety percentages, Miss Ruby McMahan, the principal points out, as health conditions there are exceptionally good during normal periods.

The average attendance of 90 per cent or above, usually enjoyed by Livingston Avenue school, dropped five per cent during April on account of the "flu", E. E. Garwick, the principal, reports. Fifty days absence was chalked up for one pupil and more teachers were out than ever before, he says, four of whom were ill for three weeks at a time. Conditions are much better this week, Mr. Garwick declares, all the teachers having returned to their classroom and many children feeling better.

Sixty children were absent one day last week at Fair avenue, Miss Rose Hammond reports, making a 15 per cent absence record, but there has been little sickness among the teachers, she says. Franklin Junior High school had a ten per cent absence record, but Roosevelt Junior High and East High did not suffer much from the epidemic.

Although many parents have reported colds, measles and influenza among their children in the Bexley schools, Superintendent Dieterich says the rate of absence has not been alarming.

MAY IS MONTH OF ANNIVERSARIES FOR B. L. SCHMITT

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin L. Schmitt, 540 Wilson avenue, will celebrate their fifty-second wedding anniversary May 30 in a quiet way in their home. Their two children, Mrs. Charles S. Bash, 1822 Bryden road, and R. V. Smith, 409 South Parkview avenue, dean of Capital university, will be with them.

Mr. Schmitt will celebrate also his seventy-fifth birthday in May and will be pensioned by the John M. Caren Co., during its fifty-second anniversary. He has been a linens, domestics and wash fabrics salesman for many years and will be rewarded for his faithful service by the pension and by being permitted to spend time at the store at his own pleasure.

NEW BLANK FOR BUILDING PERMIT

A new blank for Bexley building permits is being prepared for O. P. Dunlop, building inspector, which will include all the questions and blanks for information that the old ones contained, but will have in addition a large lot plan. This lot plan will show the lot line with relation to the adjoining buildings, as well as the front lot line, making it possible to avoid any misunderstanding on the part of the builder, as to what constitutes the lot line, as defined by the village of Bexley.

IS BACKING TEAM

The Friedman Department Store is backing a recreation hall league and has taken a franchise in the McKinley Independent group.

YOUTHFUL BLONDE IS OBJECT OF INTEREST ON COLLEGE CAMPUS

New blond has appeared on the Capital university campus.

Practically every man in the school has been caught at one time or another, standing on the corner, waiting for her to come around.

But the blond in this case does not happen to be a woman. It is a white squirrel just a few weeks old, living in the knot-hole of a tree on the east end of the men's dormitory. It is of the albino variety.

Being rather timid—more timid than its brothers or sisters—the squirrel makes its appearance only a few times a day. But each time there is a group there to greet it and so much noise is made that quickly it jumps back into its hole for several more hours.

Albinos occur in any species of animals very rarely and Capital is proud of this one.

DOUBLE WINNERS TO BE HONORED

Grace Lutheran Girls' Basketball Team to Receive Pennant and Silver Cup

The girls' basketball team of Grace Lutheran church, winners in the East Side church league and holders of the city championship among church leagues, will be awarded the East Side winners' pennant and the silver championship cup for the city at the basketball dance to be held May 10 at the West Side Market hall, corner of West State and Gift streets.

The dance will be under the auspices of the city recreation department, with Miss Alma Morris in charge and will be a so-ed affair. Arthur W. Raymond, head of the recreation department, will award the pennants and the cups. Members of the East Side league, including Grace Lutheran, Oakwood M. E., First English Lutheran, Main M. E. and Broad Street M. E. are especially invited to be present, in view of the honors to be given to one of its members.

Reservations are to be made before May 7 with Miss Morris, at Ma. 7980, or with Mrs. Elsa St. Clair, at Fr. 4662-W.

PROF. WILLIAM L. GRAVES TO SPEAK AT GRADUATION

Popular English Professor To Deliver Address Before Bexley High Graduates

HAVE FLOWER FESTIVAL

Prof. William Lucius Graves, of the department of English at Ohio State university, will be the speaker at commencement exercises for the Bexley High school to be held in the high school auditorium Thursday evening, June 7.

The commencement festivities in the Bexley schools will begin Thursday, May 30, with the start of the second annual flower festival to be held on the stage of the Junior High school building and to continue until Wednesday, June 6. Children and parents are to enter flowers which have been raised in their own gardens and yards and prizes are to be given for the most beautiful blossoms. Each grade will compete against the children of the same age.

The second half of the final examinations, a necessary prelude to commencement, but not considered part of the festivities, at least by the students, are scheduled for seniors for May 31 and June 1 and for other students above the third grade for June 4 and 5.

The baccalaureate sermon, to be preached by Dr. Frank G. Fowler, pastor of the Bexley M. E. church, is to be heard Sunday, June 3; the annual P. T. A. picnic has been arranged for Monday, June 4 on the high school lawn with an exhibition by the physical education department and the senior play, "The Goose Hangs High" is to be put on June 5 and 6.

YOUNG GARDNERS ARE AT WORK

Children at Fair avenue school are at work spading and sowing seeds in their school gardens, under the direction of Miss Stella Reinhart, garden teacher. Miss Reinhart will keep in touch with the young gardners during the summer months, and in the autumn, after school convenes again, she will have charge of an exhibit of flowers and vegetables raised by the pupils.

Bexley Library Lawn Is To Be Landscaped In Model Fashion

Architects' plans for the new Bexley Library, to be located on East Main street opposite Cassady avenue, on land owned by Capital university, are in perspective, and bids for construction will be opened June 1. The contract will then be awarded by July 1, after which construction will start at once.

Miller and Reeves are the architects for the building, which will contain only one floor and basement and will be adapted along French and Italian architectural lines. It is to have a residential appearance, with arched doorway, and ornamental grilled windows, the material to be of brick and stone with cut stone trimming.

According to present plans the desk of the librarian in charge will be placed directly in front of the entrance, and to the right will be the childrens room and to the left the adult reading room, both 28½ by 42 feet in size. The doorways to the two wings will be placed in such a way that both rooms can be supervised from the desk. At the far end of the children's room, a fireplace is to be built, around which the youngsters will gather at intervals for a story hour. The adult room will be equipped with chairs, tables and magazine racks.

Back of the desk are to be the stacks for books and to the rear of them the tables for reference reading. To the left will be a porch, which will be enclosed for a reading room, and to the right is a work room for the librarians and an office for Mrs. Robert Bilby, the librarian. The basement at present will be occupied by heating apparatus and lavoratories, but two large spaces will be reserved for stacks, to be used as the library grows.

In planning for the building, the library board and the architects have been looking ahead to a time when Bexley will have a population of 25,000 persons, hence the provision for space for book stacks. The board has a lease on the library property for 30 years with the privilege of renewal at the end of that time, and the privilege of buying, selling or renewing at the end of the 60 year period. It is expected that the building will be ready for occupancy in January, at which time the library will be moved from Bexley High school, where it has been housed since 1924.

The cost of the building will be $60,000, with $8,000 additional for equipment. The lawn to the side and rear of the library, although owned by Capital university, will be landscaped by the library officials, so to improve the beauty of the surroundings, as well as to display model methods of planning gardens and planting shrubbery.

Members of the library board include Rev. S. E. Sweet, president; Mrs. Amy C. Brightman, secretary; Rev. C. V. Sheatsley, H. C. Dieterich, Mrs. Fritz A. Lichtenberg, Mrs. Hugh Bone and E. P. Tice.

TEAMS NEEDED BY EAST SIDE LEAGUE

East Side churches, having recreation or baseball teams, which they would like to enter in the East church recreation ball league are asked to communicate with Miss Alma Morris at the city recreation department. More teams are needed to round out the organization, she says.

Miss Morris says that enough applications have been received to practically fill the tennis courts at Franklin Park during the entire season. It is hoped that the courts will be ready for play within a week, the date depending upon the weather and upon the availability of workmen.

MUSICAL FESTIVAL

The musical festival by the musical organizations of Bexley High school will be held Wednesday evening in the auditorium. The glee clubs under Ellis Snyder, as director, will sing the cantata "Lore from the Saga of Eric the Red" and the orchestra and band will play under the direction of Harold Grimm.

April Building Figures Show Decided Decrease Over 1927

Valuation of $180,350 Is Five Times Less Than Last Year; 47 Permits Issued

NO BIG PROJECTS

The building industry suffered a slump in Bexley during the month of April, 1928, according to figures covering both the value and number of building permits, given out by O. P. Dunlop, building inspector. Permits numbered only 47, with 23 of them for residences, 21 for garage and three for additions, the total valuation for the month totalling only $180,350.

That these figures constitute a slump is shown by comparing them with those of the same period last year. During April, 1927, 75 permits were issued with a total valuation of $820,140, nearly twice as many permits with a valuation more than five times greater. It must be taken into consideration, however, Inspector Dunlop points out, that $462,000 of the valuation of April, 1927, covered three new buildings on the Capital university campus and one new oil station, while the total for April, 1928 contained no valuation exceeding $12,000.

The 23 permits for residences during April, 1928 call for a total expenditure of $169,950; the 21 garages for an expenditure of $7,400 and the three additions for $3,000. Last year the residences during April cost $349,200, which figure is more than the cost of all buildings during April this year; garages last year in April cost $8,590 to build and repairs came to $350.

The April total falls below the March total, also, with a drop of 11 in the number of permits and a drop of $100,000 in valuation.

Construction covered by the permits taken out during last month are as follows: Albert F. Leindecker, two story frame residence and two car garage at 127 North Cassingham, to cost $7,100; J. W. Lawson, two story shingle with two car garage at 921 Remington, to cost $5,300; T. W. Lawson, two story shingle with two car garage at 903 South Remington, to cost $5,800; F. J. Emswiler, two story brick with two car garage at 111 South Cassingham, to cost $7,800; J. A. Haverfield, two story brick and frame with two car garage at 175 S. Stanwood, to cost $7,300.

E. Thompson, two story brick and frame with two car garage at 795 South Cassingham, to cost $5,300; William Henry, two story brick with one car garage at 313 North Cassingham, to cost $7,500; Ed Knauer, two story frame with one car garage at 494 North Dawson, to cost $6,200.

SHOW THEIR BIRD HOUSES TO CLUB

Four boys, pupils at Fairwood Avenue school, were chosen as a special elementary school group, to exhibit their bird houses at the Rotary club luncheon Tuesday at the Deshler hotel. They were the only young carpenters from the grades who were so honored, all other exhibitors being from junior or senior high schools.

Charles Abey did the best work, according to the report of the teacher, Mrs. Jennie Lewis Hall, in charge of special manual training classes, while the others who stood high were Norman Abey, Albert Mauk and Earl Tucker. The four boys live at the Franklin County home.

NURSES TO GIVE HOURLY SERVICE

Equipped to Care For Patients Who Do Not Require Attention For Whole Day

Miss Helen Rodenfels, R. N., 636 Bulen avenue, and Miss Clare Hally, R. N., 1275 Mooberry street, graduates of Mt. Carmel Hospital Training School, have started an hourly nursing service, which is meeting a need long felt by doctors and by their patients. The two nurses, after encouragement and promise of cooperation from a number of representative physicians, have taken up the administration in the home of such cars and treatment as the doctor prescribes in an allotted time. The patient will then be charged according to the amount of time spent and the nature of the treatment.

General nursing, such as bed bath, enemata, catheterization, douches, colonic irrigations, surgical dressings, care of new-born infant, pre-natal and post-natal care, preparation and instruction in preparation of formulae is included in the project. The nurses have an electrical hot pack, and are equipped to give special treatments, wet or dry, where hot packs are indicated.

This service, which has been tried and proved valuable in Cleveland and in other cities, has not been undertaken in Columbus before and it is expected that those cases where the services of a nurse are not required during the entire day or night, will find it beneficial.

SEMINARY STUDENT TO USE MILITARY SKILL AS ARMY CHAPLAIN

Despite the lack of an R. O. T. C. Unit, Capital university students are not entirely without able military leaders. Cecil Propst, son of Rev. L. P. Propst, of Laurel, Maryland, who is a second lieutenant in the 80th division of the 319th Infantry Reserve Corps of the regular United States army, is enrolled in the Capital University Theological seminary.

Propst plans to complete his seminary training at Capital, enter the Ministry for a time in order to gain experience in pastoral work, and then apply for a position as chaplain in the army.

Propst's military experience began at the age of fourteen and he has been in training at Fort Leonard Wood, Meade, Maryland, and at Fort Eustis, Yorktown, Va. He is a member of Scabbard and Blade, national honorary military fraternity, and holds a medal as an expert with the bayonet. Propst is a member of the local alumni chapter of the Scabbard and Blade.

The Eastern Times is constantly hearing echoes of the activities of The Bexley News, a newspaper published in that village by H. G. Wakefield, and the editor wishes to take this opportunity to emphasize that The Eastern Times and the Bexley News are entirely different enterprises with no connection the one with the other.

The Bexley News was started in September, 1926 and ran until January, 1927, under the management of the said H. G. Wakefield. He then gave up the paper and left the village and Bexley was without a newspaper for nearly a year. In September, 1927 The Eastern Times was started by Miss Parks and her editor, a community paper that covers the East Side as well as Bexley, and that is no way modeled upon or similar to The Bexley News.

Mr. Wakefield is not even known by the present management nor have his policies been continued by this management. We wish to emphasize that The Eastern Times has no connection with The Bexley News and that we do not hold ourselves responsible for projects undertaken by Mr. Wakefield.

ALL THAT'S NEWS EAST

The Eastern Times

"A Community Newspaper For The East Side And Bexley"

DEVOTED TO COMMUNITY INTERESTS

Vol. I — COLUMBUS, OHIO, MAY 11, 1928 — No. 31

Appeal Is Made For Revival Of East Side Civic Association

Former President Irving H. Ruth Points Out Advantages To Be Gained

MANY PROJECTS PUT OVER

By Attorney Irving H. Ruth, Former President of the East Side Civic Association

IRVING H. RUTH

It was with a realization that in a city of our size beloved city, it is difficult for the members of our city government to get a full expression of citizens of different sections on matters of public importance and interest affecting a certain community, that a group of civic-spirited men decided to organize a civic association to be known as The East Side Civic association.

On the 15th day of March, 1923, a meeting was held at East High school auditorium, composed of directors who were to determine the mode of procedure and organization. After an enthusiastic discussion it was decided to hold a mass meeting of East Side people to take up matters affecting the East Side and to adopt a constitution and to pass by-laws, the main point and purpose of the said association to be the discussion of problems of the East Side in particular and of the city of Columbus in general.

Many important matters were discussed, the results being the consummation of the following projects, put over during the life of the association:

Paving and widening of Oak street and the placing of double tracks thereon; paving of Main street and the participation in the celebration thereof; the recommending to the recreation department of the selection of suitable playground sites and the assisting in the choosing of them; the recommending of the zoning ordinance; the repaving of many streets on the East Side, and many other matters too numerous to mention.

People of the East Side, let us unite in a community and civic enterprise and revive the interest it once had, to the advantage of the East Side and of the city of Columbus. Shall we be a backward community? Lets have your answer!

In the near future a meeting is planned, to which all persons living within the bounds of Parsons avenue and the N. & W. railway tracks and of Broad street and Livingston avenue, will be invited. Lets be thinking about it, and planning to attend it and to have some vital suggestions for stimulating interest and patriotism.

(Editor's Note. The Eastern Times is anxious to aid in the revival of interest in such an association and in the calling of such a meeting. We would like to hear from other citizens, both business men and housewives.)

MRS. HAYS ILL

Mrs. Robert R. Hays, of Pittsburgh, who, with her small son, Robert, jr., has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Davies, 65 South Ardmore road, and Mr. Hay's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hays, 1025 Madison avenue, is suffering from a slight attack of diphtheria. Mrs. Hays is ill at the home of her parents and Mr. Hays, who was in Columbus last week-end, remained over several days until her condition became better.

HOW ABOUT YOUR VACATION PLANS?

Soon the vacation season will be upon us and the readers of The Eastern Times will be scattering to all parts of the state, of the United States and even of the world. Home folks are always interested in reading of the travels of their friends and neighbors and, in turn, those travelers return home and want to read about the holiday-making of those who were at home during their wanderings. The Eastern Times is the place to send all such news and it is not too early to tell us now of your contemplated trips during the summer months. Send them in. We shall be glad to print them.

But we are not looking only for vacation news. We want notices of all the activities of the community—that your best friend is recovering from an attack of influenza; that your daughter or son is graduating from a school or college; that your husband has a new business connection; that your club or parent teacher association is putting on some activity. Always remember to send the news to The Eastern Times.

TRAVELS IN INTEREST OF LUTHERAN SYNOD

Rev. Lewis Speaker, pastor of the First English Lutheran church, was in Dayton Monday and Tuesday in the intprests of the southern conference of the synod of Ohio. Friday and Saturday he will be in Miamisburg. In the latter city he will give an address Saturday morning before the Luther League of the southern conference of the synod, meeting at the Lutheran church there.

BOWLING ALLEYS TO BE OPENED UP

T. B. Skinner To Install Five Alleys At Corner of Miller Ave. and Main St.

East Side bowlers, who have long lamented the absence of bowling alleys in this section and have complained because they had to go downtown to carry on their favorite sport, will be elated to learn that T. B. Skinner, 1220 Bryden road, head of the T. B. Skinner Motor Sales Co., 1424 E. Main street, is to open a new bowling alley on East Main street, in the room formerly occupied by the Stearns salesroom.

The five alleys will be installed at the back of the building and will be ready for use in two months' time. Mr. Skinner has already started remodeling, by changing floors and plaster, so as to be ready to open to enthusiastic bowlers the latter part of the summer.

DRILLS AND FOLK DANCES ON BILL

Exhibition of Physical Education Department To Be Given By Junior High

Work consisting of calisthenics, setting up exercises, drills and folk dances will be put on by the physical education departments of the Junior High school Friday, May 18 at the first annual exhibition. Illuminated wand and torch drills to be put on while the hall is in darkness will be among the most effective of the numbers on the program, while Dutch, Danish, Hungarian and Irish dances will interest the devotees of folk dancing. Miss Dorothy Gill is directing the girls' work and Herbert Hutchinson, the boys'.

DR. LENSKI TURNS TAILOR FOR 1882 BASEBALL SQUAD

The first ball of the Capital University baseball season was pitched in the opening game with Ohio Northern by Dr. R. C. H. Lenski, dean of the Capital Theological seminary, and thereby hangs a tale.

Back in '82 and '83 Capital university had baseball teams that were known far and wide, as it was one of the few colleges participating in the sport at that time. Columbus and Ohio State were played each year. But it happened that a rather odd circumstance obtained at that time in that the Lutheran team was without uniforms, playing always in civilian clothes.

Both players and spectators mourned this fact and the team decided to secure uniforms. Investigation was made into the cost of such a luxury and it was found that the price was prohibitive. The cutter who was to design and cut the material wanted 50c per suit. More than that, the seamstress wanted 50c in addition for making each suit, totaling $1. Now there were nine men on a team along with several substitutes which would mean an expenditure of more than $10, a huge sum in those days.

The team almost despaired of being able to put their aspirations into form. But their then captain, Dr. Lenski, came to the rescue. His father was a tailor in Jackson, Mich., and the young athlete had observed how he went about cutting out a suit. So he offered to try his hand at saving the squad at least half of the money. He tried it, and as a result, the graduating class of '82 had the honor of seeing the first uniformed baseball team.

TWO HUNDRED ATTEND

A mother-daughter banquet was given Thursday evening at the Miller Avenue Evangelical church Thursday evening with 200 in attendance. Toasts and addresses were given by the mothers to the daughters and by the daughters to the mothers. Mrs. A. A. Hawley was in charge.

NATURE LOVERS TO STUDY UNDER ERNEST THOMPSON SETON

East Side nature lovers, who desire to learn woodcraft, campcraft and outdoor recreation under Ernest Thompson Seton, famous naturalist, will have an opportunity when Seton comes to Columbus May 14 to 19. Arrangements have been made to hold such a course at the board of education headquarters on East State street each night, the cost to be quite small and to include only the price of books and equipment.

Those who desire to learn woodcraft under this delightful teacher may register with J. C. Hambleton at the board of education, it is announced by J. W. Stuber, ranger for the Woodcraft league. The class will be open to adults and will give a year-around program.

"IF I WERE" SERIES OF SERMONS

"If I were a Minister, I know what I would do to hold the interest of my congregation!" That remark is often heard on the lips of earnest church workers and they are to be given a chance to make their suggestions to their minister by Rev. Walter C. Collins, pastor of the Wilson Avenue Church of Christ, preceding a series of "If I Were" sermons in June.

Rev. Mr. Collins has asked his members to write out their suggestions and their data and to hand in these writings, either signed or unsigned, although he prefers that they be signed. He will then incorporate these hints in the first sermon of the series on "If I Were a Minister."

Later he will talk about "If I Were a Sunday School Superintendent"; "If I Were an Officer in the Church" and last, "If I Were a Layman."

ONLY TWO PAVING BIDS AWARDED TO BEXLEY COUNCIL

Other Streets On Program To Be Re-Advertised Because Figures Are too High

BRICK TO BE USED

Declaring that the bids for paving most of the streets scheduled to be paved this spring in Bexley were too high to be considered, the village council Tuesday night rejected bids for all but two of the streets and authorized Clerk Roderick to re-advertise.

Contracts were awarded to R. J. Dienst for laying brick on Dawson avenue from Main street to Fair avenue, and on Cassingham road from Main street to Fair avenue. Mr. Dienst made lower bids than the asphalt man and for it is reason the traditional policy of using asphalt on Bexley streets was discontinued, councilmen said. The streets to be re-advertised include:

Cassady road from Sherwood road to Brentwood road; Elm avenue from Parkview avenue to Columbia avenue and from Cassady road to Remington road; Havenwood Drive South; Remington road from Elm avenue to Powell avenue; and the Drexel avenue-Fair avenue intersection.

A petition signed by property owners on Fair avenue and Brentwood road, between Cassingham and Dawson avenue, asked for the vacation of the alley between Fair and Brentwood on the ground that if the alley were opened up, and garbage trucks were run down it, many beautiful trees would have to be cut down. The petition was presented by Otto Lintner and was acquiesced to by J. L. W. Henney. The matter was referred to the street committee.

The C. & G. Construction Co., requested permission to put in a temporary sewer to the rear of Chelsea avenue, south of Main street, to connect with the Mound street sewer, stating that no sewer was available at present. The request was referred to the sewer committee and to the Village Engineer, Harold Kennedy, the latter advising that the village have the right to say where the sewer should go and where it should be tapped and also to insist upon specified charges for other persons who might use the same temporary sewer.

More sewer trouble was reported by Mr. Graves, who told of a break in the sewer 500 feet north of Livingston avenue near Pleasant Ridge avenue. He said that a most unsanitary condition was existing and won the assurance that the break would be repaired at once.

Property owners on Dawson avenue between Main street and Fair avenue requested the aid of council in having telephone poles done away and wires put underground when the new paving was put in. The wires are not underground on Main street and the clerk was authorized to sign a letter bringing the matter before the telephone company.

The request of Edward Looker, who maintains a tire shop at 718 Kelton avenue, that he be allowed to use the village driveway if he took a lease on the property to the east of the municipal building, was denied. In answer to the letter of the Johnson Pavey Co. in regard to the removal

UNPAID WATER BILLS ACQUIRE PENALTY AFTER MAY 15

A limited number of Bexley residents have left unpaid their April water bills, Waterworks Clerk Barnett reports, although the accounts should have been attended to by April 30. Mr. Barnett announces that all bills must be paid by May 15, the punishment for non-payment being that the water may be turned off and a penalty charged.

ANNUAL FIELD DAYS PLANNED

Parent Teacher Associations Expect to Entertain Thousands at Exhibitions

The annual field day, when an exhibition is made of the work of the physical education department, has been planned by two East Side schools and by the Bexley schools. The members of the Parent Teacher associations of each school help with the plans and all the parents, teachers and pupils of the whole district attend in large numbers.

One of the features of the field day at the Ohio avenue school June 1 will be the depicting of the Human Flag by all the pupils marching in formation. The kindergarten band will play and the kindergartners will put on a play. There will be field stunts with cage balls and athletics, especially designed to interest the fathers. More than 1,000 people are expected to attend, to enjoy the lawn fete put on by the P. T. A.

All the children of Fairwood Avenue school will take part in the physical exercises at the Fairwood field day and there will be a kindergarten band and folk dances. The parents will serve a jitney supper to the visitors in squads of 100 and from 1500 to 2000 persons are expected. Mrs. Ernest McMurray is president of the P. T. A.

The Bexley festivities will be held in the form of a picnic on the high school grounds June 4 and besides an exhibition of the work of the physical education department, a program will be given.

ROSARY SENIORS IN "CHARM SCHOOL"

To Put On Clever Play From Alice Duerr Miller's Novel With Graduates As Actors

The fourth year class of Rosary High school has chosen a comedy, "The Charm School" as its class play to be given Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at 8 o'clock at the school. William Kappes and Helen Connor are to take the leads and Harry Gray and Catherine Kappes ably second them. The twin Baehrs add to the comedy and the complications.

This is the first class play in the history of the school; it is considered the biggest and most important dramatic event of the year and it is the final appearance of the fourth year class on the school stage. For these reasons great preparations are being made and the cast is working hard under the direction of their teachers.

Real Estate Conditions On East Side Are Better, Survey Shows

Fewer Vacancies Are Reported in District 5, Although City As Whole Has More

BEXLEY CHANGES LITTLE

Although the fifth annual survey of real estate conditions in Columbus and outlying suburbs, made during April by the Columbus Real Estate board, shows that there are more vacancies in the city as a whole than during 1927, conditions on the East Side show an improvement over last year.

This conclusion is based on figures given out by the Columbus Real Estate board, through its survey committee, headed by John W. Galbreath, and through its secretary, William W. Wheaton, 2463 Dale avenue. In District No. 5, comprising the territory between Ohio avenue and Alum Creek and between Broad street and Livingston avenue, 180 units of vacant rental properties were found on April 3, when the survey was made. Some of these had just been completed and were not quite ready for tenants, the surveyors reported.

Last year in the same district there were 212 units of vacant rental properties, and when it is considered that the population normally increases during a year, it may be seen that improvement was made.

Rentals under construction in 1928 came to 22 units, as against 13 under construction in 1927; vacant storerooms totaled 20 in 1928 as against 12 in 1927; there were 50 vacant singles in 1928, while at the same time last year there were 47. No singles are under construction in this built-up section, nor are any storerooms being built at the present time. Last year two singles were being put up and two storerooms.

In Bexley the survey showed that conditions were about the same as last year, when the increase in population is considered. Seventy vacant singles were found, most of which are new, while last year 58 vacant singles were reported. Sixty-two singles are under construction this year, as against 77 last year; 39 vacant rentals were reported this year and 24 rentals are under construction, while six storerooms are vacant and five are under construction. Last year when rental property and storerooms had not yet become widespread in Bexley, there were only eight vacant rentals, seven under construction and no vacant storerooms.

This survey, an annual affair during the past five years, is made with the purpose of drawing definite conclusions regarding the real estate conditions prevailing in the city. Three realtors or salesmen are assigned to each of the districts and suburbs and they make note of each vacancy, and of each new project.

Members of the survey committee, appointed by Leigh Koebel, 1780 E. Long street, the president of the Columbus Real Estate board, include Richard Ackland, T. J. Egle, H. E. Hoagland, Edward Holtz, James E. Holtz, James E. Johnson, J. E. Kinney, Carl Myers, Frank J. O'Hara and Ralph Van Cloud. The post office department assisted in making the survey in Columbus.

BROKEN WHEEL, FLAT TIRE AND THEN A THIEF

Before the vary eyes, as it were, of Bexley officers of the law, a truck load of furniture being moved from one house to another, disappeared from the streets, probably at the hands of a thief.

Monday a truck driver, carrying some furniture down College avenue, was delayed by a broken wheen. He left his truck to go for another wheel and upon replacing the broken one, discovered that he had a flat tire. Thoroughly disgusted, he stopped work for the day and left his loaded truck across the street from the home of Marshal Shadrach, 700 College avenue, and in the drive-way of Justice of the Peace Kuhn, 681 College avenue.

The next morning it had disappeared and police officers are still looking for it.

REQUESTS DISSOLUTION

City Attorney Leach has filed an answer to the suit of Mrs. I. B. Martin, 121 Wilson avenue, against the City building inspector and the Wilson Avenue Reformed church, temporarily restraining them from proceeding with the church structure at the corner of Fair avenue and Wilson avenue, requesting the dissolution of the suit.

MOTHER'S DAY TO BE FESTIVE TIME

Churches To Give Flowers To Women and Pastors to Have Special Sermons

Mother's Day, the time set aside when each of us makes a special effort to please his mother, is to be celebrated Sunday by quiet home gatherings and informal family parties. Florists have a special line of flowers for the occasion and shops have been featuring gifts which will make mother realize that she is loved and remembered. But in the churches, most of all, is the day celebrated and East Side churches have joined in the custom.

Young girls will act as ushers for the morning service at Christ Lutheran church and will present each mother a white flower. The junior and senior choruses will sing in honor of the occasion and Rev. C. V. Sheateley will preach a special sermon. The Sunday school of the Oakwood M. E. church will be in charge of the Berean class of mothers, of which Miss Grace Anderson is teacher. Mrs. O. A. Walton will play the organ.

The board of deacons of the First Presbyterian church are to purchase roses to be given to the women of the congregation at the morning service, and the elderly mothers, who are not able to walk, will be brought in automobiles. Fitting observance will be made at the Miller Avenue Evangelical church both morning and evening. In the morning a special combined Sunday school-church service will be held in honor of "mother", with a sermon on "A Mother's Wages."

In the evening a special Mother and Daughter service will feature a pageant entitled, "Living Pictures of the Old Home," and having a large cast of characters.

The young women's Bible class of the Wilson Avenue Reformed church will take over the musical program for the morning service there; and the Henry A. Williams Bible class will be in charge of the Mother's Day service at the Franklin Park M. E. church.

Special music and sermons will be given at the Washington Avenue U. B.; the Morgan Memorial M. E.; the First English Lutheran; Grace Lutheran; Oakwood M. E.; Wilson Avenue Church of Christ; Mayflower Congregational, Bexley Presbyterian, and Bexley Methodist churches.

WILL REPRESENT ALL THE NATIONS

Each school room of the Roosevelt Junior High school will represent a different nation at the carnival of the nations to be given under the auspices of the Roosevelt Parent Teacher association Friday and Saturday at the school. An exhibition will be given of physical training and there will be games and stunts. A jitney supper will be served including such delicious items as baked beans, potato salad, baked spaghetti, sandwiches and home-made pies and cakes.

Several thousand boys and girls and their parents and friends are expected to attend.

SUBSCRIPTION CAMPAIGN

The management of The Eastern Times announces the opening Saturday, May 12 of a subscription drive to be concentrated in Bexley. Your "Times" carrier will solicit your subscription, or, if you prefer, you may mail it to the Circulation Manager, at the office, 443 East Main street. The subscription price is $1.50 per year.

Bexley councilmen indorsed the Eastern Times and its circulation campaign at their meeting Tuesday evening and Marshall David Shadrach, 700 College avenue, has the honor of obtaining the first subscription from the inside of the circulation manager.

Campaign To Raise $48,000 For New Church To Start Friday With Supper For Workers

Friday at 6:15 o'clock at a supper to be served in the Wilson Avenue Reformed church will be fired as the opening shot in the campaign to raise $48,000 for a new building and equipment for this East Side church. The 120 workers, including the officers and team workers will dine together, after which a mass meeting will be held for all members and friends of the congregation.

This open program will include songs and speeches by those in charge of the campaign, and the drive will then be launched by an effort to roll up as many thousands of dollars as possible from among the group that is most interested in the project. Assignments will then be given out for solicitation Saturday, Sunday and Monday. Suppers will be held every evening at 6:15, beginning Monday, May 14, and lasting through Friday, at which time reports will be made, new assignments given and inspiration received for further effort.

One thousand letters have been sent out in anticipation of the campaign to people in the community near the church and 600 have been sent to members, and to Reformed homes throughout the city.

Those in charge of the campaign are pleased to announce the formation of a Counsellors' Committee, consisting of prominent men and women in the city, who were reared in the Reformed faith, but who now belong to other churches. This committee includes J. C. Campbell, 1203 E. Broad street, of the National Bank of Commerce, who supports a small Reformed church in Virginia as his hobby and one of his benevolences; Arthur C. Johnson, 227 Preston road, editor and assistant publisher of The Dispatch; Mrs. Walter B. Roebe, 841 E. Broad street; George Barrels of Canal Winchester; Dr. E. D. Halfrick, 1993 Indianola avenue; Mrs. Dora Sandoe Bachman, attorney, 330 Sixteenth avenue; Jacob A. Meckstroth, 146 Glenene road, secretary to Governor Donahey; A. R. Markle, 258 Walhalla road and George Heller, 34 W. Maynard avenue.

Although $60,000 is the estimated cost of the new building, cash on hand includes $12,000 and a gift from the home mission board amounts to $8,000, so that it is necessary to raise only $60,000. The new building will be of the Romanesque type of architecture, of brick trimmed in Indiana limestone and the roofs of variegated slate. The plans include an auditorium, study and church office in the building; auditorium and stage for dramatics and socials in the rearranged present building, and also for the assembly room of the adult and senior departments of the S. S., along with suites of rooms for the young people and for the Ladies' Church Aid and missionary societies, Sunday school classrooms, a Boy Scout club room with open fireplace, and dining rooms and kitchens for church dinners and suppers.

To the rear of the present building will be erected a children's building with adequate accommodation for the beginners and primary departments of the church school. These rooms are to be equipped for use after the church school period as a nursery for the children of mothers who wish to attend the church services.

President Ruth Speaks

In answer to the editorial appeal of The Eastern Times of two weeks ago that residents of the East Side rally around the East Side Civic Association and bring about its revival, Attorney Irving H. Ruth, former president of the association, has written a stirring article, which we have published on the first page of today's issue. With this evidence of support from a former officer, The Eastern Times is hopeful that action may be taken soon.

Mr. Ruth, in conversation with us recently, said that he was sure that this time interest in a civic association would be continued, with a community newspaper to print large and interesting notices of all the meetings, and to report them adequately. The downtown papers necessarily must treat all sections of the city in an impartial manner, and for that reason cannot give to the deliberations of an East Side assembly, the space that a purely East Side organ can give them.

The Eastern Times is glad to lend its support to a civic association in this territory and will be glad to print any other expressions of opinion from men and women interested in such a project. Let us hear from you this week!

At Last! We Answer You—

FOR eight months Bexley people have wondered, and that not in silence, at the persistent weekly visits of The Times without a single word from the publishers about subscriptions. Queries have been coming to the Municipal office, to the Mayor, the Councilmen, the Bexley merchants, The Times Office, and the newsboys by the score! These questions are interpreted by us to be genuine expressions of appreciation and gratitude from our readers for the service we have been rendering in furnishing them a medium of expression.

On file in our office are names and addresses of a truly gratifying number of representative Bexley citizens who have long since entered their names to be placed upon the subscription list as soon as it is opened. We are pleased also to have a number of requests for the privilege of being the first to subscribe for The Times.

The questions most frequently asked may be summed into:

Who Pays for the Paper? Why Dosn't someone Solicit Our Subscription?

When and Where may we Subscribe?

Our Answer

The revenue derived from the advertising columns goes a long way toward paying the tremendous expense of your paper, but it cannot meet the expense of delivery and overhead.

We have not accepted or solicited your subscription, as the case may be, because it seemed prudent to first prove ourselves to you, so to speak.

The Eastern Times is now permanently established as Bexley's weekly newspaper. It is endorsed by the Bexley Council, the Mayor, the Bexley and East Main Street Commercial Association. It is well on its way to the close of the first year and the continuance of its publication is an accepted fact.

We believe we have overcome any dissatisfaction or ill will that may have been incurred upon the failure in 1926 of the Bexley News (with which enterprise we have absolutely no connection nor dealings). We have come to the time when we modestly believe the scope of usefulness of this newspaper as a valuable medium of expression for Bexley's municipal officials, its churches, its citizens, its schools, is now fully recognized.

Campaign Starts Today

The opening of this subscription campaign marks the first step we are making toward the enlargement and improvement of your paper. As Bexley's requirements for a newspaper increase, likewise are we planning to grow to meet these demands with more departments, a larger staff, more news space.

We Are Growing With Bexley

This is Our FIRST Step and Your FIRST opportunity to show us and our boosters that you are in sympathy with our efforts, to furnish Bexley with a Weekly Village Newspaper.

Where and How to Subscribe:

The Times carriers who have been delivering your paper will solicit your subscription, presenting proper blanks, receipts and credentials.

HAVE YOUR SUBSCRIPTION READY FOR THEM, PLEASE.

If you must consult someone before deciding, do it now while you are thinking about it, and be ready when solicited.

There are also a number of adult solicitors covering Bexley.

Or, if you prefer sending your remittance in to avoid the possibilities of our solicitors not finding you at home, you may fill out the blank below and send to

OHIO AND BEXLEY PAGEANTS PLANNED

Pageants that will depict scenes in the development of Ohio and of Bexley will be given by Bexley school students Thursday, May 31 and Friday, June 1. The first one Thursday night will bring to the realization of the pupils and of the visitors the experiences of the first settlers in Ohio, as the boys and girls of the Main Street grade schools pass back and forth on the stage, under the direction of Miss Anna Johnson.

The second pageant, entitled Bexley the Beautiful, was written by Mrs. Amy C. Brightman of the Latin department of the high school and by Miss Selma Hamann of the Spanish department, the theme being the development of those institutions that have made Bexley the unique suburb that it is. Students in the junior and senior highs will be in the cast which will act on the stage of the Junior High school building.

Connected with the Bexley pageant will be the second annual flower festival of the Bexley schools, the exhibits of blossoms furnishing a background for the pageant. The festival will open Friday, June 1 and will continue until Wednesday, June 6, at which time first and second prizes will be awarded in each of the 12 grades for the most beautiful boquets.

ZONING EXEMPTION REFERRED BACK

The Bexley zoning board recommended to council Tuesday night that it grant the application of the Raney Hardesty Real Estate Co. for exemption from the requirements of the zoning ordinance, so as to permit the erection of a 25 fott residence nine feet from Denver avenue on a 40 foot lot at the southwest corner of North Stanwood and Denver avenue. This recommendation was made on the condition that the applicant made a reasonable effort to obtain the consent of the owners of the lots on the three other corners, and since this effort had not yet been made, council referred the matter back to the zoning board.

IS CHOSEN OFFICER OF LEADERS' GROUP

Herbert Hutchinson, instructor in physical education at the Bexley Junior High school, was elected secretary and treasurer of the State Leaders' association of the Young Men's Christian association of Ohio at the ninth annual conference May 4-6 in Canton.

The Columbus Senior Leaders' corporation, of which Mr. Hutchinson is a member, won second place in competition for the Rundle shield, given annually to the leaders' association having the most points for progress in the physical, educational and religious program of the organization. The Canton group won the shield this year.

Glee Clubs, Band And Orchestra Perform

The story of the Norsemen who discovered America in the twelfth century was sung in cantata form by the Glee clubs of Bexley High school at the third annual music festival held in the auditorium Wednesday evening. "The Saga of Eric the Red" by Bliss was the cantata chosen and spirited was the singing under the direction of Ellis Snyder.

One hundred and fifty pupils participated in this festival, which included besides the glee club voices, the instrumental music of the band and orchestra. Harold J. Grimm directed for the following program:

Orchestra: "The Bouquet" by Laurendeau; "Basket of Roses" by Albers; "Iola-Valse de Ballet" by Weids and "Queen City March" by Weids.

Band: "Our Director March" by Bigelow; "Always Gay" by Ellis Brooks; "Queen of the Ball" by Brooks and "Fort Gay" by Will Huff.

Business has its way because most people don't like to quarrel.

Would Feel Safer

Judge—Do you want a lawyer to defend you?

HOUSEWIFE IS NO LONGER HOME SLAVE

It is a fascinating topic to debate whether man lives up to his inventions, or whether his inventions follow him. One can argue forever to prove that women today are better educated and more intelligent, because it is necessary for them to know how to manage the electrical equipment which confronts them in both industrial and domestic life, or to prove that the electrical equipment has provided the opportunity to develop the use of their heads instead of their hands alone. It is of small importance what the answer is. The fact remains that homes are more charming places in which to live, offices are more attractive places in which to work, and women are more interesting human beings, because electrical machinery has come into existence to do the body-breaking, mind-destroying routine tasks, which for so many years constituted woman's entire field of endeavor.—Exchange.

Has Flu

"This is awful!" ejaculated Uncle Tybalt. "I've got pretty nearly every one of the symptoms this 'ere patent medicine omenick tells about—tired feelin', burnin' in my head, dirty brown taste in my mouth, mental depression, torpid liver, crawlin' sensation up and down my spine, and a disinclination for all forms of labor."

"Mercy! What disease is it, Tybalt?" asked Aunt Fretty.

"That's the worst of it. The symptons are all there, but the last few leaves of the pamphlet containing the names of the maladies are torn off.—Kansas City Times.

Practical Fruit Grower

W. L. Exley, living in the fruit belt of Arkansas, where the peach buds started by the warm weather of February are often killed by the freezes of March, has worked out what he believes is a practical device to protect the crop. He buries a cake of ice at the root of the tree. This chills the ground and retards the buds until after the danger of March frost is past.

How He Got Them

Doughboy—Aw, what do you know about war?

Leatherneck—Nothin' buddy. Not a thing. War's somethin' I don't know nothin' about. But I got two medals in an intervention, three anchors cuts in a pacification, and six bullet wounds in a punitive expedition.—Life.

Tramp—Well, I admit I don't keep bees, but wot's to stop a bloke squeezin' it out of the flowers h'self?—Bee Keeper.

Useless

Bernard, like most other small boys of his age, generally found himself in trouble of some kind. Finding that words had but little effect upon the offspring, the father resorted to stronger measures.

A neighbor noticed that Bernard gave no outward indication of the pain he was suffering.

"Don't you ever cry?" he asked.

The Wise Man Dines

"Ah! The worm has turned!"

"How so?"

Build It Of LUMBER
IS the ADVICE of THOSE WHO KNOW

A HOME BUILT OF LUMBER IS:

WARMER and DRYER
In a frame house there is an air space between the inside finish and the outside which furnishes a space for insulation against heat and cold. The air space insures a home free from dampness.

MORE QUICKLY BUILT
Construction of a frame home is not entirely dependent upon seasons and is much more quickly built.

MORE ECONOMICAL
A frame house, properly built, and of good lumber, is cheaper in first cost and in the long run.

MORE FLEXIBLE and INDIVIDUAL
A frame home lends itself to the whims of the individual tastes of the home owner and the architect, giving it individuality. It furnishes opportunities for changes in color scheme. It is more adaptable to contour of surroundings.

TENNIS SCHEDULE IS ARRANGED FOR FRANKLIN COURTS

Mondays and Wednesdays Are Taken For Business Groups of Men and Women

ARCHERY ON PROGRAM

Baseball, tennis, archery and pitching horseshoes will be on the recreation program at Franklin Park next week, to be marked especially by competition in the various sports among the girls and women. Although men's recreation ball leagues are in full swing, and baseball games begin Saturday, the chief interest next week will be for tennis fans of both sexes and for archery and recreation ball fans of the feminine sex.

Many groups have signed up with Miss Alma Morris of the recreation department for use of the tennis courts at certain hours during the week every week during the summer. Mondays and Wednesdays are filled with registrations by business groups, including those from the Columbus Railway and Light, the First English Lutheran and Central M. E. churches, Hocking Valley and Morehouse Martens. Tuesdays the Industrial commission will play; Wednesdays, the Josephinum College boys; Thursdays, the Broad Street M. E. church and St. Mary's school; Fridays, the Bexley Presbyterian church and the Columbian Building and Loan Co.

Time Available

Some time is still available on the Franklin Park courts, although Mondays and Wednesdays are filled. The recreation department gives permits on Sunday, but players are expected to make their own arrangements about nets on that day. Tennis instruction will be furnished, when wanted, and emphasis is put on the fact that all players must wear tennis shoes.

The men's baseball season at the park will open Saturday afternoon with Grace Lutheran playing North M. E. church. The church league and the Saturday Afternoon league are combining this year to provide competition. The Catholic Church League is to play on Sundays.

Three girls' teams of recreation ball the First English Lutheran church, Morehouse-Martens and Hocking Valley, are ready to start off the season Wednesday evening on improvised diamonds at Franklin Park. Others who care to play may make arrangements with Miss Morris. Archery probably will be started Wednesday and horseshoe courts are being put in shape.

TAKES SECOND PLACE

East High school won second place in the annual central district high school track meet at Ohio Wesleyan university Saturday, gaining 38½ points. Central High school won with 76½ points. Keller of East cleared the barriers in the high hurdles in the fast time of 15.5 seconds, breaking the record of 16.6 seconds made by Kane of Lancaster High in 1925. Later Keller won the low hurdles with a mark of 26.1 seconds, as against the old mark of 26.8 seconds made by McClure of North in 1925.

Had Guilty Conscience

Dandelion blossom picking, even when the blossoms are to be used to foil the dry law, is usually considered a peaceful pursuit, but several Bexley men found that it was the occasion for a police visit Tuesday.

A woman living in the vicinity of Livingston avenue near Bexley, saw an automobile parked near the side of the road and coats lying on the bank. With visions of an accident to owners of the coats, she called Marshal Shadrach and asked him to investigate. He made a trip to the scene and found the men industriously picking dandelions. At the sight of the officer of the law, they departed hastily.

REV. COLLINS TO SPEAK

Rev. Walter Collins of the Wilson Avenue Church of Christ will speak at the conferences of the Central church to be held Thursday in Cincinnati and Friday in Lima.

MUSIC AND TALKS FOR CLASS NIGHT

Seniors of East High School and Friends to Enjoy Entertaining Evening June 11

Music and informal talks by members of the senior class will make up the program for class night at East High school Monday, June 11 at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Frances Lorsheter McAllister is in charge of the program and Miss Harriet Batterson, teacher of music, arranged the musical numbers.

John Mercer, senior class president, will greet the guests after the class has marched in processional and has sung several numbers. Mary Kaufman will speak on "School and the Girl." William West on "Inside Impressions"; Marjorie Loeb on "The Teachers Unmasked" and Charles Kurtz on "Friendships." Kelton Jones and Eugene Fisher will have comedy parts.

William Adamson will play "Pastorale Variee" by Mozart; Ruth Woods will sing "My Mother Bids Me Bind My Hair" by Hadyn and "Impatience" by Schubert and the senior class will sing "The Volga Boat Song" and "The Crimson Rose" with flute obligato by Robert Smith and violin obligato by Archibald Krumm. Patriotic and class songs will be sung by the class also.

The trio for "The Crimson Rose" includes Dorothy Cox, Mary Pixley, Natalie Richardson, Verna White, Ruth Woods, Anne Gartrell, Jane Harmon, Margaret Krause, Elsie Richards, Mae Werkhaven, Edward Bastian, Selwyn Clark, Kelton Jones, Phillip Linhorst, Frederick Morton and Paul Walker. Accompanists are William Adamson, Margaret Marion, Grace Mithel and Ruth Woods.

Rev. George Willets, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will give the address for the vesper service Sunday afternoon, June 10 at 3:30 o'clock. Verna White will sing a solo, the class will sing, accompanists being Margaret Marion, Ruth Woods and William Adamson.

Republicratic Party Convention To Consider Five Candidates

Herbert Hoover, Charles Dawes, Al Smith, Frank Lowden and Atlee Pomerene are to be the candidates of the Republicratic party for the 1928 election, according to latest political dope emanating from the Bexley High school, where the big Republicratic convention is to be held Friday evening, May 25. According to H. C. Dieterich, who is in the confidence of leaders of the party, at the high school, will not disclose which of the candidates had the strongest support, but it is being whispered that a dark horse will be named by the Republicratic party, a nomination that is tantamount to election in Bexley High school circles.

The Republicratic convention will be participated in by members of the senior class and will be conducted in exact imitation of the national conventions at Houston and Kansas City, as far as rules and method of procedure are concerned. It is hoped that there will be no undercurrent of "dirty politics", however, leaders say, and that the delay of the Democratic convention of 1924 and the midnight decision of party leaders of the Republican convention of 1920, may be avoided.

Morris Matlin as temporary chairman will give the keynote speech and Charles Tracy as permanent chairman will give the opening address. Four committees are to be named, those on permanent organization, rules and order of business, credentials and resolutions, and these committees are to make reports in the accepted manner. The committee on resolutions will prepare the platform to deal with prohibition, tariff, farm relief, flood control, international relations and economy.

Stewart Hirsch will nominate Charles Dawes for the presidential nomination; Robert Long will nominate Herbert Hoover; Katherine Murray will present the name of Al Smith; Dorothy Gockenbach will present James Reed; Dorothy Kelley will name Frank Lowden and Arch Roustle will put forth the name of Atlee Pomerene. Balloting for the candidates will be conducted as it is done at a national convention.

Proposed Revival Of Civic Association Meets General Approval On East Side

The revival of the East Side Civic association and the re-formation of an active and helpful organization in this section of the city is a certainty, if assurances given by business men and housewives to The Eastern Times this week are a criterion.

The consensus of opinion seems to be that all East Side residents should keep the matter in mind during the summer months, should be thinking of helpful suggestions for a program as they go on their summer holidays and observe activities in other cities and communities, and then should return in the autumn ready to attend a big meeting some time in September or October that will arouse enthusiasm for the years' work.

W. W. Winegarner, funeral director at the same location at 1100 East Main street for the past 28 years, and an active worker in the former association and in the East Side Business Men's association, is heartily in favor of the revival. "You can put me down as in favor of the association, willing to work hard to put across an interesting, lively and helpful program," he says.

Others who expressed themselves in favor of the project were Charles Fravel, Harry McCann, A. O. Harris, James McClure and B. C. Nafziger. Several women, who are too shy to permit their names to be published, expressed themselves as hearty supporters.

BOY ON BICYCLE PAINFULLY HURT

Ben Bissinger Struck by Automobile at Miller-Main Corner Tuesday

An accident which might have been fatal, but which resulted in painful injuries to Ben Bissinger, 13 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Bissinger, 1584 Bryden road, took place late Tuesday afternoon at the corner of Miller avenue and Main street. The boy, riding a bicycle, was struck by an automobile, driven by W. E. Gibbs, 3379 Johnson road.

Both Mr. Gibbs and Ben rode through the green light at the corner, when, it is said, Ben turned suddenly to the left, whereupon Mr. Gibbs in trying to avoid hitting him lost control of his car and drove across Main street hitting a Chevrolet coupe parked in front of Oipp's store. The front wheels ran over the boy's shoulder and rolled him over in such fashion that the back wheels did not touch him.

Ben was knocked unconscious and was taken into Harris' drug store and Dr. Cronik was called. It was found that his shoulder blade was fractured and his face and body badly bruised.

Mr. C. O. Fravel removed the boy to his home, where he is recovering. Ben celebrated his 13th birthday in bed Thursday and is missing his classes at the Fair Avenue school. Mr. Gibbs is held blameless.

REV. S. E. SWEET AND OTHER EAST SIDERS LEAD IN CAMPAIGN

Several residents of this section of the city are among the captains and leaders of the 20 teams of solicitors, who set to work last Sunday to raise the current year's budget of $17,055 for the Federated Churches of Franklin Park. The workers met at luncheons at the Y. M. C. A. Monday, Wednesday and Friday and will offer their final reports at a dinner at the Y. M. C. A. Monday evening.

Rev. Sidney E. Sweet, 2321 Bexley Park road, is campaign chairman and among the team captains and other leaders are W. F. Hutchinson, 97 S. Drexel avenue; J. Albert Schoedinger, 940 East Broad street; John M. Vorys, 1762 East Long street; Rev. H. H. Lichliter, 1793 Franklin avenue; Gardner Lattimer, 911 East Broad street; J. A. Bowman, 1641 Bryden road; W. W. Walker, 1308 Franklin avenue; Fred R. White, 478 Oakwood avenue and Rev. Ralph E. Davis, 23 South Monroe avenue.

The campaign is to provide for the support of the Federated Churches' program of interdenominational cooperative work, which includes religious education work, and elimination of wasteful competition among denominations.

THREE ANNIVERSARIES MARK SUNDAY SERVICE

The celebration of three anniversaries on one day will mark Sunday at the Christ Lutheran church. The fifth anniversary of the dedication of the present church, the eleventh anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. C. V. Sheatsley to the very day, and the second anniversary of the installation of the chimes and the bells, are the occasion for special services in the morning.

The officials of Bexley, including Mayor S. E. Ludwig, members of council, members of the police force and all other officers, will attend the service in a body, meeting at the municipal office at 10:15 o'clock. Rev. Sheatsley will preach a reminiscent sermon on "The Place of the Church in the Community."

RECOVERS FROM INFECTION

Stanton C. Becker, 485 Lilley avenue, is able to be out after an illness of two weeks. Mr. Becker suffered from a bruised knee cap, which resulted in a very serious infection.

CARELESS YOUTHS RUIN DIAMONDS

Charles Seddon of the city recreation department is asking boys and girls of the East Side and Bexley to be very careful of the recreation ball and baseball diamonds at Franklin Park, in view of the time and expense required on the part of the city to keep them in good condition. Caretakers have found that boys have been so careless as to ride their bicycles over the diamonds when they are wet and to trample on them with heavy boots.

MRS. VAN FOSSEN HEADS LEAGUE

Installed as President of Eastern Circle of Child Conservation Body

Mrs. W. S. Van Fossen, 48 Auburn avenue, was installed as president of the Eastern Circle of the Child Conservation league at its meeting Tuesday at Mrs. Van Fossen's home. Mrs. Christian C. Gross, state president, presided at the installation and Mrs. L. L. Montel, city president, was a guest.

Other officers for next year include Mrs. Guy Maise, vice president; Mrs. F. M. Osler, treasurer; Mrs. L. L. Montel, recording secretary and Mrs. J. H. Baldwin, corresponding secretary. Committee chairmen have been appointed as follows: program, Mrs. Theodore Von Gerichten; social, Mrs. J. G. Evans; finance, Mrs. H. L. Snow; and Mrs. R. M. Geist; social service, Mrs. H. I. Smith; telephone, Mrs. George Patton; membership, Mrs. Luther Beck; legislative, Mrs. L. R. Wakefield; condolence, Mrs. Harry McCall; publicity, Mrs. Guy Maise; parliamentarian, Mrs. R. M. Geist and auditing, Mrs. J. H. Baldwin.

A luncheon was served at 12:30 p. m., after which a Mother's day program was put on under the direction of Mrs. Theodore Von Gerichten.

Thursday the Hilltop Circle entertained the city federation of circles at the home of Mrs. Carl Rucker, 110 Whitethorne avenue.

SPEEDERS IN COURT

D. W. Biggs, 440 South Columbia avenue, was fined and deprived of his driving rights until July 4 because of speeding, in Bexley court Saturday morning before Mayor S. E. Ludwig. Others fined for speeding included: Mrs. Charles Francisco, 44 South Columbia avenue; Henry Dugger, 1562 Richmond avenue; D. E. Peterman, 1470 Hamlet avenue; E. C. Troxell, 131 Northwood avenue; S. Elwood Winn Truax, aged 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Forest E. Truax, 92 Linwood avenue, died Saturday morning at the home of his parents of pneumonia. The young man was a student at Kenyon college and took ill with pleurisy while at school, having been removed to his home Tuesday morning. Leading Social Event

The leading social event of the year at Bexley High school will take place Friday evening with the entertaining of the seniors by the juniors at the annual junior-senior party. Members of the faculty will act as chaperones and there will be dancing and other entertainment. Miss Elisabeth Tracy, president of the junior class, will receive the guests.

Times Subscriptions Are Rapidly Coming In

It is indeed gratifying to the Times management to know how thoroughly this East Side and Bexley weekly has worked its way into the hearts of its readers. At the close of the first week of the subscription campaign, returns are fairly representative of the reader's appreciative attitude. One great difficulty seems to be in finding our readers at home. We cannot call on them over and over again, and would greatly appreciate subscriptions by mail.

Subscription blank will be found on Page 3.

ON PROGRAM MONDAY

Rev. T. B. Roberts of the First Methodist church of Lancaster will speak at the Methodist Ministers' association meeting Monday at 10 a. m. at Central M. E. church.

PHIL WEAVER IS TO DIRECT CAMP

Chosen For Fourth Time as Head of Summer Headquarters of Boy Scouts

Phil B. Weaver, 1364 East Rich street, will for the fourth time greet Columbus Boy Scouts and their friends at the Boy Scout camp, named Camp Ro-Fre-La, and located twenty miles north of Columbus, west of the Columbus Delaware road. Weaver is the only man who has been chosen to direct the camp for four consecutive times and is one of the most popular Scout officials in the city.

On the staff this year will be J. C. Hambleton, former teacher at East High school, who is to head the camp nature department; and William E. Knepper, 1297 Oak street, who will have charge of Indian lore, Indian handicraft and Indian dancing, as well as campfire dramatics, music and pageantry.

The camp is open to any boy 12 years of age, whether he be a registered Scout or not. The cash fee is $13 a period or one dollar a day and boys must enter at the beginning of one of the four regular periods. The dates are: first period, June 28 to July 6; second period, July 7 to July 20; third period, July 21 to August 3; fourth period, August 3 to August 17.

The camp is the gift of Jeffrey Lazarus, 2444 Fair avenue, as a lasting memorial to his parents and it is from their names, "Ro" and Fred Lazarus" that the camp name "Ro-Fre-La" is derived.

OFFICERS PICKED FOR NEW BEXLEY MASONIC LODGE

Plans Completed at Meeting Monday Night; Dr. E. C. Mills is Worshipful Master

PETITION GRAND LODGE

After several months of effort, plans have been completed and the new proposed Bexley lodge of Masons is practically assured. This assurance came following a meeting of the signers of the petition for the new lodge held Monday evening at St. Alban's Episcopal church, at which time the officers previously chosen made announcement of the appointment of the remainder of the officers.

All the lodges affected by the new organization, including those in Columbus, Worthington, New Albany and Reynoldsburg, have voted favorably and now there remains only the detail work of preparing the petition to lay before the Grand Lodge of Ohio. If the dispensation is granted by the Grand Lodge, the new lodge will meet temporarily at the Ralph R. Rickly rooms, at Miller avenue and Main street.

Officers of the new Masonic organization include Dr. E. C. Mills, worshipful master; P. H. Steen, senior warden; W. W. Hughes, junior Warden; Robert K. Jeffrey, senior deacon; Hugh Huntington, junior deacon; William M. Barrett, senior steward; H. L. Schenk, junior steward; J. L. W. Henney, secretary; William L. Rockey, treasurer; Dr. Frank G. Fowler, chaplain, and James F. Caldwell, tyler.

Trustees are H. C. Moores, M. J. Wallace and William A. Schneider. Much credit has been given the committees that have worked continuously from the beginning including the committee on quarters, headed by R. S. Dingledine; on nominating, headed by Harry C. Moores; on finance, headed by C. E. Kelley, and on membership, including M. J. Wallace, W. E. Ludwig and William A. Schneider. Signers of the petition number 169.

BIG PREPARATIONS BEING MADE FOR FIELD DAYS

Field day, which acts as an excuse for a get-together of parents, pupils and teachers, is receiving the attention of the school children at the various East Side buildings during May. Both Fairwood and East Main street schools have announced theirs for May 25 and Livingston avenue is to celebrate June 1.

[illegible]ic by the kindergarten band in uniform, an Indian dance by the 6 A girls in costume; a circus by the second and third grades, a Hansel and Gretel dance by the first grade; a rainbow march by the fifth grade; a flower rope by the third grade; and a supper to be served at five cents a portion, are on the program for the Fairwood field day.

Mass drills, folk dances and drills, with a jitney supper to be served by the Parent Teacher association, are planned for the East Main street doings, while at Livingston avenue dancing around the May Pole will be featured. This is the first field day for Livingston avenue and those in charge are expecting to arrange booths for all sorts of articles.

Victims Of Peculiar Hold-Ups Appeal To Bexley Policemen

Jack McElwain, 19 West First avenue, is still wondering about the midnight activities in the neighborhood of College avenue, Bexley.

Early Wednesday morning he was driving his Ford coupe down College avenue rather slowly hunting for a gasoline station. A Chevrolet coach drove by in the opposite direction, and when it pulled over close to the coupe, one of the two men riding therein flashed a badge and ordered the young man to stop. He did so and found himself looking into the barrel of a gun. He was told to get out of the car and was forced to stand by, while his Ford was driven away by the companion of the gun-toter. He immediately made for the Bexley municipal office, reported the theft to Officer Bradfield and the two started in pursuit, chasing the stolen car beyond Canal Winchester. There they lost sight of it, returned to Bexley and young McElwain caught a taxi to his First avenue home.

Wednesday morning as he left his house to walk to a street car, he caught sight of a familiar looking coupe standing three houses away. He took a look at it and found it to be his stolen car. None of the valuable engineering and carpenter's tools stored in the back were missing, as the owner is at a loss to account for the theft the night before. He says that the two men did not attempt to rob him of his money. His name and address were inside his car and it is evident that the thieves ransacked the contents and finding the address, returned the auto to its owner. The mystery remains unsolved.

The same night, Harry J. Thompson, 1315 East Nineteenth avenue, and G. M. Lewis, 422 East Town street, were attacked by four men who forced them to the curb on Parsons avenue, attacked them and left them lying unconscious alongside a by-road near Canal Winchester. They walked to Bexley and reported the affair to Bexley police. Thompson who is employed by the Pure Oil station at Mound street and Parsons avenue, said that $52 carried in his pocket, was not stolen.

THE BEAUTIFUL TREES

Bexley residents are very proud of their beautiful village with its park-like streets, its new and architecturally pleasing houses, its beautiful lawns and gardens and its air of well-kept refinement, and well they might be. Therefore it comes as somewhat of a shock to realize on hot, sunny days that most of the streets are not as shady as they might be, because thetrees are not as numerous as they should be for the sake of beauty.

As we think back over the beautiful small towns we have driven through, we love Marietta and Oxford and Wilmington, not only because most of the streets are not as shady as they might be, because the trees are wonderfully shaded by majestic old trees. Of course Bexley is comparatively new, but a systematic plan of putting in trees at regular intervals, covering the village street by street, would soon transform it into a village beautiful such as would rival any in the country.

We understand that a committee of civic-minded men, aided by some hard-working botany students of Capital university, have surveyed the village and has made a report recommending a scientific "treeing" of the village. In that case the machinery is ready and needs only to be set in motion by those who love the beauty and restfulness of trees.

WHAT KENSINGTON GARDENS OFFERS

The lots are large, mostly 60 to 100 feet wide. Kensington Gardens adjoins Eastmoor on two sides, the other two sides are East Main street and James Road.

A wide 70-foot boulevard runs north and south through the Addition and joins with the same boulevard running through Eastmoor. Bexley Park Road, a winding street, crosses the center of the allotment and unites with Bexley Park Road through Eastmoor. Fair Avenue, a 75-foot wide street, is the north boundary. Audubon, another beautiful street, makes a double curve around a small park and runs west and unites with Brookside Drive.

The engineers planned most of the streets in the lower laying parts of the allotment, leaving lots much higher on the hillside. Only a personal inspection will reveal the excellence of the plans. Kensington Gardens will indeed be a beautiful place when completed.

Homecoming week, marking the fifth anniversary of the Washington Avenue United Brethren church will be held Sunday, May 27. Rev. Russell Showers, D.D., of Dayton, secretary of home mission and erection, will be the speaker. The celebration will be an all-day one with basket dinner at noon.

Miss B. Clare Schooler, dean of girls and director of physical education for girls at Bexley High school, will go to Camp Mudjeepee, five miles from Sturgeon Bay, Wis., this summer to act as assistant to the director. Camp Mudjeepee is an exclusive summer camp for girls, taking only 40 from private or suburban schools.

COLORED SHOWER CURTAINS

Color can be introduced into an all white bath room by using a colored shower curtain. Rose, orchid, yellow and green are excellent colors to be used with white. To complete the color scheme use a glass curtain at the window that harmonizes with the shower curtain. For example, with a rose shower curtain use orchid glass curtains. Let me show you samples. STREET REPAIRS WILL BE RUSHED TO COMPLETION

Marshall Told to Double Number of Workmen—Sewage Plant To Be Remodeled

PARK TO BE SURVEYED

Marshal David Shadrach was authorized to increase his force of workmen twofold or more in order to rush to completion the necessary repair work on side streets in Bexley, by order of Bexley council in regular meeting Tuesday night. Several councilmen declared that side streets were in such bad condition as to make it necessary to go ahead with fixing them at once.

Engineer Kennedy was requested to lay his plans for eliminating pollution from Alum creek by remodeling the sewage plant before the state board of health at once. His plans include the cleaning and revamping of the control apparatus, the building of new tanks, the enlarging of the filter beds, one new overflow sewer and a new screen chamber, thus putting the sewage system in such shape as to serve the present village of Bexley for at least 15 years and probably forever.

Opinion As To Expansion

Councilman Pretzman and Engineer Kennedy recommended to council that on account of its bearing on the water and sewer situation, council get definite information about the consensus of opinion as to annexing more territory to the east and as to being annexed by Columbus. Mr. Kennedy was asked to report on the cost of a water plant for the village, thus doing away with the necessity of buying water from Columbus. Councilmen commented on the fact that Berwick to the southeast has accepted annexation to Columbus.

On the ground that a Bexley ordinance prohibits the placing of signs and billboards in residence sections, council decided not to grant to Sears Roebuck & Co. permission to erect a 5 x 8 sign at the corner of Cassingham road and Broad street to advertise their Honor Bilt home at Maryland avenue and Cassingham road.

Permitted to Tap Ditch

Residents east of Chelsea avenue were given permission to tap the sewer ditch leading to the Mound street sewer and the solicitor was asked to prepare an ordinance, granting that permission. Hans Hansen, student at Capital university, was authorized to make a survey of Commonwealth park, examining especially the fir trees and to make to council an estimate of the cost of treating the trees. Wild roses growing around the evergreen trees were ordered cut down.

A petition for street lights on Cassingham road and Montrose avenue, between Charles street and Livingston avenue was received and the issuance of bonds for the installation of a system of lighting for Meadow Park avenue was authorized. Advisability of placing telephone wires underground on Dawson avenue was referred to the engineer for decision.

The request of Edward E. Looker, who is to open a tire and battery shop at 2248 East Main street that parking be prohibited in front of his shop and driveway was refused on the ground that one-hour parking is in force on Main street, and that parking in driving ways is already against police regulation.

ARCHERY PRACTICE BEGINS

Archery practice for girls on the East Side started Wednesday at Franklin park and will continue each Wednesday during the season. Girls who are interested are asked to get in touch with Miss Alma Morris at the recreation department.

"CAL" IS CHOICE OF REPUBLICRATS

Leaders of Mock Convention Predict That Colidge Will Break Deadlock

A stampede for Calvin Coolidge after balloting for Herbert Hoover, Charles Dawes, Al Smith, Frank Lowden and Atlee Pomerene fails to bring a majority, is doped for the Republicratic convention to be put on by Bexley High school seniors Friday evening. The convention will be conducted in exact imitation of the big national conventions at Houston and Kansas City and the political leaders at the high school are predicting that their lead will be followed by the Republican party. Judge Florence Allen is to be the successful candidate for the vice presidential nomination, according to reports from the Republicratic headquarters.

A platform has been drawn up by the committee on resolutions, to be passed by the convention. The high spots of the platform are as follows:

Prohibition—efficient and sincere enforcement of all laws enacted under the 18th amendment with adequate appropriations for the federal prohibition bureau and the coast guard.

Want War Outlawed

Foreign Relations—A movement for the recodification of international law at a Third Hague conference will be sponsored in the hope that war may be made a public crime. This plan includes the creation of a judicial substitute for war in the form of an international court modeled on our federal supreme court.

The exportation of arms and munitions to belligerent nations should be prohibited; the construction and use of submarines and poisonous gases should be outlawed by treaty; the immediate withdrawal of armed forces from Nicaragua and a "hand off" policy in China; a more strict immigration law and the admission of Mexican immigrants should be limited to a fraction of the present total.

Finance—rigid economy will be emphasized; a moderate reduction of federal taxes by a readjustment of surtaxes on large incomes and a repeal of the federal inheritance tax; a gradual reduction of the public debt.

Tariff—a downward revision to place agriculture on a parity with industry.

Agriculture — solving of the farm relief problem by the adoption of the revised McNary-Haugen relief bill; increasing the capital stock of the war departments inland waterways corporation, thus fostering inland waterway transportation; providing government control and operation of Muscle Shoals; continuing to cooperate with the state in building highways; carrying on the reclamation and restoration now under way.

Flood control—erection of a government dam at Boulder Canyon on the Colorado river; unreserved support of the Jones-Reid Mississippi flood control law, recently passed by congress and signed by President Coolidge.

Memorial Day Brings To Mind Two Stories Of Gallantry Of Veterans In The East Side

Memorial Day, to be celebrated Wednesday to the glory of the heroes of the Civil War, the Spanish American War and the World War, is bringing vivid memories of dangers undergone and bravery displayed to two of the most charming of the Civil War veterans on the East Side.

Joseph O. Gregg, aged 87, 1186 Franklin avenue, the only Columbus veteran now living, who has the Congressional Medal of Honor and Ensign Symmes E. Brown, aged 90, 803 Kimball Place, the only naval officer left in Franklin county, who was able to save nine men but who had to see his brother die, are among the gallant fighters that the whole country is honoring on the national holiday.

Gregg was sent to Virginia on second enlistment with Co. F., 183rd O. V. I. There near Fort Powhatan, he was chosen to guard the telegraph lines which were so vital to Grant's plan of campaign. Near the Richmond-Petersburg railroad, the forces of General Foster, with which he was fighting, were attacked by Pickett's troops, marching north by orders of General Lee. For five hours the single division of General Foster withstood the attack, but finally they were forced to retreat.

After the division had fallen back slowly it was discovered that three companies were missing and having observed men on the abandoned position, Union officers decided that the missing companies had not carried out the order to retreat for some reason. Knowing that they were in acute danger, General Foster commanded his adjutant to call for a volunteer to go back and lead the men to safety. Gregg, who was standing beside the adjutant, stepped forward first and was selected.

Abandoning all his heavier clothing, he started across the deserted ground, getting a magnificent view of the advancing Confederate army with battle flags flying. Alone between the Union army and the Confederate army he reached the forsaken ridge and keeping his eyes on the advancing skirmish line of Southerners, he waved to the missing companies and shouted for them to rejoin their division. In answer to his shout came a cry "Surrender, you Yankee" and a bullet knocked off his cap. Twenty Confederates then rushed out of their nearby hiding place to take him prisoner, but so eager were they to capture this brave soldier that they left their guns behind.

Almost cornered, Gregg quick wittedly manouvered so as to keep himself between his would-be captors and the rest of the army, so that if he were fired at, it would mean danger to the shooter's comrades. Thus he reached safety and regained his division with several holes in his jacket and a gash in his canteen. Later he learned that the missing companies had taken a position hidden from their commander but safe from the enemy, so that his sortie was in vain. But in recognition of his gallantry and bravery above and beyond the call of duty he was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor.

Symmes E. Brown and his brother, Harry, enlisted in the navy in 1862, and although they served together in many important naval engagements on the Mississippi river, it was on the White River below St. Charles, that the most memorable encounter took place. On the morning of May 17, 1862, on board the U. S. gunboat, Mound City, they got within range of the fort and were fired on. One shot struck a gun and killed three men, then glancing off the galley stove, it passed through the steam chest and heater, releasing the scalding steam.

The young sailor sprang up the gangway, and released two men who were caught on the deck above. Two men who were struggling in the water he pulled to safety from a cutter. Five other sailors who had been blown from the ship by the force of the explosion were rescued by young Browne under point blank range of the batteries. As the crippled boat then drifted out of range he hurried to the upperdeck and found his brother, so badly scalded that he died in a few hours. Later Mr. Browne was promoted to the rank of Ensign and commanded the U. S. S. Forest Rose at the end of the war.

SIDEWALKS ON RICH AND KELTON AVES.

Sidewalks are to be constructed on Mooberry street, from Kimball Place avenue to Kelton avenue, and on Rich street, from Loeffler to Miller avenues, according to resolutions adopted by Columbus city council.

The service committee of council voted to take no action on the protest against construction of sidewalks on the east side of Franklin Park South.

EXPLAINS REFUSAL OF COMMISSION

Secretary Bruder Says Establishment of Playground Would Set Bad Precedent

The Franklin Park Commissioners decided against allowing a children's playground to be established at the southeast end of the park April 6, and there is little likelihood that the matter will be brought up again, according to Gustav Bruder, 497 Kelton avenue, secretary of the commission. In a conversation with The Eastern Times representative Wednesday, Mr. Bruder said that the giving over of the park grounds to organizations for various purposes would establish a bad precedent and would prevent the commissioners from refusing other requests that might be less desirable than the playground.

"We refused to allow East High school to have 13 acres for recreation purposes and to build a bridal path for horseback riders. In keeping with that policy we refused to allow a playground to be established," he said in answer to the plea of Mrs. H. G. Watson, president of the Parent Teacher council that the 3000 children living between Broad street, Alum creek, Main street and Ohio avenue have opportunity for organized play in the park.

"The commissioners felt also," Mr. Bruder declared, "that the playground would be too near the railroad tracks for safety. There is no water for drinking purposes and no toilets and in case of rain, the children would have to run nearly half a mile to reach the shelter house. Besides many East Side people use the park roads for learning to drive cars, and much fast traffic would make the roads dangerous for little children."

KNEPPER IS CHOSEN STATE DRUM MAJOR

William E. Knepper, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Knepper, 1297 Oak street, has been chosen as the drum major of the Ohio State university band for the coming year. Knepper, who is a sophomore, is six feet tall, and has had previous experience as drum major at East High school, where he led the band. He also plays the cornet in the Ohio State university band.

McRae, major of the 323rd Artillery, Officers' Reserve corps, and thus the ranking officer in Franklin county of that corps, will give a patriotic address Sunday evening at the Morgan Memorial M. E. church. All members of the officers' reserve corps and other ex-soldiers will attend in a body.

Rev. McRae has been made recreational director for young people at the Lancaster camp grounds during the month of July.

SOLONS INDIGNANT OVER REPAIR JOB

To Ask for Interview with Traction Officials About Condition of Tracks

"We are not satisfied with the repair work that is being done by the Southern Ohio Public Service company in repairing their tracks on East Main street. The franchise provides that the company keep the street in a condition satisfactory to the village engineer and that is not being done."

This was the consensus of opinion of Bexley council Tuesday night, when the members waxed very indignant over the fact that the company has merely spread cobblestones and gravel all over the street, concentrating on the center of the tracks, and has done nothing in the way of re-ballasting the tracks and supporting the ties.

"The condition of those tracks is a disgrace to the village and a menace to safety," they all declared. "The heavy interurban cars wave up and down like the surf and if the child is killed by the swaying monsters, the village will be held responsible."

Bonnet, Kerr and Kennedy were chosen as a committee to draw up the demands of council and Solicitor Peters was requested to make an appointment with officials of the company to discuss the situation at the next council meeting, May 29.

HUNTS MUSHROOMS AND FINDS SNAKE

Miss Ruth Parks, publisher of The Eastern Times, went out Sunday to hunt mushrooms near her parents' home in Bremen and found a death-giving snake.

Miss Parks and her father were climbing the hills of Hocking county near Logan, looking carefully over the ground for the luscious fungus that grow in abundance in that vicinity. Her eye fell upon a delicious-looking specimen and she bent over to pluck it, when the brown and white mass appeared to have a tongue. Startled she looked closer and discovered that she had almost touched a copperhead, coiled ready to spring at her.

Her father rushed up with a shovel and killed it with one blow, just in time to prevent the reptile from biting her. Upon examinging it they discovered that it was three feet long and was of the most poisonous variety.

WOES OF POLICEMEN OCCUPY COUNCIL

The replacing of an officer's uniform, torn while the wearer was in pursuit of his duty, and of a table pad mutilated by shot while another officer was pursuing a burglar, was up before Bexley council Tuesday night. Charles Yapp, gardener, 683 South Cassingham road, put in a claim for $12 for the cost of table pad, which was torn by a bullet when Officer Reed shot at a burglar who had broken into Cenci's grocery at 2461 East Main street.

Major Ludwig suggested that the three-day old uniform, torn to shreds when Officer Antle fell off his motorcycle as it hit a hole in the road at Dale and Parkview avenues, while trailing a 65-mile-an-hour speeder two weeks ago, be replaced by council.

It was voted to take care of both items, if the village solicitor decided the replacing was legal.

BACCALAUREATE OPENS COMMENCEMENT WEEK OF BEXLEY SCHOOLS

The glee clubs under the direction of Ellis Snyder and the orchestra under the direction of Harold Grimm, will provide the special music for the baccalaureate service Sunday, June 3, in the High school auditorium, which will officially open the Bexley commencement week. Dr. Frank G. Fowler of the Bexley Methodist church will preach the baccalaureate sermon.

The following Monday the entire Bexley community will gather on the high school lawn at 5:30 o'clock for the annual P. T. A. picnic. Each group will bring its own baskets and will watch the exhibition of the work done by the physical education department of the junior and senior high schools.

Tuesday and Wednesday, June 5 and 6, the senior class will put on the play, "The Goose hangs High" under the direction of Mrs. Olive White Fortenbacher. Thursday will come the commencement exercises with Prof. W. L. Graves of the department of English at Ohio State university as speaker. Vivian Beck, first honor student, and Dorothy Kelley, second honor student, are on the program and Morris Matlin, will give the class oration.

The glee clubs and the orchestra of the high school will provide the commencement music.

SENIOR BOYS GET HONOR AWARDS

Harry Munster is Presented Loving Cup and William Adamson Given Book

Harry Munster, 1209 East Rich street and William Adamson, 843 Linwood avenue, members of the senior class at East High school, were honored Tuesday morning at a special chapel program. Munster received the silver loving cup for highest honor in athletics and scholarship and Adamson received the prize given by the Harvard Club of Ohio for character, scholarship and leadership.

The loving cup given to Munster was presented to East High by the class of 1921, to be awarded every year to the senior boy, who has excelled in athletics, as well as in scholarship, 35 points being required for the scholarship record, according to the Honor Society reckoning. Munster has played football, basketball and baseball.

The Harvard Society award, which took the form of a "Life of Dean Briggs," formerly dean of Harvard university, was given to Adamson by Bland Stradley, examiner at Ohio State university, representing the society of his Alma Mater. Each year this club of Harvard graduates makes a gift to a senior in an Ohio high school, in recognition of his character, scholarship and leadership. Adamson was chosen for the honor by the faculty of East High school.

Incidents In History Of Ohio And Bexley Are To Live In Pageantry

History will be told in the form of pageantry at the two spectacles to be given by Bexley students in grade school and junior and senior high schools in connection with the commencement festivities this year. "Bexley, the Beautiful," written by Mrs. Amy C. Brightman, high school teacher, will be put on June 1 at the Junior High School auditorium against the background of the flower festival and "The Making of Ohio," written and directed by Miss Anna Johnson, grade school teacher, will be performed May 29 in the high school auditorium.

The Bexley pageant opens with the picture of a mother surrounded by children, sitting in the heart of a beautiful garden. The children ask for a story and the mother tells them of the first Indian inhabitants and then of the early settlers. As she tells the tale, groups of Indians, French, Pioneers, English and Pilgrims appear, the Pilgrims forming the famous picture, "The Pilgrims Going to Church." As she recites the incidents of the Revolutionary war, three students come in, representing the Spirit of '76, and a group of girls dance the minuet.

For the second part a chorus of girls from the Junior high school will sing the cantata, "The Dawn of Spring," under the direction of Miss Maude Ochs. The third part shows the various institutions which have made Bexley a most charming village in which to live, with groups representing the church, the homes, the schools and such organizations as the Camp Fire Girls, the Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts and Girl Reserves.

The prologue for the third part has been written by Miss Selma Hanman, high school teacher. Near the conclusion of the pageant a group of children from the second grade will hold a drill, using Ohio flags, and at the conclusion the entire personnel

Welcome To Duncan Glen, Is C. J. Richey's Word To Picnickers

In the most picturesque section of the vicinity surrounding Columbus, less than an hour's drive from the East Side and Bexley, a delightful and unspoiled bit of wooded land is to be opened to East Side and Bexley residents for a picnic grounds, due to the generosity of C. G. Richey, proto finisher at 1497 East Main street. Mr. Richey, a lover of out-door beauty and an artistic photographer of little known spots of beauty in Ohio, is completing work on a dam and on a shelter house on his property, and by June 1 picnickers and hikers will be welcomed to share with him his beautiful glen.

Duncan Glen, stretching on either side of Duncan road, is the name given to this spot north and east of Central College, discovered by Mr. Richey in an effort to trace the source and path of a stream he had crossed several times. An enthusiastic motorist, Mr. Richey has traveled many miles of country in his faithful Ford and knows the country around Columbus with accuracy.

In tracing the lovely little stream, he came upon the 30 acres of woods, hills, hollows, falls and streams, which won his heart, and after much inquiry he learned that the glen was a part of the land owned by a near-by farmer, who was willing to sell the rough spots which were not fit for cultivation. Mr. Richey's property, rectangular in shape with stretches to the north and to the east, includes a long stretch of Duncan run a thickly wooded hollow and dainty woods carpeted with wild flowers and shaded by majestic trees.

Picnickers will have no difficulty in finding this spot. Directions as given by Mr. Richey are as follows: take the Sunbury pike through Central College to the second road beyond it, known as the County line road. Turn east and go three miles, then turn north taking the road that leads to Harlem. About half-way to Harlem a school house may be glimpsed

"Lest We Forget"

Although most intelligent thinkers are today leaning toward the outlawry of war and are lending their efforts toward the "debunking" of the glory of war, none of them will refuse to devote one day during the year for the outpouring of remembrance and gratitude due the veterans of past wars. Memorial day, to be celebrated ' ' sday, has been made a national holiday that we may all show our appreciation of the older men who saved the Union, of the middle-aged men who went to the aid of Cuba and to the younger men who met the German foe and helped conquer it.

The stories of the two Civil War veterans, told by The Eastern Times today, are inspiring ones, in that they show how courageous and noble man is when inspired by love of nation and of fellow men. Perhaps next year neither of them will be living to receive the plaudits of the public and we are glad to add our word of gratitude for their bravery. There is much we all can do to brighten the lives of those injured in the World War and Memorial day is a time to stop and think, "lest we forget."

and the road leading into the glen is just beyond that school house. Mr. Richey has erected signs marked "Duncan Glen" on Sunbury pike and on the county line road.

For several weeks Mr. Richey has been stealing three or four days out of the seven to supervise the building of a dam which will back up the principal falls four feet and thus will form a swimming pool about four feet deep. A shelter house of logs, 20 by 30 feet in size has been finished and there is a windlass well, and hollowed-out, stone protected places for picnic fires. The public will be welcomed to Duncan Glen as long as they leave the grounds in good condition.

Forty years ago an old saw mill was located along Duncan run and the road used for hauling logs still winds along the stream, making it possible for lazy motorists to see the glen without walking. An underground passage has been discovered by Mr. Richey, where the water was carried to a grist mill also in use half a century ago. The glen is 15 miles from Franklin Park, six miles from Westerville and three miles from Sunbury pike.

Welcome to Duncan Glen, says Mr. Richey.

IS BITTEN BY FIGHTING DOG

Fred Heiser of the Miller-Main garage tried to do his daily good turn Monday by separating two dogs who were engaged in mortal conflict on Main street near Miller avenue. His own collie and a passing canine were growling in fury as they bit each other, when Mr. Heiser stepped in and pulled them apart. Instead of being grateful for being rescued from injuries from the other's teeth, one of them turned on Mr. Heiser and bit his hand. The wound was not considered serious, however, and Mr. Heiser went to Cleveland on business Wednesday.

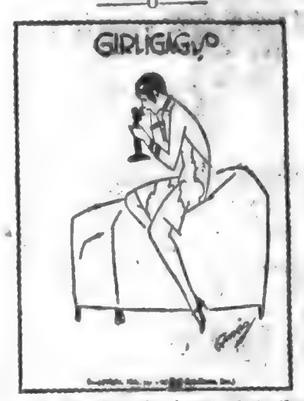
SAWS

By Viola Brothers Shore

FOR THE GOOSE—
A STUDENT—an artist and a mother—their work is never done.

If a thing is bein' talked about a lot, there's bound to be a little truth in it. And a lotta untruth.



Just because people are tellin' you the truth, don't mean they ain't trying to fool you.

FOR THE GANDER—
The feller that's watchin' could always 'a' worked out the game.

Some artists just wanna 'paint enough to be able to live well. And others again just wanna live enough to be able to paint well.

It's just as bad for you to go around not trustin' nobody as it is trustin' everybody.

"If people who boast that they speak their minds would do only that," says Meditative Meg, "what a relief the silence would be!"

YOUR LIVING ROOM

Half of the joy in a summer vacation in the family automobile lies in the knowledge that the car is in perfect condition and every part of the mechanism and of the body has been so carefully looked after that there will be a minimum of annoying interruptions for changing tires and for repairing the motor. The summer vacation has been the subject of joyous plans and expectations during the summer months and now that those plans are crystalizing, don't let the joy be vitiated by your failure to check over these items with the right man.

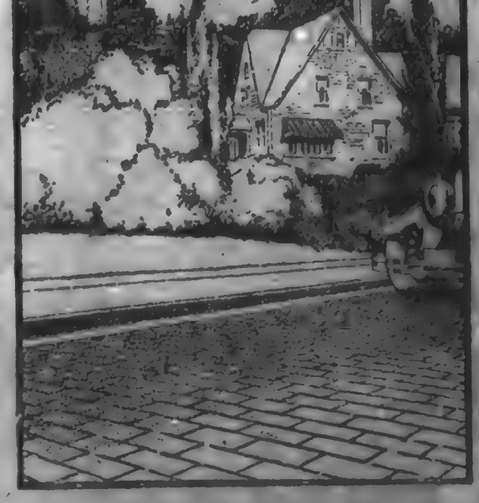
Brick Paving Will Endure In Bexley and Not Run Up Costly Bills

Robert J. Dienst of Bexley, one of the best and most reliable paving brick contractors in Ohio, will build the new VITRIFIED BRICK pavements on Cassingham Road—Fair Ave. to Main St., and on Dawson Ave.—Fair Ave. to Main St.



There will be, first, a good six-inch concrete foundation. Then will come a cushion of sand. On top of this will be laid VITRIFIED BRICK. This is the toughest surface to be found — one that will protect the base from all traffic and weather conditions.

VITRIFIED PAVING BRICK is the toughest, densest wearing surface than makes. This surface can't soften under heat; can't undergo chemical change. It can't be damaged by absorbing water and freezing. Moreover, it is built with shock-absorbing resilience.

— Furthermore, workmen are sure of a good job in laying this surface — since brick comes from the factory in finished form, tested, ready to put down.

These are reasons why Bexley will have, with VITRIFIED BRICK, not only the highest value pavement to be had — but the cheapest of all, as well.

The entire paving brick industry, as well as Mr. Dienst, are pledged to give Bexley citizens the highest valued pavement it is possible to build.

Bexley citizens are invited to watch Mr. Dienst build these pavements and notice the thoroughness with which brick paving — VITRIFIED BRICK — is laid.

Commonwealth Park Is To Be Put In Condition By Council

Mayor Ludwig Given Authority To Employ Hans Hansen and Several Assistants

Commonwealth Park, owned by the village of Bexley, is in a deplorable condition and should be looked after in a scientific manner at once, according to Hans Hansen, a student at Capital university, who reported to Bexley council Tuesday night the results of a brief survey of the park made at the request of council. Mr. Hansen has cared for the public parks of Providence, R. I., and has superintended some of the planting on the Capital university grounds.

Council voted to give Mayor Ludwig authority to employ Mr. Hansen and several assistants to put the park in condition, provided a detailed survey and report are satisfactory. Mr. Hansen said that the evergreens were being harmed by bagworms and that the only manner in which the worms could be destroyed was by picking them off, a very tedious job. In the spring this pest can be eliminated by spraying with a solution of arsenate of lead, he brought out, but it is too late to spray now.

The landscape man recommended the clearing away of the wild rose plants from the evergreens, the trimming away of the shrubbery after it has finished blooming and the clearing up of borders. He declared that there was work enough on the two lots to keep three men busy for from six to eight weeks.

Contracts were awarded for the paving of five streets, the meeting having been especially called for this purpose. Two are to be of brick construction and three of Trinidad asphalt. Cassady road from Sherwood road to Brentwood road was awarded to A. W. Burns at $13,156.64 for Trinidad asphalt; Elm avenue from Parkview avenue to Columbia avenue and from Cassady road to Remington road, was awarded to R. J. Dienst at $21,527.10 for brick construction.

Havenwood Drive South was awarded to A. G. Pugh at $3,642.98 for brick construction; Remington road from Elm to Powell avenues was awarded to A. W. Burns, at $6,444.44 for Trinidad asphalt construction; Drexel avenue at the Fair avenue intersection was awarded to A. W. Burns at $2,548.88 for Trinidad asphalt.

Mrs. I. C. Christian, 213 South Ardmore road, asked for the vacating of the alley between Ardmore and Cassingham roads, which is a blind alley running from Dale avenue south. The same alley east of Cassady avenue has been vacated. Solicitor Peters was requested to furnish Mrs. Christian with a petition to be signed by all the property owners to be affected.

A petition signed by all the property owners was presented by Harry Minister asking that the alley be vacated between Brentwood road and Bexley Park road and extending from Cassady avenue to Cassingham road. The matter was referred to the engineer.

ATHLETIC EVENTS FEATURE PICNIC

Boys and Girls of All Ages To Enter Contests at Annual P. T. A. Merry-making

Friday, June 15, will indeed be a Red Letter day for Columbus school children because of two good reasons—first, it is the last day of school—second, every pupil will be given a free ticket admitting him or her to the Parent Teacher picnic at Olentangy park. This is a big annual event on the closing day of school where 40,000 pupils and parents gather at the park to "make merry."

A pony, bicycle, roller skates and other prizes will be received by some lucky boys or girls. There will be novelty contests and races in the afternoon for children of all ages. Prizes will be awarded to the first three winners in each event.

A special water carnival of swimming events will be staged at 2:30 p. m. in the Olentangy park pool under the direction of William R. McCorkle, swimming instructor from the Central Y. M. C. A.

Mr. McCorkle has selected nine well known swimmers in Columbus to perform water feats. They are David Withrow, Marvin Hyle, Eugene Dubois, Herbert Barnsbey, Floyd Dunning, Bill Nye, Chester Nye, Joy Withrow and W. R. McCorkle. Included in their specialties are: tandem swim, towing, demonstration of strokes, water stunts, push ball and Count of Monte Christo.

For the elementary schools there will be a 4-boy 160 yard relay race, a 40 yard free style race and one event of diving.

For the girls in the senior and junior high schools there will be a 40 yard free style race and a 4-girl, 160 yard relay race.

For the boys in the senior and junior divisions the contests will be a 40 yard back stroke, 40 yard free style, fancy diving, 4-boy, 160 yard relay and a balloon race.

Entries for the swimming contests must be made through the schools to Mr. McCorkle at the Central Y. M. C. A. not later than Monday, June 11.

W. C. Dyer, principal of Reeb Avenue school, is general chairman of all contests and races for the picnic.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY IS PROVING ITS VALUE TO OUR READERS

We are very happy to note the appreciation our readers are showing for this special Eastern Times department. Each week more busy housewives and business men are learning how truly convenient it is to have listed in one neat, compact space, every service available in the East Side and Bexley.

If you have not gotten the habit, cultivate it. Instead of an aggravating search thru hundreds of confusing names, addresses and phone numbers, from every section of the city, learn to refer to this Directory, where you will find listed the business you want—those on the East Side and in Bexley only. If you are in business and not in the directory you should be! Phone Fr. 0650 after 5:30 p. m. or before 9:30 a. m. for listing.

CONSERVATORY HAS SEPARATE PROGRAM

Dr. Royal D. Hughes of Ohio State Gives Address; Twelve Students Graduated

For the first time in the history of the conservatory at Capital university, there will be separate commencement exercises for graduates of the music courses. Wednesday evening at 8:15 o'clock in Mees hall, Dr. Royal D. Hughes of the music department of Ohio State university, will deliver the address, which will mark the occasion, and three members of the graduating class will furnish musical numbers.

Twelve students will receive diplomas, certificates or certificates of proficiency. Miss Ruth Pearch will be given a diploma in organ and Miss Helen Hadyn, in piano. Certificates will be received by Miss Martha Stellhorn in organ; Miss Velma Grove, Miss Martha Zimmerman, Miss Gladys Nader and Miss Florence Clark in piano and Miss Leda Root in voice.

Certificates of proficiency are to be awarded to Paul Allwardt, Miss Betty Nunyan and Miss Hazel Sims in organ, while three year certificates in public school music will be awarded to Miss Leda Root and Miss Kathryn Sanders.

Miss Root will sing and Miss Pearch and Miss Nader will play piano selections at the graduation exercises.

COMMENCEMENT WEEK IS A BUSY TIME

Events to which Bexley residents are looking forward to in connection with the commencement festivities include the pageant, "Bexley, the Beautiful", Friday night at the Junior High school building; the annual Parent Teacher association picnic on the lawn of the high school building and the two performances of the senior play, "The Goose Hangs High" Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

The annual P. T. A. picnic usually brings the largest crowd of the year to the school grounds, as members as well as all residents of the village come with picnic baskets. The junior and senior high school boys and girls will put on a varied program of athletic stunts and drills and there will be fun for everyone.

Tsaig No. 19 of the Children's Hospital will meet Wednesday at the home of Mrs. E. F. W. Stellhorn, 566 College avenue.

WORK AND FLOWERS ARE ON EXHIBIT

Work done by the pupils in the departments of manual training, art, sewing and mechanical drawing will be on exhibit during the period of the second annual flower show, which begins tonight and will continue through Tuesday, at the Junior High school building. Three judges will mingle through the crowds at the flower show, which will be arranged in the form of bouquets on the stage, and will award prizes by grades. Adults and pupils entered their bouquets before 4 o'clock Friday.

HARLEY SIPE AND MYRTLE SHERER ARE TO BE MARRIED

The marriage of Miss Mytrle Sherer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Sherer of Galion, Ohio, who has been residing at 2389 East Mound street, to Mr. Harley C. Sipe, senior theological student at Capital university, will take place Thursday, June 14, at the home of the bride's parents. Miss Sherer was graduated from Galion High school in 1923 and from the Office Training School at Columbus in 1926. Mr. Sipe is a graduate of Capital university, having received the degree of Bachelor of Arts in 1925. He will be graduated from the Theological seminary Monday, June 11 and is a candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Divinity.

MYKRANTZ BEXLEY STORE IS ROBBED

About $60 was the loot obtained by two unmasked bandits who held up the Mykrantz drug store at Main street and Cassady avenue Wednesday evening at 9 o'clock. The two men entered the store while Paul Gerhold and another clerk were on duty and asked for the manager, F. K. Abbott. As he stepped from a rear room, one of the bandits shoved a gun against him and ordered the three to go to the rear room and to face the wall. The robbers then rifled the two cash registers and escaped in an automobile, believed to have gone west on Main street.

About an hour later the same robbers held up the Mykrantz store at 247 King avenue and took about $100.

CHANGES IN STAFF OF TEACHERS ARE ANNOUNCED TODAY

MISS THOMAS IS DEAN

Changes in the teaching staff in the Bexley school were announced Friday by H. [illegible] Dieterich, superintendent.

Miss Leanore Valentine of Springfield, graduate of Ohio Wesleyan university, will succeed Miss E. Clare Schooler as head of the department of physical education for girls of the high school, the latter having resigned to go to the State Normal school at Trenton, N. J. Miss Valentine has taught physical education in the elementary schools of Dayton and also at Wilmington College, Wilmington, Ohio.

To succeed Miss Schooler as dean of women, Miss Marian Thomas, head of the home economics department of the high school, has been appointed. Miss Thomas has taught at Bexley for six years and has kept in close touch with the girls both through her classes and through her work as adviser to the Bexley Girl Reserves. She is a graduate of Ohio State university.

The position of head of the English department, held this year by Miss Ruth Geist, will be filled by Miss Lucille Selbach, teacher of English in the Junior high school. Miss Selbach, a graduate of Ohio State university, has had successful experience also as teacher of Senior English in the high school at Zanesville. She will take over the work of adviser to the staff of The Torch, school paper. Miss Geist is resigning to study for her master's degree at the University of California.

Helps Observe Memorial Day At East High School, Where Program is Given

Memorial Day was observed at East High school by a program at which John Vorys, attorney, graduate of East, was the principal speaker. The program was given in the chapel Tuesday at 10:30 for all students, they having brought flowers for decorating the graves of veterans previous to that time.

Included on the program was a patriotic medley played by William Adamson; salute to the flag led by Richard Lane; the reading of the names of East High graduates, who died in the service, by Robert Karsch; quotations from the Ode in Memory of the American Volunteers Fallen for France by Alan Seegar and Robert Carr.

"Sweetheart of Mine" sung by Hope Johnson; "I Have a Rendesvous with Death" by Archibald Krumm; "Sleep, Soldier Sleep," sung by the St. Cecelia chorus; and "God of Our Fathers," sung by the senior class.

East Side and Bexley schools were dismissed in honor of Memorial day and all stores and offices observed the holiday.

Rev. George L. Wilms, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, was the speaker at the ceremonies on the Broad Street bridge Thursday, following the Memorial day parade, when the navy and marine posts gathered in remembrance of their fallen comrades.

Playground In Franklin Park Is Still Being Agitated By P.T.A.

Determined that children on the East Side shall have some place for organized play this summer, after the schools have closed June 15 and turned them onto the streets or alleys for recreation, officers and workers of the Franklin County Parent Teacher association are going ahead with plans looking toward the obtaining of space in Franklin park. Although the park commissioners have denied their request that a playground be established there, the women are hoping to present a new viewpoint on the question.

"The survey shows that in the territory bounded by Ohio avenue, Broad street, Main street, and Alum Creek, there are 3,000 children who have no place to play," says Mrs. J. J. Jenkins, 54 West Ninth avenue, who is one of the P. T. A. workers most interested in the project. "In that built-up district there are no vacant lots; if the youngsters play in the alleys they break windows and garage doors and are punished; if they play in the streets, they are in constant danger of accidents.

"This is the only section of the city where such a situation exists," continues Mrs. Jenkins, "and although in the territory there are many wealthy residents, there are also many homes which have a back yard only 10 by 12 feet in size. If the boys take a hard ball and bat and go to Franklin park to imitate Babe Ruth, they are sent away by the police. Statistics show that during the sledding season last winter, no crimes were committed, because the children were so busy playing that they had no time for harmful mischief. It is time we spent some thought and money on the side of preventing crime by providing a place for organized sports."

Mrs. Jenkins declares that the P. T. A. is not asking for territory for its own uses, but only for the benefit of the public. She asserts furthermore that Franklin park is wanted only for this summer in order to meet an emergency and that the association will see to it that another site is procured before next year. The playground children need not disturb residents of Franklin Park South and West, she says, for their mothers take them home before dusk and furthermore, the playground can be located back from the street in the center of the park, so as not to be seen by passerbys.

"If we can only have the space," she brings out, "we will not even insist upon equipment now. We want a place where our children can play under proper supervision, and Recreation Director Raymond has promised us that he will furnish the supervisors."

A meeting is to be held in the near future to further plans for the project, and all citizens of the East Side are to be asked to be present.

The Eastern Times Explains Origin And Hope For Future

Answers Questions As To Personnel and Tells of Subscription Campaign

"Do tell us something about the paper. We have been wondering for several months where the paper came from, who owned and managed it and why we have not been asked to pay for it. Tell us about it."

The persons, who have been assisting in the subscription campaign that The Eastern Times launched two weeks ago, have met the response mentioned above so often, that they have called upon the editorial staff to explain; to explain the origin of the paper, its methods of distribution, its reason for being, and its hopes for the future.

In the first place last autumn several newspaper workers noticed that the East Side and Bexley were the only sections which were not being served by a community paper. The North Side, the Hilltop, the South Side, the Mt. Vernon avenue district and Grandview have long enjoyed and valued their weekly newspaper, which afforded a community news medium, as well as an advertising medium for community merchants. The East Side was beginning to articulate its demand for a similar paper and Miss Ruth Parks, who had had newspaper experience in an exclusive community, heard of this demand.

Miss Parks Invited

She was invited by the East Side Business Men's Association to take over the project, which they had been promoting for some time, the association accepting the paper, in preference to several other newspaper propositions which were presented to them at the same time. In order to better serve, Miss Parks came to live among the people in the community, study their problems and make an effort to solve them. Her staff has also always been made up of East Side and Bexley folks. She and her first editor, Miss Jean Fitzgerald, started off in September, 1927, and in order to show their sincerity about producing a well-edited, readable paper, they have been distributing 6500 free in the district east of Ohio avenue, south of Broad street and north of Livingston avenue and extending through Bexley. The advertisers have been carrying the weight of the enormous expense during these first experimental months.

With the moving of Miss Fitzgerald to another city after her marriage, the editor-ship was taken over by Ruth Young White, for six years on the editorial staff of The Columbus Dispatch and for a year a writer for the London, England, Daily Express.

The office of The Eastern Times is located at 443 Miller avenue, in the heart of the district it covers. A small army of East Side school boys and girls make the weekly deliveries, going from house to house by foot over a regular route.

Endorsed by Mayor Ludwig

With the expansion of the paper, is it has gained favor from week to week, expenses have increased, and at the suggestion of our good friends, including East Side business men, the mayor and councilmen and other officials of Bexley, we have launched a subscription compaign to help pay for its distribution. We have tried to convince our subscribers that we have no connection with other persons, who have previously started weekly papers in this section. The present organization dates only from September, 1927 and has no staff member who was employed by any other East Side or Bexley newspaper.

Campaign Concentrated in Bexley

In Bexley the situation as to merchant's support through advertising is entirely different than in the East Side.

It is possible for East Side merchants to buy enough space for their messages to their customers to entirely cover expenses of the 4000 papers distributed in the East Side.

The few Bexley merchants are obviously unable to bear the expense of the 1500 newspapers distributed in the village.

We believe that the "Time" readers in Bexley appreciate the publication to the extent of paying the distribution charge of $1.00 per year (2c per week). This will assure prompt and consistent delivery every Friday of their newspaper village activities, council, improvement projects, etc.

Bexley needs The Eastern Times. The village officials recognizing the genuine value of a newspaper in promoting civic pride and in furnishing a medium of expression for the officials and citizens encouraged the starting of the publication and urge its continuance and the support of Bexley citizens.

New Rate Announced

The campaign was announced two weeks ago and we then stood by to watch the reaction. We are now preparing to intensify our efforts to get in touch with every resident. Along with the redoubling of our efforts, we are announcing a new rate of $1.00, thus making it easier for persons to mail their subscriptions to the office at 443 Miller avenue. Another reason for the lowering of the rate is that complaints have come in from Bexley people that they paid $1.50 for the former defunct newspaper for a year's subscription, and although we have had no connection with that paper, we are penalizing ourselves to overcome this ill feeling and to show that we are anxious to give our subscribers "their money's worth." $1.50 subscriptions already paid will be dated for 1½ years instead of 1 year as originally.

Encouraged by statements from those we have reached, we are making greater efforts than ever to put over our subscription campaign. Within the next month between 30 and 40 solicitors will be at work. May they get a hearty response from you, and you, and you.

Out of 100 calls made we find only 23 at home and most of them must consult someone else and report later. The expense of calling back on these 80 or more is more than the subscription nets.

Will you please cooperate by mailing in your dollar with this blank?

A Case for Civic-Minded Persons

The Columbus and Franklin County Parent-Teacher Association is determined to use a part of Franklin Park for a playground for East Side children and the park commissioners are equally determined not to allot a portion of the park for other purposes than those to which it is now devoted. If the East Side possessed a civic association, as do other sections of the city, the matter could be settled there with satisfaction and dispatch.

Let us examine both sides. The P.-T. A. brings out that the East Side, meaning that section between Ohio avenue and Alum Creek and between Broad and Main streets, is the only part of town where playgrounds are not provided for children, where they may play under expert supervision. Here there are 3,000 children who want to play ball and hide-and-seek and there are no vacant lots where they can gather. If they take to the streets, they are run over; if they go to the alleys, they break garage windows and are scolded by irate property owners; if they go to Franklin Park with a hard ball and bat, they are run out, according to Mrs. J. J. Jenkins, 54 West Ninth avenue, P.-T. A. worker.

The park commissioners are afraid that by allowing the playground they will be setting a bad precedent. The P.-T. A. meets that argument by saying that the park is to be drafted only as an emergency place and that it will be used only this summer, after school is out. The organization binds itself to find another site by next year and is willing to accept the park site, without equipment, with the understanding that supervision be provided by the city recreation department in the person of one of its trained workers.

Here indeed is a situation in which a civic association would be able to intervene in an attitude of helpfulness and fairness.

The News Is Out!

Eastern Times Subscription Rates Are Now $1.00

In order to meet the popular demand for a subscription rate that is low enough to place The Eastern Times into at least seventy-five per cent of the homes in Bexley and the East Side, we announce our new rate of

$1.00 PER YEAR (2c PER WEEK)

Free distribution of 6500 newspapers each week, is obviously impossible, but a subscription rate of 2c per week to partly cover the expense of distribution, will place The Times in the desired number of homes.

YOU NEED THE EASTERN TIMES

You need this community newspaper as a medium for advocating and bringing about important civic enterprises. You need to keep in touch with the schools, the church activities. The news from neighboring schools and churches creates a spirit of competition and brings about an eagerness to improve your particular church and school.

The Times hopes to make you a better citizen. Let the East Side Civic Association, which will probably materialize through the efforts of The Times, serve as one example and the council and building reports of Bexley serve as another.

YOUR CHILDREN NEED THE EASTERN TIMES

In The Eastern Times your children find a means of keeping in touch with their school activities and those of rival neighborhood schools. Their interest is thus intensified.

In Bexley particularly do the young people benefit by "The Times" items concerning the Bexley government activities which they otherwise would not notice. The Times furnishes an indirect lesson in better citizenship.

Above all, your children may feed every word uncontaminated with scandal and sensational articles.

BEXLEY NEEDS THE EASTERN TIMES

The Times has become the official medium of expression for Bexley's government. New traffic regulations, rezoning announcements of vital interest to property owners, ordinances, advice and warnings are all announced to you in The Times.

As a good citizen of Bexley you cannot afford to treat the manner relative to your village government lightly and you should know of every step taken. It is the duty of The Times to keep you informed of all these activities.

NOTE TO OUR PRESENT SUBSCRIBERS:
All $1.50 subscriptions received up to the present time will be dated for 1½ years instead of 1 year as previously announced.

Committee To Confer With Board On Playground Project

Prominent Professional Men And Social Workers in Favor of Franklin Park Site

A committee of men and women prominent in social, educational, professional and business circles was named to take responsibility for establishing a playground in Franklin Park for East Side children, at an enthusiastic meeting called Friday night at the Nell House by members of the Parent Teacher association.

Judge H. B. Holmes, Judge Homer Z. Bostwick, Joseph Cross of the Chamber of Commerce, Mrs. H. G. Watson, 1695 Franklin avenue, president of the Columbus and Franklin County P. T. A.; William H. Hartsough, jr., 78 Latta avenue, and C. E. Steward, 159 Latta avenue, are members of this committee.

Call on Mayor

As a direct result of the meeting Tuesday evening a group consisting of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Watson, Mrs. J. J. Jenkins, chairman of juvenile protection for the P. T. A., Judge Holmes and Robert Oestreicher, president of the South Side Civic association, called on Mayor Thomas Wednesday morning and obtained his promise to call a meeting of the board of commissioners of Franklin Park, of which he is member ex officio. The meeting is to be arranged with W. I. Holmes, president of the board, and will be open to the public for expressions of opinion.

Mrs. Jenkins presided at the gathering Tuesday evening at which a distinguished group was present in spite of the inclement weather. Judge Bostwick started the discussion in favor of the project by declaring that in all cities where organized play is well established juvenile delinquency decreases. "I see no reason why Franklin park is not suitable," he said. "Some of us drive through there occasionally because of its beauty, but the park should be used by the boys and girls every day. During the long summer vacation there is an increase in delinquency and trouble; where the children are not occupied with properly directed play. A playground for the East Side would have a wholesome effect on the community and it must be emphasized that the children of the best classes need this directed play to work off their surplus energy, as much as do the less fortunate members of the community."

One of Two Sections

Arthur Raymond, 121 Wilson avenue, recreational director, said that only two communities were as yet untouched by the playground system which provides a place for every child to play within a half mile of his home. Those two communities were at Rich and Sullivant avenue and in the territory bounded by Ohio, Alum Creek, Broad and Main streets. To buy land in the latter section would be too expensive, he said, and with Franklin Park near at hand, there would be no reason to buy.

He pledged to the commissioners that if permission were granted, he would locate the playground in any situation they decided upon, that he would make it a juvenile playground, limited to children under 14, that he would put in juvenile apparatus and that if his supervisors could not control it, that if it were swamped by an undesirable element, he would remove the apparatus and take the supervisors away.

John L. Davies, 1414 Eastwood avenue, of the city attorney's office, explained that Franklin park was governed by a special law which provided for a commission of five with two members from the county and two from the city with the mayor as member ex-officio. The title lies in the county, he said, but the privilege of spending money belongs to the city, while the city has no power to control it.

City Pays Bill

"If the city of Columbus is going to pay the bill, let it demand that the children be allowed to play there," Judge Holmes declared. "What good is a park without children, with only adults walking through it?"

Other speakers included Councilmen Lewis and Wehe, who brought out that they had always gone along with Director Raymond in his playground program; Robert Oestreicher of the South Side Civic association, and R. H. Sweetser, president of the American Rolling Mills Co., who told how they had obtained playground facilities for children of workers in the South Side factories; Rev. John Schmink, assistant pastor of the First Congregational church; Dr. E. H. Guynn, 37 North Monroe avenue, of the Guynn School of Concentration; W. I. Lawrence, president of the commissioners of Franklin park, who explained the board's opposition to the project; Joseph Cross of the Chamber of Commerce; Dr. W. H. Van Fossen, 48 Auburn, father of five children; George Barry, 1590 Bryden road, father of six children; W. H. Hartsough, jr., 78 Latta avenue and C. E. Steward, 159 Latta avenue, also fathers.

Mrs. H. G. Watson made a plea for the flower of humanity as well as for the flowers of nature.

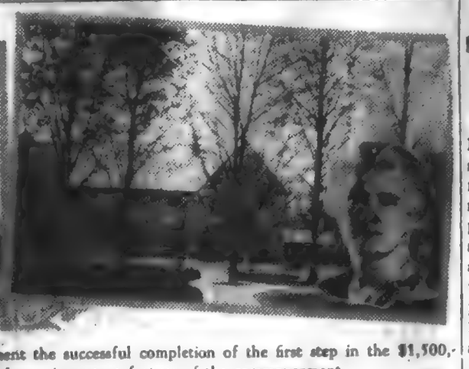
MODERN DRAMA IS GOOD VEHICLE FOR SENIOR PLAYERS

Father and Mother Ingalls were sacrificing everything for their children, the twins, home on Christmas holiday from college and the older son at home, earning enough money to get married. Grandmother insisted that they were spoiling the two sons and the daughter, but father stubbornly stuck to his job as city assessor in a corrupt city government, in spite of his hankering for work as a horticulturist. So went the first act of "The Goose Hangs High", the play put on cleverly and interestingly by the senior class of Bexley High school Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

Every moment of the modern play was enjoyed by the large audiences each night. The second act unwinded to include the resignation of father after a particularly flagrant insult to his honesty and the rounding up of the children by grandmother to rally to the support of their father. Instead of scolding father for losing his job, the three showed that they were made of good stuff and came to his rescue. The older son deposited the money he has saved for his marriage in his father's name and the twins got jobs.



Grandmother put up enough money to establish father in business with the horticulturist next door and although he finally persuaded the city government to re-instate him, his family insisted that he take up the work he loved and all ends happily with each member of the family busily at work.

Helen Wildermuth and Charles Tracy took the part of the twins and Eleanor Ludwig was the "peppy" grandmother. Olive White Fortenbacher, teacher of dramatics, directed the play and Lawrence Lamp was stage manager.

Miss Marian Thomas and Miss Rita McCormick, teachers at Bexley High school will leave the middle of July for a trip up the St. Lawrence river and on up the Saguenay river. They will stop at Montreal and Quebec and will come home through Lake George and the Finger Lakes.

FORMAL DEDICATION OF NEW BUILDINGS TO BE EVENT OF COMMENCEMENT WEEK

The dedication of two beautiful new structures, which represent the successful completion of the first step in the $1,500,000 expansion project launched by Capital University in 1927, will be an important feature of the commencement.

The dedication of the dormitory, which is built in the Collegiate-Gothic style of architecture, will take place Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Dean Alice Hill Byrne, Ph. D. of Western College for Women, at Oxford, will deliver the dedicatory address. Miss Katherine Lehmann, president of the General Woman's Missionary Conference, and Mrs. Emmanuel Poppen, of Grove City, president of the Columbus district, will preside at this service.

The new Conservatory of Music, in the words of Dr. James Francis Cooke, president of the Presser Foundation, and editor of the Etude, the dedicatory speaker and a recent visitor on the campus, is second to the best in the United States. It contains 23 classrooms, 13 practice rooms, and a large auditorium with a seating capacity of 1200, in which the college students meet daily for chapel, and in which all important university functions are held.

The conservatory will be dedicated Tuesday afternoon, with Dr. Cooke as speaker. Prof. Melius Christiansen, director of St. Olaf's Lutheran Choir, and Nikolai Sokoloff, director of the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra, will be among the musical celebrities present.

LOVING CUPS ARE 1927 CLASS GIFT

Names Of Those Excelling In Scholarship and Athletics To Be Put Thereon

The names of two senior students will be engraved on the two silver loving cups, which have been presented to Bexley High school by the class of 1927 to be permanent property of the school with the understanding that the name of the senior student having the highest scholarship be engraved on one cup and that of the one excelling in both athletics and scholarship on the other.

It has been decided that the custom, thus inaugurated, will be retroactive and that the name of Gladys Loudensiager, honor student of the class of 1927 and of Tom Davis, excelling in athletics and in scholarship, will be the first names thus engraved.

The class of 1928 has announced to Superintendent Deiterich that its class gift is to be a trophy case to be placed in the lobby of the school, to hold the loving cups and various trophies won for athletics and other activities.

Prof. Graves In His Address Encourages Good English

The indifferent attitude of Americans toward slatternly speech as shown in conversation and in writing, was deplored by Prof. William L. Graves, of the English department of Ohio State university in his address before the graduating class of Bexley High school Thursday evening.

"The prevailing poverty of speech and use of slang, is encouraged by lack of attention at home and by current fiction, in which the language of illiterate people is made amusing," Professor Graves pointed out, in declaring that Americans were making their own English and that cultured persons must decide how far old standards should be enforced and how far we can go in admitting new words which express American individuality. He explained the practical value that the knowledge and use of current mode of speech has for the high school and college graduate.

The address of Professor Graves followed a program of music given by the high school orchestra and the senior glee club and three orations by senior students. Miss Dorothy Kelley, second honor student, spoke on "The Modern High School Girl"; Miss Vivian Beck, first honor student, gave the valedictory with the subject, "Our Opportunities in Bexley"; and Morris Matlin, class orator, spoke on "What Education Means to Us."

Prizes were awarded by Superintendent H. C. Dieterich, including a set of Dickens to Vivian Beck, given by the P. T. A. as first honor student, and four volumes of her favorite poets and Elbert Hubbard's Scrap Book to Dorothy Kelley, for having done the best work in English. The invocation was pronounced by Rev. C. PLAY FOR CHILDREN

The whole East Side is interesting itself in the effort being made by members of the Parent Teacher association to open a playground for children between Broad street and Main street and between Ohio avenue and Alum Creek at Franklin Park. The movement was started some months ago by Mrs. A. J. Musser, 1548 East Main street, and although the board of commissioners who govern the park, refused to grant her request she and other members, including Mrs. H. G. Watson, the president and Mrs. J. J. Jenkins, chairman of juvenile protection, have gone ahead.

They have enlisted the aid of Judges Holmes and Bostwick, who tell of the decrease in crime due to organization of the leisure time of children; of Director of Recreation Raymond who explains that all the school grounds in that vicinity, even those around East High School, are inadequate for playgrounds; of Councilmen Wehe and Lewis who tell of plans to cooperate with the school board in keeping school grounds open the year around for recreational purposes; of Dr. E. H. Guynn, who explains how the motor ganglia of children must be exercised, or the result is a delinquent child or a repressed child; and of many parents, those who would like to play with their children in Franklin park and those who would like to send them there to play under expert supervision.

Mayor Thimas, member ex-officio of the board, has declared himself in favor of the movement, and it is hoped that success will come after the matter has been fully explained to the board members at a proposed open meeting.

Two Facts About Brick Paving

of financial interest to any Taxpayer

Weather usually starts what traffic merely finishes, in destroying pavement.

Paving materials not specially made to prevent it, absorb water. This sets up injurious chemical change—ice, freezing, expands and destroys. And paving surfaces, not designed to have resilience, suffer from traffic punishment.

Paving brick, being vitrified, is unchanging. It does not change chemically; does not soften. It does not absorb water. Laid on any good base, with sand cushion, and bound with asphalt, it is a flexible surface—one which water does not penetrate.

Nothing can wear out this toughest of all surfaces. And it protects the base from weather and traffic. Wherever brick pavements are, low cost records prove this.

ST. ALBAN'S DAY IS BIG OCCASION JUNE 17 AND 18

Religious Observance Planned For Sunday, and All-Day Carnival For Monday

PUBLIC IS INVITED

The third annual observance of St. Alban's days will be held by members of the Bexley Episcopal church congregation Sunday and Monday, with an invitation extended to the public to participate in all the activities.

The religious observance will take place Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, when the Rt. Rev. Theodore Irving Reese, D.D., bishop coadjutor of the diocese of southern Ohio, will be present to administer the Rite of Confirmation and to preach.

Monday the activities will take the form of a carnival to begin at 3 p. m., with special children's features in the afternoon and entertainment for the older folks in the evening. Every inch of ground occupied by St. Alban's church will be filled with amusements, including a track for pony rides, a fish pond, a fortune teller, a space for children's races and games and booths for ice cream, candy, pop and hot dogs.

A golf game for the men is planned for the evening as well as a supper on the lawn, outdoor bridge on electrically lighted grounds and a dance in the parish house, sponsored by the young people's club. The supper will take the form of individual box lunches to be served by a committee headed by Mrs. T. V. Taylor, 875 South Parkview avenue. A flower show will be held in connection with the carnival, exhibitors to enter their bouquets Monday in the hope of receiving a prize. Prizes will be given also for the winners in the children's contests. After the supper the entire assembly will join in community singing under the direction of "Pop" Hoenig.

The committee planning for St. Alban's day is headed by Arch Houstle, assisted by S. J. Altmaier, Harry Minister, Hugh M. Rose, F. H. Bennett, C. O. Bradshaw, C. B. Hood, Willard Morris and Lawrence R. Taft.

The proceeds of St. Alban's day will be devoted entirely to the fund for providing a new organ for the church. Children from every part of the city have always been delighted guests at this annual carnival and they are asked to come again this year with their parents and grown-up friends.

NO SUMMER SCHOOL TO BE HELD IN BEXLEY

Due to the fact that there is not a sufficient number of students at Bexley high school, who have failed in any one subject, to warrant the organization of a special class in that subject, Superintendent H. C. Dieterich has announced that no summer school will be held in Bexley this season. Most of the students who have failed, he said, have decided that it is better for them to take the subject over again next year, while others are making up their failure for private tutoring and others will enter classes at East High school.

One Loses Right To Drive For 90 Days

W. H. Stevens, 932 Linwood avenue, lost his right to drive for 90 days following conviction of speeding before Mayor Stephen Ludwig in Bexley traffic court Saturday. Four other speeders were fined $10, including N. J. Iukie, 498 Medill street; J. F. Stouffle, 172 Thirteenth avenue; Paul Madison of Newark and F. E. Johnes of Coshocton. John Aitchison of Granville forfeited a $10 bond and Ralph Hocking of East Liverpool was fined $5.

For violating safety zone regulations a large group of drivers paid $2 fines; H. J. Maynard, 109 Franklin Park west; Jay Bloom, 779 Ann street; C. Kruckeburg, 761 Sheridan avenue; C. H. Smith, 980 College avenue; H. D. Bannett, 304 Brehl avenue and John A. Fath, 2372 Indianola avenue. A fine of $5 was imposed upon Harold Breece, 541 South Eighteenth street.

For parking without lights two were fined $5 each as follows: Fred Morris, 227 North Twentieth street, and A. W. Patton, 1430 South High street.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Heiston (Alice Laughridge) are at home at 1505 Franklin avenue, having returned from their wedding trip to Calif., Mexico, Oregon, Alaska and Jasper Park, Manitoba and Canada.

PLAN OAKWOOD S. S. RICNIC

E. T. Kidwell is general chairman in charge of the Sunday School picnic to be given by Oakwood M. E. church Saturday afternoon and evening at Franklin park. Members of the school and church will bring their baskets. C. F. Needham is vice chairman; W. H. Pennel, W. R. Huston and J. W. Dortch, members of the refreshment committee; C. A. Clifton, Herbert Wise and Carl J. Agel, committee on games and contests and W. H. Pennel, chairman of transportation.

PUPILS LEAVING 6 A GRADE FETED

Those Who Are To Enter Junior High Are Guests of Honor At Exercises

Although high school commencement was occupying the thoughts and time of many students and parents this week, many younger pupils were experiencing the first thrill of a graduation, when they were guests of honor at exercises for the departing 6 A classes of the elementary schools.

Karl Bolander of the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts gave a talk on "Poster Art" Wednesday at 8:30 o'clock in honor of the 28 boys and girls who are leaving East Main Street school. In the afternoon the graduation program proper was held with music and recitations by the graduates and Friday the 28 dispersed to go to Roosevelt and Franklin Junior High schools.

Thirty-four 6 A pupils, most of whom go to Franklin, participated in the graduation program at Fair avenue school Wednesday at 1 o'clock. Miss Rose Hammond, the principal, gave the speech of farewell and entertained with a party in their honor. Elsa Guenther, 1474 Bryden road, who won first prize in a school writing contest, read the prize story as part of the exercises.

Goodbye exercises for the 34 boys and girls leaving Fairwood school to go to Roosevelt, Franklin and Pilgrim, took place Friday morning and included a talk by Miss Lou H. Thompson, the principal, music and speeches by the youngsters and the awarding of writing certificates.

Thirty-one are leaving Ohio Avenue school for Franklin and Roosevelt and about 45 are leaving Livingston Avenue school.

CHURCH TO PROCEED WITH ITS BUILDING

Workmen are staking off the ground to the east of the Wilson Avenue Reformed church Friday and the steam shovels will go in Monday as the first steps in the construction of the new plant for the church, which has been delayed since the beginning of spring. Sunday the last services will be held in the old building, before the remodeling starts, the congregation having decided to meet in the old Eastwood Congregational church while building is in progress.

The gatherings Sunday will include a children's day program in the morning and a jubilee service in the evening. At the latter meeting these members o fthe congregation will give short deminiscent addresses covering the 30 years during which the church has been functioning: J. W. Weaver, superintendent of the Sunday School; Dr. Clifton Reedy, E. V. Barr, chairman of the building committee; E. M. Grove, Mrs. Robert Overly, the only surviving charter member who is still a member of the church and Mrs. Berta Gartrell, who was present as a child at the services when the present church dedicated.

HAS PERFECT RECORD FOR ATTENDANCE

Betty Lodge, 1404 Oak street, a 6 A pupil at Fair avenue school, is the only holder of a perfect attendance card among the graduates of this elementary school. This fact was made known last Friday morning at a program arranged to give out awards in recent writing and spelling contests. Pencils were given to Jeanne Utley, Dorotha Stone and Louis Krakoff in the writing contest, and to Dorothy Ditner, Marguerite Thompson and Robert Deatrich in the spelling contests. At the same time buttons were awarded to those who had read the list of ten books included on a school approved reading list.

HAS NEW FENCE

The athletic field of Bexley High school now boasts a new wire fence which is decorative, as well as useful, thus filling a long-felt need, school officials say. It was erected by the Cyclone Wire Fence Co.

PETITIONS SHOW DEMAND FOR PARK PLAYGROUND

Twenty-four petitions covering the district from Eastwood avenue to Main street and from Ohio avenue to Alum Creek have been circulated this week by members of the Parent Teacher association, asking for the establishment of the playground in Franklin park, permission for which was refused for the second time by park commissioners last Friday. In some blocks 100 per cent of the residents have signed, while in all of them a majority have signed, according to Mrs. H. G. Watson, 1623 Franklin avenue, the city and county president.

Those taking part include Audrey Jacobs, Rose Marie Moore, Thelma Commeans, Rosetta Shrum, Betty Millisor, Robert Thomas, Margaret Gentile, David Ridenour, Raymond Carpenter, Janice Ridenour, Mary Lou Lender, Mary Elizabeth Riegger, Phyllis Williams, Lois Weaver, Ruth Thompson, Ruth Dillon, and Bill Perdue.

Miss Stout has announced that she will devote six weeks this summer to lessons for children, either in classes or individually.

SINGING AND DRILLS ON EVENING PROGRAM

The evening program for the fourth annual Parent Teacher association picnic to be held Friday all day in Olentangy park will include mass singing by 1000 voices from among Columbus school children, directed by R. W. Roberts, director of music; and illuminated Indian club drill given by a group of Bexley Junior high school boys on the darkened open air stage.

Fifteen schools are cooperating in putting on this picnic which is the biggest event of the year in P. T. A. circles. Tickets were given to every child in those schools. Proceeds from the picnic will be used for the P. T. A. dental clinic, for the Theresa Poston student aid fund and for the general expenses of the council.

Miss Elise Lindenberg, 215 N. Parkview avenue, and Miss Anne Lupher, 46 North Parkview avenue, have returned from the Erskine school, Boston, Mass.

Miss Elizabeth Byers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Byers, 1262 Mooberry street, arrived home Tuesday from Baltimore, Md., to spend a months' vacation. Miss Byers entered the nurses' training school at John Hopkins two years ago and is a graduate of East High school.

BEXLEY TO HAVE PLAYGROUND IF THERE IS DEMAND

All parents in Bexley, whose children have attended the first four grades in the Bexley schools and who would like to have them enjoy the privileges of a playground this summer, are asked to send them to meet at the Junior High school building on Cassingham road Monday and Tuesday from 9 until 10 o'clock. If a sufficient number of children report for the playground activities, they will be organized under the direction of Miss E. Clare Schooler, teacher of physical education in the Bexley High school for the past three years.

MRS. BILBY TELLS OF LIBRARY MEET

Is Delegate to American Association Conference; Buys Autographed Book

Mrs. Robert Bilby, librarian of the Bexley public library, has returned from West Baden, Ill., where she attended the 50th annual conference of the American Library association, meeting 1500 men and women from all parts of the country, engaged in library work.

Mrs. Bilby attended all the general sessions and the sectional meetings dealing with children's work, order and book selection and small libraries. A round table meeting on publicity was of especial interest, she said, where a paper was read by Lee White, former editor of the Detroit News, on what kind of publicity to prepare for papers.

Another interesting paper, Mrs. Bilby reports, was given by Mrs. Maud Sullivan, librarian at El Paso, Tex., who was in charge of the Mexican guests.

The John Newbery medal for the best children's book was awarded to Dhan Gopal Mukerji for his "Joy Neck," Mrs. Bilby reports. The book, two copies of which are in Bexley library, is the story of a dove born in India and of its adventures there and during the world war. Children like the story for its plot and older folks for its philosophy, according to Miss Annabel Porter, chairman of the children's library section, who made the presentation of the medal. Mrs. Bilby bought an autographed copy of the prize book.

SUMMER REGULATIONS FOR BEXLEY LIBRARY

The summer hours now in force at the Bexley public library are from 10 a. m. until 9 p. m. These hours will be in force until September 1.

Mrs. Robert Bilby, librarian, announces that vacation privileges at the library include permission to take a book out for a month and also permission to renew it for another month, so that people leaving the city may take their library books with them during a two months' vacation.

New Avenues Of Approach To Junior High Are To Be Made

Village Is Purchasing Property That Remington and Elm May be Extended

ROUTINE BUSINESS DONE

Plans are rapidly being perfected by Bexley council for the acquiring of the land necessary for extending Elm avenue from Parkview to Columbia avenues and from Cassady avenue to Remington road, and for extending Remington road from Powell to Elm avenues, that the avenues of approach to the new Junior High school building on Cassingham road be increased.

Solicitor Peters submitted to council at its regular meeting Tuesday night an ordinance authorizing the payment of $500 to Margaret P. Workman and her husband, Charles A. Workman, for their land which would permit the extension of Remington road and announced that he had come to an agreement with A. H. Bancroft and his sister for paying the same sum for their land which would permit the extension of Elm avenue. Grading is already under way on these streets.

Sewer Contract Received

A contract covering the permission and fees to be charged for the discharging of sewage into the city of Columbus sewer system from a portion of Bexley was submitted to council by City Engineer R. H. Simpson. Permission was given for the territory lying west of Parkview avenue and south of Fair avenue to discharge sanitary sewage only, not trade waste nor surface water nor drainage of any sort, into the sanitary sewer in Fair avenue, on condition that all sewers and connections be at the expense of the village. Charges for single houses are to be $4; for doubles, $3.50 each and for apartment houses $3 for each apartment. The village is to collect all such charges.

The building line for the lots from Livingston avenue to Charles street in the Livingston Heights addition at the south end of Cassingham road and Montrose avenue, sponsored by the Herman Johnson Co., was fixed at 40 feet, by request of Henry Worley of the Johnson Co. After a plea by L. R. Moor, 2524 Sherwood road, that a four-foot sidewalk be placed on Cassingham road, council voted to place four-foot sidewalks on Dawson, Cassingham and Cassady roads, the one foot to be taken off on the inside toward the property line.

Cost is Estimated

At the request of council Engineer Kennedy estimated that the cost of paving between the tracks and outside them on Drexel avenue would be $6,600. It was decided to ask Dr. Otto Mees of Capital university and the two residents on Michel avenue near the university athletic field to meet with council to discuss complaints as to trespassing by those attending the various games.

A petition to vacate the alley between Brentwood and Bexley Park roads from Cassady road east was received, signed by 100 per cent of the residents. Marshal Shadrach was authorized to fill up the holes in the side drives on East Broad street and to improve Powell avenue between Parkview and Drexel, by patching holes and grading as well as Mound, Pleasant Ridge and Westland Drive by applying gravel and tar. The request of Dr. E. C. Mills, 230 South Cassady avenue, that the sidewalk on Elm avenue between Cassady and Cassingham be placed immediately next the curb so that he could plant elm trees on the street named for those trees was referred to the engineer.

Need Warning Light

Chief of Police Gray was authorized to make some provision for having a red warning light installed in front of the telephone pole at Drexel and Walnut avenues, where the street car turns. Marshal Shadrach was asked to renew his efforts to make an appointment with officials of the Southern Ohio Public Service Co. to discuss the condition of paving near the car tracks on East Main street.

Council instructed the marshal to repair the slope of the gutter in front of the home of I. R. Dehton, 325 Dawson avenue, to provide proper drainage and gave permission to Benson W. Smith to tap the storm sewer for Lot 260, Chelsea avenue. The Ohio Bell Telephone Co. was permitted to install an underground conduit across Fair avenue at Cassingham road. Edward Looker is to be allowed to install "No Parking" signs across his driveway at 2248 East Main street, at his own expense.

Carl Schwann, returned missionary from India, will lecture on foreign missions; Mrs. Wayne Dornbirer will teach "Christian Art"; Misses Lucille and Mildred Bero, "Bible History"; Miss Irene Hanley and Miss Alice Staley, "Bible Background"; and Mrs. Charles Stieger and Mrs. Rose Stukey will assist in the half hour of recreation to be held every morning.

Miss Louise Boge and Miss Lucille Roff will act as supervisors for the Vacation Bible to be held June 25-July 20 by four East Side churches at the Grace Lutheran church, instead at First English Lutheran, as announced last week.

The faculty for these two schools will be announced next week.

16 Lots in Beacon Hill Addition Sold at $40,000

Beacon Hill Addition in Bexley, which was put on the market only a few weeks ago, to close out the estate of Harry M. Johnson, is rapidly being sold for investment purposes and homes.

Foerster Bros. realtors for the addition, report one finished home, two homes under construction, and building permits let for several more. East Side purchasers predominate in the purchase for home sites, and Bexley people for investment purposes. Beacon Hill is fully improved and built up solid to the south. The recent annexation to Columbus of the territory surrounding Bexley leaves Beacon Hill the last Bexley allotment for sale.

Rev. Clarence Woods, Personal Friend Of Gov. Byrd, Brings Him To Centennial

The credit for bringing Governor Harry F. Byrd of Winchester, Va., to Canal Winchester for its centennial anniversary July 4 and for having a flag of the older city in Virginia presented to the newer city in Ohio, is being laid at the feet of an East Side resident, pastor of an East Side church.

Rev. Clarence Woods, 1261 Fair avenue, pastor of the Wilson Avenue Reformed church, former resident of Winchester, Va., and close personal friend of Governor Byrd, is the power behind the execution of the picturesque plans for the celebration of the anniversary of pioneer days. Rev. Woods belonged to the Rotary Club with Governor Byrd, when the former was plain Harry Byrd, a wealthy orchard owner and newspaper proprietor. They were also brother Masons, were members of the school board which built the magnificent high school at Winchester, and were pals on a fishing and yatching trip on Lake Erie near Cleveland several years ago.

When Rev. Woods was called to the Wilson avenue church, while he was studying at the summer session at Ohio State university, a letter from Governor Byrd to the Reform board gave him the highest recommendations.

With the background of this close friendship in his mind, Rev. Woods listened several months ago to the plans for the Canal Winchester centennial as told by George F. Bareis, an elder in the Reform church.

"Why don't you link up the anniversary celebration with its namesake Winchester, Va? Why don't you invite Harry Byrd here and ask Winchester to present a flag to its offspring?" Rev. Woods suggested. Members of the committee thought the plans sounded too ambitious for its small town, but Rev. Woods offered to write a friendly letter of invitation to his distinguished friend and to ask another distinguished friend, Jacob Meckstoth, secretary to Governor Donahey, to send another invitation through the governor's office.

Although Governor Byrd was in the midst of plans for amending the state constitution so as to do away with some of the evils of its purely aristocratic basis, he consented to be present at the Fourth of July jubilee for the sake of his old friend. He will be a guest at the Woods home during his visit to Ohio.

Having obtained Governor Byrd's promise to attend, Rev. Woods then wrote to the Rotary club, of which he has been vice president and director, suggesting that the club see to it that a flag of Winchester or of Virginia was given the Ohio city, just as the city of Winchester, England, presented a flag to its Virginia namesake several years ago. The club promised to attend to the flag ceremony. Chief of Police Dove of Winchester, a lineal descendent of Henry Dove, a pioneer settler in Ohio who at one time owned the land on which Canal Winchester is situated, will accompany Governor Byrd. He, too, is a friend of Rev. Woods.

ANNEXATION OR INDEPENDENCE?

Bexley residents seem singularly unconcerned by the action of Columbus council and several real estate firms in going ahead with the annexation of Berwick to the south and of Eastmoor and other land to the east of Bexley, thus nemming in Bexley in her present limits, without leaving territory for expansion. Many of them have expressed the opinion that Bexley is large enough now, that if it became larger it would lose its charm of neighborly life, and that since there are no industries to expand, the present population is sufficient.

Others have gone farther and said that Bexley had no advantages to gain from annexation and that the village would lose by giving up its identity and its independence. Time alone can tell. Council has already shown itself to be on the job when on March 27, it authorized Engineer Harold Kennedy to submit plans for a water plant for the village, to be ready in case Columbus decided to discipline the village further. Other plans probably would be perfected if Bexley residents would make it clear whether they prefer to become a part of Columbus or whether they prefer to pay for their independence.

LOVELY SUMMER HOME SITES ALONG CREEK AND LAKE OFFERED

The entire frontage of Catalpa park on Big Walnut Creek and Deer Lake, south of Livingston avenue, has been divided into 51 water front lots and is being offered as summer home sites by Gus Bohl, 40 West Gay street. This 55 acre park, planted in 25,000 catalpa trees, is the private summer home grounds of Dr. Woodmansee and after the sale of the lots, the addition will be strictly private with no spade reserved for the public.

Deer Lake, which is being improved and connected with the waters of Big Walnut creek to give the water proper circulation, was named from the skeleton of an American elk, found while excavation was in progress at the north end. The park, itself, was established as a bird sanctuary by Thornton W. Burgess bird lover and Dr. Woodmansee has placed scores of bird houses on the trees. Pheasants, quail, and woodcock abound.

The water of Big Walnut here is from three to six feet deep and affords facilities for boating, swimming and fishing. Amusements have been provided for the children.

CATALPA PARK [ON BIG WALNUT AND DEER LAKE]

The Most Beautiful PRIVATE Summer Home Sites Near Columbus

DR. WOODMANSEE'S PRIVATE SUMMER HOME GROUNDS ONLY 8 MILES FROM BROAD AND HIGH

CATALPA PARK

Catalpa Park is the 55-acre private summer home grounds of Dr. Woodmansee, located on Big Walnut and Deer Lake, only 8 miles from Broad and High, southeast of Columbus. Every lot is a REAL water front lot, 50 ft. wide and 100 to 198 ft. deep, the lot line on those along Big Walnut extending to midstream and those on Deer Lake extending to the water's edge. There is no park reserved for the public.

HISTORY OF DEER LAKE

This lake is now being improved and connected with the waters of Big Walnut Creek to give the water the proper circulation.

While men were excavating at the north end of the lake they unearthed the skeleton of an American elk from the bed of the lake. The antlers were in almost a perfect state of preservation. This deer, no doubt, at some period in the early history of Franklin County, was wounded, and in trying to make its escape from the hunters became mired in this lake.

From the discovery of the skeleton in this location we will give this body of water the name "Deer Lake."

GREEN MEADOW BIRD SANCTUARY

Catalpa Park is a registered Bird Sanctuary. This sanctuary was established and organized by Thornton W. Burgess of New York City. Dr. Woodmansee has placed scores of bird houses in this sanctuary. These have been appropriated by almost every kind of bird known in Central Ohio.

The twenty-five thousand Catalpa trees in this Park are wonderful cover for the pheasants, quail, woodcock, etc., that abound in this Bird Sanctuary. During the past winter the "Winter Birds" ate over twenty pounds of suet that was provided for them.

Wonderland Opens With Full 1928 Program

Wonderland picnic grounds and dancing pavilion have opened their 1928 season with splendid crowds in attendance in spite of the inclement weather.

The program for the season includes the engagement of Claude Pearce of "Claude and Frank", the popular W.C.A.H. radio team, and his Wonderlanders Orchestra. The program is made up of round and square dances every night and the services of L. J. Cameron of the Henry Ford School of Old Time Dancing, have been secured for "calling" the square dances. It is said that Mr. Cameron uses as high as 94 complete "changes" in his calls. He will teach square dancing and the new changes free every Wednesday night from 7:30 to 8:30.

Special surprise features are procured for the entertainment of Wonderland patrons. Last week "Claude and Frank" and the other artists gave feature numbers.

Wonderland grounds are open to picnickers. There is a 2 acre island well supplied with tables and benches, which lodges and church organizations are invited to use, after making reservations with W. H. Foerster.

Mr. Marion L. Ainsworth has returned from Ann Arbor, where he has finished his first year in the medical college at the University of Michigan. He is the son of Dr. W. L. Ainsworth, 1232 Franklin avenue.

Daily Vacation Bible Schools Open Mon. At Two Churches

Miller Ave. Evangelical and Grace Lutheran to Welcome Children from 4 to 12.

East Side children will be welcomed to the two Daily Vacation Bible schools which are opening in this community Monday.

Mrs. A. B. Mettle, 793 Lilley avenue, will act as principal of the Daily Vacation Bible school at the Miller Avenue Evangelical church, on Miller avenue at Rich street, to which all children of the neighborhood are invited. There will be no enrollment fee and children from 4 to 12 years are to be catered to. This school attracted 171 youngsters from 16 different churches last year.

Three departments, beginners', primary and junior, will be organized, to continue for four weeks until July 20. Mrs. C. V. Carlson, 361 Miller avenue, will be in charge of the beginners' department with Miss Helen Davenport as assistant; Miss Verna Boyles and Miss Ruth Van Hoose will take care of the primary department; Mrs. Mettle will superintend the junior department, assisted by Mrs. Ernie Middleton. Mrs. Mettle will teach also basketry and handwork.

Worship, Bible study, hymn singing, story telling, handwork, play and instruction in art will make up the program.

Four East Side churches, including Grace Lutheran, First English Lutheran, Oakwood M. E. and Wilson Avenue Church of Christ, are cooperating in putting on the school at the Grace Lutheran church on Oakwood avenue, which begins Monday. Miss Lucy Roof and Miss Louise Boge will act as supervisors. Miss Cornelia Gutschalk, Miss Jean Davis and Miss Phyllis Meyer will teach the kindergarten class, including children from 4 to 6 years; Mrs. Albert Diehl, Miss Audrey Golladay, Mr. Ralph Lowe, Mr. Allen Meyer and Mrs. Herman Metz will teach the second class, including children from 7 to 10 years.

Mrs. R. H. Bean, assisted by Miss Wilma Gutschalk, will teach dramatization and for the older children from 11 to 14 years, Dr. Robert Golladay will teach "The Life of Christ"; Rev. Lewis Speaker, Bible memory work; Rev. Walter S. Collins and Rev. Karl B. Alexander, Bible and missions. Rev. Ellis Snyder is on the faculty for the study of hymns.

Classes will be held each week day from 8:30 until 11:30 o'clock.

Christ Lutheran church is sponsoring a Daily Vacation Bible school for Bexley children, which opened last Monday and will continue four weeks.

STORM INJURES EAST RESIDENTS

House Party Invited by Miss Ruth Cull Broken Up by Wind and Rain.

East Side residents suffered both injuries and property damage when the furious storm of Monday afternoon settled down upon Buckeye Lake.

Miss Ruth Cull, 409 Morrison avenue, was entertaining a group of friends from Holy Rosary school at the Cull cottage, when the storm came. The girls had gathered for a house party Sunday night, intending to stay through the week. Monday they were terrified by the sudden wind and rain, which tore off part of the roof and caved in one side of the wall of the cottage, slightly injuring Miss Cull, and causing her guests to be drenched. They all returned to Columbus Monday night.

Jean Ford, small daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Roscoe Ford, 993 East Rich street, was visiting at "The Camera Club," the cottage belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnson, 873 Ellsworth avenue, at the time of the storm. She escaped without injury, but Mrs. Johnson was bruised, Mr. Johnson was cut about the face and head, his mother, Mrs. Charles Johnson, 1001 East Rich street, suffered a wrenched ankle, Frances Johnson, received an injured knee and Mrs. Carrie Kramer, Mrs. Charles Johnson's mother was dealt a blow on the head.

During the electric storm Monday afternoon, Don Thomas, aged 10, son of Jesper Thomas, 605 Bowman avenue, Hanford, was killed by lightning while playing on the Hanford play ground.

Nelson Memorial Is Recreation Ball Champ For First Season

Nelson Memorial church is the champion of East Church League No. 1 for the first season of recreation ball. The second season will open Monday evening. Nelson Memorial won seven games out of seven. Last Monday night they defeated Grace Lutheran church 9-1 and the Ohio Evangelical church 5-4.

Small Emmy Lou Sites Bitten by Dog Above Lip

Emmy Lou Sites, aged 4, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. Sites, 222 Wilson avenue, was bitten on the face by the small brown terrier belonging to Hoy Lerch of Bryden road Saturday. She was taken immediately to Dr. E. F. Peinert, 156 Wilson avenue, who burnt out the wound and bandaged it, declaring that it was not necessary to give the child the Pasteur treatment.

Small Emmy Lou was playing with the dog and attempted to give it an affectionate kiss. The dog evidently was not pleased with the caress, for he sprang at the child and bit her above her upper lip. The doctor says that the wound will leave a scar about a half inch long.

Three East Boys to Be Junior Leaders

As a part of the leadership and instruction staff of Camp Ro-Fre-La, Columbus Boy Scout camp which opens Saturday, Scout officials have arranged to have 14 junior leaders. Among them will be Paul Williams, East High football star and track captain, as assistant campfire director; William Collingwood, East High, who is to lead forestry and botany trips and William Van Fossen, East High, who will be hike leader.

LIGHTS ARE BEING INSTALLED IN DRIVING PARK ADDITION

Boulevard lights are being placed at 200 foot "staggered intervals" in the Columbus Driving Park addition, according to Herman H. Johnson, president of the developing company. The installation of the 64 light standards on the four streets in the addition is being done under the supervision of C. F. Turner, superintendent of the municipal light plant and will be completed some time in July.

Work started on Kelton avenue where the first 16 standards are to be placed. Each standard is 18 feet high surmounted by a panel type light of 400 candlepower. There will be a light every 200 feet on alternate sides of the street, Mr. Turner says. More than three miles of cable over an inch in diameter will be used to connect the lights in underground conduits.

Lilley, Berkeley and Geers avenue will be lighted in order following the installation on Kelton avenue. All other improvements, including water and sewer systems, electricity and gas are available to residents of the Driving Park addition.

Commissioner Bartlett Publicly Felicitated

The birthday anniversary of Ralph Bartlett of the Bexley zoning commission was the occasion for some fun to be had by the other members of the zoning commission at their meeting last Monday night. Solemnly passing a motion expressing their congratulations, the board members sent this expression to members of council for acceptance Tuesday evening. The motion follows:

Whereas the Beneficent Creator saw fit upon this day some years ago to inaugurate the existence of Commissioner Bartlett, and whereas and by reason thereof this board was thereby accorded the pleasure of associating with said Commissioner Bartlett, and whereas it is seemly that due notice be taken of this anniversary, therefore be it ordered (Commissioner Bartlett modestly refraining from voting) that the board express to the world at large its joy of the day."

NEW SHOE STORE OPENS AT MILLER AND MAIN

Two well known East Side men, Mr. Richard Craney, 1356 Cole St. and Mr. H. H. Moon, 1237 Bryden Rd., have opened a Shoe Store and Men's Ready-to-Wear Shop at 1454 E. Main Street.

Both men have been closely connected with the shoe business for many years, their present connections being with the Freeman Shoe Co. and The Freeman-Beddow Shoe Co. at Beloit, Wisconsin.

Mr. Cranay's son, Edward B., will manage the store. Mr. Edward Cranay's experience as a retail shoe salesman equips him well for this position.

The store will be open Monday, Wednesday, and Friday evenings until 7:00 P. M. and Saturday night until 9:30 P. M.

SUPERVISORS ARE NAMED BY CITY

Two New Tennis Courts Are Installed on Kent and Gault Playground.

Playgrounds on the East Side are to be open to the boys and girls this week and next with experienced supervisors in charge, chosen and trained by the city department of recreation, Director Raymond has announced.

The grounds at Nineteenth and Rich streets and those at Kent and Gault streets were thrown open Wednesday, while those at Livingston park at the corner of Eighteenth street will be ready Monday. Two new tennis courts have been installed on the Kent and Gault grounds, but at the other two, the same heavy and light equipment that has been used in other years will be ready for the active youngsters.

Carlton Smith and Miss Marie Zapp have been assigned to Nineteenth and Rich streets; Miss Christine Jones, Miss Dorothy Payne and J. A. Stevens are to be in charge at Kent and Gault streets; and Miss Hazel Davis, Miss Clara Hayes, William Griffith and Guy Kessler are to be in charge at Livingston park.

The Thurman avenue playground will be opened later, Miss Alma Morris of the recreation department announces. She says that children interested in going to the Indian village may sign up with the supervisors as soon as the playgrounds open, and that they will be given a certain date for their visit.

Bexley Camp Fire Has Club Rooms

The spacious rooms over the garage connected with the home of H. C. Moores, 151 South Parkview avenue, have been donated to Takuli Camp Fire girls of Bexley by Mr. Moores and have been used by the delighted girls for the past two months. Officers of the Camp Fire recently elected include Bertha Schiefer as president; Jean Moores as secretary; Margaret Johnson as treasurer; Antoinette Landrum as scribe and Freda Klingbeil as librarian.

Bertha Schiefer and Margaret Johnson received the rank of firemaker at a recent ceremonial and Isabel Pen and Charlene Carrick were taken in as new members. Miss Carlos Davis, 2650 Indianola avenue, is the councillor.

RIBBONS AWARDED TO WINNERS IN FLOWER EXHIBIT

Show at St. Alban's Day Celebration Attracts Many Flower Lovers.

IS BIG SUCCESS

In spite of the bad weather, Monday, when it rained hard during the morning hours and threatened rain during the afternoon, St. Alban's day Monday celebrated on the grounds of St. Alban's Episcopal church on Drexel avenue was a success, in the opinion of the committee, headed by Arch Houstle.

One of the most successful features of the carnival was the fourth annual flower show, for which there were 50 entries. Mrs. John L. W. Henney was in charge and Mrs. Truitt B. Sellers and Mrs. Dudley A. Filler, both flower connoisseurs, were the judges. Blue ribbons were awarded for first prize in the various classes and other ribbons were given for second and third prizes and in some cases for honorable mention.

The prize winners were as follows: Luxuriant growth: Mrs. Claude Meeker, first; Mrs. Fred Essex, second, and Mrs. Stark Altmaier, third. Best specimen: Mrs. William C. Heer, first; Mrs. D. H. Thomas, second; Mrs. Lawrence Taft, third. Best roses: Mrs. Fritz Lichtenberg, first and second; Mrs. Mae Lee Wilson, third.

Best single rose: Mrs. Stark Altmaier, first and Miss Martha Mouch, second. Most artistic arrangement: Mrs. Ed Palmer, first; Mrs. Lichtenberg, second; Mrs. W. A. Carlisle, third; Mrs. Wendell Begga, honorable mention. Miniature: William Heer, jr., first; Mrs. Frank Bonnet, second; Miss Eileen Henney, third, and Mrs. Hugh Bone, honorable mention. Bexley Playground Movement Is Given Up for This Year

Due to the fact that an insufficient number of children appeared at the Bexley Junior High school Monday and Tuesday mornings to warrant the organization of a playground group, the movement has been given up for this year, Superintendent H. C. Dieterich announces. Miss E. Clare Schooler, who was to have had charge of the playground, will leave soon for Camp Mudjespen, near Sturgeon Bay, Wis., where she will be assistant to the director.

Exercises for Children Held

Bexley Presbyterian church and Sunday school held children's day exercises Sunday morning in the auditorium of the Bexley High school. In addition to the Sunday school program, Dr. John L. Tait, the pastor, delivered a special children's day sermon.

Court Decision May Mean Start Of Grade Crossing Elimination

Residents of the East Side and Bexley, especially those who have occasion often to use East Main street on each side of the railroad tracks, are fervently hoping that the decision of the Ohio state supreme court in connection with the grade crossing elimination program of the Norfolk and Western railroad means that the improvement is to go through immediately, according to opinions expressed to the Eastern Times Thursday.

The decision announced Wednesday, reversing the appelate court and sustaining the Franklin County common pleas court, holds that no subdivider of an addition can so restrict deeds on individual lots as to in any manner nullify the right of eminent domain of a common carrier. Although Eastgate residents, who are fighting to prevent the railroad from passing through the northeast strip of the addition, have announced through their attorney, Simeon P. Nash, that they will carry the case to the United States Supreme court, Councilman Fred Zimpfer will ask city council Monday night to approve the railroad's plans and allow the improvement to proceed at once.

The railroad's plans, which Councilman Zimpfer will ask approval of, include improvement from a point south of Livingston avenue. They specify transfer of the tracks of the Southern Ohio Public Service Co. from Mound street, at a point west of the railroad cross to Main street, and also the improvement of Main street east and west of the tracks, which is one of the roughest spots in the city.

Eastgate residents contend that they have right of damages from the railroad because restrictions in the deeds for individual lots prevent the railroad from exercising its right of eminent domain.

BEXLEY ADDS NEW STORE TO BUSINESS CENTER

Two weeks ago the Bexley Shoe Repair Company, owned by Mr. Edward A. Koblens, was opened at 541 South Drexel Ave. This week Mr. Koblens converted the front half of the large store room into a well stocked Men's Shoe Store. Mr. Koblens will handle the complete line of Freeman and Freeman-Beddow $5 and $6 shoes for men and young men.

The shoe repair department is equipped with the most modern repair equipment available.

Mr. Koblens, 2640 E. Main street, a resident of Bexley for 6 years, has been associated with the shoe manufacturing business for twenty years.

BEXLEY LIBRARY PLANS APPROVED

Bids Are To Be Advertised at Once and Work Will Start in 30 Days.

Plans for the new Bexley library, to be located on Capital university grounds on East Main street opposite Cassady avenue, have been approved by the library board of trustees and bids are to be advertised at once. Following the advertisement of bids, thirty days must elapse for contractors to submit bids, so that it is expected that building operations will start about the middle of July.

Final arrangements have been completed with Capital university for taking over the land, so that only the awarding of bids remains to be done before actual construction can start. The building committee includes Superintendent H. C. Dieterich, E. P. Tice and Dr. C. V. Sheatsley and the library board consists of Rev. Sidney E. Sweet, president; Mrs. Fritz Lichtenberg, clerk, and Mrs. Amy C. Brightman.

DR. GUYNN TO TOUR TENNESSEE GIVING LECTURES

Dr. Edgar Hart Guyon, 37 North Monroe avenue, principal of the Guyon School of Concentration, left Monday for a 10 day lecture tour. He will go to Bethel college and six other colleges in Tennessee and during the trip will deliver five lectures before the general assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian church at Jackson, Tenn. His general theme will be, "Ideals in Education" and he will develop that the soul, like the mind, grows by what it feeds upon or starves for lack of proper food.

The commencement exercises for Guynn school were held Friday in the chapel of the Broad Street Presbyterian church. Dr. John L. Tait, pastor of the Bexley Presbyterian church, gave the prayer, the scripture reading and the benediction and Dr. W. R. Pohlamus, pastor of the Franklin Park M. E. church, gave the address on "Maintaining the Ideal in a Realistic Age." A quartet including Selma Reece, Edith Guynn, Nathan Beck and Ellis Snyder, sang.

Picnic Expected to Attract 45,000 Persons

Tickets telling of the picnic of the Columbus Retail Grocers' association at Olentangy park Wednesday are rapidly being distributed in the East Side section by leading grocers. The picnic is expected, with good weather, to attract about 45,000 persons.

The park will open at 10 o'clock and will offer swimming, dancing, thrill rides, fun houses, pony track, children's playgrounds, restaurant and picnic facilities until 7 o'clock, when the famous bathing review will take place at the pool. More than 50 girls will be entered in this review, for which there will be prizes.

At 8 o'clock the comic character contest is scheduled, which is open to anyone who comes to the park dressed as a character from the "funny page" of any Columbus newspaper. Forty dollars in prizes will be offered in this contest. At nine o'clock the capital prizes will be distributed, including a Nash Sedan, a suite of living room furniture, a Frigidaire and a Hang washer.

Tickets for the picnic may be obtained from your grocer.

One Play Supervisor Is To Be Assigned To Franklin Park

Small Play School Will Be Installed About July 1; No Equipment Ordered.

The controversy that has been raging since April between members of the Columbus and Franklin County Parent Teacher association and member of the Franklin park commission over the establishment of a playground in Franklin park has been settled by the announcement made Tuesday by Mayor Thomas that a playground supervisor would be assigned to Franklin park.

No equipment is to be installed in deference to those who wish to keep Franklin park a beauty spot, but Director of Recreation Arthur Raymond is sending one of his best playground workers to gather the small children together, tell them stories, supervise them in playing ring games and other quiet games, let them run about in a lively game of volley ball and teach them folk dances and circles. The gathering will be in the nature of a small play school, which will open about July 1, Mr. Raymond said.

Only children between the ages of 8 and 12 will be admitted to the playground and the hours of supervision will be from 9:30 to 11:30 and from 2:30 to 4 o'clock. The headquarters of the group will be near the shelter house, so that the playing children will be protected in case of rain.

The granting of the supervisor for Franklin park is the direct result of the presentation of the 19 petitions circulated by 19 small boys in the district between Ohio avenue and Alum creek and Broad street and Main street, Mrs. H. G. Watson, P. T. A. president says. The petitions were presented to the mayor Saturday morning by a committee consisting of Mrs. Watson, Mrs. J. J. Jenkins, chairman of juvenile protection for the P. T. A., Joseph Cross of the Chamber of Commerce, C. E. Steward, three mothers and the 19 boys who had circulated the petitions. The boys testified that they had been driven out of the park by a caretaker and by persons who had obtained permits to hold picnics on the park grounds.

The petitions contained 820 names of prominent men and women on the East Side and showed a sentiment in favor of the playground, as opposed to the opposition expressed by residents of Franklin Park West and South at a recent meeting with the park commissioners and P. T. A. members.

"Letters announcing the opening of the play school will be sent to all signers of the petition," Director Raymond said Tuesday, "And all mothers in the community are asked to send or bring their small youngsters. In case a real demand develops for a more elaborate program and equipment, we shall take up the matter more fully."

Church Building Is Proceeding

Construction of the new building of the Wilson Avenue Reformed church was progressing Friday in spite of the request of Isaac P. Martin, 121 Wilson avenue, that the common pleas court grant a restraining order, preventing the proposed addition. Digging was being done on the foundation as far as the wet weather would permit.

Martin also asked that the ordinance, giving the church a special permit to build within three feet of his south property line, be declared unconstitutional.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ebner, 210 E. Fulton street, have as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Arnold of Cleveland.

TEACHERS ENROLL AT CAPITAL U.

Members of Winter Faculty Are Studying and Summering Out of Town.

Enrollment for the summer session of Capital university totals 57 names, practically all of whom are registered in the elementary normal course. Many of the summer students are elementary teachers who are required to finish their two year course. This is the second year of Capital's summer school and the registration is slightly larger than that of last year, according to Prof. C. Vogel, the director of the summer session. The music school is also giving summer sessions.

Many members of the faculty of Capital university have already left for their summer holidays. Dean Justina Eich has gone to her home in Youngstown for a few days and will sail Saturday for England, where she will take some summer courses at Oxford university. Miss Dorothea Conrad, the librarian, will go to New York, where she will study at Columbia university.

Prof. Donald Le Galley, of the science department, and Mrs. Le Galley, 1570 East Long street, are summering in Maine; Dean and Mrs. R. V. Smith, 402 South Parkview avenue, are spending the summer at Monrovia, Calif.; Mademoiselle Lina Monier, professor of French is spending the summer with her parents in France; and Dr. C. B. Gohdes is the principal speaker for a Lutheran Chautauqua on the Pacific coast, for which section he left last week.

Grocers' Convention Delegate Reports Interesting Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stotz, 625 Carpenter street, returned Sunday from a southern trip, during which they attended the convention of the Retail Grocers and Butchers association in New Orleans June 11-14. Delegates from all parts of the country numbered 126, Mr. Stotz reports, 26 of which were from Ohio. Next year's convention is to be held at Portland, Ore. The delegates visited the American Sugar Refinery Co. for an inspection and luncheon and early one morning they motored to the wharf to watch the unloading of bananas from Cuba and to be served breakfast on the banana boat.

After the convention, Mr. and Mrs. Stotz went to Atlanta, Ga., where they were entertained by the grocers' association. A trip to Stone Mountain was arranged, also one through the war district where the battle of Atlanta was fought. Among the interesting sights was a cyclorama painting of the battle which occupied three artists three years.

The next day the travelers went on to Chattanooga, where they visited Lookout mountain and Missionary ridge, and then on to Nashville, Tenn., where they made a tour to see the points of interest.

MAY THE GRADE CROSSINGS GO!

After years of waiting Columbus is at last about to see the start of the grade crossing elimination program of the Norfolk and Western railroad, which will do away with the dangerous and unsightly crossings at Broad street, Bryden road, Main street and Livingston avenue and will make it possible to pave Main street on both sides of the tracks. The people of Columbus have been singularly patient in allowing first one faction and then another to hold up the work, and it is hoped that council will vote Monday to permit the immediate assumption of the program.

The residents of Eastgate, with whom all of us sympathize if their property is to be made less valuable, have been turned down by two courts out of three, but they have been assured by Attorney Boulder of the N. and W. that their claims for damages would be taken up one by one if they were presented in legal shape. Many persons have felt that the march of progress has worked hardship upon them financially, but progress marches on, and no piece of work is more to be desired than the elimination of the grade crossing in the eastern part of the city.

THIEVES STEAL $135 AND CHEWING GUM CASE FROM PHARMACY

One hundred and thirty-five dollars was taken by thieves Saturday night, when they broke into the Ohio Main pharmacy at 1067 East Main street. The robbery was discovered Sunday morning, when some of the employes found the front door open with the window in it broken. The chewing gum case the top of which is removable and in which loose bills were kept, to the amount of $135 was carried off, thus arousing the suspicion that the thieves were familiar with the routine of the store.

Other money in the cash register and in the form of checks were untouched, the manager said Friday. No clues as to the identity of the robbers have been found.

Discussion Between Michel St. And Capital Brought To Head

Council Will Agree to Vacation of Two Strips of 20 Feet on 60 Foot Roadway

TO SURVEY FOR SIDEWALKS

The discussion between residents of Michel street and officials of Capital university concerning the alleged trespassing of students and other spectators at the athletic contests on the Capital athletic field was brought to a head at the regular meeting of Bexley council Tuesday night. President Otto Mees, representing the university, and D. T. Eberly and C. A. Heisel, Michel street residents, spoke before council.

Messrs. Eberly and Heisel demanded that Michel street be vacated in favor of the abutting property owners and that if the university needed an ingress to the athletic field, it should be made to purchase land for that ingress. Capital university, President Mees said, stands ready to buy the entire property of both the men at a fair price, but this offer was not accepted.

To Leave Center Strips

On suggestion of Councilman Kerr, seconded by Mayor Ludwig, it was decided that if Mr. Eberly and Mr. Heisel would sign a petition, asking for the vacation of a strip of land 20 feet wide on each side of Michel street, which is 60 feet wide, council would act favorably on the petition. In that case 20 feet in the center of the street would be left for public use, in going to and from the athletic field, and President Mees agreed to put a neat fence on each side of the center strip, thus preventing trespassing on the adjoining property. If such a petition is not presented, however, council decided that the matter should be left to stand as at present.

Marshal Shadrach was authorized to place signs prohibiting parking in the alley running from Main to Mound street, east of the Capital university athletic field, after complaints by residents that they could not get into their garages. President Mees says that he will have viaduct placed in the ruts in this alley.

Upon written request of Mrs. Howard L. Coffman, 2461 Fair avenue, that sidewalks be placed on all main arteries leading to the school buildings on Cassingham road, council gave the village engineer authority to make a survey and to report back in two weeks where the sidewalks are needed. Fair avenue, especially, and also Cassady and Cassingham, were mentioned as needing a walk where school children would be safe.

Ordinances Passed

Ordinances were passed granting permission to the C. and G. Realty Co. to lay an 8 foot sewer in the alley east of Chelsea from Lots No. 5 to 10 of Drake's East Lawn addition and to tap the same into the sewer on Mound street; authorizing the issuing of notes to pay for the installation of a system of street lights in 15 streets, to cost $55,000; and providing for the discharge of sewage from a portion of the territory lying west of Parkview avenue and south of Fair avenue into the sanitary sewer in Fair avenue.

Petitions to vacate alleys were referred to committees: the one between Ardmore and Cassingham roads from Dale to Fair avenues; the other in the district described by Cassingham, Remington, Brentwood and Bexley Park roads. Residents near Cassingham road, who complained that that street was impassable, were assured that the work was to be pushed. Clerk of council Roderick was authorized to write a letter to R. J. Dienst, contractor, calling his attention to the fact the penalty for not finishing the street on time would be rigorously enforced.

To Repair Dale Avenue

Council decided to replace the three year motor cycle being used by village police with a new Harley Davidson. Shadrach was given authority to repair Dale avenue, a street which, being partly in Bexley and partly in Columbus, has been repaired by the city during the past two years. The Columbus Railway Power & Light Co. reported that it was unwilling to pave between its tracks on Drexel avenue, but stipulated that it wished to strengthened its tracks in case the village decided to do the paving. The manhole on Parkview avenue in front of the Lester Bush residence is to be tightened to prevent the loud noise that is heard when an automobile passes over it.

A public meeting is to be held July 5 for discussion of the village budget and an executive meeting of council was held Thursday evening at the home of Mayor Ludwig to discuss the construction of a village water plant.

MARIE ZAPP IS TO TAKE CHARGE AT FRANKLIN PARK

Miss Marie Zapp, who has been a playground worker with the city department of recreation for the past seven years, has been appointed by Director Raymond, to take charge of the playground and play school at Franklin park. The playground will be open Monday and all children up to 12 years of age in the district bounded by Ohio avenue and Alum Creek and by Eastwood avenue and Main street, are eligible to attend.

Miss Zapp, whom Mr. Raymond considers one of his most capable supervisors, has had experience at the Kent-Gault playground, at Nineteenth and Rich streets and at Washington Park.

All city playgrounds are now open to children, Mr. Raymond announces, with a good attendance at all locations.

COURT REFUSES TO PERMIT A HOLD-UP OF CONSTRUCTION

Judge Scarlett of the common pleas court denied an injunction to Isaac B. Martlin, 121 Wilson avenue, Friday, seeking the stoppage of plans for the construction of a new church for the Wilson Avenue Reformed congregation at the corner of Wilson and Fair avenues. The judge ruled that Martlin did not have the authority as a tax payer to prevent the church from building three feet from the lot line, for the reason that council had granted the permission in special legislation.

Mr. Martlin then took his suit to the court of Appeals in Dayton for a hearing Wednesday and the judge has taken the matter under consideration.

Rain held up the digging of the foundation last week, but weather permitting, the construction will go ahead with increased vigor. Plans made in the early spring called for the start of building operations the second week in April, but Mr. Martlin's protests and his attempted suit have held up work for nearly two months.

New Physician and Dentist Open Offices in Bexley

Dr. Ward Athey, physician and surgeon, a former Columbus and Ohio State man, has returned to his home city after extensive post graduate work in New York City and is now located in Bexley in the new business and apartment building on Drexel avenue just north of Main street.

Dr. R. G. Prather, D.D.S., has also located in Bexley in the same neighborhood. Dr. Prather moved his office from the corner of Fairwood avenue and Main street, where he has been practicing for the past five years, to 2266 East Main street above the Willard Restaurant.

This week Dr. and Mrs. Prather also moved their residence from 458½ Stoddard to an apartment in the same building with the office.

BOWLING ALLEYS TO OPEN IN JULY

T. B. Skinner is Going Ahead With Installation of Brunswick Equipment

Rapid progress is being made on the bowling alleys being installed by T. B. Skinner at 1424 East Main street in the room formerly occupied by motor salesrooms. It is planned to open the alleys in about 30 days and Mr. Skinner is asking that any East Side church or school leagues, which want to reserve time for bowling, get in touch with him at once. Reservations are coming in rapidly from persons and groups in other sections of the city, and he is anxious to give East Side residents a chance to bowl at alleys near their homes. Mr. Skinner can be reached at Fr. 0406.

Six alleys are being installed in the Skinner building, covering a space 85 feet long. The front part of the building is being made into two shops, the one to the east to be used for a lunch room and soda fountain with tobacco, soft drinks and candy on sale. The one to the west may be turned into a pool room, although Mr. Skinner has not yet made his final plans.

THIEVES CUT THEIR WAY INTO TWO E. MAIN ST. STORES

Thieves entered the Radzek building, 1457-59 East Main street, Monday night and by cutting the doors of both the Radzek Bros. tailor shop and the Hall Hardware store forced their entrance into both. Three pairs of trousers from the tailoring stock and a dollar bill from the cash register, which they broke, were taken from Radzek Bros. and a number of flashlights, batteries, shells and knives, including hunting knives, were taken from the Hall store.

The robbers, who detectives think were amateurs, found a basement door unlocked at the rear of the building and made their way into an entryway between the two stores. They then cut neat square holes in the doors which stand opposite each other and opened them from the inside. Mr. Radzek says that a tire was stolen several weeks ago from his car which was parked in the garage to the rear of the building and thinks the same thieves may have done both jobs.

FIVE EVENTS ARE ON SCHEDULE FOR CITY TOURNAMENT

Tennis Scars, Including Wirthwein Boys, Are Signing Up At East End Club

DR. NELLIS IS MANAGER

Entries are being received all this week for the city tennis tournament to be held at the East End tennis club on East Long street, beginning Saturday afternoon and lasting through next Saturday. Five events have been planned by the committee in charge, including mens' singles, mens' doubles womens' singles, junior singles for boys up to 19 years and boys' singles for boys up to 15 years. The latter event has never been offered before in Columbus.

Dr. A. B. Nellis, 15 Auburn avenue, veteran tennis champion with years of experience in managing tournaments, is chairman of the turnament committee and he is assisted by C. J. Kurtz, president of the East End club; William Brown and Vinson Hunter.

Saturday only mens' singles will be seen on the courts and these will continue Sunday and Monday. Monday or later the preliminaries of other matches will be played and semi-finals are scheduled for Thursday or Friday. Finals will take place Saturday, July 7.

Among those who have made entries, either with Ben Ratner, athletic supplies, 65 East Gay street, or at the club are: Carl Wirthwein of the famous tennis family and Stark Frambes, jr.; and T. Emmons and E. Mack in the men's doubles; Harry J. Westerman, jr., Stark Frambes, jr., Monford Miles, William Brown, E. Mack, T. Emmons, Vinson Hunter, M. J. Poppleton, John Pixley and Herbert Mumm in the men's singles; R. B. Smith, jr. James Smith, Walter Moore and Monford Miles in the junior singles; Mrs. Vinson Hunter and Katherine Rochester in the women's singles; Robert Linehart and Mathew Smith in the boys' singles.

Walter Wirthwein, former central Ohio champion, who relinquished his title in 1926 when he was playing tournaments in the East during the local tournament, is to enter the city tournament, according to officials, thus providing more interest in the matches.

PREVENTS ENTRANCE OF BOLD THIEF

Lydia Dwehler, the servant at the home of Ben Luria, 346 South Drexel avenue, prevented the entrance of a thief into the house Saturday morning, according to a report made to the Bexley police. The man appearing, saying he was a telephone repair man, and when refused admittance by the maid, threatened her with a gun. Miss Dwehler scuffled with the robber with such strength that he fled. She was cut on the hand during the scuffle.

Jones Family Has Resided On Main St. For Nearly 100 Years

An old-time East Main street family, which has lived on that thoroughfare during the past 100 years of Columbus history, is the Jones family, now represented by Albert Jones, 1693 East Main street. Mr. Jones was born on East Main street at No. 260, between Sixth and Fifth streets, when it was called Friend street, and with the passing of the downsection as a residence section, has moved farther east. Mr. Jones' mother, however, Mrs. Mary Virginia Jones, still lives at the old homestead, which is probably the oldest house still used purely for residence purposes in the district west of Fifth street.

Mrs. Mary Virginia Jones, aged 89, the widow of the later General Theodore Jones of Civil War fame, was born on East Main street, almost opposite where she now resides. Her father, Amos Menelly, owned the tavern on the corner between Fifth and Sixth streets, and she can remember vividly the stage coaches as they came swinging up "Friend" street, several rohses abreast, jingling with jolly bells. After her marriage to General Jones she moved across the street and has lived in the same spot since 1845.

Although her old-time neighbors have all turned their homes into business blocks and although her taxes amount to a high rental on her property, Mrs. Jones continues to live near her girlhood home and heeds no pleas of her sons to move into a more convenient apartment. She is the oldest graduate of the old Central High school, now living in Columbus.

Mr. Jones says he can remember when a group of business men decided to emphasize the importance of Main street as a growing business section and started a campaign to change the name from Friend street to Main street. They explained that the street had been so named because it ran through a Quaker settlement in Pennsylvania, but that with its growing importance as the National highway, it should have a "busier-sounding name. Both Mr. Jones and his father, General Jones signed the petition of the business men who canvassed every property owner on the street.

He remembers that a small run rippled along where Stoddard avenue now is and that he and his brother, Ewing Jones, 269 Morrison avenue, used to amble along its banks on their fishing trips to Alum Creek. The boys used to go from the downtown Main street home to Franklin Park, then the Franklin county fair grounds, and follow the run from there along to the creek. The creek was then clear and sparkling and full of fish, not having contaminated by sewage from the smaller city that Columbus then was.

In those days the land east of Ohio avenue was all farm land and Bexley was unheard of.

The school at Grace Lutheran church has registered 165, a number that is most encouraging to workers on the project.

WHERE A CIVIC ASSOCIATION WOULD HELP

Another case where an East Side Civic association would be of great assistance to East Side people in expressing their wishes and putting over their ideas, is the hold-up of the grade crossing elimination program at East Broad, Main and Livingston avenue. Time after time city council has listened to complaints to Eastgate residents, who are organized, who attend council in a body, and who have employed the services of counsel.

East Side persons, who are intimately concerned with the doing away of the unsightly and dangerous crossings, are not organized, they do not attend council meetings in a body and therefore their wishes are utterly ignored. It is no secret that council members are influenced by the presence of a large group of voters, and when East Side people make no effort to send a delegation, naturally council feels that they are not interested.

To be sure Eastgate residents have a cause for complaint, but there are always two sides to every question and East Siders should be organized to present their side. It is to be hoped that when an attempt is made to revive the East Side Civic association in the autumn, every voter and prospective voter will see the advantage of interesting themselves in civic questions.

WHY BRICK PAVEMENTS
—level, smooth, skid-resisting—
Save on taxes

As laid today brick roads are smooth, level, skid-resisting. Selection of brick for famous speedways demonstrates this. And of all highways, those of brick keep taxes lowest.

Thirty years severest punishment does not wear out paving brick. Tire chains do not scar it. Of all wearing surfaces, it is the toughest man has ever made.

Bound with asphalt, and laid on any good base over a sand cushion, brick surface keeps out water, protects the pavement base from traffic shock. And most important, brick surface as laid is slightly flexible, taking up natural expansion and contraction, as the weather changes, without damage.

Thus year after year brick roads cost little to maintain. They keep taxes low, and travel permanently trouble free. Records in many states and county highway departments will verify these facts.

The JOY of Your Trip Depends on Your TIRES

. . . . . learn the Joy of Depending on MILLER TIRES

YEARS of experience have taught us what you want and what you have every right to expect from an investment in tires. Right now you want the joy of riding through your vacation on tires you can depend upon.

We decided long since that the Miller tire is right, the maker's policy is right and the price is right. Frankly—we've never had the pleasure of seeing a better line of tires. We doubt that a better line exists.

There are three Scientific Advantages that no other tire can claim:

1. ONE-PIECE TREAD AND SIDEWALLS eliminate joints and hinges — no chance whatever for cracking.
2. ROAD-SHAPED, GEARED-TO-THE-ROAD TREAD gives greatest non-skid effect. Runs even with the road, taking wear evenly.
3. "UNIFLEX" CORD CONSTRUCTION by which every part of the tire flexes in unison bringing perfect balance and eliminating friction and excessive inner heat.

WHERE A CIVIC ASSOCIATION WOULD HELP

Another case where an East Side Civic association would be of great assistance to East Side people in expressing their wishes and putting over their ideas, is the hold-up of the grade crossing elimination program at East Broad, Main and Livingston avenue. Time after time city council has listened to complaints to Eastgate residents, who are organized, who attend council in a body, and who have employed the services of counsel.

East Side persons, who are intimately concerned with the doing away of the unsightly and dangerous crossings, are not organized, they do not attend council meetings in a body and therefore their wishes are utterly ignored. It is no secret that council members are influenced by the presence of a large group of voters, and when East Side people make no effort to send a delegation, naturally council feels that they are not interested.

To be sure Eastgate residents have a cause for complaint, but there are always two sides to every question and East Siders should be organized to present their side. It is to be hoped that when an attempt is made to revive the East Side Civic association in the autumn, every voter and prospective voter will see the advantage of interesting themselves in civic questions.

BEXLEY SCHOOL IS ENTERED BY THIEF

Intruder Gets Into Superintendent's Office and Library Through Windows

Bexley High school on East Main street was broken into Sunday night and the thief obtained a small sum of money, according to report made to Bexley police Monday.

The window on the north side of the school was broken, also a window leading to Superintendent Dieterich's office and one leading into the library. Money to the amount of $8 was taken from the superintendent's office and $7.01 was taken from the library.

Another report to the Bexley police charges that a bad check was passed by J. J. Parks, who claimed that he worked for the McAllister Tailor Co., 170 Fifth avenue, New York City. The check, written on the Cleveland Trust Co., was given to P. Riley at the Weiburger Co., 2353 East Main street. J. W. Connell, 2558 East Main street, charges that the same man skipped out without paying for room and board which he owed to the Connells.

A neighborhood quarrel between John Westenberger, 923 Grandon avenue and J. Le Master, 922½ Grandon avenue, resulted Saturday in the arrest of Mr. Westenberger on a charge of drunkeness. In retaliation Mr. Westenberger served notice on Mr. Le Master to vacate the property in which he lives and is owned by Westenberger. Mr. Westenberger pleaded guilty to a charge of intoxication and the case will be heard in Squire McVey's court Saturday. Officers McNames and Bradfield were called to the Grandon street address both Saturday and Tuesday to settle differences.

East Side As It Existed Fifty Years Ago Remains In Memory Of Lifetime Resident

Reminiscenses of the days when the greater part of the East Side was a wilderness broken only by a few residences and when Bexley was marked only by two houses which were spoken of as "being in the country" were told to the Editor of The Eastern Times in a fascinating way this week by Mrs. John Strapp, 1812 East Main street, who spent her childhood on East Main street, as did her husband.

Mrs. Strapp was one of the two daughters of Felix Schaefer, and came with her parents to live at 1806 East Main street, when she was a small girl. Her father owned a slaughter house to the rear of her present residence and later a butcher shop at Miller and Main streets. It was her duty to help deliver meat for her father and thus she came to know intimately all the houses in the neighborhood.

The stately old home of the late Judge Kimball at No. 1323, now the Pauline Home for the Aged, was her favorite house, with its beautiful trees, in the tops of which a house was built for the Kimball son, and its asparagus garden to the rear. Across from it stood the attractive white frame, at No. 1336, the Owan Jones home, now owned by Harry Krumm. Farther east were the brick houses, one at 1581 which has always been the Haller home and the other at 1589, now occupied by Dr. McGuinness. The old M. C. Lilley home, after which family Lilley avenue was named, formerly stood at the southwest corner, having been moved back and made into a three family apartment when the gas filling station went in.

The lovely old Kent property at 1651 East Main, now the home of Rev. Father John J. Murphy of Holy Rosary church, is also a memory of her childhood and she used to enjoy the old orchard that stood on the land now occupied by the Catholic church. The little brick house in which I. A. Lageman lives at No. 1697 is an old one as is the rambling red brick at No. 1759, where Dr. Brock formerly lived. Where Morgan Memorial church now stands, Jim Cluney had a slaughter house, Mrs. Strapp recalls.

On the other side of the railroad track only three houses remain as they were in Mrs. Strapp's childhood. They are the old Haviland home at No. 1954, now made into apartments; the white frame with green shutters and old fashioned barn at No. 2160, and the old Tussing family home at for there lived the N. & W. section boss, Pat Strapp and his ten children, one of whom became her husband.

Mrs. Strapp treasures a picture of her old home at No. 1806, which is more than 65 years old, which shows the meadow stretching before it crossed by a babbling run emptying into Alum Creek. The road was a mud one and the children as they went to school or ran their errands discarded their shoes and wore rubber boots to carry them safely through the mud and water. She can remember the first curb stone that was set. Across the street was a row of graceful willow trees, where gypsies used to camp. The old Reynoldsburg coach, as it passed every morning at 9 o'clock was cause for excitement, because the horse cars on Main street only ran as far as Kelton avenue. The first electric car on Main street is also one of Mrs. Strapp's memories.

One of the most vivid memories of her childhood, however, was the time when she ran away from the Catholic day school taught by St. Vincent sisters to Franklin park, the county fair grounds to see Buffalo Bill and his Wild West show. She received the worst whipping of her life for that bit of truancy, but she still treasures the fact that she saw Buffalo Bill.

her, was the old section house which stood on the site of the ice plant and coal yard to the west of the railroad, No. 2216. To be sure the house, which in her teens had the most interest for

DO YOU REMEMBER? TELL US ABOUT IT

Do you remember any tales of the East Side as it used to be before it became the most thickly built up community of Columbus? Do you know any stories about the country where Bexley now stands? Several of our readers have been favoring us with remininscences of their childhood, which are amazingly interesting. If you have anything to add, get in touch with the editor and she will be glad to talk to you.

SUMMER SCHOOL IN SESSION AT EAST

Both High School and Fair Avenue Center Use Unit System Of Study

Four hundred and sixty East Side boys and girls have enrolled for the summer school work at East High school and 120 pupils are studying during the summer months at Fair Avenue elementary school. All studies in the academic course are being offered at East, but no business subjects. Eleven teachers are being kept busy with W. W. Wagar, who is principal of Roosevelt Junior High school during the winter, as summer principal. Miss Elizabeth Jones is principal at Fair Avenue.

Only morning classes from 8 until 12 are being held during the seven weeks' period of the summer school. The system of study units, introduced into the summer school work of the elementary school last year through the initiation of Superintendent J. C. Collicott and C. A. Pollock, director of the summer session, has been included in the senior high schools this year, including East.

Under this plan the subject material of the text books is organized into units of study which make for definiteness and the setting up of specific goals. The planning of the units and their solving trains the pupil in habits of independent work and increases his ability to help himself, Mr. Pollock says.

The carefully planned assignments enable each pupil to progress at his own rate and the teacher, under the unit plan, has more time to assist the slower student, who needs special attention and encouragement. Each pupil possesses an individual progress card and the room class chart shows the progress of the entire school. Principals and teachers at East High and Fair Avenue centers are pleased with the success of the new plan.

MEEKER BELIEVES SMITH WILL SWEEP COUNTRY

Led by Claude Meeker, 256 South Columbia avenue, chairman of the Ohio delegation to the National Democratic convention in Houston, the Franklin county delegates returned home Sunday. They were met by 200 Democrats who crowded the Union Station to welcome them home.

"We nominated the candidate and adopted the platform we believe will sweep the country at the presidental election," Mr. Meeker said, in commenting on the dramatic way with which the Ohio delegation definitely turned the tide toward Smith and assured his nomination.

Other Franklin county delegates included Ralph Bartlett, 843 Euclaire avenue, and Nathan McCoy, 75 Oakland park avenue, while the alternates were Mrs. C. D. Cussins, 385 South Parkview avenue, and John Ward, 579 Fairwood avenue.

RECOVER STOLEN CAR

A stolen car, which had been parked in front of Capital university for three days, has been recovered by Bexley police, who have notified the owner. The license was issued to Gus Thomas of Williamsport, O., according to records. One of the front tires on the car is gone.

CAUGHT BETWEEN AUTOMATIC GATES

Albert K. Binder Has Terrifying Experience on Tracks on College Avenue

The terrifying experience of being caught between the automatic gates at the College avenue crossing of the Ohio Public Service Co. as the interurban car bore down upon him was felt by Albert K. Binder, 540 Reinhardt avenue, Monday evening as he was driving his new Ford Sedan. Mr. Binder heard the car whistle for the crossing at the moment he reached the middle of the tracks and at that instant the gates began to close down upon him.

He had missed the south gate but he knew that the north gate would strike him. Preferring to be hit by the gate rather than by the approaching car, he stepped on his accelerator and drove off the tracks, the gate coming down on the top of his sedan. The north gate was demolished and the top and sun visor of the automobile were badly damaged, but Mr. Binder escaped without injury. He is the father of Mrs. Edward Looker.

WILLIAM FRANCIS IS RECOVERING FROM BULLET FIRED BY YOUNG BOY

Robert Carpenter, 1780 E. Rich street, who was arrested in connection with the shooting of William Francis was released at 9:30 p. m., Thursday night.

Report from the Francis home, 464 Lilley avenue, Friday at noon, indicated that William Francis, aged 14, who was shot in the groin while swimming in Spring Lakes, Winchester pike, Thursday afternoon was resting easily and would recover. Dr. Turton performed an operation Thursday afternoon, but the bullet has not been recovered.

The shooting was a mysterious affair, in that a youth, not known to any of the swimmers, stood on the bank and kept shooting into the lake.

The boys asked him to stop but he kept up the shooting until a bullet hit William, a student at Franklin Junior High school. Investigation as to the identity of the boy with the gun is being made by the Bexley police and by the county sheriff's office.

Frank Francis, 17, a brother of William, and Robert Carpenter were standing beside the youth when he fired the shot.

DISPLAY CENTURY OLD HARDWARE

Fravel & Son Show Collection Of Iron Taken From Log Barn Built in 1786

Hardware that is more than 100 years old and that was made entirely by hand by his great-uncle at Mt. Jackson, Va., is on display in the window of the hardware store of D. J. Fravel & Son, 1448 East Main street. The pieces were taken off the old log barn which has been torn down by Charles Fravel's aunt at Mt. Jackson and which probably was built in 1786 at the same time as the log house which still stands as the family home in Mt. Jackson.

The great uncle was a blacksmith and he pounded out the bits that are still useful, though rusty. Among them are a latch and catch hook, used to hold logs together; an old staple for a hasp; a hook to a hinge; a hand made augur bit and one round piece fastened on a board with a nail, which probably was used for holding up the side boards of a wagon.

In the collection also is an old-fashioned grease oil lamp, a Confederate carbine barrel given to Mr. Fravel by a man whose brother was killed at Bull Run, a pistol holster from Gettysburg, a pistol picked up in the trenches at Vicksburg and a knife, fork and spoon found on the hill at Mt. Jackson, probably a momento of Sheridan's raiders.

COUNCILMEN HOPE FOR SETTLEMENT OF DIFFERENCES

Are Giving Railroad and Eastgate Residents Chance To Get Together

HEARING FOR MONDAY EVE

Columbus city council is using its influence to settle the differences between the Norfolk & Western railroad and the property owners of Eastgate with the hope of being able to give at its next meeting Monday night its final approval on the plans and legislation necessary for the start of work on the East Side grade crossing elimination program.

The hearing on the program has been continued until Monday night, owing to the fact that Simeon Nash, counsel for the East Gate residents, was unable to present his claims to James Boulder, counsel for the railroad, until last Monday. The East Gate property owners are asking for damages amounting to $175,000 to pay for the alleged decrease in property value owing to the rerouting of the grade crossing plans. Should the railroad refuse to pay such damages, the residents will carry their case to the United States supreme court, Attorney Nash declares.

Whether city council will continue to postpone action, in case the two sides do not settle their differences, is not known. Several councilmen are in favor of going ahead so to get rid of one of the worst traffic menaces in the city and so to give work to thousands of laborers, but others have declared that unless the railroad assumes responsibility for damages they will not give their vote for the project.

Attorney Nash maintains that the N. & W. would save $1,000,000 by the proposed relocation of the tracks 800 feet east of the present line north of Maryland avenue. Attorney Boulger disputes that statement and the controversy drags on. The Ohio supreme court decided in favor of allowing the railroad to proceed, four of the judges voting in the affirmative.

HAS ACCIDENT WHILE PURSUING SPEEDER

While chasing a taxi cab which had been reported to Bexley police as going 65 miles an hour, Officer Reed of Bexley police force met with an accident early Monday morning, damaging the Ford police car badly. Officer Reed was in full pursuit on East Broad street when another motorist pulled out suddenly in front of him, making it necessary for him to swerve sharply. He bumped into a stone wall at the corner of Broad street and Winner avenue, knocking two wheels off, bending the fenders badly and damaging the crank case.

TO WORSHIP ALL DAY UNDER THE TREES

An all-day gathering of members of the Morgan Memorial Methodist church is being arranged for Sunday, July 15, at a nearby picnic grove. The pastor, Rev. Richard O. McRae, will notify his members to meet at the church in the morning and to drive to a grove which he will select. Preaching will be heard under the trees in the morning, a picnic dinner will be enjoyed at noon and there will be speaking in the afternoon.

LEISURELY REMINISCENCES

The Eastern Times has been having great fun listening to the reminiscences of lifetime residents on the East Side who can remember that section when it was a beautiful quiet country side. It seems almost incredible that men and women who are still in the prime of life have been given the privileges of watching their home city expand to almost limitless bounds.

As Miss Sullivant, the grand daughter of Lucas Sullivant, founder of Franklinton, from which town Columbus grew, once said to us, "The war made clear to us that small towns in France remain the same size century after century, but Columbus has grown from a pioneer settlement to a large and important city within three generations. Such is the quick growth of American cities!"

It makes Fairwood avenue a much more interesting street to know that it was once a shady lane which led from East Main street to the old fair grounds, now Franklin park, and that it was loved by the first residents because of its beautiful curves, bordered by thorn trees.

We are always glad to hear about and to write about other interesting memories. Do you treasure any that you can share with us?

SUBSCRIPTION POLICIES ARE AGAIN STATED

The EASTERN TIMES management again wishes to attempt to make its subscription drive policies clear.

Subscriptions are being solicited at this time in Bexley because there are not enough large business houses in the village to carry its share of the burden of publication expenses. In contrast, in the East Side, the advertising revenue is sufficient to entirely carry the expense of the 5,000 papers weekly distributed in the community bounded on the West by Alum Creek.

The one dollar subscription is applied toward the expense of distributing the "TIMES" each week. The date your subscription starts is the day we close the subscription drive, sometime early in the Fall, and NOT the day you pay. Therefore, do not regret the dollar subscription you bought when your neighbor is still getting his paper free. Your subscription has not yet started.

You are asked not to put off subscribing for this reason, though, because it is our aim and the desire of the village officials and others interested in the paper, to reach at least seventy-five per cent of Bexley residents, before stopping free distribution.

There are a large number of East Side readers who have eagerly stepped forward to do their part in supporting a civic enterprise which they enjoy and recognize as valuable to their community. We sincerely express our appreciation to those who have so kindly expressed their interest.

For Meditation

By LEONARD A. BARRETT

THEORIES

A DREAM may be pleasant or otherwise, it matters little, it is only a dream.

Ideas, like dreams, that have no practical value are soon forgotten. An incorrigible idealist may be greatly admired, but unless his idealism is expressed in some tangible form we pass him by in the crowd. If ideas cannot be transformed into concrete realities they soon evaporate into the thin air of a mere dream.

Get your idea into concrete form. Get it working. The world puts a large premium upon ideas which can be used to meet a public need.

A new idea may have a desperate time fighting its way through, but it will win if it is of sufficient practical value. Every invention had to fight for its life. Every discovery was first berated. Conservatism looks askance at new ideas. The public must be shown its worth. The new idea must demonstrate its right to recognition by demonstrating its worth. Find out what the public needs, find a new idea which will meet that need, and you will make a fortune.

Abstract theories may be very interesting as mental gymnastics, but are liabilities rather than assets unless they have some definite value in solving the problems of human life.

Romans Laid Out London

An old Roman, using his trusty battle ax as a hammer, staked out the first claim to a plot of ground which today is a part of the site of London. The royal commission on historical monuments has concluded after exhaustive investigation that a prehistoric London never existed, as was popularly supposed, and that the first city of London was actually laid out by the Romans themselves.

Cotton Statistics

The Department of Commerce, which has been investigating the possibility of finding new uses for cotton, has discovered that there are already 1,000 uses for the 185 base fabrics made wholly or in part from the staple. Some 150 different articles made of cotton are used on farms, 100 in households, 45 by railroads and 20 in industry, yet per capita consumption has gained only slightly in the last decade.

Ant Hills Balked Flames

Ant hills saved a valuable tract of timber from destruction on the farm of H. A. Livingston, at Nashua, N. H., after 200 acres had been burned and two calls been sent for the Nashua firemen. More than 100 men were fighting the flames when they neared the most valuable timber tract. The fire ran against a long wall of ant hills, some of them four feet high. These checked the fire so that the fire-workers saved the timber.

Church Shaped Like Organ

Denmark claims one of the greatest novelties in the world in its new "organ church." In place of the usual steeple effect, the front is composed of tall, cylindrical forms similar to those of an organ so that the entire structure gives the effect of a huge pipe organ. The Danish architects who designed the edifice have arranged so that changes may be made in the designs of the windows at will.

Bugle That Ended War

The principal museum of Wenden in Westphalia contains a treasure in the form of the bugle that sounded the end of the war. It was blown by German Staff Bugler Zebrowsky on the eve of November 7, 1918, to announce to the allies the passage into their lines of the German emissaries, who were coming to sign the armistice.—Chicago News.

A PAVEMENT without a brick surface is like a tooth having no enamel

A BRICK surface is needed to complete the paving job. Brick, toughest, densest road material man makes, gives needed protection from traffic wear.

Being vitrified, brick is waterproof. That is important. Bound with asphalt it keeps moisture out of pavement; prevents costly damage and destruction.

By thus preserving the life of the softer pavement base, brick surface saves far more than its small cost.

In appearance brick surfaced pavements lend distinction to property. Laid to modern specifications they are smooth-riding, safe; easy on the eyes. Also they are by far the cheapest pavement in the end.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wildermuth and their daughter and son, Frances and Roy L., Jr., 230 South Parkview avenue, are at their summer home in Harper Hills. They recently returned from an Eastern trip.

Miss Mary Rodenfels, 836 Bulen avenue, accompanied by Miss Mary Brenna, 758 Neil avenue, and Miss Katherine Mayer of Middleport, is spending the summer at Camp Minnow Brook, Old Forge, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Brunner, 330 South Columbia avenue, have returned from Pomeroy, where they attended the wedding Saturday of their son, Mr. Charles F. Brunner, to Miss Helen Frances Skinner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Skinner of Pomeroy. Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of Ohio State university, Athens. SCENE IN CATALPA PARK

The summer home grounds of Dr. Woodmansee —three miles east of Columbus.

THE above expanse of water is deep and clear and 180 feet wide. The high bank overlooking this water with over 25,000 evergreen and catalpa trees on these grounds make it one of the most beautiful spots in this part of the state. It is different from anything you have seen. One day last week a man who had just returned from Florida was in this park and remarked, "That this was far more beautiful than anything he had seen in Florida." Drive out, a surprise awaits you. This is the summer home grounds of Dr. Woodmansee and a portion of the water front is being sold for summer homes. The lots are all large and strict privacy will prevail. Think of it, such a beautiful spot with boating, bathing and fine bass fishing, only a few minutes drive from the city. An ideal place to build your Summer Cottage on this water front. Don't fail to see it this week. Drive out Livingston Avenue 1 mile beyond Bexley and follow the signs to Catalpa Park on the west bank of Big Walnut Creek.

FOR THE GOOSE—

REAL love is like man eatin' sharks. Everybody talks about it, but you hardly ever meet anybody that's really seen it.

Tears dry quick and don't even leave a spot.

Real passion of any kind makes a good actress outa any woman except an actress.

FOR THE GANDER—

Most people wouldn't be so concerned about upholdin' justice if they wasn't so afraid of sufferin' injustice.

A lie can't do near as much harm as a good imitation of the truth.

Splendid Results in Good Health Campaign

No diphtheria deaths in 1927 puts Cambridge, Mass., at the head of the list in diphtheria prevention, of all the cities with populations more than 100,000 in the United States. Only once in the last five years, according to the American Medical association, has any city gone a year without a single death from diphtheria. The previous diphtheria record breaker was Duluth, Minn., in 1925. Seven cities with more than 100,000 inhabitants, had no typhoid deaths last year, the medical association's statistics show. New Haven, Conn.; Springfield, Mass.; Yonkers, N. Y.; Paterson, N. J.; Richmond, Va.; Canton, Ohio; Kansas City, Kan., make up the typhoid honor roll, which is the largest known since studies of typhoid death were started in 1913.

Woman Howe Admires

I am specially admiring another woman. She married a half worthless sort of fellow, and not much was expected of her, as she came from a shiftless family and shiftless neighborhood. But she is surprising every one. Her new kin, at first suspicious, are acclaiming her. Her half worthless husband not only loves her, but she is making a man of him. She is the reigning sensation in the little town where she lives, she is so adorable, sensible, womanly and worthy. Her name is Lizzy. I have heard so much about her that I should rather see Lizzy than Ethel Barrymore.—E. W. Howe's Monthly.

Recreation for Fishermen

Fishermen of the Nova Scotia fleets are handling their lines and nets these days to the accompaniment of music broadcast from the new wireless station at Louisburg. Not only are musical programs sent to the men on the banks, but the fleets are kept informed by daily reports of bait in storage, weather and ice conditions, prevailing prices and catches of vessels making port at Boston and Gloucester, as well as news items.

Tribute Not Heavy

The republic of Andorra has just paid its annual tribute of 1,400 francs (about $56) to its two "co-princes," the president of France and the bishop of Urgel, Spain. For 669 years Andorra has paid tribute and enjoyed undisturbed sovereignty in its mountain valley. It became a republic in 1806. Andorra claims about 5,200 inhabitants.

The Real Thing

"Here's the very thing!"

"But it isn't mannish enough."

"But that's a man's hat, madam."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Thoughtfulness

Visitor—So you and Ted have postponed your marriage?

Flapper—Yes, you see, we thought mother and dad ought to have a little more time to find a larger apartment.

Dubious

"Got any old clothes for the heathen?"

"My daughter has some cutoff garments, but I'm afraid the heathen wouldn't wear such clothes."

Proof Enough

Hortense—And do you think he was in earnest when he proposed to you?

Marjorie—Yes—his cigarette went out and he didn't notice it.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

By F. A. WALKER

THE STUDY OF SELF

INSTEAD of going afield, wasting precious time and energy in recounting the short-comings of others, suppose you sit down in your favorite chair some evening for at least half an hour and soberly catechise yourself.

Without some such attention to your own frailties, accompanied with a real desire to overcome them, there will be but a small likelihood indeed, of your rising above those you frequently censure.

Go at the distasteful task with an open mind, resolved to dig to the unexplored depths of your soul and lay bare its innermost faults.

Do not despair at what you find, for your infirmities are similar in almost every particular to those of your acquaintance upon whom you have gazed with an Argus eye for months and years.

There is within you the same lack of virtue, the same streaks of orneless clay, the same disposition to err, the same inclination in hasty outbursts of passion to soil your lips and soul with ugly words and deeds.

Those human beings who lack the moral courage to study self, must during their lives become reconciled to sit in dusty seats in the back row.

They can never hope for anything better, without being disappointed. A thick veil of misconception hangs continually before their hard drawn faces and darkens their vision.

They blunder along till the sunset of their days hides them in its somber shadows, wondering all the while as they hold to their shambling gait, why the good angels fail to favor and prosper them.

They never learned that success is built upon a knowledge of self, a knowledge available to all.

Let this knowledge once illuminate your mind, you will emerge a new man or woman, equipped to do battle, to face incontestable facts, and to accept with unfailing strength and assurance the ennobling duties that crown man and women with victory.

"Know thyself," says an ancient proverb. Know that to study and to master self is your paramount obligation.

Know that by your own power of will, by your own honorable effort, assisted by fair-eyed faith, you can ride over "impossible," while those ignorant of self continue blindly to chase elusive hopes and perilous illusions.

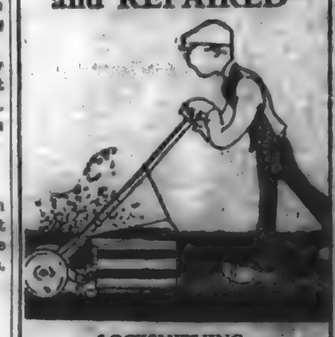
How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

"ON THE SHELF"



WE ARE all familiar with the expression "on the shelf" used figuratively to describe some one whose usefulness has come to an end. Particularly do we hear the slangy phrase used with reference to spinsters who are supposed to have lost all hope of finding a spouse.

The natural inference would be that this is just an unkind vulgarism. As a matter of fact, however, it has a most dignified origin coming from the realm of literature. We have it directly from the lexicon of the book publisher, who since the earliest days of his industry has referred to books that have run the gamut of their popularity and for which there is no longer an active sale, as being "on the shelf." Of those for which there was great demand it used to be said that they were "on the table."

The expression "on the shelf" went from the publishing house to the library and then cast off its limitation to the world of books to take on the figurative significance in which it is used today. Its literal application is by no means obsolete, however. For only the other day we heard a disatisfied author who was complaining about his dwindling royalties express the suspicion that his publisher had put his book "on the shelf," to promote a similar work by another author. The implication was that he had ceased to promote its sale, relegating it to the "back numbers."

Final Effort Is Made To Have Crossing And Tracks Repaired

Bexley Council Seeks Personal Interview With Ohio Public Service Official

NOXIOUS WEEDS TO GO

A final effort to persuade the Southern Ohio Public Service Co. that the condition of its tracks at the Sheridan avenue crossing and on East Main street after they turn the corner at Pleasant Ridge avenue is a menace to safety and that they should be repaired at once is to be made by Bexley council, according to decision taken Tuesday evening at the regular meeting.

Councilman Allen Pretsman was appointed to get in touch with the general manager of the company and arrange for a meeting in Bexley in the near future to point out to him the danger of allowing the tracks to go unrepaired. Marshal Shadrach reported that at the Sheridan avenue crossing, the tracks had settled, that the ties were rotten and therefore nails would not hold. Complaints have come in, not only of the noisiness of the wobbly tracks, but also of the danger.

Threats were made to get out an injunction to enjoin the running of the cars through the village and also to take away the franchise in case the general manager or his representative refused to repair both crossing and tracks in a manner satisfactory to the village authorities.

Encourage Use of Park

"Some effort should be made to waken the public of Bexley to the fact that Commonwealth park is for the use of everyone and is not a front yard for adjoining residents," councilman Kerr declared in reporting to council an inspection trip over the park with Marshal Shadrach. "If we are to continue to spend money on the park to keep the trees and shrubbery in good condition, we should encourage its use. I am in favor of utilizing the park as a playground for Bexley children and even of building a shelter house and putting in playground equipment," he said.

Council heard the report of Hans Hansen, tree expert, who has been putting the park in condition. He brought out that he had completed the work on the west part and would be able to finish within the next eight days. Consideration of the advisability of employing Mr. Hansen to finish the work and also to make a survey of street parks and trees in Bexley was referred to Solicitor Peters and Clerk Roderick.

Noxious weeds on vacant lots in Bexley are to go, by edict of council, which decided to serve official notices upon lot owners asking them to cut and destroy all weeds within five days after the receipt of the notice. In case owners do not do so, council is to have the weeds cut and place the cost thereof upon the tax duplicates as a lien against the property, to be collected by the county treasurer.

F. A. Hamilton, 99 South Columbia avenue, was appointed deputy clerk for the purpose of assisting Marshal Shadrach in serving the "weed notices" on lot owners.

Michael Street Up Again

Michael street again presented itself as a problem before councilmen Tuesday night. Solicitor Peters called attention to the fact that the question had been raised as to whether Michael street ever had been a public street. He gave it as his opinion that in case it never had been used as a public street, the question could be raised by the adjoining property owners, in the form of a suit, and if it were found not to be public, it would revert back to the original dedicators. He brought out that in the course of such a suit pioneer evidence would have to be used and that there was a likelihood of conflicting evidence.

Mr. Peters was asked by council to find out if Michael street had ever been dedicated and formally opened according to records. He added that in his opinion the using of the street for residents, who entered their garages from that point, would make the street a public one.

C. D. Reed, 968½ North Cassady avenue, requested council to open the street called Francis street between Pleasant Ridge and Euclaire avenues and also to continue Pleasant Ridge avenue. He was told to bring in a petition from property owners and was referred to a committee consisting of the street commissioner, the engineer and representative property owners.

The Columbus Railway Power & Light Co. was given permission to install poles in the alley east of Cassingham road and in the easement west of Cassingham road from Charles street south and also in the easement and alley north of Livingston avenue, with the provision that no poles be located nearer than 40 feet from the property line of Euclaire, Cassingham and Montrose avenues.

It was decided to place the assessment for the pumping station covering the territory west of Parkview avenue and north of Broad street on the individual tax duplicates of the property owners. Solicitor Peters and Building Inspector Dunlop were appointed to adapt the plumbing code of Bexley to conform to the code of Columbus.

MINISTER FORCED TO MARRY COUPLE

Rev. C. L. Rush, Graduate of Capital, Held Up by Would-be Husband

Being forced at the point of a revolver to perform the marriage ceremony for a young couple who had no license with them was the thrilling experience of Rev. C. L. Rush, pastor of the Emmanuel Evangelical Lutheran church at Warren, O., a graduate of Capital university of 15 years ago.

Rev. Rush was awakened at midnight Monday by a door bell. When he opened the door he saw a young man, who with revolver in hand demanded that the pastor marry him to the young girl who was with him. Rev. Rush asked to see their license, whereupon they replied that they had no license, but that they wished to be married at once without delay.

The minister explained that marriage without a license is illegal, but they both insisted with flourishes of the revolver and Rev. Rush complied. After he had tied the knot he notified the police, who found O. L. Bailey and Mary Alice Paul in Lordstown and escorted them to the city jail.

Rev. Rush was in Columbus in June to attend the commencement exercises of Capital university, his Alma Mater. The congregational secretary of his church at Warren is Miss Erna Karcher, who is a graduate of the missionary course at Capital.

PLAYGROUNDS ARE POPULAR AMONG EAST SIDE "KIDS"

Boys and Girls Are Signing Up For Visits To Indian Village

TOURNAMENT PRACTICE

Activities are in full swing on the playgrounds on the East Side and children are coming in throngs to enjoy the games, the handwork, the wading and the various tournaments.

A large group of boys and a smaller group of girls have been enjoying the new playground at Franklin park since its opening July 11. The girls are being taught crape paper work on Mondays and Wednesdays at 2 p. m. and sewing on Tuesdays at 10:30 and Thursday at 2 o'clock.

The boys are playing baseball on the diamond to the rear of the shelter house, two teams having been organized. Wednesday they played the boys from the Nineteenth & Rich grounds. Ring games are scheduled for each morning and quiet games are played during the hot hours in the afternoon. Miss Marie Zapp, 461 Miller avenue, who has been in playground work for the past seven years, is the supervisor.

Boys from the Kent-Gault playground will go to the Indian village on the Scioto river July 18 for three days and the girls will go July 23 for the same period. The age limits for visitors to the village is from 8 to 15 years and there, for the price of 30 cents a day, the youngsters can live life as did the Indians. Those who want to go may get cards from the playground supervisors, to be signed by their parents.

Practice Deck Tennis

Deck Tennis, a new sport at Kent-Gault, is being practiced in preparation for the singles and doubles tournaments for boys and girls separately and for the mixed doubles to be under way after the middle of July. Sewing classes for girls over 9 are held Tuesday and Thursdays at 3:30 and handwork classes for the little ones up to 8 are taught each afternoon at 2. For the children from 10 to 12 handwork is planned every day at 2 p. m., at which time they will make paper knives and other decorative articles from cigar boxes which the children will furnish.

The boys who attend the playground at Nineteenth and Rich streets will go to the Indian village July 18 for three days under the direction of Carlton Smith, who has charge of the playgrounds. On July 25 the girls will go for three days under the direction of Miss Mary Dillon. They will be taken from the playground to the camp in buses and the cost will be 30 cents a day.

Two mumble-peg contests were held at this recreation park Friday at 1:30 o'clock. They were divided into two sections, one for boys and one for girls, the winners of the two sections then to play off for the championship of the playground.

POLICE OFFICERS ASSIGNED

Officer Roland McNames has been transferred from day to night duty by Chief of Police Gray of Bexley. Officer Bradfield has been assigned to relief duty.

GIVES WARNING ABOUT LACK OF RED LIGHTS

Street Marshal Shadrach has notified all street contractors that they have omitted to place red lights on material and on roads where repair work is being done in Bexley and has ordered them to see that lights are placed as a safety measure. Streets where there have been no warning lights include Dawson, Cassingham, Cassady, Stanwood, Fair, Sherwood, Bryden, Bexley Park road and at intersections with Main street and Brentwood road.

CYCLIST KNOCKED DOWN BY DRIVER

Jack Thomas Severely Injured by Motorist Who Hit Him While On Bicycle

Suffering with a fractured hip, a bruised body and a cut head, Jack Thomas, aged 8, son of Ross A. Thomas, 856 South Remington road, is recuperating at the Children's hospital after being struck down Saturday afternoon by an automobile driven by H. E. Hoffman, 2021 Linwood avenue. The boy had been to the Holy Rosary church on East Main street and was returning to Bexley on his bicycle, via Livingston avenue.

Near the railroad tracks he was knocked down by the motorist and fell to the street on the side next the sidewalk. Passerby say that if he had fallen in the other direction he would have been killed.

Raymond Rohr, 2000 East Livingston avenue, who happened to be driving by, recognized small Jack as a friend of his brother's, and picked him up and took him immediately to the Children's hospital.

He was found to have a fractured hip, very bad flesh wounds and bruises on his left side and a deep cut on the left side of his head. Although his injuries are serious, he is expected to recover and to be able to be brought home in several days.

Jack is a pupil at the Holy Rosary school. His brother, Ross, jr., is a carrier for The Eastern Times.

TWO WOMEN HIT IN STREET ACCIDENTS

Miss Louise Rarick Suffers Concussion and Bruises When Struck By Truck

Minor cuts and bruises on her arms and legs, as well as concussion, were suffered by Miss Laura Rarick, 247 S. Ardmore road, last Friday afternoon, when she was struck by a motorist at the corner of Seymour avenue and E. Main street, in front of the Holy Rosary church.

Miss Rarick had been waiting for a street car and was walking out to board it, when a Ford truck, driven by W. S. Davis, who lives between Bexley and Reynoldsburg, tried to squeeze between the street car and the sidewalk. His truck hit Miss Rarick and knocked her to the street. She was picked up by M. M. Hanna, who took her to the office of Dr. R. J. McGuinness, 1546 East Main street, in whose office Miss Rarick is employed. Later she was taken to the Ardmore residence, where she will remain until she is able to be out.

Sunday morning the Ford sedan belonging to Miss H. McLaughlin, 220 East Mound street, was struck by a Red Top taxicab, who turned the corner at Fourth street between Main street and Livingston avenue. No one was injured.

ADD TO BIRD HOUSES IN CATALPA PARK

The Green Meadows Bird Sanctuary has placed 50 more houses in Catalpa Park, the summer grounds of Dr. Woodmansee, three miles east of Columbus, which is being divided for summer home sites.

The bathing beach at the park has become a popular resort, where about 100 persons swim each evening in the cool water of Deer Lake. As soon as the addition is sold, the beach will be closed to the public. Two-thirds of the water-front lots are disposed of.

A new addition is to be surveyed next week, which will be in the midst of the catalpa trees, but will not be on the water front. The same restrictions will apply, however. Work will be started on two five-room houses in Catalpa Park next week.

Building Totals For First Six Months, 1927-28 Are Similar

MORE RESIDENCE PERMITS

A valuation for the first six months of 1928 that is slightly in arrear of the valuation during the same period of 1927 is reported by the building department of Bexley. The higher valuation last year can be explained, Building Inspector O. P. Dunlop points out, by the fact that during the first six months of 1927 Capital university took out permits for buildings which were valued at $462,400; and that when that large amount was subtracted from the 1927 total, it left an amount that is slightly smaller than the total for the same period in 1928.

The total valuation of permits granted during the half year period from January to June, 1928 amounted to $1,413,785, as contrasted with $1,796,900 during the half year period of 1927. Of the latter amount $462,400 was for the buildings on Capital university campus, leaving $1,334,500 for houses, garages, duplexes and apartments and repairs during the first six months of 1927.

The figures showing how the building total is divided make interesting comparisons for the two years. In 1927 the total valuations for residence permits amounted to $1,214,900 and in 1928 the total for residences was $1,223,400; in 1927 the total for garage permits was $41,150 and in 1928 it was $40,285; in 1927 the total for double houses and apartments was $53,500 and in 1928 it was $142,900; in 1927 the total for additions and repairs was $24,950 and in 1928 it was $7,200.

The report in its entirety for 1928 so far is as follows: January, six houses, $89,000; 7 garages, $2,300; one repair job, $500; total $39,000; February, 12 houses, $130,900; 17 garages, $5,500; five doubles and apartments, $59,000; total $195,400; March 26 houses, $268,000; nine duplexes and apartments, $50,900; 33 garages, $7,100; total, $326,000.

April, 24 houses, $169,950; 22 garages, $7,450; three repairs, $3,000; total $180,400; May, 23 houses, $253,300; three duplexes, $33,000; four repairs, $3,100; 27 garages, $9,200; total $298,600; June, 27 houses, $312,250; 26 garages, $8,735; two repairs, $600; total $312,585.

FAMILY CARTON OF SIX PROVES POPULAR

The special family carton of six bottles of Coco-Cola, introduced to the public in December, 1927, has become a popular item in leading groceries, drug stores and confectioneries on the East Side. The family package was designed especially for use on picnics and motor trips.

According to the Coca-Cola Bottling Co. 15,000 homes have consumed more than a quarter of a million bottles during the first six months since the introduction of this package.

BUDGET FOR 1929 SHOWS REDUCTION

Funds Needed For Operating Expenses and Sinking Fund are $15,000 Less

A reduction of nearly $15,000 over the budget of last year is noted in the budget for this year, adopted Tuesday night by Bexley council. A general cutting down all along the line is responsible for the reduction, according to S. W. Roderick, clerk of the village.

The budget, adopted Tuesday for next year, calls for $113,435.51 for sinking fund and operating expenses. Of this amount $75,000 is for operating expenses and $38,483.51 is for sinking fund. Last year the amount of the budget was $128,432.64.

The public meeting held last Thursday night for discussion of the budget was attended by Mayor S. E. Ludwig, Clerk Roderick and newspaper reporters. Since none of the citizens of the village were interested enough to attend, after due advertisement in the newspaper, the budget was adopted as it stood.

"Not more than one resident of Bexley has ever attended a public meeting on the budget, since the incorporation of the village," village officials pointed out Tuesday night, "although," they said, "a petty neighbor quarrel is apt to cause those interested to appear before council several times."

Young Main St. Merchant Ranks As Pioneer Among Radio "Bugs"

To the tune of protests from his father and his father's friends and of amused tolerance on the part of his mother and his mother's friends, young Frank W. Knoderer began fooling away his time and money on a new-fangled notion called "radio" back in the pre-historic "radio years" before the war. Today as the result of that thorough grounding in radio, beginning when it was the plaything of boys and going on now when it is one of the most powerful as well as the most valuable of modern inventions, that same Frank Knoderer, who lives at 725 South Remington road, and who owns a shop at 1254 East Main street, is recognized as one of the most important radio men in Columbus.

Knoderer, who is only 31 years of age, stands unchallenged on the statement that he has the best radio equipment in the city and that from the service standpoint he rates A 1. Because he has had his finger in the radio pie from the very beginning, he can build or fix any set, and the whole matter of transmission, batteries, hetrodynes and statics is as clear to him as the first sunny June sky after a month of rain is to the outdoor lover.

Before the war when young Frank was in his teens, he and his crowd began to take an interest in "wireless" and kept themselves busy days and nights making their own transmitting and receiving sets. If they could make each other hear over two or three squares, they were in transports of delight. The main point of interest was to get the time signals sent out each night at 9 o'clock from Arlington, Va., and when one small radio amateur caught Arlington, Va., loud was the crowing in the school room the next day.

All this tinkering was taking place before any sets had been made commercially, except for receiving codes, and before any broadcasting stations existed. Then the war came and the order was sent out prohibiting all use of radio equipment except for official business.

As soon as those four years were over, young Knoderer began playing with his favorite toy again. Great was the thrill when voice transmission equipment came in and he was the owner of one of the two or three voice transmitters in the city, thus giving him the privilege of getting in contact with the few other throughout the state.

"The biggest development in radio as used by the amateur has been in the speaker end," Knoderer says. "I can remember how interested we were to sit hour after hour with bothersome and heavy ear phones clamped over our heads. Then came the first horns, which cost from $40 to $60 and which were felt to be highly efficient if they could be heard all over the house. Now everything is electrically equipped and it is harder to sell a battery set than it was to convince the average man of the practicality of radio in the old days.

"Battery sets that cost $150 last year, we cannot get $20 for now. Everyone wants to be able to turn on a switch and sit back and listen. While five years ago I stayed up all night to catch a tune from Los Angeles, now I stay up all night selling electrically equipped models to my customers and getting them serviced."

Knoderer installed the first receiving set in a talking machine in Columbus several years ago for the Seeds Phonograph Co., thus establishing himself as a pioneer in the field in which he is being acclaimed universally today.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

"ON THE SHELF"

WE ARE all familiar with the expression "on the shelf" used figuratively to describe some one whose usefulness has come to an end. Particularly do we hear the slangy phrase used with reference to spinsters who are supposed to have lost all hope of finding a sponse.

The natural inference would be that this is just an unkind vulgarism. As a matter of fact, however, it has a most dignified origin coming from the realm of literature. We have it directly from the lexicon of the book publisher, who since the earliest days of his industry has referred to books that have run the gamut of their popularity and for which there is no longer an active sale, as being "on the shelf." Of those for which there was great demand it used to be said that they were "on the table."

The expression "on the shelf" went from the publishing house to the library and then cast off its limitation to the world of books to take on the figurative significance in which it is used today. Its literal application is by no means obsolete, however. For only the other day we heard a disatisfied author who was complaining about his dwindling royalties express the suspicion that his publisher had put his book "on the shelf," to promote a similar work by another author. The implication was that he had ceased to promote its sale, relegating it to the "back" numbers."

Final Effort Is Made To Have Crossing And Tracks Repaired

NOXIOUS WEEDS TO GO

A final effort to persuade the Southern Ohio Public Service Co. that the condition of its tracks at the Sheridan avenue crossing and on East Main street after they turn the corner at Pleasant Ridge avenue is a menace to safety and that they should be repaired at once is to be made by Bexley council, according to decision taken Tuesday evening at the regular meeting.

Councilman Allen Pretzman was appointed to get in touch with the general manager of the company and arrange for a meeting in Bexley in the near future to point out to him the danger of allowing the tracks to go unrepaired. Marshal Shadrach reported that at the Sheridan avenue crossing, the tracks had settled, that the ties were rotten and therefore nails would not hold. Complaints have come in, not only of the noisiness of the wobbly tracks, but also of the danger.

Threats were made to get out an injunction to enjoin the running of the cars through the village and also to take away the franchise in case the general manager or his representative refused to repair both crossing and tracks in a manner satisfactory to the village authorities.

Encourage Use of Park

"Some effort should be made to waken the public of Bexley to the fact that Commonwealth park is for the use of everyone and is not a front yard for adjoining residents," councilman Kerr declared in reporting to council an inspection trip over the park with Marshal Shadrach. "If we are to continue to spend money on the park to keep the trees and shrubbery in good condition, we should encourage its use. I am in favor of utilizing the park as a playground for Bexley children and even of building a shelter house and putting in playground equipment," he said.

Council heard the report of Hans Hansen, tree expert, who has been putting the park in condition. He brought out that he had completed the work on the west part and would be able to finish within the next eight days. Consideration of the advisability of employing Mr. Hansen to finish the work and also to make a survey of street parks and trees in Bexley was referred to Solicitor Peters and Clerk Roderick.

Noxious weeds on vacant lots in Bexley are to go, by edict of council, which decided to serve official notices upon lot owners asking them to cut and destroy all weeds within five days after the receipt of the notice. In case owners do not do so, council is to have the weeds cut and place the cost thereof upon the tax duplicates as a lien against the property, to be collected by the county treasurer.

F. A. Hamilton, 99 South Columbia avenue, was appointed deputy clerk for the purpose of assisting Marshal Shadrach in serving the "weed notices" on lot owners.

Michael Street Up Again

Michael street again presented itself as a problem before councilmen Tuesday night. Solicitor Peters called attention to the fact that the question had been raised as to whether Michael street ever had been a public street. He gave it as his opinion that in case it never had been used as a public street, the question could be raised by the adjoining property owners, in the form of a suit, and if it were found not to be public, it would revert back to the original dedicators. He brought out that in the course of such a suit pioneer evidence would have to be used and that there was a likelihood of conflicting evidence.

Mr. Peters was asked by council to find out if Michael street had ever been dedicated and formally opened according to records. He added that in his opinion the using of the street for residents, who entered their garages from that point, would make the street a public one.

C. D. Reed, 908½ North Cassady avenue, requested council to open the street called Francis street between Pleasant Ridge and Euclaire avenues and also to continue Pleasant Ridge avenue. He was told to bring in a petition from property owners and was referred to a committee consisting of the street commissioner, the engineer and representative property owners.

The Columbus Railway Power & Light Co. was given permission to install poles in the alley east of Cassingham road and in the easement west of Cassingham road from Charles street south and also in the easement and alley north of Livingston avenue, with the provision that no poles be located nearer than 40 feet from the property line of Euclaire, Cassingham and Montrose avenues.

It was decided to place the assessment for the pumping station covering the territory west of Parkview avenue and north of Broad street on the individual tax duplicates of the property owners. Solicitor Peters and Building Inspector Dunlop were appointed to adapt the plumbing code of Bexley to conform to the code of Columbus.

MINISTER FORCED TO MARRY COUPLE

Rev. C. L. Rush, Graduate of Capital, Held Up by Would-be Husband

Being forced at the point of a revolver to perform the marriage ceremony for a young couple who had no license with them was the thrilling experience of Rev. C. L. Rush, pastor of the Emmanuel Evangelical Lutheran church at Warren, O., a graduate of Capital university of 15 years ago.

Rev. Rush was awakened at midnight Monday by a door bell. When he opened the door he saw a young man, who with revolver in hand demanded that the pastor marry him to the young girl who was with him. Rev. Rush asked to see their license, whereupon they replied that they had no license, but that they wished to be married at once without delay.

The minister explained that marriage without a license is illegal, but they both insisted with flourishes of the revolver and Rev. Rush complied. After he had tied the knot he notified the police, who found O. L. Bailey and Mary Alice Paul in Lordstown and escorted them to the city jail.

Rev. Rush was in Columbus in June to attend the commencement exercises of Capital university, his Alma Mater. The congregational secretary of his church at Warren is Miss Erna Karcher, who is a graduate of the missionary course at Capital.

PLAYGROUNDS ARE POPULAR AMONG EAST SIDE "KIDS"

TOURNAMENT PRACTICE

Activities are in full swing on the playgrounds on the East Side and children are coming in throngs to enjoy the games, the handwork, the wading and the various tournaments.

A large group of boys and a smaller group of girls have been enjoying the new playground at Franklin park since its opening July 11. The girls are being taught crepe paper work on Mondays and Wednesdays at 2 p. m. and sewing on Tuesdays at 10:30 and Thursday at 2 o'clock.

The boys are playing baseball on the diamond to the rear of the shelter house, two teams having been organized. Wednesday they played the boys from the Nineteenth & Rich grounds. Ring games are scheduled for each morning and quoit games are played during the hot hours in the afternoon. Miss Marie Zapp, 401 Miller avenue, who has been in playground work for the past seven years, is the supervisor.

Boys from the Kent-Gault playground will go to the Indian village on the Scioto river July 18 for three days and the girls will go July 23 for the same period. The age limits for visitors to the village is from 8 to 15 years and there, for the price of 30 cents a day, the youngsters can live life as did the Indians. Those who want to go may get cards from the playground supervisors, to be signed by their parents.

Practice Deck Tennis

Deck Tennis, a new sport at Kent-Gault, is being practiced in preparation for the singles and doubles tournaments for boys and girls separately and for the mixed doubles to be under way after the middle of July. Sewing classes for girls over 9 are held Tuesday and Thursdays at 3:30 and handwork classes for the little ones up to 8 are taught each afternoon at 2. For the children from 10 to 12 handwork is planned every day at 2 p. m., at which time they will make paper knives and other decorative articles from cigar boxes which the children will furnish.

The boys who attend the playground at Nineteenth and Rich streets will go to the Indian village July 18 for three days under the direction of Carlton Smith, who has charge of the playgrounds. On July 25 the girls will go for three days under the direction of Miss Mary Dillon. They will be taken from the playground to the camp in buses and the cost will be 30 cents a day.

Two mumble-peg contests were held at this recreation park Friday at 1:30 o'clock. They were divided into two sections, one for boys and one for girls, the winners of the two sections then to play off for the championship of the playground.

GIVES WARNING ABOUT LACK OF RED LIGHTS

Street Marshal Shadrach has notified all street contractors that they have omitted to place red lights on material and on roads where repair work is being done in Bexley and has ordered them to see that lights are placed as a safety measure. Streets where there have been no warning lights include Dawson, Cassingham, Cassady, Stanwood, Fair, Sherwood, Bryden, Bexley Park road and at intersections with Main street and Brentwood road.

CYCLIST KNOCKED DOWN BY DRIVER

Jack Thomas Severely Injured by Motorist Who Hit Him While On Bicycle

Suffering with a fractured hip, a bruised body and a cut head, Jack Thomas, aged 8, son of Ross A. Thomas, 856 South Remington road, is recuperating at the Children's hospital after being struck down Saturday afternoon by an automobile driven by H. E. Hoffman, 2021 Linwood avenue. The boy had been to the Holy Rosary church on East Main street and was returning to Bexley on his bicycle, via Livingston avenue.

Near the railroad tracks he was knocked down by the motorist and fell to the street on the side next the sidewalk. Passerby say that if he had fallen in the other direction he would have been killed.

Raymond Rohr, 2000 East Livingston avenue, who happened to be driving by, recognized small Jack as a friend of his brother's, and picked him up and took him immediately to the Children's hospital.

He was found to have a fractured hip, very bad flesh wounds and bruises on his left side and a deep cut on the left side of his head. Although his injuries are serious, he is expected to recover and to be able to be brought home in several days.

Jack is a pupil at the Holy Rosary school. His brother, Ross, jr., is a carrier for The Eastern Times.

TWO WOMEN HIT IN STREET ACCIDENTS

Miss Louise Rarick Suffers Concussion and Bruises When Struck By Truck

Minor cuts and bruises on her arms and legs, as well as concussion, were suffered by Miss Laura Rarick, 247 S. Ardmore road, last Friday afternoon, when she was stuck by a motorist at the corner of Seymour avenue and E. Main street, in front of the Holy Rosary church.

Miss Rarick had been waiting for a street car and was walking out to board it, when a Ford truck, driven by W. S. Davis, who lives between Bexley and Reynoldsburg, tried to squeeze between the street car and the sidewalk. His truck hit Miss Rarick and knocked her to the street. She was picked up by M. M. Haines, who took her to the office of Dr. H. J. McGuinness, 1546 East Main street, in whose office Miss Rarick is employed. Later she was taken to the Ardmore residence, where she will remain until she is able to be out.

Sunday morning the Ford sedan belonging to Miss H. McLaughlin, 920 East Mound street, was struck by a Red Top taxicab, who turned the corner at Fourth street between Main street and Livingston avenue. No one was injured.

ADD TO BIRD HOUSES IN CATALPA PARK

The Green Meadows Bird Sanctuary has placed 50 more houses in Catalpa Park, the summer grounds of Dr. Woodmansee, three miles east of Columbus, which is being divided for summer home sites.

The bathing beach at the park has become a popular resort, where about 100 persons swim each evening in the cool water of Deer Lake. As soon as the addition is sold, the beach will be closed to the public. Two-thirds of the water-front lots are disposed of.

A new addition is to be surveyed next week, which will be in the midst of the catalpa trees, but will not be on the water front. The same restrictions will apply, however. Work will be started on two five-room houses in Catalpa Park next week.

Building Totals For First Six Months, 1927-28 Are Similar

MORE RESIDENCE PERMITS

A valuation for the first six months of 1928 that is slightly in arrear of the valuation during the same period of 1927 is reported by the building department of Bexley. The higher valuation last year can be explained, Building Inspector O. P. Dunlop points out, by the fact that during the first six months of 1927 Capital university took out permits for buildings which were valued at $462,400; and that when that large amount was subtracted from the 1927 total, it left an amount that is slightly smaller than the total for the same period in 1928.

The total valuation of permits granted during the half year period from January to June, 1928 amounted to $1,413,785, as contrasted with $1,796,900 during the half year period of 1927. Of the latter amount $462,400 was for the buildings on Capital university campus, leaving $1,334,500 for houses, garages, duplexes and apartments and repairs during the first six months of 1927.

The figures showing how the building total is divided make interesting comparisons for the two years. In 1927 the total valuations for residence permits amounted to $1,214,900 and in 1928 the total for residences was $1,223,400; in 1927 the total for garage permits was $41,150 and in 1928 it was $40,285; in 1927 the total for double houses and apartments was $53,500 and in 1928 it was $142,900; in 1927 the total for additions and repairs was $24,960 and in 1928 it was $7,200.

The report in its entirety for 1928 so far is as follows: January, six houses, $89,000; 7 garages, $2,300; one repair job, $500; total $89,000; February, 12 houses, $130,900; 17 garages, $5,500; five doubles and apartments, $59,000; total $195,400; March 26 houses, $368,000; nine duplexes and apartments, $50,900; 23 garages, $7,100; total, $426,000.

April, 24 houses, $169,950; 22 garages, $7,450; three repairs, $3,000; total $180,400; May, 23 houses, $253,300; three duplexes, $33,000; four repairs, $3,100; 27 garages, $9,200; total $298,600; June, 27 houses, $312,250; 26 garages, $8,735; two repairs, $600; total $312,585.

FAMILY CARTON OF SIX PROVES POPULAR

The special family carton of six bottles of Coco-Cola, introduced to the public in December, 1927, has become a popular item in leading groceries, drug stores and confectioneries on the East Side. The family package was designed especially for use on picnics and motor trips.

According to the Coca-Cola Bottling Co. 15,000 homes have consumed more than a quarter of a million bottles during the first six months since the introduction of this package.

BUDGET FOR 1929 SHOWS REDUCTION

Funds Needed For Operating Expenses and Sinking Fund are $15,000 Less

A reduction of nearly $15,000 over the budget of last year is noted in the budget for this year, adopted Tuesday night by Bexley council. A general cutting down all along the line is responsible for the reduction, according to S. W. Roderick, clerk of the village.

The budget, adopted Tuesday for next year, calls for $113,485.51 for sinking fund and operating expenses. Of this amount $75,000 is for operating expenses and $38,483.51 is for sinking fund. Last year the amount of the budget was $128,432.64.

The public meeting held last Thursday night for discussion of the budget was attended by Mayor S. E. Ludwig, Clerk Roderick and newspaper reporters. Since none of the citizens of the village were interested enough to attend, after due advertisement in the newspaper, the budget was adopted as it stood.

SPEAKS AT CONFERENCE

Mrs. Lillian Mettle, director of the Daily Vacation Bible school at Miller Avenue Evangelical church, spoke on "Worship Service" at the meeting of the vacation school teachers and supervisors Monday afternoon in the social room of the Y. M. C. A.

Young Main St. Merchant Ranks As Pioneer Among Radio "Bugs"

To the tune of protests from his father and his father's friends and of amused tolerance on the part of his mother and his mother's friends, young Frank W. Knoderer began fooling away his time and money on a new-fangled notion called "radio" back in the pre-historic "radio years" before the war. Today as the result of that thorough grounding in radio, beginning when it was the plaything of boys and going on now when it is one of the most powerful as well as the most valuable of modern inventions, that same Frank Knoderer, who lives at 725 South Remington road, and who owns a shop at 1254 East Main street, is recognized as one of the most important radio men in Columbus.

Knoderer, who is only 31 years of age, stands unchallenged on the statement that he has the best radio equipment in the city and that from the service standpoint he rates A 1. Because he has had his finger in the radio pie from the very beginning, he can build or fix any set, and the whole matter of transmission, batteries, hetrodynes and statics is as clear to him as the first sunny June sky after a month of rain is to the outdoor lover.

Before the war when young Frank was in his teens, he and his crowd began to take an interest in "wireless" and kept themselves busy days and nights making their own transmitting and receiving sets. If they could make each other hear over two or three squares, they were in transports of delight. The main point of interest was to get the time signals sent out each night at 9 o'clock from Arlington, Va., and when one small radio amateur caught Arlington, Va., loud was the crowing in the school room the next day.

All the tinkering was taking place before any sets had been made commercially, except for receiving codes, and before any broadcasting stations existed. Then the war came and the order was sent out prohibiting all use of radio equipment except for official business.

As soon as those four years were over, young Knoderer began playing with his favorite toy again. Great was the thrill when voice transmission equipment came in and he was the owner of one of the two or three voice transmitters in the city, thus giving him the privilege of getting in contact with the few other throughout the state.

"The biggest development in radio as used by the amateur has been in the speaker end," Knoderer says. "I can remember how interested we were to sit hour after hour with bothersome and heavy ear phones clamped over our heads. Then came the first horns, which cost from $40 to $60 and which were felt to be highly efficient if they could be heard all over the house. Now everything is electrically equipped and it is harder to sell a battery set, than it was to convince the average man of the practicality of radio in the old days.

"Battery sets that cost $150 last year, we cannot get $20 for now. Everyone wants to be able to turn on a switch and sit back and listen. While five years ago I stayed up all night to catch a tune from Los Angeles, now I stay up all night selling electrically equipped models to my customers and getting them serviced."

Knoderer installed the first receiving set in a talking machine in Columbus several years ago for the Seeds Phonograph Co., thus establishing himself as a pioneer in the form in which the radio is being sold universally, today.

WHY NO INTEREST?

A public meeting advertised for the hearing on the budget for Bexley for 1929 was attended by two Bexley officials and the newspaper reporters. No one else in the village was sufficiently interested to know how the taxes were being spent to appear, yet is a neighbor lad had walked through their garden or a man-hole cover had been loose enough to rattle in front of their door, they would have hurried to council meeting to make a complaint.

Trips To Indian Village Are Treat Provided By Columbus

HOBBY CLUB FORMED

Boys and girls in the vicinity of Kent and Gault street playground are enjoying this week and next at the Indian Village established by Recreation Director Raymond along the Scioto river near the lower dam and there they will live as did the Indians, probably on the same location.

Among the boys who left Wednesday with J. A. Stevens, 1635 Gault street, playground supervisor, were Bernard Jones, Ralph Mills, James Kidwell, Jack Lingo, Bob Lingo, Fred Sisk, Lawrence Hanover, Bob Ingram and Webber Dye.

The girls who will go Monday with Miss Christina Jones, girls' supervisor will be Mildred McMurray, Dorothy Jones, Evelyn Hoch, June Marie and Margaret Price, Evelyn Cunningham, Lois Osler, Marjorie Laymon, Wilma Courtney, Esther Courtney, Gladys Stratton, Ruth Spangler, Ruth Mitton, Pauline Sherrard, Betty Stevens, Martha Borchers, Ruth and Betty Johnson.

Tennis Courts Ready

A new tennis court has been put in shape on this playground and since it needs playing on to perfect it, Mr. Stevens is urging the youngsters to bring their rackets and balls and play. Anyone wanting to learn will be taught the strokes by the playground workers. If enough interest is displayed a second court will be put in shape.

Carl Kramer is the mumble-peg champion of the playground at Nineteenth and Rich streets, as the result of the tournament played off Monday. He defeated Anna Louise Gloyd, the girls' champion. The boys of this playground, numbering 20, went to Indian Village Wednesday and the girls, about 18 in number, will go next Wednesday for three days. The first part of next week all will enjoy a wiener roast on the playground.

Miss Mary Dillon, girls' supervisor, has started a hobby club which meets every Tuesday. At each meeting one girl is allowed to choose the sport or game to be enjoyed that afternoon and in that way the entire group will learn many different sorts of pastimes. Both junior and senior girls have formed baseball teams and the junior boys have done the same.

Playground children at Franklin Park are enjoying private trips to the park conservatory, where they can see the baby monkey, Lindy, born several months ago, and also the four crocodiles, the banana trees, and the other tropical plants. On their return they practice newcomb, the new outdoor game which resembles volley ball.

DR. GOLLADAY AND REV. KUHLMAN ACTIVE AT LUTHERAN CAMP

Summer work for church and Sunday school workers and Bible students will be offered to Lutherans at the Lutheran vacation camp at Long Lake Ill., July 23 to 30. Dr. Robert E. Golladay, pastor of Grace Lutheran church, will be one of the leaders at the camp and is scheduled for three inspirational talks.

Friday, July 27 he will speak on "The Dynamic of Christian Service"; Saturday, July 28, on "The Aim of Christian Service" and Sunday, July 29 he will preach the morning sermon on the topic, "The Glory That Is To Be." Rev. Arthur Kuhlman, 822 Pleasant Ridge avenue, will have charge of the Luther League group at the summer camp. Long Lake is located about 40 miles north of Chicago.

EAST SIDERS INTERESTED IN RANDALL CANDIDATE

East Side residents are interesting themselves in the candidacy of Cecil J. Randall, attorney at 44 East Broad street, and president of the board of education, who has announced that he will seek the nomination for judge of the court of domestic relations, which is to be founded in Franklin county in 1929.

This court will handle all matters now under the jurisdiction of the Juvenile court and in addition, all divorce and alimony cases. Mr. Randall feels that the work of this court is closely related to the public schools and because of his duties on the board of education and the fact that he is the father of four children, as well as because of his professional experience extending over 16 years, his friends state that he is well qualified to assume the duties of the new judgeship.

OPEN NEW SHOPS ON DREXEL AVE.

W. W. Morrison Building Is Leased And Will Be Occupied By August 1

Murdo Morrison, 871 Sheridan road, who has had 25 years' experience as a baker, will open a bread and pastry shop August 1 in the new Morrison building on Drexel avenue, just off Main street. Mr. Morrison was superintendent at the Holland Bread Co. for 12 years and for three years was superintendent of the Donaldson Bakery Co. He has signed a 10 year lease with the W. W. Morrison Real Estate Co., 17 South High street.

A circulating library and book store will occupy another of the storerooms of this building. It will be owned and operated by Ray Johnson.

The Bexley Shoe Repair Co., which is in the room at 541 South Drexel avenue, carries a complete line of men's shoes and is equipped with modern machinery suitable for all repair work.

The Western Union has signed a lease with the W. W. Morrison Co. and will occupy the room just north of the repair company some time next week. The other storeroom probably will be taken in August.

Dr. Ward Athey has opened his office at 641½ Drexel avenue, on the second floor of the Morrison building.

IS PROMOTED TO VICE PRESIDENCY

J. Elmer Jones, 140 North Parkview avenue, has been chosen first vice president of the H. C. Godman Shoe Co., succeeding E. E. Lerch, who has retired following the purchase of the Miller-Lerch Shoe Manufacturing Co. by the Godman Co. Mr. Jones has been secretary of the company.

TO HEAR REPORTS

Yearly reports will be heard at the quarterly meeting of the Washington Avenue United Brethren church Friday. Dr. J. H. Hartis, conference superintendent will be present.

Directory Receives Praise Of Eastern Times Readers

We are always pleased when anyone comments on the Eastern Times but what we like best is to have our readers call in to tell us how much they appreciate our pet, the Eastern Times directory.

The other day one woman called for that very reason. She said that owing to ill health she had not been able to get acquainted with the shops on the East Side but that by the aid of the directory she could quickly locate any kind of shop needed. No wonder we are pleased to learn how we are giving this service to buyers and sellers.

Wanted: A Baseball Diamond For Playground

The playground at Kent and Gault streets is in need of space for a baseball diamond.

J. A. Stevens, supervisor, declares that the boys in the Kent-Gault district want a place to play with ball and bat, but there is no space on the present playground. Since it is the only playground in the city which does not boast a diamond, Mr. Stevens feels that the boys' desire is not an unnatural one. If any East Side resident has a lot where a diamond can be laid out, Mr. Stevens will be very pleased to hear about it.

REV. WILLETS TO HOLIDAY IN EAST

Ministers Chosen For Summer Period; Young People To Go To Wooster

Rev. George L. Willets, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, and Mrs. Willets, will spend the six weeks' vacation, granted them by the board of trustees of the church, in New York and Pennsylvania. During the absence of the pastor the session has obtained the following ministers for morning services:

July 29, Rev. Robert W. Howes of the First Presbyterian church of Pataskala; Aug. 5, Rev. I. Marshall Page of the Boulevard Presbyterian church of Columbus; Aug. 12, Rev. Joseph M. Ewing of the First Presbyterian church of Ambler, Pa.; Aug. 19, Rev. J. Lloyd Evans of the First Presbyterian church of Nelsonville; Aug. 26, Rev. George R. Bernhard of the Second Avenue Presbyterian church of Columbus.

Young people of the First church are planning to attend the Presbyterian conference for young people at Wooster, July 30 to Aug. 5. Among those who will go are Miss Eleanor Wilbur, Miss Catherine Thompson, Lucile Copeland, Miss Mary Pixley, Allan Kramer, Ben Kramer and Francis Steele. Mrs. Clyde Hotchkiss and Mrs. Edna Sallee will attend also as leaders in young people's work.

POST OFFICE TO BE READY AUG. 1

Bexley Branch To Be Established in Edward Looker Tire and Battery Shop

The Bexley post office will be established August 1 in the Looker Tire shop, 2248 E. Main street, after having been closed since May 1. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Looker will act as postal clerks, in addition to serving their tire and battery customers, according to announcement made Friday by Assistant Postmaster Geren.

The Bexley branch of the post office was opened last Christmas and was established in connection with the K. & W. grocery, 2260 East Main St., with W. A. Wharton in charge. In March, Mr. Wharton sold the two story brick storeroom and apartment and the one-story frame storeroom at 2256-58-60 East Main street to Howard P. Stallman, who took possession in May.

Since that time Bexley has been without a postoffice, while Assistant Postmaster Geren canvassed the territory for a location.

PASTEL COLORED WINDOW SHADES ARE STOCKED

The first and as yet the only merchant in the city to carry window shades having pastel colors on one side and the regular cream or tan tones on the outside is an East Side man, H. J. Nieman, the shade man, 1391 Livingston avenue. This combination eliminates the necessity of two shades, even if the housewife desires a shade to blend with her color scheme and at the same time wants her windows to present a pleasing appearance from the outside.

These new window accessories come in all colors. Mr. Nieman has in stock jade, green, primrose and orchid, but other colors may be ordered. He has also hand-painted window shades, especially adaptable for kitchen, breakfast room or bath. They are painted in oil and can be kept fresh and clean by wiping them with a damp cloth.

Beautiful fancy rods in pastel colors are used with the new pastel colored window shades.

COMPANY DEFENDS SAFETY OF GATES AT INTERSECTION

Charles Gerrish of Highway Safety Co. Says Only One Accident Has Resulted

EXPLAINS WARNINGS

To correct the impression made on the minds of some of the Eastern Times readers that the gates at the Mound street and College avenue crossing of the Ohio Public Service Co. are dangerous because of the mishap suffered by Albert K. Binder, 540 Reinhardt avenue two weeks ago, the Ohio Highway Safety Co., which installed the gates, has issued the following statement:

First: These gates were installed at this point by direction of the Ohio Utilities commission.

Second: They are there by orderly and legal process through an ordinance granted by the council of Bexley.

Third: By the cooperation of the officers of the interurban railway company and the state automobile association, they are being used.

Fourth: The Ohio Highway Safety Co. installed these gates at their own expense and are paying for their continuing operation.

7,000 Cars Protected

"From May 16, the date of installation, until June 2, 107,131 automobiles passed over this crossing, based on 10 hours per day data," Charles Gerrish, official of the company states. "Of this number 7,022 cars were protected by the gates closing on account of approaching trains; and 15,049 persons occupied these cars so stopped by the closing of these gates.

"The Columbus Automobile club, at its own expense, has had printed upon the street, 150 feet on each side of these gates in four foot letters, 'R. R. Danger'," Mr. Gerrish explains. "The gates are equipped with six red warning lights which show 15 seconds before the gates reach the snubbers on the opposite side of the street. There are more than 70 feet of parking space provided between the gates and the gates are so timed and synchronized with the approaching train as to be completely closed and engage the snubber, eight seconds before the train reaches the crossing and thus prevent any automobile from getting upon the track.

"Only one of the thousands of motorists got past these warnings and safeguards," Mr. Gerrish says, "and he probably was so terrified when the gates began to close that he did not notice the 70 feet of parking space provided between the gates, and crashed into the second descending gate with such force as to result in the breaking of a one inch bar of steel."

Last week officials came from Cincinnati to examine the Bexley gates with the intention of cooperating in preventing the large number of grade crossing accidents which happened during 1927, resulting in 2,371 being killed and 6,613 being permanently injured.

The gate which was broken two weeks ago was repaired within a few hours after the accident.

Friday, the 13th Is Unlucky For Autoe

Friday the 13th proved to be an unlucky day for H. A. Mead, 1373 East Rich street, and O. T. Flowers, 574 Kelton avenue.

In a collision at Miller avenue and Bryden road at 4 o'clock that day the Essex sedan belonging to Mr. Mead received a broken wheel, bent fenders and bad scratches. The other car, a Ford touring car belonging to Mr. Flowers was damaged to the extent of a bent fender, broken lamp and damaged radiator. The Essex was going south on Miller avenue and the Ford was headed east on Bryden, the Essex being forced into the curb and turned on its side. No one was hurt.

VALUABLE JEWELRY IS BURGLAR'S HAUL

Home of Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Faires On Broad Street Entered Through Window

Jewelry including a diamond necklace, set with seven diamonds, three wrist watches, one of which was platinum set with diamonds, a diamond stick pin, and two other necklaces, were stolen from the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Faires, 2725 East Broad street, by a thief who entered through a window in the breakfast room. Mrs. Faires values the jewelry at $900, but since it was purchased about 15 years ago, police set a higher value upon it.

Mr. and Mrs. Faires had gone out to spend the evening when the thief broke a lock on the window and entered. He picked up the two jewel cases in Mrs. Faires' room, including one small cedar chest and one jewelled case, but left behind an imitation string of pearls. The loss was discovered when Mr. and Mrs. Faires returned about 11:30 o'clock and it was reported to Bexley police.

In the meantime, however, Officer had noticed an automobile parked in front of the darkened house and stopped on Stanwood road to investigate. His presence evidently was discovered by the thief, for he made off without coming back to his auto. Bexley police took the car, which was found to have been stolen from Canton, July 17th.

Chief of Police Gray and Officer McNamee are working on a clue which may bring the thief into custody today.

Bexley Policemen Give Wild Chase To Quartet Of Suspects

Wild chases through the night characterized two arrests made this week by Bexley police. Chester Foreman, aged 19, 998 Seymour avenue is being held at the county jail for investigation as the result of one exciting encounter and Fred Garnell, aged 21; Floyd Oldfield, aged 16 and Hubert Messer, aged 17, all of Station E, Route 6, Columbus, received suspended sentences by court authorities, as the result of the other.

Foreman was arrested late Monday evening by Officer C. D. Reed at Broad street and Parkview avenue for driving without lights at 35 miles an hour. Reed ordered him to follow him to headquarters, but the youth dodged off Westland avenue first and, after recapture, again tried to escape down Sheridan road, off Main street. He was found after [illegible] concealed [illegible] before Justice [illegible] ordered to jail for [illegible].

Albert Reed and enlisted the aid of Officer McNamee and the two started off in the police car with Foreman in the back seat. As they were driving swiftly down College avenue, the youth made his way silently out of the back seat and dropping to the street ran across Livingston avenue and around the barbecue, with Officer Reed shooting into the air as he chased him. Foreman reached the fields near the creek and made his way into the swamp on the west bank, where he was found after a half hour search by Officer McNamee.

A fight then ensued, during which Foreman dug his nails so deeply into the officer's wrists that scars were left, and declared repeatedly that he would never be taken alive. Reed ran to the assistance and they handcuffed the prisoner and escorted him to the jail. He pleaded guilty to resisting an officer before Squire Kuhns Tuesday and not guilty to a charge of intoxication and of driving while intoxicated. HOW DOES YOUR GARDEN GROW?

There is no better way for getting understanding of the farmer's problem than by having a garden. All of us grumble at the high prices of vegetables and fruit, but after we have spent one season trying to produce a few tomatoes, lettuce, radishes and parsley, along with sweet peas, nasturtiums and calendula, we begin to wonder why he does not charge more. It is not only the sheer physical labor of planting, hoeing, weeding, watering and gathering the fruits, if any, but it is the heart-breaking task of getting rid of the millions of varieties of "bugs" and of sitting passively by while the "elements" either help or hinder the growing processes.

Only after we have watched the leaves of healthy tomato vines turn brown after a solid week of rain, do we understand the despair that comes to the farmer whose entire crop of wheat has suffered from "black rust" due to the same cause. Only after we have spent an evening spraying the sweet peas for tiny green lice and the nasturtiums for tiny blank lice, to have the spray washed off by a hard rain, do we understand the despair of the cotton farmer who sees his whole crop being destroyed by the boll weevil, which thrives on rain.

Mr. Smith recently took one of his grandchildren to Jackson to be buried and while there another of the grandchildren died. On the way back to Detroit Mr. Smith was in an automobile accident, in which another grandchild was killed and in which he was injured. These injuries caused his death this week.

SUPERSTITIOUS SUE

SHE HAS HEARD THAT—

One version of the daisy oracle is to pull a petal for each line of this verse:—

"He loves me,
He don't;
He'll have me,
He won't;
He would if he could,
But he can't."

and the last petal you pull is your fate.

Pointer for Collectors

As officials prepared to hand out medals struck in commemoration of the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the state government of New York at Kingston, they were shocked to find that the letter "N" had been left out of the most important word on the medals—"Sesquicentennial." The legend on the bronze read: "Sesquicentenial." Hasty conning of dictionaries confirmed the suspicion that there was no authority for such simplified spelling. But optimists perceive a silver lining in the cloud. They point out that errors have made stamps and coins valuable, and that maybe the mistake will add to the value of the disk.

Moon Makes Clocks Vary

After an exhaustive study of the running of clocks over long periods, Dr. Robert R. Morgan of the Naval observatory, Washington, has reached the surprising conclusion that they go more slowly when the moon is in the western part of the sky. The difference, however, can be detected only by the most delicate measuring instruments. He reports in Popular Science Monthly that when the moon is in the west, one-half of the day is five-thousandths of a second longer than the other.

CONDITION IMPROVED

Orville Cooperrider, 1060 E. Main street underwent a surgical operation Monday morning at Grant Hosp. According to reports from the hospital at noon today Mr. Cooperrider was recovering nicely. Mr. Cooperrider is a clerk in Stats Grocery at Miller and Main streets.

VAST QUANTITY OF WATER UNDER EARTH

The quantity of water underground, beneath the crust of the earth's surface is nearly one-third the total volume of the oceans waters, according to estimates of Dr. Chester A. Reeds, of the American Museum of Natural History, New York, who has just completed investigations of buried rivers and caves. The earth's ground water extends to great depths, perhaps six miles, and has been accumulating for countless ages. This great mass of water percolates slowly through the porous and jointed rocks to form great systems of underground drainage, creating such beauty spots as Mammoth cave in Kentucky and the Endless caverns in Virginia. In the limestone regions, where so many of these unfamiliar streams are found, the formations of huge stalactites, stalagmites, columns, and stony curtains in the cavernous depths remind one of the artistic handiwork of ancient artisans on the Renaissance palaces.

AUTOS NOT WANTED ON NORFOLK ISLAND

The honk of the automobile horn is disturbing the peaceful inhabitants of the tiny island of Norfolk, which lies in the South seas, 800 miles from the coast of Australia. A number of the most prominent inhabitants have drawn up a petition asking the British administrator of the island to abolish this mechanical nuisance in their quiet domain.

Norfolk island is only about six miles in length and contains an area of 18 square miles. It is practically rock bound, being surrounded by steep, rugged cliffs of dark basaltic lava. A cable station is its only link with the outside world. The inhabitants, descendants of the most part of the Pitcairn mutineers, number less than 800.

This lonely little island has long been renowned for its natural beauty, quietness and simplicity of life.

Last Resort

Professor Jordan was bewailing the fact that cultured reading is apparently on the decline. All reading, he declares, and is inclined to blame it on the movies.

"I do not consider the trashy magazines as reading," he continued, "but even these, I am told, have lost a great many former admirers. As for the younger generation, it apparently does not even know how to read.

"Only the other day, I said to a small friend of mine, 'Johnny, what have you been reading lately?' To which the urchin replied in surprise: "'Me reading? Gosh, I haven't been sick!'"

Women's Bowling League Being Formed For East Side Residents

CLUBS BOOK NIGHTS

A headpin tournament will be the opening feature of the new Miller-Main Recreation center. The tournament will start at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday, August 1, and will close Saturday at 11:30 p. m. Men and women are eligible for this tournament. Cash prizes will be awarded to the man and woman having the highest score.

The tournament will be opened by a city official who will roll the first ball.

The recreation center, where six bowling alleys and four pool tables are to be ready for players and where lunch and refreshments may be had without leaving the place is to be opened by T. B. Skinner at 1424 E. Main street, near the corner of Miller avenue. The opening date has been set for Wednesday, August 1, and work is going ahead fast on installing the soda fountain and in placing the pool tables.

The bowling alleys, six in number are ready now. They are regulation tournament alleys, installed by Brunswick, Balke, Collender Co. with floors of the finest wood. The space for bowling to the rear of the building is 35 feet wide and 125 feet long and besides the alleys includes several rows of seats to accomodate 44 spectators. Off to the right is a women's rest room, where they can change into their bowling shoes and costumes, and farther front is a men's rest room. The women's room is attractive with cretonne covered furniture and up-to-date toilet facilities.

All On One Floor

The alleys are the only ones in the city which are built on one floor and for that reason are exceptionally well ventilated and airy. Mr. Skinner's son, Harry C. Skinner, will run the bowling. Already the business men in the vicinity of Miller and Main have chosen one night a week for bowling and requests have come in from clubs, churches and business groups. Owing to the large number of bowling fans among the women on the East Side, Mr. Skinner is emphasizing that every facility is provided for the feminine sex.

Fifty feet of floor space in front of the bowling alleys has been divided into two sections, one 14 feet wide for the confectionery and lunch room, and the other, 20 feet wide, for the billiard room. Four fine tables have been installed by the Segale Manufacturing Co. 68 East Spring street, in the billiard and pool room to the west.

To the east is the lunch room, where an 18 foot counter and soda grill has been put in by the White Soda Fountain Co. The entire equipment is the "last word" in fountains with space for a luncheonette grill, and several ice cream cabinets. Cigars, tobacco and candy will be available, in addition to soft drinks, ice cream dishes and light lunch.

A new heating system designed by the American Radiator Co. has been installed and the walls of the entire building have been redecorated in a beige shade, so that there is little to remind the visitor that this building formerly was occupied by Mr. Skinner's Stearns Knight agency and service station.

Dates are still available for those organizations who wish to book the Skinner alleys for bowling practice. Mr. Skinner or his son may be reached at Fr. 0406.

East Side concerns which co-operated with Mr. Skinner are East Side Lumber Co., Eastern Electric Shop, Aitken & Jones Plumbing and Heating Co. and George MacKey, contractor.

The building has been finished on the outside with California stucco by George MacKey, local contractor.

An East Side Womens' Bowling League is being formed. The season will open the second week in September. Anyone interested in the League may get further information by calling Miss Ruth Kirkendall, 1220 Bryden road or Harry C. Skinner.

EDITOR ON VACATION

DECLARES TRACKS INFERNAL NUISANCE

N. P. Holzbacher Joints With Bexley Councilmen in Complaining of Crossing

The condition of the tracks of the Southern Ohio Public Service Co. in Bexley and of its crossing at Sheridan avenue is causing sleepless nights not only for councilmen in Bexley but also for N. P. Holzbacher, a Sheridan avenue resident.

Following a report made by Councilman Allen Pretzman as to the futility of conferring with officials of the company, a letter from Mr. Holzbacher sent from 634 Sheridan avenue read as follows:

"I am asking you to use your influence with the traction company in repairing their crossing at Sheridan avenue. Also they should be compelled to stop their cars going east and west at this dangerous crossing, instead of blowing their shrill whistles and crossing at 25 to 35 miles an hour. I made an enormous investment at this point of the street with the understanding that these tracks were to be eliminated, but I know it will be years before this takes place.

"If some relief is not forthcoming as above requested I believe the property owners in this section will bring an injunction suit to stop the cars crossing the village, as they are an infernal nuisance to us taxpayers. Please grant us relief."

Mr. Pretzman told of a conference with A. J. Bland, superintendent and general manager of the Southern Ohio Co. during which he promised him and Councilman Betz that workmen would be on the spot within two days. These assurances were merely "hot air," Mr. Pretzman said, in declaring that the company has no intention of cooperating although the rails are spreading and the tracks are in a dangerous condition. Mr. Pretzman was authorized to make complaint to Dave Archer of the Public Utilities Commission.

VAUDEVILLE TEAM HOME FOR REST

Miss Ruth Fullmer and Jimmie Givens, 670 East Mound street, dancers, are home on a visit after a vaudeville tour of the United States, Canada and Mexico. They have been selected by George E. Wintz to appear in featured spots in his forthcoming production of Ziegfeld's "Rio Rita." The show closed its New York run in June and reopens in August for a tour of the larger cities of the United States and Europe. Miss Fullmer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Fullmer, 458 Innis avenue.

PURCHASES BARBER SHOP

G. C. Brockerman has purchased the barber shop of Fred McCracken at 445 Miller avenue at the southwest corner of Miller and Main. Mr. Brockerman has had 20 years experience as a barber and is specializing in ladies' hair cutting. He formerly operated a shop at 906 East Eleventh avenue.

Interior and Exterior of New Recreation Center

Commonwealth Park Is Inviting Public To Come And Inspect Its New Beauty

Work of Cleaning Up Underbrush And Pruning Growth is Completed by Hansen

A beautiful extent of 10 acres lying in the heart of Bexley and containing beautiful and rare species of shrubbery, trees and flowers is being neglected by Bexley residents, who are hardly aware of its existence, Bexley officials declare. The lovely Commonwealth park, lying north and south of Commonwealth avenue, between Parkview and Drexel avenues, is the spot suffering this neglect and with the completion of the work of putting the park in shape this week by Hans Hansen, expert landscape architect, an invitation to visit it is being broadcast by Bexley officials.

Commonwealth park was laid out by the Bullitt brothers, 35 years ago, when the original addition of Bexley was platted under the name of Bullitt Park addition. It was given to the village at that time but it lay neglected until 10 years ago, when M. A. Smith, 2379 Commonwealth south; A. M. Miller, 2402 Commonwealth north and J. L. Hamill, Broad and Columbia avenue, organized a temporary community club among the residents of the original addition comprising Parkview, Drexel and Columbia avenues, north of Broad street.

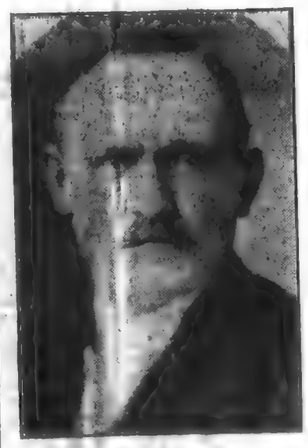
$11,000 Spent in Landscaping

Eleven thousand dollars was raised and this money was used for londscaping and planting of the park, with a New York landscape architect in charge. Since that time the village has kept the lawn mowed, but no pruning, transplanting nor cutting away of underbrush had been done until it was suggested by Mayor Ludwig this spring and carried out by vote of council.

More than $500 has been spent in cleaning up the park with the result that it is a thing of beauty. Ten acres are covered with exquisite lawn, dotted with majestic trees and bordered with gorgeous shrubbery. Near Drexel avenue is a giant white swamp oak and there are 10 different species of evergreens, including Juniper oblongata, white pine, Norway spruce, knotted pine, arbor vitae, and Ponderosa pine. Near Parkview avenue, the arbor vitae are planted to give the effect of a small sanctuary. Over many of the evergreens the rambler roses had grown to the top stifling their growth and cutting off their sunlight and it has taken weeks of work on the part of Mr. Hansen's men to cut away the roses to the proper height.

Bagworms also were found on the evergreens and even on the elms, and they had to be picked off patiently one by one, for if even one is left the plague will spread again. Underbrush has been cut away from such lovely shrubbery as bush honeysuckle, which now is covered with red berries, peonies, spirea and Anthony Water spirea, hydrangeas, azaleas, holly, snowballs, red and other species of dogwood, regal privet, forsythia, flowering hawthorne, and red bud.

Rare Species to be Seen



Among the rare species in this park are the Japanese fringed maple; the fringed tree, which has a long white flower and is exceedingly graceful; the Japanese quince, which is now bearing fruit; the winged elm which has an extra-ordinary shape to the stem; wisteria trees, which have been trained from a vine and which are very hard to raise; and the ptellea tree which is very rare in this country, usually being found in Asia, and which is known for the fact that it carries its seeds in the form of small flat bags on the branches.

Mr. Hansen has recommended to council that a small, artistic shelter house be erected, unobstrusive playground equipment be installed and a baseball diamond laid out, and council will consider his recommendations next year.

DELEGATES INSTRUCTED TO ASK FOR RETURN OF REV. COX AS PASTOR

J. C. Lust was elected delegate to the annual conference of the United Brethren church to be held in Corning Aug. 29 at the quarterly conference of the Washington Avenue U. B. church last week. Don Cupp was chosen alternate and the delegates were instructed by an unanimous vote to ask that their pastor, Rev. A. B. Cox be returned to the local congregation. Rev. Cox is closing his fifth year at the Washington Ave. church and reports show that the past year has been the best the church has enjoyed.

BELOVED MAIN ST. DOCTOR IS DEAD

After a six months' illness, Dr. John Edward Overly, aged 72, dean of East Side physicians and beloved by all Side residents, died at his home, 1453 East Main street, Wednesday afternoon at 4:20 o'clock. Although he had been seriously ill over a long period, Dr. Overly recovered enough to make his regular calls and to see his many patients, until three weeks ago Wednesday. He realized that his illness would be fatal, but had not indicated that to Mrs. Overly, so that the shock of his death was a great one.

Dr. Overly was born near Chillicothe and resided when a boy at Sabina. He graduated from the Ohio Medical college in Cincinnati in 1883 and opened his office in Columbus April 12, 1884. At first his office stood where the shop shed is located opposite his home, but when he built his Main street home, he added an office there and moved across the street. His practice from an E. Main street address has extended over nearly 45 years and he has looked after the health of two generations of neighbors and friends.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Anna R. Overly, three sisters and two brothers. As a mark of respect and love for Dr. Overly all stores and business places in the vicinity of Main street and Miller avenue are planning to close during the hour of the funeral. Services will be held Saturday at 3 p. m. at the residence and burial will be made in Green Lawn by W. L. Winegarner, funeral directors, 1100 East Main street.

YOUNGSTERS HAVE MOCK BATHING BEAUTY REVUE

June Price, as a bowery girl, won first prize in the mock bathing beauty contest held last Friday at the Kent-Gault playground. Margaret Price as an old-time bather, was second; Ruth Mitton as a clown was third and Marie Price as private was fourth. The comic costume contest was for girls of the athletic association. All went in the wading pool after the judging.

A wiener roast for boys and girls of the 19th-Rich playground was enjoyed Tuesday evening, celebrating the return of the boys from the Indian village and biding farewell to the girls who left with Miss Mary Dillon Wednesday morning.

A watermelon party was the entertainment provided for the youngsters of the Franklin Park playground last Friday. Now the girls are busy making bright paper favors, including rose baskets, and clown and spoon dolls. They are planning a circus for Friday. The boys have an active baseball team, with a girl, Mary Margaret Hasbrook, as captain, pitcher and star player.

Street Between Drexel Avenue Tracks Are To Be Paved Soon

State Board of Health Approves Engineer's Plans For Sewage Disposal Plant

SIDEWALKS TO BE LAID

Contending that the condition of the street between car tracks on Drexel avenue has become more serious since the hard rain Saturday night, councilmen of Bexley decided at their regular meeting Tuesday night to begin paving them as soon as necessary advertising of bids permits. It was announced that C. C. Slater of the Columbus Railway Power & Light Co. was willing to do the necessary work toward raising and straightening the tracks and that the entire paving job could be completed before winter sets in.

Complain About Gates

The automatic gates at the College avenue crossing of the Southern Ohio Public Service Co. came in for a share of discussion by council. Chief of Police Gray reported that every time there was a downpour of rain, a short circuit resulted, causing the gates to stay down until an irate motorist stopped to put them up. The Highway Safety Co. claims that that is due to the bad condition of the suburban tracks, in that the rotten ties have no solid foundation, but since there is no likelihood of the traction company repairing the tracks councilman said, the clerk was authorized to notify the Highway Safety Co. that unless the gates were put in condition to work in wet, as well as dry, weather, they would have to be removed. The village has had to prop up the gates several times and in case of an accident, while the gates are thus supported, the village would be liable for damages, Solicitor Peters pointed out.

Council was notified that the state board of health has approved the plans of sewage treatment for Bexley as embodied in the report submitted June 4 by Engineer Harold Kennedy. The sewage disposal plant, which will provide for a population of 10,000, was plahned after notification of the state board of health that two years would be given for the installation of an adequate plant.

Mr. Kennedy was authorized to confer with state health board officials and to report on details of construction and of cost at the next meeting of council.

Investigates Records

Village Solicitor Peters reported that he had delved into records in an effort to ascertain whether Michael street had been dedicated formally as a street. He said that in 1873 the territory was laid out as an addition with Michael street indicated, although no name was given to it. The platt as recorded at the county recorder's office has no notation as to formal dedication, he said, but in those days platz were often recorded without such notation, he was told Witnesses have testified that Michael street had been used publicly for at least 20 years, he said, so that in the event that no record of formal dedication is found, the street is still legally a street, and council has jurisdiction over it. This opinion was given in answer to residents of Pleasant Ridge avenue who have complained of trespassing on their property facing on Michael street by Capital university students, and who have asked that the street be closed to the public.

The solicitor was authorized to prepare necessary legislation for the installing of sidewalks on Columbia avenue from Broad street to Bryden road, a large percentage of the residents of which are favor of having sidewalks laid. Vacation was approved of the alley between Brentwood road and Bexley Park road, extending from Cassingham road to a point 100 feet west of Remington road; also of the alley between Ardmore road and Cassingham road and extending from Dale avenue to Fair avenu. The vacation of Ruhl avenue is to be investigated and a report made at the next meeting.

Whether sidewalks are needed on Cassady between Fair and Broad; or Ardmore between Fair and Broad and on Fair between Drexel and Cassingham is to be investigated. The complaint of Alexander Forrest that lots in Stanbery addition are being assessed both area assessments and service charge at a rate per front foot was referred to the solicitor. An ordinance was passed to provide lights for Stanwood road between Broad street and Maryland avenue and also one authorizing the acceptance of a deed from the board of education for premises permitting the improvement of Elm street from Parkview to Columbia and from Cassady road to Remington road and over to Stanwood road.

STORES TO CLOSE

In respect to Dr. John E. Overly and his 44 years of service rendered to the community, all stores in the Miller-Main Business center, will close Saturday at 4:00 o'clock for 10 minutes during the formation of the funeral cortege.

Lunch and entertainment will be furnished Saturday evening and a tourist camp is ready in connection with the meeting place. All those attending should notify Comrade E. J. Scott of Mt. Vernon, who will arrange for sleeping quarters.

Garnell when arraigned before Squire Kuhns pleaded guilty and was given a suspended sentence of $500 and six months in jail.

Postponed Again!

It seems as if plans for eliminating the crossings at Broad street, Main street and Livingston avenue are to be abandoned, if city council sticks to its refusal to approve them. Of course most of us, not including the officials of the N. & W. railroad, admit that the residents of Eastgate have a legitimate case in asking for damages, but most of us also have thought that government decision should be made for the greatest good of the largest number.

And certainly it is for the greatest good of the largest number to go ahead with the grade crossing elimination. Bexley residents, particularly, should positively refuse to drive any longer over the bumpy tracks and to endure the disgraceful condition of Main street on both sides of the tracks. All of us have taken several years off the life of our cars by bumping over the rough streets and we have taken several years off our lives by indulging in fits of temper when we have been held up for as long as a half hour while trains run back and forth from Broad street to Livingstone avenue.

So far only Eastgate residents have presented their case to council. If residents of other sections would appear before Council, they might be able to demand satisfaction. Nothing influences council like knowing that a large body of citizens and voters is interested enough in a proposition to appear before their legislators and watch carefully how they vote on that particular proposition.

Poem Causes Detectives To Scratch Their Heads

Mary has a little skirt,
So nice and neat and airey,
It never shows a spec of dirt
But quite a lot of Mary.

This typically summery poem was found one day this week on the desk of Miss Esther Hartman, deputy in the Bexley municipal building, left there by some wag who loves to play jokes on the permanent village officials. The handwriting, in indelible pencil was unfamiliar to the recipient, but she has placed the Bexley detectives on the trail.

Wanted: A Holepuller! Young Dick Hunts One

Young Dick Roderick, son of S. W. Roderick, village clerk, has chosen the Bexley municipal building as his favorite vacation "hang-out" and the permanent officials have a great time "kidding" him.

One day this week they greeted him with the request that he do an errand for them. He agreed and asked what was wanted.

"A hole-puller," they explained.

He was dubious as to the nature of a hole-puller, but he finally was persuaded to make the attempt to buy one. He scoured the neighborhood of Main street and Drexel avenue and received no help from the salespeople until, it is said, he entered a tire store where the young lady pulled out every box in the shop in a serious attempt to find the "hole-puller."

Wear Silk or Wool to Escape Sunburn

Girls who wish to keep their skin lily white and free from sunburn will do well to wear silk or woolen clothing as protection from the sun's rays. On the other hand, mothers who want their children to get as much of the beneficial ultraviolet rays as possible should keep the children in cotton or linen clothes.

These four textiles were tested by scientists working at the Kansas State Agricultural college, who found that while the protection from sunburn depends primarily on the looseness of the weave, the vegetable fibers, cotton and linen, transmit some of the rays that cause sunburn and tanning, while the animal fibers, silk and wool absorb more of these rays and thus offer greater protection against them.

Unjustly Condemned

One of the most brilliant of living men, says T. P.'s Weekly, London, is Lord Birkenhead, yet he has confessed that when he was a boy he sat for an examination in which, after two days, the examiners stated he was a "half-wit," that is, one who showed no signs of being able to pass the test.

Lord Birkenhead has since then astonished the world by his meteoric rise to eminence. Among the other boys labeled as "half-wits" was one named Amery, who is now a cabinet minister.

Archeological Find

A church underground which may prove to date from Roman days has been discovered by Rev. E. P. Gough, vicar of Chilton, Candover, England. Mr. Gough and his son, hearing an old villager say when he was a boy he used to play in a crypt under the old church, now fallen down, began to excavate and found an old flint rubble church. If it is Roman it is the only complete specimen of a Roman Catholic church in the country.

Handy With Dough

Machinery has not yet replaced skill in the bakeries of France. Leon Nicolas, the champion baker of Paris, at the recent salon, organized under the patronage of the International Bakers' institute, shaped and prepared for baking in four minutes' time, five long loaves, two round loaves, six long rolls, six crescent rolls and five round rolls.

Australia Not Yet Crowded

Within the limits of New York city there are as many inhabitants as on the entire Australian continent. In July, 1926, New York had 5,924,000, and a census of Australia made a year later gave the population as 6,178,492.

Deck Tennis

The first round in the deck tennis tournament has been played and will be finished by Monday.

On Monday, August 6, a posture contest will be held at 3 p. m. Any girl 9 years and over is eligible. Three prizes will be awarded.

Anyone interested in the tennis tournament should get in touch with Miss Christina Jones at the playgrounds.

Awarded Feather

Virginia Thompson of the Nineteenth and Rich playground was awarded a feather, for all around attitude, helpfulness and knowledge of nature, on the Indian camp on the Scioto river. Out of 88 girls, she was the only one to receive this award.

Starting Thursday at the Nineteenth and Rich playgrounds a foul shooting contest and drop out tournament will be held for both boys and girls. There will be two groups, one for those under 12 years and another for those over 12 years.

Merit Club Organized

The boys at the Nineteenth and Rich playgrounds have organized a Merit Club and will elect officers next week. The boys are elected to this club when they have earned five merits. The merits are awarded for helpfulness around the playground and for general attitude. When the club membership totals 12, the club will be taken on an all day hike by Carlton Smith, boys' supervisor at the playground.

The girls volley ball team played Washington Park yesterday.

Sewing Exhibit

The sewing club of the playgrounds will give an exhibition at one of the neighborhood stores in the near future.

A new feature has been introduced at the Nineteenth and Rich playgrounds by the director Miss Mary Dillon, in the child rhythm hour at 11 a. m. for children 3 to 6 years old. It is the dramatization of such rhythms as Little Miss Muffet and Jack-be-Nimble.

NOTICE TO BEXLEY READERS

The Eastern Times wishes to make the announcement that only five people and the "Times" carriers are authorized to take subscriptions for the Eastern Times. Those authorized to take subscriptions are: Eric Seamann, Charles Dawson, Francis Lauffer, J. H. Gray and Mr. High. Anyone other than the above named people who pose as solicitors of the "Times" should be reported to Chief Gray and the "Times" office at once.

STREETS IN BEXLEY COMPLETED SEPT. 1

The Village Engineer, Harold Kennedy, Has Supervision of All Paving Jobs

Bexley's street paving program for 1928 has reached that stage of progress where the citizens may expect most of the jobs to be completed and open for traffic within the next ten days and the remainder before the end of the month.

A big majority of the total new yardage this year will be vitrified brick. In making the brick awards the village council was actuated largely by the exceptionally low prices bid and the engineering argument that a heavy type of pavement is needed these days to stand the "gaff" of motor pleasure cars and trucks.

Contractor Robert J. Dienst is laying the brick top on Dawson ave. this week and the thoroughfare will be open to traffic from end to end by the first of next week. On Cassingham road, which was awarded brick from Fair avenue to Main street, he has finished the foundation and will have the brick top laid within another ten days.

The Elm avenue brick jobs, which were also awarded Dienst, have reached that stage of construction where the curbs and gutters will be finished this week and the pouring of the concrete foundations will start next week.

The Burns Construction Co. has finished the foundation, curbs, gutters and sidewalks on Cassady road, between Sherwood and Brentwood, and expect to lay the asphalt top within another week. They have finished Remington road, another asphalt job, except for the laying of the sidewalks and the asphalt top.

A. G. Pugh, who has the contract for the brick pavement on Havenwood South, expects to finish the foundation within a week.

The Drexel avenue, Fair avenue, intersection is ready for the laying of the brick and asphalt surfaces and the placing of the brick in the car tracks.

All the paving jobs are under the direct supervision of Harold Kennedy, village engineer.

HIGHEST SALES RECORD

Edward L. Looker of Looker's, the tire and battery shop at 2248 E. Main street, Bexley, has sold more Miller Deluxe tires than any other Miller Deluxe dealer in the city. Looker's now carry a complete line of auto accessories.

POST OFFICE DELAYED

The Bexley post office which was to have been opened Wednesday in Looker's tire shop will probably be opened some time next week due to a delay in receiving the necessary papers from Washington.

Vacation Ends For Jimmy; Will Not Talk About Trip

Everyone is thinking about vacation now, some have had their vacations and are talking about where they were and what they saw; while those who have not taken their vacation are talking and planning and replanning about where they will spend their precious one or two weeks. But one vacationer is not talking about his vacation which he enjoyed last week. Like many others he had to be brought forcibly back home.

Jimmy, the pet alligator of Jane Walsh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Walsh, 887 College avenue, left Saturday, July 21 for a prolonged vacation trip through the neighboring lawns and hedges.

Miss Walsh searched frantically but to no avail. Leo Simcox, "Times" carrier on route 13, as he was passing the "Times" early Saturday morning, was hailed by Mrs. F. H. Fritzgerald, 901 Sheridan avenue, who asked him if he would like to have an alligator. He would. But before he could catch Jimmy his owner had rushed over to claim her pet. Ruth Boeger, 882 Sheridan avenue, a friend of Jane, had heard the conversation between Mrs. Fritzgerald and the carrier and had reported the discovery to Jane.

Mr. Fritzgerald had found Jimmy on his lawn Friday evening while mowing the grass.

Jimmy is a native of Florida and apparently has become homesick for he has refused to eat except for a little hamburger which he ate upon his arrival here.

Jimmy came from Florida in a wooden box about eight inches long and five inches wide. Instructions in the box said that he should be feed raw fish or hamburger once a week. He has not eaten anything except a small portion of hamburger since his arrival here about four weeks ago.

Jimmy is now reposing in the back yard at 887 College avenue in a tub of water, and he isn't saying a thing about his vacation.

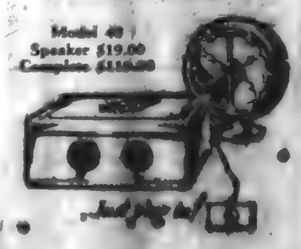
"WE PAVE with BRICK"

NOTICE the pride with which a man tells you his community paves with brick.

That bit of information marks his community as having discriminating taste—able and insistent on having things worth while.

And why not? At most, the difference in first cost amounts to only a few cents a yard, and important economies as well as complete satisfaction are assured for years to come.



Brick, toughest wearing surface man makes, does not rut or crack up. Being waterproof, moisture does not get below the surface to start destruction. So it protects the expensive part of your pavement—the part you cannot see.

Brick pavements as built today are smooth-riding; safe; easy on the eyes. Records show it to be far the cheapest pavement in the end.

A Frank Talk with Republican Voters

The Government of Franklin County is a big business institution requiring millions of dollars of taxpayers' money every year to maintain.

Voters and taxpayers should be vitally interested in how THEIR MONEY is spent and their government run.

As a County Commissioner it has been my business to supervise the spending of your money.

I am asking another term as Commissioner on my record as YOUR PUBLIC SERVANT.

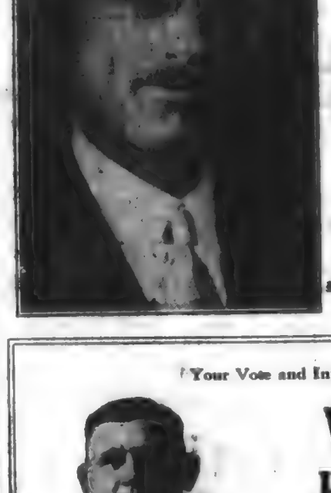
Let me give you a few reasons why you should support me.

It has always been my purpose to faithfully discharge the duties of this important office. I therefore solicit your support upon my record of accomplishments as your County Commissioner, and if successful, pledge to give the citizens of Franklin County the same faithful, impartial and efficient service that has characterized my administration in the past.

In the administration of the affairs of this office I have catered to no cliques or individuals who profit by public moneys.

I have tried consistently to protect the public treasury. By my vote, as County Commissioner, I forced the saving to the taxpayers of more than One Million Dollars ($1,000,000) which had been voted for public purposes.

I have insisted that every county employee should give a DOLLAR'S WORTH OF SERVICE FOR A DOLLAR'S WORTH OF PAY, and have consistently opposed and voted against dozens of unwarranted salary increases.



I have voted on every occasion to hold down the budget and thereby keep the tax rate from being increased.

I started the fight in Ohio to abolish the old time custom of county sheriffs profiting from the feeding of jail prisoners. When I started this fight the sheriff of Franklin county was receiving 70 cents a day for boarding each prisoner, when, investigation disclosed that it was costing him less than 15 cents a day. At that time I forced a reduction in Franklin County to the legal minimum of 45 cents a day. Later, I was instrumental in having a bill introduced in the General Assembly which became a law providing that the sheriffs of Ohio shall feed prisoners at cost. The records will disclose that this action resulted in saving thousands of dollars of the taxpayers' money each year.

I have worked tirelessly for good roads for Franklin County. Today we have more miles and better roads than any county in Ohio, if not in the nation. In the building of these roads I have insisted on getting a dollar's worth of road for every dollar expended.

If I have been the kind of County Commissioner you yourself would be, if you were in my shoes, then I feel I have a right to your support in the Republican primaries. I will appreciate your support, and pledge you that, if nominated and re-elected, I will give the County the same kind of service that I have in the past.

H. E. BARTHMAN.

Platform

1. Economy in administration of Federal Government.
2. Reduction of taxes.
3. I am in favor of the modification of the Volstead Law and I believe the majority of the people of the present day think likewise, and if this is a country of the People, for the People and by the People, then the People should rule. And if elected I shall deem it my duty to serve the People and in this way protect them in their homes and reduce their taxes.

5. Co-operation between Capital and Labor. One is just as important as the other for the welfare of the Country.
6. Legislation to protect the American Soldier and a fair and just compensation for his services.

UNDERGROUNDWIRES LAID BY TELEPHONE COMPANY ON MAINST.

Bell Telephone Company to Build Office on Franklin Avenue At Cost of $1,225,000

TO INSTALL DIALS

The Ohio Bell Telephone Company is busy laying underground wires on Main street, in connection with the building of the new Franklin office on Franklin avenue.

These wires are being installed in order to take care of the growing business on the East Side and in Bexley especially on Main street which is fast becoming the business street of the East Side. Underground wires were laid on High street several years ago, and greatly facilitated the installment of telephone service in business houses, the wires entering the buildings through the basement.

New Dial Exchange

Plans have been completed for construction of a new dial exchange to replace the present Franklin office, at a total cost of approximately $1,225,000, according to W. W. Acord, the company's district commercial manager.

The site of the proposed structure extends from 1415 to 1439 Franklin avenue. This is on the south side of Franklin between Miller avenue and Loeffler street. The exchange that it will replace is on Sherman avenue near Broad street.

"It is expected that the project will be completed in time to convert the Franklin manual area into the dial system in the spring of 1930," said Mr. Acord.

The initial installation of dial equipment in the new building will serve 15,000 telephones."

Mr. Acord said that the cost of the project will include more than $200,000 for the land and building, $720,000 for equipment to go into the building, $150,000 for outside plant work, and $118,000 for sub-station work, the latter including the change of manual telephone instruments to the dial type.

The new building will follow the English type of architecture. It will be 140 feet long and 77 feet wide, with one story and basement. Construction will be of brick, with limestone trim and a slate roof.

"The building will set 40 feet back from the street, with a broad lawn on all sides," said Mr. Acord.

"The grounds will be landscaped in such a manner as to make the building fit in with the surrounding residential neighborhood, as was done with the new Lawndale building at Indianola avenue and Dunedin road. This is in accordance with the company's policy to have beauty combined with efficiency in its buildings so that they will conform to the scenic surroundings."

THREE TIE FOR FIRST PLACE IN HEADPIN CONTEST

When the headpin tournament closed at the Miller-Main Recreation center, the bowling prize for the winner of the tournament for women went to Agnes Brosmer, whose score was 101. Grace Connell was second with a score of 99.

Three men tied for first place in the mens' tournament, each having a score of 110. They are, Frank Eitel, L. W. Latham and H. Balzan.

GLADIOLI EXHIBIT WILL OPEN MONDAY

Prizes will be awarded the winners of the amateur gladioli growers exhibition which is being held Monday and Tuesday, August 13 and 14 at Hoge Memorial church, Hilltop.

The exhibition is open to all amateur florists in the city. All entrants must be in by 10 o'clock Monday morning at which time judging will begin.

Flowers will be shown in baskets, vases or containers furnished by the exhibitor and are not to be removed until 10 p. m. Tuesday.

The show is being sponsored and the prizes donated by Hilltop Glad Gardens, McNaughten Road Gardens, Reynoldsburg, Humphrey's Flower Gardens, Pataskala, Bales Triangle Farm, Circleville and Buster Brothers, Wilmington.

The public is invited and there will be no admission charges.

Vote in Primaries

The system of the direct primaries was fought for and adopted to make the voice of voters more easily heard above the clamor of the political bosses.

The primary election is supposed to be the method whereby the average voter may have a voice as to who will be the candidate on his part yticket. Before the primary system was adopted as a means of nominating candidates, the party bosses had everything in their hands. The man whom they could control was nominated.

The primary system gives the party members a chance to bolt from boss rule and nominate a candidate who will not be dominated by the party boss. But this cannot be accomplished unless Mr. Average Voter goes to the polls and votes in the primaries. If he leaves this up to his neighbors then he cannot complain if the bosses' candidate gets the nomination, nor can he howl if he is elected, for he is responsible for his nomination because he failed to vote in the primaries.

If the voters do not come out to the primaries then the party boss and his henchmen get busy and nominate their man and proceed to run things to suit themselves.

It is the duty of every man and woman 21 years of age and over, of whatever party to vote in the primary election, August 14. Anyone who fails to vote then is shirking his duty to his community, his city and his state. The voice of the voter cannot be heard unless it is loud enough and insistent enough to be heard above the shouting of the political bosses.

Mr. and Mrs. Voter, go to the polls Tuesday, August 14, and let your voice be heard.

ORDINANCE PROVIDES FOR IMPROVING CAR TRACKS ON DREXEL

Pedestrian Traffic on Cassady Ave. Does Not Warrant Sidewalks Residents Say

WANT SIDEWALK TO CURB ON ELM

Bexley Council passed an ordinance providing for the paving of Drexel avenue from Main street to Dale avenue between and adjacent to the street car tracks.

The proposed sidewalks for Cassady avenue north of Brentwood were objected to by a petition of the property owners on that portion of Cassady affected by the sidewalks. Howard Heed, 234 South Cassady avenue, protested against the construction of the sidewalks declaring that there is not enough pedestrian traffic to make sidewalks necessary and that they would detract from the beauty of the street.

Dr. Edward C. Mills, 220 South Cassady avenue, presented a petition to put the sidewalk to the curb on Elm avenue from Cassady to Remington road, instead of a few feet from the curb. The petition was referred to committee.

A petition to cinder the alley between Euclaire avenue and Cassingham road south of Astor street was referred to the street committee.

Extension of time was granted to A. G. Pugh, paving contractor, from August 15 to 25 for completion of improvement of Havenwood Drive South.

Extension of time was also granted to Albert J. Dienst, contractor, from September 1 to 15 on improvement of Dawson avenue, Cassingham road and Elm street.

The vacating of the alley between S. Ardmore road and S. Cassingham road from Powell avenue north was referred to committee.

A petition for the vacation of the alley east and west between Fair avenue and Brentwood road from Cassady avenue to Dawson was presented to council, was referred to committee.

RETURNS UNEXPECTEDLY AND FINDS HER HOUSE VERY BADLY UPSET

Upon her return from a ten day trip through New York and Canada, Mrs. David Cohen, 263 South Cassady avenue, found that her maid had thrown a party. The house was much the worse for having witnessed the affair.

Ten dollars in gold was taken and a purse valued as a keepsake was ruined. A Studebaker car which had been left in the garage was the worse for wear with a smashed fender and a damaged tire.

Mrs. Cohen who had expected to be gone two weeks or longer had left the maid, Sara Betty Barnes, 20, colored, in charge of the house. The maid was placed under arrest and is now back in the Girls' Industrial school at Delaware.

The driver of the car has not been found. The car according to the maid was used to convey the party guests to a Negro convention.

NEW AUTOMATIC TUNING ELIMINATES USE OF DIALS

Carl H. Braun, Radio Shop, 1536 East Main street, has in stock a Zenith radio which is equipped with the new automatic tuning, which does away with the old method of tuning in by numerous twists of the dial. This automatic tuning is to the radio what the starter is to the automobile.

By merely pressing a button you may tune in on your favorite station. Then by pressing another button you may get another station.

These buttons are arranged somewhat similar to the keys on a typewriter, although there are only nine buttons to the twenty-eight or thirty keys of the typewriter. You set the tuning instrument for your nine favorite stations and then the rest is merely pressing a button, you can forget all about your log record for you will not need it.

The stations may at any time be changed to any other nine stations by merely turning a thumb screw.

The Zenith radio is the only radio on the market at present equipped with automatic tuning.

TWO BEXLEY BOYS INTERVIEW "LINDY" AT MORRIS HOME

"Lone Eagle" Greets High School Students Cordially Late Last Thursday Night

LAUFFER GETS INTERVIEW

While Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh was paying a brief visit to the village of Bexley, last Thursday, Francis G. Lauffer, 2549 Bryden road, and Burton Elder, 690 College avenue, had the pleasure of meeting and talking with him. The two Bexley High students enjoyed a twenty-minute visit with the "Lone Eagle" at the home of C. L. Morris, 173 S. Parkview avenue, where he stayed overnight.

According to Lauffer, "Burton and I were leaving a downtown show when we first learned of Colonel Lindbergh's presence in Columbus. We immediately went out to Norton Field in the hope that we might find him.

"When we arrived at the field, it was completely dark and we were leaving when we met a reporter and a United Press correspondent who were also looking for the colonel. We joined forces and after an hour's seach, found him at Mr. Morris' home with Lieut. McKee of the field.

"The Colonel greeted us very cordially and now that I think of it, it seems quite a wonder that a man of his prominence should stand for a couple of boys bothering him at the unholy hour of 11:30.

"His first words when asked about his trip were: "Well, I came over from New York today. I am making a survey for the T. A. T. The length of my stay is indefinite. My destination is indefinite. That's about all there is to it." With that he broke into a big smile and his blue eyes twinkled.

When asked about matters he did not care to be quoted on, he would parry them, not with a word of rebuke, or with a bored look, but with a winning, sort of mischievious smile like he was having a lot of fun keeping secrets to himself.

He acted so natural, so frank, so modest, so friendly, that I was almost tempted to call him "Lindy."

He was so obviously sincere when he was asked to stress the importance of Columbus' obtaining a suitable airport more than the personal side of his visit, that there could be left no doubt in our minds that "America's Lindy" is the truly modest young lad his chroniclers have painted him to be.

"It was a wonderful experience, and Burton and I consider ourselves quite lucky in having met the first man to fly from New York to Paris."

SEEKS WORLD WAR BUDDY

Bexley police have been asked to aid in the search for Frank Seigfred world war veteran who is believed to be working in a gas station in Columbus. Charles Booth of Logan, W. Va made the request. Booth and Seigfred belonged to Company C, Second Division of the Marine Corps.

Mrs. Oscar C. Altmaier and children, John, Robert and Mary Louise 292 North Drexel avenue, are at Mullet Lake, Mich., until September.

Mr. Walter H. Nieman, 2390 Sherwood road, and Dr. Harry E. Myers 482 Wilson avenue, are on a three weeks' fishing trip in Canada.

WILLIAMS BECOMES NEW ACTING DEAN OF Y.M.C.A. LAW SCHOOL

Will Fill Vacancy Due to the Death Of Charles R. Frankham, Former Head of College

IS GRADUATE OF HARVARD

Announcement of the appointment of Curtis C. Williams, Jr., 1071 Bryden road, as acting dean of this college was made from the offices of Charles M. Roudebush, director of the Columbus Y. M. C. A. Schools. The new dean has been associated with the Columbus College of Law since the fall of 1927 when he assumed a law lectureship by the late dean, Charles R. Frankham.

Graduation with honors from two eastern universities, service in the diplomatic corps in London and the Far East, association with one of the foremost legal firms in New York City, marriage with the daughter of the Danish minister to Siam, and return to Columbus to become associated with his father's law firm are some of the highlights in the career of this new law school dean.

Besides winning the junior first Honors Prize at Princeton, Mr. Williams received highest honors at his graduation from that university in 1917.

Between his graduation from Princeton and his entrance in the Harvard Law School, he was associated with the United States diplomatic service for five years, first as secretary to the American embassy at London under Walter Hines Page and John W. Davis and later as secretary to the legation at Bankok, Siam, where he was Charge d' Affaires ad interim during 1921 and 1922.

Practice for a year in New York City with the firm of Carter, Ledyard and Milburn was followed by his return to Columbus to become a member of the firm of Williams, Nash, Hays and Thomas.

English-Born Woman Finds Many American Expressions Foreign

England, the home of the sixteenth century ancestors of many of us Americans, has never seemed to be a foreign country, especially to those tourists who have arrived there after language bouts in France and Italy. It will be a surprise to us, therefore, to learn that the United States seems foreign in many ways to a native-born English woman, even in the matter of language, or rather in the matter of idiom.

Yet that is the experience that has come to Mrs. G. E. Strauss, 769 Fairwood avenue, who was born in England, who lived most of her girlhood and young womanhood in London and who did not come to the United States until after her marriage to Mr. Strauss, whom she met in France while both were helping win the war.

"Accent is Different"

It's the accent, the intonation placed upon words, as well as the different expressions, which puzzled Mrs. Strauss whe nshe first came into the Middle West. She tells with glee of a caller she had on the first day, a woman who had come to America as an English immigrant when she was a young girl. "I wanted to hear an English person talk again," the visitor said in explaining her eager call.

She listened carefully to Mrs. Strauss' accent and she could not conceal her disappointment. "But you don't drop your aitches," she exclaimed at last. "What part of England do you come from?" Mrs. Strauss was too polite to explain that only cockneys and other uneducated folks dropped their aitches and picked them up again, but she had a good laugh at what seems a prevalent notion about aitches among untraveled Americans who have seen Englishmen portrayed on the stage.

American money proved very difficult for Mrs. Strauss, inspite of the fact that English money is harder to understand than any other in the world. "It wasn't the dollar or the cent that bothered me," Mrs. Strauss says, "but the strange names. I knew about a cent and a dollar, but when market folks talked about pennies nickles, dimes, quarters, half dollars, jitneys and two-bits, I was bewildered. At first I spent only dollar bills, and because I was afraid to offer change I usually had a purse that weighed about a ton.

"What's a Reel of Cotton?"

"It was embarassing, at first, to ask for a reel of cotton, when I wanted a spool of thread; for a cream jug, when I wanted a pitcher; for a joint when when I wanted a roast; for an ironmonger's, when I wanted a hardware store; for treacle when I wanted molasses; and for biscuits when I wanted crackers or cookies. I have had to learn to say 'half' and 'tomatoes' with flat 'A's' in order to make myself understood."

To find that a loin of pork is cheaper than a similar cut of beef and that ham is one of the most expensive of meats was surprising to Mrs. Strauss because of the fact that beef, the national English dish, is comparatively cheap while pork is so expensive as to be a luxury. On the other hand bacon and ham are quite cheap in England. Mutton Mrs. Strauss misses, for English mutton has a flavor that is unexcelled. She says she cannot get used to baking meat in a pan, because in England, a "joint" always is hung on a small hook with a dripping pan underneath and is roasted as it used to be in the days of wood fires.

Mrs. Strauss has grown very fond of sweet corn, both on the cob and in cans, although at first she thought the practice of eating the vegetable from the cob a "messy" one. She has grown used to seeing melons and corn growing in the fields and enjoys the peaches that do not have to be shipped in from far-off lands.

For amusement Mrs. Strauss now goes to the "movies," rather than to the "pictures" and to "vaudeville' rather than to "the music hall" or the "variety show."

Our Vacation Problems

Cooperation.

That is the word we want. Cooperation is what we need at this trying time of the year. When other people are happy on their vacation knowing that some capable person is filling their shoes comparatively well, we are worrying about whether we can arrange our work so that someone can do their work and ours too, if we should leave for a week or so.

One member of the staff is now on a vacation, and the other members of the staff are assuming the duties formerly receiving the full attention of one person.

Just how the other two members of the staff are to take their vacation has not as yet been decided. But with the cooperation of the readers of the "Times" who will aid us in gathering news we feel that we may be able to arrange a vacation for all. In the meantime all we ask is that our readers be fair in their criticisms of our efforts to publish the paper with a vacation depleted staff.

Dear Sir:—James N. Linton, candidate for State Central Committee, is a relative by marriage to the writer.

This (Sunday) morning, I took a walk, 'constitutional,' from my residence, 1261 Mooberry St., around the neighborhood, passing the corner of Miller and Main Sts. enroute. Seven different people spoke to me during this walk, of having seen Mr. Linton's advertisement in The Eastern Times.

Yours cordially,
William E. Mettle.

How It Started

By Jean Newton

OUR "HOT CHOCOLATE"

"A HOT chocolate, please!" The most popular beverage the soda fountain has to offer, cocoa has come to be regarded as an American institution; that is, we never give a thought to whence it came, or where. And the lover of the "hot chocolate" should visit Cuba or the West Indies and order a cup of his favorite drink. There he will find the original and real "hot chocolate," prepared so thick that one cannot actually drink it, but must eat it with a spoon. For that is how cocoa is drunk by the natives of tropical America, where it had its origin.

It is to Christopher Columbus, returning to Spain after his first trip to the West Indies, that we owe the knowledge and the use of cocoa or chocolate, which was introduced by him into Europe and thence to civilized America. Landing on the shores of the West Indies he had found the natives drinking the chocolate beverage, and among the souvenirs with which he returned from the new world were some cocoa or, properly, "cacao" beans, from which is produced cocoa and eating chocolate.

It is interesting to note that the most important species of the cacao tree is called the "Theobroma," which is Greek for "food of the gods."

SAWS

FOR THE GOOSE—

A BRAVE act don't always mean that a man is brave any more than a chaste life necessarily means a woman is virtuous.

The woman that's hankerin' to leave a husband or a job can find plenty o' things the matter with them.

A woman's mouth and her heart is close neighbors; but they often ain't got much in common.

It might be hard hidin' love when it exists. But not near as hard as pretendin' it when it don't.

FOR THE GANDER—

We get hated and persecuted for our bad qualities—but not as bitterly as for our good ones.

Sometimes it's trustin' a woman too far, making her unfaithful. And sometimes it's not trustin' her at all.

One father can make a better job outa supportin' ten children than ten children can make outa supportin' one father.

What a Relief!

A traveling man put up one night in a cheap little hotel, where the thin partitions of a range of bedrooms, like the stalls of a stable, stopped halfway to the ceiling. And in the stilly watches of the night he lay awake and listened to the finest demonstration of plain and fancy snoring that it had ever been his fate to hear. It was full of sudden and awful variations. Sometimes strangulation seemed imminent; then in the middle of a fantasia the agony stopped suddenly, and there was silence.

From a near-by room he heard a voice exclaim wearily, "Thank goodness! He's dead."

By F. A. WALKER

THE individual who lacks belief in himself, who approaches his daily duties timidly, fearing that he is destined to blunder and thus make a failure of his work, will find it difficult to gain and hold the confidence of others.

The man or woman whose heart is always troubled with doubt is deficient of the fundamental elements of success.

He or she is forever striving against a formidable handicap which in most cases is merely imaginary.

Some persons well equipped by education and experience for the work which they are doing are even so foolish as to give it up in moments of discouragement and start off in a new quest.

They are victims of a weakness which they should by every possible means strive to overcome.

And strange to say, this weakness prevails to a larger extent among men and women of real ability than it does among the ignorant, proving in a small measure that "ignorance is bliss."

The shy skater is apt to be afraid to try the thin ice, but the venturesome fellow doesn't care a whoop whether he breaks through or not.

In love as in war, it is generally the man who believes in himself that wins. And so it is in the pursuit of wealth and fame, often elusive to the timid, but easily captured by the stout-hearted who refuse to admit defeat.

But there is a vast difference between genuine confidence and the other kind which the egotist sees through distorted spectacles.

The former, the altogether right sort, is the steadfast, unshaken sort, which most of us need to spur us on to greater usefulness, to ourselves and to others.

One is a kind of lie which poisons everything it touches; the other is truth without virus, uplifting, hopeful, certain and as strong as the rock of ages, which we all may acquire if we go about its acquirement in the right spirit.

We almost break our necks to get a job, but when we sit down to it and face the serious responsibilities it brings with it, our courage oozes out and we find ourselves face to face with fear.

The thing to do when this foolish fear manifests itself is to summon confidence, take up our work, believe in ourselves and go through it unshaken to the very end.

If we do this steadfastly our confidence will grow so strong that neither height nor depth, nor any frowning creature of fright can daunt us or make us afraid when we are put to the severest test.

The SANDMAN STORY

THE WATER-FRONT CATS

"ME-OW, me-ow, me-ow, we're the lucky cats!"

And one night, when the cats all met on an old back fence near a deserted ferry house, they sang this song:

Me-ow, me-ow, me-ow,
We're going to tell you how
We've given the best of things to eat,
The most delicious kind of meat.
We don't need the garbage tins,
We don't have to be nervous as pins
For fear the people will run us out
Of the garbage tins that are round about!
We don't notice the garbage tins much,
We're above the food in such!
We're cats of the water-front, cats you'd think poor,
But you don't know of the morning tour
Made by a lady around these parts,
She knows how to make happy cat hearts!
We may look dirty, but we're well fed
This we have already said,

When the Cats Met on an Old Back-Yard Fence.

But oh, it's wonderful if you're a poor forlorn cat
To think there is some one who thinks about that.
And who thinks of the things that cats like to eat.
And who gives them each day a regular treat.
Just because we have no money,
And just because we look rather funny
Is no reason why she snubs us and passes us by,
No, she likes those who do not in Bury Me!
Me-ow, me-ow, me-ow, we're the lucky cats!

Now the cats sang this song every night, or at least almost every night, and happy they were.

They lived in a city, a city which is situated by the sea, and right near the harbor, which leads out to the sea, was the water front, where these cats made their home.

It was poor in these parts—very poor, indeed.

The cats looked forlorn, for their fur was dirty and not well-cared for, and they were untidy and rather unattractive looking.

They would dart this way and that and keep out of the way of rough creatures who might be wandering about, not caring for cats.

But for the most part they were pretty well left alone, except sometimes when they had children play with them, who petted them and who made friends with them.

But though these cats looked so shabby and lived in such a shabby part of the town, they were very happy. True, they had adventures and narrow escapes, and they looked at garbage cans in a while to be sure they didn't miss anything.

The garbage tins weren't even very interesting in this part of the town.

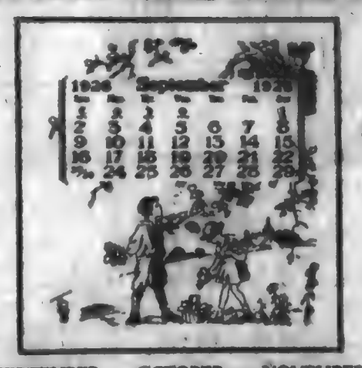
But, as they said in their song, they didn't need garbage tins.

For every morning, very, very early, an old woman walked along the water front of this city, carrying a big paper bag.

And following her and meeting and greeting her were many, many alley cats.

For in the big bag were always goodies for these old water-front cats. They had liver for breakfast and, oh, so much else that was good! Especially did these poor old cats enjoy the delicious liver.

Often in the daytime people would say how sorry they felt if they happened to be in that neighborhood and saw all the queer-looking cats about—dirty cats, cats without much ambition, it would seem. But every morning they got their wonderful meals, and they were happy and keenly alive to the joys of this world—especially the joy it was when liver and their tummies met!"



And the old woman, the cats' beloved lady? She still, each day, feeds these cats generously, plentifully. She wears an old shawl, a hat that is old, and worn-down shoes, a faded, shabby skirt. And after she has fed the cats she goes to clean out office buildings which is her job.

But to the cats she is wonderfully magnificent.

OLD WATCHES STILL MARK TIME'S GOING

Six thousand eight hundred and ninety years of ticking! That's the record established by the contents of four drawers in the wardrobe department of the Paramount studios at Hollywood.

These drawers are given over to ancient watches which are used in the making of pictures. They have been gathered from all parts of the nation during the past 15 years.

There are 121 of these antiques and all are in perfect working order.

Of men's watches there are 43 silver and 20 gold ones. These are augmented by 42 silver and 16 gold watches for women. The men's collection contains one one hundred fifty years old, six one hundred years old, 17 made more than seventy-five years ago, 21 which are sixty years old and 18 used for forty-five years or more.

The two one-hundred-fifty-year-old watches are the prizes of the collection. One is a Swiss chatelaine watch worn at the belt.

SNAPPY SAYINGS

Silence is sometimes the keenest criticism.

Matrimony destroys many delightful engagements.

The mosquito bites alike the just and the unjust.

It's a surprise party if everybody there has a good time.

Why is there so much objection to a good time that is foolish?

A good many trains of thought are unable to get off the sidetrack.

An ounce of flattery is worth more than a ton of tombstone obituary.

One can dislike practical jokes even when they are not played on him.

Every time some men look into a mirror they imagine they see a hero.

There is room in a big city for almost anything to succeed if it is a novelty.

It is easy to take the rest cure by neglecting one's tasks; that, too, is expensive.

Free speech doesn't bother us much, so long as free flight from it is still a privilege.

The future will be a great deal like the present. Prepare to make the most of it.

To the old, nearly everything is a chestnut; but it does no good to tell the young so.

More than half the time when a woman betrays a secret a man is at the bottom of it.

It is likely to be an unhappy marriage when either party thinks it a duty to "improve" the other.

Beau in Hard Luck

Hassan Effendi, who prided himself as being the Beau Brummel, of Scutaria, has been arrested and sentenced to a week's imprisonment on the charge of wearing the baggy trousers known as chalvars, universally worn under the old regime, but prohibited recently by law of the new republic. The indignant dandy has carried the case to the Court of Appeals, alleging that he wears no antique chalvar and that the trousers which roused the suspicions of an ignorant police are actually the latest dry in civilized garb, imported from the United States as "chanlopon" trousers.

Linen Airplanes

Metallized linen, a new fabric, may bring about a complete change in the construction of aircraft. It has a tensile strength of over 1,800 pounds per foot width, and is very light.

An airplane half the present weight, yet considerably stronger, could be constructed from such a fabric, while petrol tins for an Atlantic flight could be made of metallized material lighter than the thinnest aluminum.

Old Stamp Does Duty

A postage stamp printed thirty-eight years ago was used to send a letter from Brunswick, Maine, to Portland recently. It was a 2-cent stamp of the Columbian issue of 1892, commemorating the four hundredth anniversary of the landing of Columbus. The stamps, which have not been printed since that year, are of a purplish hue and depict the landing of the explorer.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hoagland and daughter, Beulah, who spent the month of July at North Port Point, Mich., returned home August 1. Mr. and Mrs. Gerald C. Lord, 1386 East Main street, occupied the Hoagland home during the family's absence.

September 1, Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Bahling will move from 1230 Bryden road to the Cambridge Arms, 926 E. Broad street.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. McCrum, College avenue, left Tuesday evening for Atlantic City for two weeks vacation trip.

The following people attended the Fravel, Claypool and Miller reunion at Baughman Park, east of Hanover, Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Fravel, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fravel, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Reedy and son Jack, Mrs. Berta Gartrell and Dan Gartrell.

Sousa and His Band in Golden Jubilee Tour to Appear at Fair in Concerts Twice Daily

The strains of "Stars and Stripes Forever", "Semper Fidelis" and other stirring marches, played under the direction of their famous composer, will float over the Ohio State Fair Grounds during the week of August 27.

America's beloved "March King", John Philip Sousa, and his band will appear twice daily at this year's Fair, according to an announcement from Director of Agriculture, Charles V. Truax.

An incident illustrative of their wide popular appeal occurred some years ago, when Sousa and his band were touring in Germany.

John Philip Sousa

They encountered an American traveler who asked who all these uniformed compatriots of his might be.

"We are members of Sousa's Band," he was told.

"Sousa's Band?" said the puzzled traveler, "I never heard of it."

"You have never hear of Sousa's Band?" shouted one of the musicians. "Stranger, I don't know what part of America you come from, but I'll bet ten dollars to one that your town isn't on the map."

No man in public life in the United States for the last fifty years is a more familiar or more popular character. His life story is the romance of a patriot through the years from the Civil War to the present time, of a staunch American, and of a citizen of the world. At fifteen he was a teacher of violin; at seventeen a conductor of operettas; at twenty-six years a national figure as a director of the United States Marine Corps Band. For thirty-six years he has been the dominating spirit of Sousa's Band, favorite entertainer of the American people, on tours at home, in Europe and around the world.

Sousa is the only man to hold commissions in the three branches of the armed forces of the United States. He was a lieutenant of Marines from 1880 to 1892, a lieutenant in the United States Army during the Spanish American War, and a lieutenant commander in the Navy during the World War. It is by the latter title, as of the Naval Reserve Forces, that he is now known.

The high esteem in which this genial conductor and his band are held throughout the country may be shown in a unique and emphatic way. It is the only musical organization of its magnitude that has ever been able to stand on its own feet financially. It has never been subsidized, and has never depended on gifts. The sale of tickets is its only source of revenue, yet it has always been a financially sound organization, even in these later years when its expenses have approached $2,000,000 a season.

This year, Lieutenant Commander Sousa is heading his band in a Golden Jubilee Tour of the country, celebrating the fiftieth year of his career as bandmaster, and the thirty-fifth year as leader of his own organization. It is in the nature of a triumphal tour, renewing old acquaintance and making new friends. The citizens of Ohio are fortunate in having the opportunity of enjoying one of the few extended visits of this famous musician.

For the engagement at the Ohio State Fair, Sousa's organization will consist of almost a hundred bandsmen, many of whom will appear as soloists, Miss Winifred Bambrick as harpist, and Miss Marjorie Moody as soprano.

Dr. and Mrs. Otto Mees and family 2311 East Main street, have returned from their summer home in Hessel, Michigan.

The forty-sixth annual reunion of the Amrine family will be held at Olentangy Park, Sunday, August 19. A program of old time music has been arranged. About sixty Amrine families live in and around Columbus.

Mrs. Paul Gregory Benedum, Pittsburgh, Texas, daughter of Mayor and Mrs. S. E. Ludwig, 2401 Bryden road, Bexley, arrived here Wednesday evening for a two week's visit with her parents. The members of her bridal party and other friends met Mrs. Benedum at the train and escorted her to the home of her parents. Numerous social functions have been arranged in her honor.

Aug. 31 Is Closing Time For Two East Side Playgrounds

Boys and Girls Are Trying Out For Places in State Fair Track Meet

EXHIBIT ON AT McCANN'S

East Side playgrounds are looking ahead to closing time Aug. 31, following the climax of the year in the form of the big track meet for all playground boys and girls at the Ohio State Fair Monday.

Prospective contestants for the track meet are trying out at the Kent-Gault and the 19th-Rich playgrounds all this week and the successful will meet others from all parts of the city in six events for each classification of the boys and girls according to ages. Any child who is old enough to go on his own responsibility or who is accompanied by responsible older folks will join his fellows at the respective playgrounds and all will go in a group to the fair grounds, where they will be admitted free.

The events are to include dashes for girls and for boys under 10, for girls and for boys under 13 and for girls and for boys under 16; a Father Time relay for girls and for boys 8, 10, 13 and 16 years of age, to be run in reverse order; a flag relay; and a hop step and jump.

The Kent-Gault playground will be run on full time until its closing, Aug. 31, while the 19th-Rich playground will be open only from one o'clock until dark during the week Aug. 27-31. An exhibit of sewing, crepe paper work and hand work done by the little tots of the Kent-Gault grounds is being held at McCann's Dry Goods Store, 1430 East Main street, Thursday and Friday of this week and the public is invited to look it over.

Wednesday the youngsters at the 19th-Rich grounds enjoyed a weiner roast and novelty track meet. They contested in a treasure hunt with a watermelon as prize; a sack race for small boys with a Hershey bar as prize; a three legged race with two tickets to the Hollywood picture show as prize; a grab race with two bottles of pop as prize; a 50 yard dash with one ticket to the picture show as prize; a posture contest with two tickets to picture show as prize; a wheelbarrow contest with two bottles of pop as prize; a horse and rider race with two tickets to the picture show as prize and a sewing exhibit.

The boys' merit club of this playground went on an over-night hike Friday and Saturday to Brice.

VERSE AND PLAYS ARE IN NEW LIST

Modern Poetry and Drama Are Purchased in Response To Demand

In response to requests for modern plays and modern books of verse, the Bexley library now has on its shelves a representative group of each type of literature, according to announcement made by Mrs. Sarah Bilby, librarian.

Two of the books of verse have a local as well as a literary interest namely, "Color of Water" by Marjorie Meeker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Meeker, 256 South Columbia avenue, and an Anthology of Junior League poetry edited by Ruth Fitch Bartlett for the Association of Junior Leagues of America.

Other new volumes of poetry intermeyer; "Enough Rope" and "Sunset Gum" by Dorothy Parker; "John Brown's Body" by Stephen Vincent Benet; Collected Poems by John G. Neihardt; and the Oxford Book of American Verse.

The new plays now on the shelves at the Bexley library are "The Devil in the Cheese" by Tom Cushing; "The Royal Family," a comedy by George S. Kaufman and Edna Ferber; "Processional" by Howard Lawson; "Behold the Bridegroom" by George Kelly and a new version in English verse by Brian Hooker of Rostand's "Cyrano de Bergerac."

EAST SIDE AND BEXLEY GIRLS WIN TENNIS PLAYGROUND HONORS

Miss Evelyn Boggess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Boggess, 451 Rhoads avenue, captured the girls' singles championship and Miss Mary Holtzman, 491 Parkview avenue, won the junior girls' singles title at the playground tennis tournament held last week on the Franklin Park courts. Play began Monday and extended through the week, with entries from all the playgrounds in the city.

PATCH UP WORST SPOTS IN STREET

The Columbus Railway Power and Light Co. had a group of workmen busy Tuesday repairing the joints in the tracks on East Main on both sides of the N. and W. crossing and filling in the worst places in the street on the side of the tracks. Only temporary work was being done, in anticipation of repaving of Main street in its entirety in the district surrounding the crossing at the time that the crossing elimination program goes through.

THIEVES BUSY DURING AUGUST

Stolen Packard of Howard Heed and Thief Are Brought Back By Bexley Police

Thieves have been active in various homes in Bexley during the past few weeks, according to reports made to Bexley police.

Howard Heed, 284 South Cassingham road, reported the theft of a Packard sedan on Aug. 10. Monday Marshal Shadrach and Chief of Police Gray went to Detroit and recovered the car along with a youth charged with the stealing of it. The youth Paul Grutsmacher of Cincinnati, who escaped from Lancaster Industrial School, confessed and was taken back to the Industrial school. He had entered also the homes of H. W. Webb 233 Preston road and O. C. Manly 1425 South Parkview avenue.

Williard Miller, 70 Parkview avenue, reported the theft of a broach containing three diamonds, valued at $3,000, and a ring containing one diamond set in platinum valued at $500. He suspects a colored man who does odd jobs about the Miller home, this man having been seen coming from the house the day of the robbery.

L. M. Smeltzer, 356 North Dawson avenue, was the victim of a robber who broke into his garage and stole carpenter's tools valued at $30. Included were one plane, two saws, two hatchets, one square, three paint brushes and other valuable tools and hardware.

Arthur V. Harding, 171 South Columbia avenue, told police that $125 had been stolen from his home, the thief having gained entrance by raising the screen covering a window that was partly open.

EASTERN TIMES HELP LOCATE WAR BUDDY

An item carried in last week's issue of The Eastern Times, telling of the search being made by Charles Booth of Logan, W. Va., for his world war buddy, Frank Seigfred, had the desired result. Mr. Booth found his pal at 3483 E. Main street, Whitehall, where he owns a grocery, confectionery and auto service shop.

The two men had served together in Co. C, second division of Marine corps. Mr. Booth was anxious to find his buddy, not only to talk over old times but to ask for the loan of enough money to get him back to Logan, W. Va. He got it and Mr. Seigfred has the promise of repayment and the pleasure of welcoming a friend of 10 years ago.

MYERS Y. COOPER TO ATTEND CORNER STONE CEREMONIES

Republican Candidate for Governor To Speak at Wilson Avenue Reformed Church

HOUR SET AT 5:30 P. M.

The first opportunity of seeing and hearing the Republican candidate for Governor of Ohio since the primaries last Tuesday will be given to Columbus folks in general and East Side folks in particular Sunday, when Myers Y. Cooper of Cincinnati will be the principal speaker at the ceremonies of laying the cornerstone of the Wilson Avenue Reformed church building.

Mr. Cooper, who is president of the Ohio Council of Churches, will speak in that capacity and will talk in a congratulatory way of the progress of the church at the corner of Wilson and Fair avenues.

The ceremony is set for 5:30 o'clock so that the regular young people's meeting at 6:30 o'clock will be omitted for one week. Others on the program besides Mr. Cooper will be Rev. S. I. Royer, pastor of the Reformed church of Canal Winchester, and Rev. Clarence Woods pastor of the Wilson Avenue church, who will introduce the visitors and will make the explanatory remarks. The only two surviving charter members of the church, Mrs. Robert H. Overly, 1094 Hunter avenue, and Mrs. D. F. Nickey, 47 Brehl avenue, will have appropriate parts in the ceremonies.

Contents of Box

The cornerstone will contain a list of members of the present congregation, a list of contributors to the building fund, copies of church papers autographed by the editors and copies of daily papers autographed by the editors. The general contractor, F. L. Matthews and his workmen will be present to help with the actual placing of the stone.

The Wilson Avenue church was organized in 1880 and has had Rev. Woods as its pastor for two years, during which time the church has experienced a remarkable growth. With the completion of the new church quarters it is hoped to have adequate room for expansion among children, young people and adults.

The Young People's society, which has been homeless since the start of building activities, has been conducting a Good Will Tour during the summer, visiting a different young people's society each Sunday evening. The attendance has been kept up to 80 each Sunday and the enthusiasm for the idea has gained with each week. Robert Matthews, a student at Central Theological seminary at Dayton, who has been assisting Rev. Woods this summer, has been directing the tour and Calvin Heinlein is president of the society.

The public is invited to attend the corner stone laying ceremony Sunday evening.

BROKEN TROLLEY HOLDS UP TRAFFIC

Just at the rush hour late Monday afternoon a trolley broke on the Livingston avenue and Lockbourne road. Traffic was held up for some time when, alarmed by the sparks flying from the live wire, residents called the fire department. It put in its appearance, but little damage was done and the engines returned without using their supply of water and chemicals.

CANDIDATE MAKES HIS FIRST SPEECH HERE

PRAY FOR RAIN, IS COMPANY'S ANSWER

Cement Work Cannot Be Done on Main St. Until Showers Settle Ground

Residents in the neighborhood of Miller avenue and Main street, who have been annoyed by the piles of brick, gravel and cement left by the company doing the repair work, in connection with the laying of new telephone wires, will have to pray for rain. For until rain comes, the streets and sidewalks cannot be cemented, and until the cement work is done, the debris cannot be removed.

This is the information that comes from the office of the Hirsch Construction Co., 209 South Third street by The Eastern Times. Several complaints were made Tuesday to the company because two automobiles in rapid succession got stuck in the pile of gravel lying along the west side of Miller avenue, south of Main street. Both autoists, one of them a woman tourist from New York City, thought they could drive their cars through the gravel in order to avoid waiting for north-bound traffic, but they were ignorant of the fact that pieces of cement were lying underneath the gravel. They were unable to move the autos without assistance from passers-by. This pile was removed by the Hirsch Co. Tuesday as the result of the complaints.

Superintendent Gardner of the construction company explained Tuesday that the cement work could not be done until the ground settled properly and that the ground does not settle until after a rain. He says that he has his men ready to clear up the job as soon as Ole Jupe Pluvius sends down some showers.

ON FACULTY OF NEW Y. COLLEGE

Dr. W. O. Doescher, 531 S. Drexel avenue, is a faculty member of Columbus' newest college as well as of Capital university. In the former instance, he appears on the rooster of the new Columbus Y. M. C. A. College of Commerce, Arts and Engineering as professor of philosophy and psychology.

Dr. Doescher, who took his undergraduate work and his master's degree at Capital and received his doctorate of philosophy from Harvard will resume his classes at the Y. Sept. 10 when all of the collegiate work, except the classes of the Columbus College of Law, and both of the preparatory sections — the Day School for Boys and the Evening High school begin their fall term. Dr. Doescher was a member of the faculty of the forerunner of the present Y College last year when he became associated with the Evening Junior College at its inception a year ago this fall.

IT WAS A BOY!

The folks on the East Side and Bexley were interested Saturday evening when they saw a young man in a green Essex car, driving around in circles with an eight-by-ten grin on his face. They wondered if he had inherited a million. As he stopped at one house, he did not take the time to go around to the door, but jumped through the front window, saying "It's a boy."

The young man was Paul Jones, 810 Miller avenue, whose wife had just presented him a son, whom they named Robert Paul. Mrs. Jones and her son are getting along fine.

EVERYTHING IS IN READINESS FOR SCHOOL OPENING

New Bexley Kindergarten Is To Be Established in East Main St. Grade Building

TEACHERS MEET SEPT 3

Vacation days are rapidly coming to a close and local educators are preparing for the reception of thousands of pupils who will give up thoughts of blissful days of fishing and swimming and return to thoughts of books.

Bexley and Columbus schools will open Sept. 4, the day after Labor day. Superintendent H. C. Dieterich of the Bexley schools is announcing a general teachers' meeting for Monday, Sept. 3 at 4 p. m. in the Junior High school building on Cassingham road, at which time he will discuss the work of the coming year.

All teachers have been employed, 50 in number, and all books and supplies have been ordered. The text books will be handled by the Elenore Reddy Shoppe on Drexel avenue in the new Morrison block. In former years the Capital University Book store has done this service for the Bexley schools.

A new kindergarten will be organized in the grade school building on E. Main street. As far as possible its equipment will be a duplicate of that used in the kindergarten in the Junior High school building. Miss Dorothy Newcombe, who has had six or seven years experience in the kindergartens of Columbus schools, and who comes highly recommended, has been employed as teacher for the new kindergarten.

Superintendent Dieterich is spending this week doing institute work in Meigs county at Pomeroy. He is giving two lectures each day for five days. Mr. Dieterich will return to Bexley Friday evening and will be in his office in the high school building on East Main street the week of Aug. 27 to confer with parents and teachers concerning the work of the coming year.

ARRESTED AFTER MIDNIGHT VISIT

A. B. Rowland of Remington Road Is Charged With Illegal Possession and Sale

Sleuthing at midnight after three hours of "tagging after" a suspected purchaser of bootleg liquor resulted in the arrest at 12:30 o'clock Thursday morning of A. B. Rowland, 241 North Remington road by Marshall Shadrach, Chief of Police Gray and Officer Bradfield of Bexley and Constable Hanes of Marion township. Rowland was charged with illegal possession of liquor and of illegal sale of the same commodity and pled guilty before Squire Kuhn Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

Sentence was deferred by Squire Kuhn until Aug. 27, and Rowland was released on a $1000 bond until that time. Rowland had been arrested a year ago on the same charge by state prohibition officers, police declared.

The Bexley police officers had been tipped off that Rowland was operating a still and that they could get evidence by watching a certain man who was in the habit of buying his liquor from that source. At nine o'clock Wednesday night they started upon the search and when they walked in upon Rowland after midnight he was too surprised to protest, accompanying them to the county jail without a word.

DRY WALL CONSTRUCTION PREVENTS DAMPNESS

Because of the large number of homes on the East Side and in Bexley which have had water standing in the basements during heavy storms, contractors and construction engineers have turned their attention toward solving the problem until new sewage systems will have been installed. The Dry Basement Wall Co., 16 W. Goodale street, is meeting the problem in many new Columbus and Bexley homes and is guaranteeing an absolutely dry wall and floor by mechanical construction and natural control of the water surrounding the foundation.

The construction, its officials say, is based upon U. S. patents and is protected by it. They assert that the cost is 50 per cent less than the old method of tiling and promise that the construction will prevent dampness and water entering the basement, keep the foundation from settling and the plaster from cracking.

Bexley Is Host To Lutheran Convention Of Synod Of Ohio

Christ Lutheran Church for Third Time is Welcoming Host Of Delegates

TO SERVE MEALS

Bexley is acting as host the latter part of this week and the first part of next week to more than 400 Lutherans from all parts of the United States and Canada and from foreign missionary fields who are attending the 49th biennial convention of the Joint Synod of Ohio. Christ Lutheran church, of which Dr. C. V. Sheatsley is pastor, is acting as host, welcoming the delegates and visitors, providing them with rooms in Capital university dormitories and in homes and serving them meals.

The convention is meeting in Mees Hall on the Capital university campus and in so far as possible the out-of-town Lutherans are being lodged in the dormitories used for men and women students during the school term. A committee of women from Christ Lutheran church are cooking and serving the luncheons and dinners each day during the convention in the dining hall of the church and they expect to repeat their record of two years ago, when they served 4600 plate luncheons and dinners.

Mrs. Geist in Charge

Mrs. Al. Geist is president of the Ladies' Aid Society which is doing this hospitable work and her general committee consists of Mrs. Charles Schaaf, Mrs. Henry Schleppi, Mrs Richard Atzinger and Mrs. D. O. Clevenger.

Preliminary committees met Tuesday and Wednesday in Mees Hall while the convention proper open Thursday morning. All religious services are scheduled for Christ church the first one having been held Thursday morning at 8:45 a. m. in the form of a communion service. Rev. Sheatsley was in charge and Dr. C. C. Heir delivered the sermon. The rest of Thursday, Friday and Saturday were given over to business sessions in Mees Hall.

Sunday morning Rev. R. D. Linhart of Detroit will deliver the sermon at Christ church and in the evening the commissioning services for Rev. and Mrs. William Fritz as missionaries to India will be held. Dr. Sheatsley will have charge of the commissioning service and Rev. James Schillinger of Marion will give the sermon. Rev. Fritz was graduated from Capital university last June. He and Mrs. Fritz will be accompanied by Miss Ruth Meyer, who has spent two years in the mission field and who was graduated in the church workers' course at Capital last June. The junior and senior choirs of Christ church will furnish music for this occasion.

The concluding religious service will take place Tuesday evening with Prof. W. H. Hellman of Spokane, Wash., as preacher and the Trinity Lutheran choir leading the music.

The 135 voting delegates to this convention is being asked as a part of the educational program to grant permission for the appointment of a fiscal agent for Capital university to take charge of collecting funds. Also they will be asked to approve a new home for the president, Dr. Otto Mees. The present home on East Main street, nearly 75 years old, is reported as being dismal and unsafe with crumbling plaster and inconvenient fixures.

HOLD-UP MAN IS FRIGHTENED AWAY

As he was leaving his garage last Friday evening at 11 o'clock, Karl S. Dixon, 2585 Bexley Park road, was held up by a white man who commanded him to halt and put up his hands. Mr. Dixon, instead of complying at once, called to Mrs. Dixon who had gone on ahead, to run. She screamed and the hold-up man ran also, but in an opposite direction.

Mr. Dixon described his assailant as being 5 feet, 9 inches tall, 150 pounds in weight and wearing a blue shirt and light cap.

THIRD ACCIDENT OF DAY SERIOUS

Officer Antle of Bexley Police Force Hurts Ankle and Bruises Body

In the third accident in less than 12 hours at the corner where East Broad street meets Stanbery and Dawson avenues, Motorcycle Officer Ralph Antle of the Bexley Police force was painfully injured Wednesday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock. Officer Antle was chasing a speeder, going at a high rate of speed on Dawson avenue and as he reached Broad street, an automobile driven by Rudolph Eberhard, 1058 West Mound street, turned into him, striking the rear wheel of the motorcycle.

The police officer was thrown to the street, twisting his foot in such a way as to break an ankle bone, and bruising his body badly. He was taken to Grant hospital, where an X-Ray picture was taken by Dr. M. H. Turton, but by evening he was well enough to be removed to his home at Roosevelt avenue and Charles street. Mr. Antle was bruised about the body, when he fell off his motorcycle on a smooth street several months ago.

The other two accidents resulted in no injury to human life. Before daylight two automobiles collided at Broad street and Stanbery avenue, but the cars were carted away early in the morning, leaving broken wooden spokes as testimony of a collision. About 7:30 o'clock John Dysart, 2218 Wilshire avenue, who was going fishing with a companion, reached for a cigarette at this fatal corner and lost control of his wheel.

The car tore across the curb, demolished a light standard and hit a tree. The front of his Chevrolet coupe was badly damaged.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Jeffries of Louisville, Ky., were over-night guests of Mrs. Edna Raridan, 443 Miller avenue, Monday. They were enroute to Akron to visit their son, Irwin, who is playing in the Akron baseball league.

They were chosen by the missionary society of the Wilson Avenue Reformed Church.

Suburbanites May Make Formal Protest Against Schedule Change

Tuesday, Sept. 11 at 10 a. m., has been set as the hour for the hearing before the Ohio Public Utilities commission of the proposal of the Southern Ohio Public Service Co. to put into effect a two hour schedule for passenger cars between Columbus and Zanesville, instead of the one hour schedule now in effect.

Some time ago the service company filed a new schedule with the utilities commission providing for the two hour service. The commission ordered the company not to put such a schedule into effect until after a complete investigation had been made and a thorough examination of costs and income had been undertaken. Since that time a number of complaints have been lodged with the commission by residents of the suburban communities east of Columbus and by summer commuters to Buckeye Lake, protesting against the proposed two hour schedule.

All persons who are interested in making such a protest formally are urged to be present at the public hearing Sept. 11, according to D. A. Archer of the utilities commission. It will be held in the Wyandotte building.

A canvas of the situation made among users of the suburban cars by the Eastern Times shows that they are not in favor of the attempt of the service company to receive permission to run alternate service of car and bus, instead of the parallel service now existing. The suburban dwellers say that the bus discourages short trips and as a result the fare is more than three times as expensive on the bus than on the car, if only a short trip is taken.

The Southern Ohio Public Service Co. has not yet submitted any definite figures to the utilities commission, but its employers saying it is losing as much as $5000 a day.

School children from Cedarhurst and points farther east are disturbed by the report that the 8 o'clock car which gets them into Bexley by 8:45 is to be taken off and that they will have to take the 7 o'clock car and wait for more than an hour until school is convened.

HOME AGAIN!

This week and next is seeing the return of vacationists from the joys of fishing, swimming and motoring to the evry day joys of office, home and school. We have just returned from a motor trip along the Ohio river, which made us realize more deeply than ever how beautiful the scenery in Ohio is. Over hills, through valleys and into quaint villages which lie along the river as they did in Civil War days, we found an ever-fascinating road. And there was not a single road, not a single village without huge posters, telling of the Ohio State Fair to open next week. It is probably the most widely advertised event of the year.

The Eastern Times will be interested to hear of the vacation joys of our readers and to know of the plans being made for the coming autumn and winter. You will find the editor always ready to talk with you about these items and you will find our readers always interested in hearing about them. Call us up on the telephone or write to us.

WET BASEMENT A BEXLEY PROBLEM

Home Builders Urged To Consider New Principle

Modern home construction is only partly successful without dry basement floor and wall footing. Yet a large percentage of the homes built today in Bexley are unsatisfactory in this respect. Wet basements are no longer necessary.

Basement wall and floor construction along a simple mechanical principal is now available for controlling the seepage of water into the basement. The house under construction at 155 South Remington road, Bexley, is built according to this new waterproof method and will be demonstrated to those interested. This system has also been installed at 1304, 1324, and 1343 East Twentieth avenue.

You will not have to clean out your basement even after the heaviest downpour, if you take advantage of the latest improvements in house building. Home builders, you should insist upon every effort being made to insure a dry basement. A wet basement is a menace to the health of your family.

You can have a dry basement in all kinds of weather for less than the cost of tiling. Think what it means to you to have dry walls and floors in your home. Call C. F. Weichold, 16 West Goodale street, Ad. 5108, for a demonstration or further information.—Adv.

All-Ohio Art Show Planned for Fair

An All-Ohio Art exhibit has been planned for the Ohio State Fair, August 27 to September 3, for the first time since the establishment 73 years ago of the annual statewide exhibit.

Only paintings of native Ohio artists will be hung at the show this year. Collections are at the present time being made from Cincinnati, Dayton, Columbus, Toledo, and Cleveland by Hoyt L. Sherman, who is in charge of the exhibit. Arrangements permit any Ohio artist to submit his work, and if it merits attention and is deemed worthy of recognition, it will be placed with the collections made from the various cities.

No entry fee will be charged.

Gallery tours will be conducted by Karl S. Bolander, Director of the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts.

Concurrent with the exhibition of Ohio paintings will be held the first annual print show, where etchings, lithographs, and block prints, all collected from Ohio artists, will be on display. Daily demonstrations of the processes will also be made.

WHAT ARE SHELLS?

Shells are bones like skeletons,
But worn outside you see—
To keep the clams and oysters safe
From various enemies.

Mother's Cook Book

And I will trust that he who heeds
The life that hides in mead and wold,
Who hangs yon alder's crimson beads
And stains these mosses green and gold,
Will still, as He hath done, incline
His gracious ear to me and mine:
Grant that we ask aright, from wrong debar,
And, as the earth grows dark, make brighter every star.
—Whittier.

SEASONABLE DISHES

CHICKEN is a main dish which is always popular whatever the season. The following is one which will add to your menu:

Cadillac Chicken.

Wipe a chicken dressed for broiling, sprinkle with salt and pepper, place on a broiler over a hot flame of coals for eight minutes. Remove and rub over with the following mixture: Cream four tablespoonfuls of butter and add one teaspoonful of made mustard, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of vinegar and one-half teaspoonful of paprika. Sprinkle with three-fourths cupful of buttered crumbs and bake in a hot oven until the crumbs are brown.

Pimento Canapes.

Cut bread into one-fourth-inch slices, shape with a round cutter and saute in butter. Drain canned pimento dry between towels and shape with a round cutter; then saute in butter. Remove to the bread, garnish with a border of finely chopped parsley. Serve hot.

Orange Puffs, Orange Sauce.

Prepare a cottage pudding mixture and bake in buttered gem pans. Beat the whites of three eggs until stiff and add one cupful of powdered sugar gradually, beating constantly, then add the grated rind and juice of two oranges and the juice of one lemon.

Fill cream puff shells with ice cream and serve with a chocolate sauce. This is not only a quick dessert but one which is very well liked. The sauce may be maple or caramel if preferred.

Bugle That Ended War

The principal museum of Wenden in Westphalia contains a treasure in the form of the bugle that sounded the end of the war. It was blown by German Staff Bugler Zebrowsky on the eve of November 7, 1918, to announce to the allies the passage into their lines of the German emissaries, who were coming to sign the armistice.—Chicago News.

PUPILS ARE TO BE GREETED BY 12 NEW TEACHERS

Twenty Per Cent Increase in Enrollment is Expected by Teaching Corps

CHAPEL SERVICE TUESDAY

Into buildings that have been thoroughly cleaned and renovated for the new year and into classes which are distinguished by the presence of 12 new teachers, Bexley school students will throng Tuesday morning for the first day of school. The teaching staff has been increased by five and it is expected that the pupil enrollment will show a 20 per cent increase, Superintendent H. C. Dieterich says.

The first gathering of high school scholars will be at 8:30 a. m. Tuesday, when Dr. Otto Mees, president of Capital university will give an address and when there will be speeches by Superintendent Dieterich, Principal R. E. Kessler, Miss Marion Thomas new dean of girls and Miss Vrine Hughes, president of the Girl Reserves.

New teachers at the high school include Charles Hoel, who succeeds G. C. Fromme as science teacher; I. R. Ferbrache, who will take over additional work in science and mathematics; Lucile Seibach, who comes from the junior high to succeed Ruth Geist as English teacher and supervisor of The Torch; Leanore Valentine, a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan university, who succeeds E. Clare Schooler as teacher of physical education; and Dorothy Arbuckle, graduate of Ohio State and former teacher in Detroit, who succeeds Gertrude Brown as art teacher. Harold Grimm will teach both vocal and instrumental music in junior and senior high.

THREE STREETS TO HAVE SIDEWALKS

Decision to Place Them on Elm, Cassady And Columbia Reached After Debate

Sidewalks, to be or not to be, occupied a large share of the time of the regular council meeting Tuesday evening, which was presided over by Councilman Robert J. Wheaton, in the absence of Mayor S. E. Ludwig at Summerland Beach. Elm avenue and Cassady avenue are the two latest streets to be given sidewalks, but the decision to place them was reached only after hearing protests from councilmen and from residents.

Councilman Bonnet moved that the engineer go ahead with plans for sidewalks on Elm avenue from Cassady avenue to Cassingham, to be four feet wide and to be set three and a half feet from the curb. Dr. E. C. Mills protested saying that a 100 per cent petition of residents of Elm to Remington to Cassady asked for the walks to be set next the curb, but the engineer explained that this would be difficult on account of the position of the electric light poles.

Councilmen Manly, Bonnet and Kerr voted in favor of the motion and Pretzman and Betz voted against it. Councilman Wheaton having no vote as presiding officer.

New sidewalks also are to be placed on Cassady avenue from Broad street to Brentwood road and from Sherwood avenue to Main street. They have already been placed from Sherwood to Brentwood. These walks are to be placed 13½ feet to the inner edge. A petition asking that the walks be placed just inside the concrete base of the light standards was signed by only 20 residents.

Columbia avenue from Bryden road to Broad street is also to have walks five feet in width, set 20 feet from the curb line.

J. A. CONNOR BUYS COLUMBIA AVE. HOUSE

The large new stone residence at 185 South Columbia avenue, has been acquired by Attorney John A. Connor and he and his family expect to occupy it early in September. The deal involved the exchange of the Connor residence at 1824 Franklin avenue and a Bexley lot on South Columbia avenue, having a frontage of 80 feet. V. R. Gebhardt was former owner of the Columbia avenue home. The transaction was closed by Baldwin & Co., realtors.

Council Threatens Auto Speeders with Jail Sentences and Raises Fine Limit to $200

Supt. Dieterich Thanks Authorities For Cooperating in Protecting Children

TO MAKE OFFENDERS WORK

Bexley is to have a jail for the housing of speeders and other reckless automobile drivers, if plans suggested Tuesday evening by Councilman Allen Pretzman and concurred in by other Bexley councilmen, are brought to fruition. A session, during which indignation was expressed in regard to the reckless driving and speeding being done on the newly paved streets, especially Dawson, Cassady and Cassingham avenues, resulted in a motion introduced by Councilman Pretzman being passed by council.

The motion was to the effect that the ordinance covering reckless driving be amended to provide for a penalty not less than $25 nor more than $200. The solicitor was then authorized in the motion to determine the legal steps necessary for the establishment of a jail in Bexley and to decide upon legislation necessary for confining persons therein and for determining work to be done by them.

The necessity for a jail for taking care of prisoners convicted of speeding was impressed upon council after the chief of police reported that some speeders had refused to pay heavy fines and upon being taken to the county jail had been refused admittance because of over-crowding. County authorities have refused to handle cases of outlying villages, and they have refused to feed prisoners brought in.

"Let's feed the speeders and put them to work cutting weeds and cleaning sewers," Councilman Bonnet suggested, as he referred to the truck drivers, young "whisks" and delivery boys, who, he said, were guilty of most of the reckless driving.

Chief of Police Gray is ready to strictly enforce the 25-mile-an-hour limit and to watch closely the blind intersections on the newly paved streets, in order to warn those who speed through without stopping. An attempt is to be made to cut down shrubbery wherever it obstructs the view of autoists by bringing the matter to the attention of residents.

The increasing importance of careful driving was impressed upon council by Superintendent of Schools H. C. Dieterich, who appeared before council to thank the mayor, the police force and council for their splendid co-operation in handling the traffic problem at the schools. He brought out that the increasing habit of speeding on Dawson, Cassady and Cassingham roads, and the fact that heavy shrubbery hides the view, will endanger the lives of little children after the opening of school next Tuesday.

Superintendent Dieterich said he was getting the cooperation of the parents and teachers in impressing upon the children the necessity of observing the traffic laws and he asked council to consider whether additional measures, such as signs and the making of "stop" streets, were to be taken. He reported that he would be glad to ask the janitors at the three buildings to cooperate with the police in caring for the children as they enter and leave the buildings.

Engineer Kennedy, upon reporting that the city of Columbus had changed the color of the paint on its street signs to an aluminum background with black paint, was authorized to get in touch with city authorities for the purpose of making Bexley signs uniform, if such a measure were advisable.

Marshall Shadrach reported that the street light schedule had been changed three-quarters of an hour in the morning and an hour in the evening with the shortening of the days.

EASTERN TOURISTS HIT ON MOUNTAIN

Mr. and Mrs. Case and E. A. Holz of Brentwood Road Escape Serious Injury

Mrs. Claude L. Case and her daughter, Miss Adelaide Case, and her brother, E. A. Holz, 2373 Brentwood road, narrowly escaped serious injury when their automobile was run into as they were climbing Polish mountain, east of Cumberland, last Friday.

Mrs. Case and Miss Case left a week ago Sunday for a motor trip East as far as Washington, D. C., and were joined there by Mr. Holz. They were on route home and as they were nearing Cumberland it began to rain. They started to climb the mountain in second speed, when Miss Case, who was driving, noticed a man who was driving an Overland car down the mountain, skid on the wet road and come careening toward her.

The descending car struck sidewise, breaking the steering gear, crumpling the fender and denting the body badly. Mrs. Case was thrown so violently that one of her hairpins was jabbed through her ear; Mr. Holz was scratched and bruised, but Miss Case escaped without injury. The driver who struck them refused to give his name or show his driving license.

The three from Bexley were taken into Cumberland by a passing motorist and returned home by train early Sunday morning. Their car is being held in Cumberland for repairs.

RAIL-LIGHT CONDUCTOR IS CUT ON HEAD

P. C. Radebaugh, 522 Kelton avenue, a Main street line conductor for the Columbus Railway Power & Light Co. was cut on the head when he was knocked down by an automobile driven by D. C. Stevenson, 863 Lockbourne road, Tuesday noon. He was taken to the Railway Light hospital and his condition is not considered serious.

Mr. Radebaugh had stopped at the Rail-Light substation near Kelton avenue and from there stepped into Main street from between two parked cars.

DR. SUMMERS RETURNS TO PREACH SUNDAY

Dr. H. V. Summers, first pastor of the Miller Avenue Evangelical church, will preach at that church Sunday evening. Dr. Summers was for several years presiding elder of the Columbus district and he has been appointed as pastor of the Calvary Evangelical church of Akron, one of the largest of the Evangelical churches of Akron and one of the most influential churches of the city.

WINTER SCHEDULE IS TO BE STARTED

Beginning September 4, the Bexley library will open at 8 a. m. and will close at 9 p. m., thus inaugurating the winter schedule at the same time school opens. The summer schedule, which has been in force during July and August, permitted a 10 o'clock opening in the morning.

INJUNCTION NOT STOPPING WORK

Bexley Library Board Has Filed Demurrer to Petition; Hearing Expected Soon

Work is proceeding on the digging of the foundation for the new Bexley public library building on the south side of East Main street at Cassady avenue in spite of the injunction filed by Louise Joest, 105 North Cassingham road, claiming that the contract was not and should have been awarded to the lowest bidder. No temporary restraining order was asked for by Mrs. Joest.

The library board has filed demurrer to the petition and it is expected that a hearing will be set in common pleas court before the middle of September.

Thirteen bidders handed in bids to the library board, members state, and the contract was given to the third lowest bidder, the Perle Baughman Co., whose bid was only one dollar higher than the second highest bidder. The library board claims that its statutes do not specify that the contract be given to the lowest bidder, while Mrs. Joest's attorneys claim that school statutes cover the case.

J. V. L. Henney is attorney for the library board.

REV. A. J. DORNBIRER GETS BROKEN BONE

Lutheran Book Concern Head Is Struck By Tourist, Whose Car Skidded

Rev. A. J. Bornbirer, 1784 Bryden road, manager of the Lutheran Book concern, is recovering from the results of an accident which occured last Friday, when he was struck by an autoist as he was crossing East Main street at Drexel avenue. The small bone of his left limb was broken, so that he was forced to remain in bed until Tuesday. His leg was then placed in a plaster cast and he probably will be able to walk with the aid of crutches until the break is healed.

Rev. Dornbirer, accompanied by Rev. C. F. Laier of Pittsburgh, Pa., was on his way to the meetings of the Evangelical Lutheran Joint Synod of Ohio in Mees hall. He had been eating his noon meal at the Christ church dining hall, and seeing the green light turned in his favor started to cross Main street. J. L. Tait, a tourist from Kirkwood, Mo., skidded on the street left wet by the hard rains of Friday, crashed into a car parked along the sidewalk and struck Rev. Dornbirer.

Driver of Main St. Horse Car has Lively Memories of Old Days

Columbus in the days when Main street was paved with boulders and when it took one hour and twelve minutes to go by the horse cars from Rose avenue to the car tunnel near the Union Station viaduct was the scene of the early working days of John L. Herbst, 1386 East Mound street, veteran employe of the Columbus Railway, Power & Light Co. The only surviving east end employe who drove the horse cars, Mr. Herbst is still at work as ticket agent at the conductor's station near Kelton avenue on Main street, in spite of his 74 years.

Mr. Herbst has lively and interesting reminiscences of his days as a horse car driver, having started April 8, 1888 on his career. He was first put on the "extra list" and took a few rides with the experienced men to learn the streets, the stopping points and the "time." Without further instruction, such as new motormen get today, he started off with his team of horses. His low car seated 40 passengers who climbed in through a rear door.

Stopped At Every Fence Corner

"We stopped at every alley and at every street on High street," Mr. Herbst says smilingly, "but on Main street we usually stopped whenever we saw a passenger. Main street was paved with huge boulders, so that very often our horses and mules used to stumble and fall as they dragged the heavy cars behind them. It worried me to see the beasts skin their knees, not only because they suffered when they had them bandaged at the car barn, but because we could 'catch it' from the superintendent. We had to make our time, though, and we had to urge on our horses in spite of the rough surfaces."

"Old Grey Dick" or "Grandpa," as some of the men called him, was a favorite mule of Mr. Herbst. He could always tell when it was his last run for the day, for he would "holler" every step of the way to Main and Twenty street, where the old car barns stood.

"Switchin' Billy" was another favorite, although he could never be trained to stop switchin his tail in the driver's face, Mr. Herbst remembers. This horse was in three fires, but he was never burned for he seemed to sense the danger and broke loose and tore through to Oak street each time.

The dramatic incident in these years as horse car driver was the burning of the car barns at Main and Twenty-second streets in 1890. Mr. Herbst was doing some shed work at the time and as he walked from one stall to another, he was thinking that in case of a fire the horses would never escape alive through the "Devil's Lane", as they called the passage running lengthwise between the stalls. Just then he saw flames shooting out from the hay mow, and, running out to give the alarm, he found the front almost blocked with flames. Mr. Herbst succeeded in rescuing five head of horses, but sixty-three head, including "Old Gray Dick" died in the conflagration.

Had No Traffic Problem

The car horses were then kept in the old fair-ground stalls in Franklin Park until the fall of 1890, when the horse cars were replaced with electric cars. The route was extended eastward to the creek and then it took one hour and 18 minutes to make that time.

There was no traffic problem in those days, Mr. Herbst recalls, for pedestrians and persons driving "rigs" were careful to give the right of way to the cars. The motormen were bothered, however, by huge wagons who ambled along the middle of the tracks and refused to draw aside to allow the car to pass. Mr. Herbst never figured in any accident in which people were hurt or killed and cost the company only $10 for accidents during his nearly 41 years of service.

Mrs. Earl Miller, 1552 Franklin avenue, has returned from a trip to Michigan.

TO BECOME BEXLEY'S NEW POSTMISTRESS

Mrs. Edward Looker, wife of the owner and proprietor of Looker's Tire and Battery shop, 2248 East Main street, will become the postmistress of Bexley, when the Bexley postoffice will be re-opened September 10 at the Looker shop.

Tow mail boxes will be installed in front of the shop on the morning of September 10 and an iron rail will be placed.

BIOGRAPHIES ADD TO LIBRARY STOCK

New Trader Horn Book, Lives of Hoover and Smith and Hudson's Adventures Included

A number of new biographies have been added to the Bexley Public Library during the summer. Some of these are new books, but a good many are older books which are needed to fill out the collection, and which will be found to be very good reading.

Among the new volumes are a second book by Trader Horn, called "Harold the Webbed," which will be enjoyed by those who have read the first book; a picture of Henry Hudson's adventures by Llewelyn Powys and a biography of Varina Howell wife of Jefferson Davis, by Eron Rowland.

Two new books which will be of general interest now are "Herbert Hoover" by Will Irwin, and "Up from the City Streets," by Norman Hapgood and Henry Moskowitz. The latter book is, of course, about Alfred E. Smith.

Some of the older biographies which are in a sense political accounts are "Horace Greeley," by Dorr C. Seitz; "Marcus Alonso Hanna," by Herbert Croly; Theodore Roosevelt's autobiography, and "The Confessions of a Reformer," by Frederic C. Howe.

Two biographies which might come under the heading "Founders of the Republic" are: "The True Patriot Henry," by George Morgan, and "The Many-sided Franklin," by Paul Leicester Ford.

WEED CUTTERS GET BLACKBERRY BUSHES IS COMPLAINT

When is a blackberry bush a weed? Bexley councilmen had this matter up for discussion at its meeting Tuesday upon receipt of a letter from Mrs. Laura B. Lott complaining of the loss of 32 quarts of blackberries as the result of the weed cutting campaign in the village.

Mrs. Lott's letter said that she had received a notice Aug. 7 to have the weeds cut on her lot on Bexley Park road designated as No. 206-07. She told the process server that the weeds on that lot had been cut Aug. 1 and she called the municipal offices to give the same information. Aug. 7 Dr. Lott made the same explanation to municipal authorities, adding that there were a number of blackberry bushes on the lot that she was desirious of saving.

"Aug. 14, or seven days after the notice had bee served," the letter read, "without any further notification on the part of Bexley authorities they cut 34 blackberry bushes, in addition to destroying an estimated quantity of 32 quarts of berries. I am desirious of having you take up the matter for adjustment."

The matter was referred back for investigation.

"CAP" STUDENTS TO REGISTER SEPT. 10 THROUGH SEPT. 12

First Gathering of University Will Be at Convocation in Mees Hall Sept. 13

FOOTBALL SCHEDULE OUT

Registration for Capital university will begin September 10 and will continue through September 11 and 12, with classes starting September 13. The first gathering of the student body will be for convocation September 12 at 9 o'clock in Mees Hall, with Dr. Otto Mees addressing the student body.

The enrollment for the year 1928-29 is expected to equal that of last year, when about 500 students registered. In the arts college of the university it is aimed to keep the enrollment two-thirds men and one-third women, but the elementary normal course is made up almost entirely of women.

Rev. Edward Schramm will come from a pastorate at San Antonio, Tex., to act as assistant professor in the department of Bible this year. There will be a new instructor in physical education for girls to take the place of Miss Helene Schmidt, who has resigned. The new instructor will be named this week.

The football season of Capital will open Saturday, September 29, when the new athletic field will be dedicated in a game with Baldwin-Wallace college. Friday, October 5, the team will play Bluffton there; Saturday, October 13, will be Bexley day with Capital playing Muskingum here; Saturday, October 27, is planned for Dad's day, with a game against Marietta here; Saturday, November 3, is migration day, with a game at Heidelberg; Saturday, November 10, the team will go to Hiram, and Friday, November 16, the homecoming game will be played here with Otterbein.

PREXY'S HOME MAY BE OFF MAIN ST.

Sites Facing on Pleasant Ridge, Mound and College Avenues Being Considered

Details of plans for the new home for the president of Capital university have not yet been discussed but that President Mees is to have a new home was definitely decided by delegates to the Lutheran Joint Synod of Ohio at the 49th biennial meeting held this week and last at Mees Hall. An appropriation of $20,000 was voted. It is understood that architects do not approve of building a new home on the present site, because of the prevalance of business structures near Capital university, but that they have suggested Pleasant Ridge avenue, north of the girls' dormitory, or East Mound street, east of Mees Hall or College avenue.

The present house has been occupied as a home since 1876, Dr. Mees having lived there since 1912.

Capital university theological seminary was authorized to call another professor; tuition was set at $150 with a one-third reduction for the children of ministers who support the institution and appointment of a fiscal agent for Capital was authorized.

Officers and board members elected Tuesday include Dr. C. C. Hein, 926 Studer avenue, reelected president; Prof. Carl Ackerman, 2315 East Main street, reelected English secretary; Dr. R. E. Golladay, pastor of Grace Lutheran church; John Badaman and W. L. Voeller, members of the board of administration; Dr. C. V. Sheatsley pastor of Christ Lutheran church and Prof. P. H. Buehring of Capital university, members of the board of foreign missions; Rev. C. W. Pflueger, 529 Bulen avenue, and Prof. F. C. Mayer of Capital University School of Music, members of the board of publication.

LIQUOR VIOLATOR FINED ON TWO COUNTS

Earl Smith, 29 Rogers avenue, was fined $100 and costs for illegal possession of liquor and the same amount for illegal transportation of liquor in Squire Kuhn's court Tuesday. Smith was arrested by Bexley police officer Rolland McNamee Friday on Cliftan avenue near the pumping station.

Business Office: 443 Miller Ave., at Main—S. W. Cor. (Suite 1).

News material should reach the editor's residence or the business office before Wednesday noon. Only important matter handled after Wednesday evening.

At last it begins to seem likely that we are to see the commencement of the grade crossing elimination program of the Norfolk and Western railroad on the east side. This project, the delay of which has done much toward retarding the business development of East Main street and of Bexley, will be a stupendous undertaking, with blocking off E. Broad St. at one time; of East Main street at another and of Livingston avenue at another time.

But, oh, the joy of being able to ride down Main street with the same comfort that other through streets provide; of being able to drive down East Broad street and Livingston avenue with the convicion that a 53-car freight train will not hold us up on the eastward trip and the shunting of engines on the westward trip.

It has been a long-suffering public that has endured without a murmur the almost impassible street car tracks of East Main street, the condition of which became so bad that the Columbus Railway Power and Light Co. finally of its own initiative filled up the spots and repaired the track joints at the worst places. It has been a job like people which has allowed itself to be held up day after day and hour after hour at three of its most important outlets to the east.

May their patience be rewarded soon by the awarding of the contracts to the fastest group of contractors in the world. Four million dollars will be spent. May it be spent quickly!

Insulate Your Attic With INSULITE
the Wood-Fiber Insulating Board
You can do it yourself if you know how to use a hammer and saw, and you'll enjoy the work.
It's the roof that wastes heat in cold weather and admits heat when the sun beats down.
Lining the attic with Insulite not only saves fuel in winter and insures summer comfort, but converts waste space into livable quarters such as play-room, workshop, billiard room, etc.
All-weather protection at low cost is yours with INSULITE. Ask us about it.

Makes Ironing easier

Newest Easy Models have a new type of double tub, finished in beautiful white Duco—kept clean by the swish of a cloth. The dent-proof outer tub encloses the inner tub of solid copper. The heat retaining air space between the double tubs helps keep the water hot.
The Easy puts no deep wrinkles in clothes
IRONING—said by many women to be the hardest part of washday, is made a great deal easier by the new Easy Washer. This marvelous machine has a drying tub in place of a wringer, and this tub takes the water out of garments without putting in deep wrinkles or breaking buttons. There is no water to lift and empty. All you do is move a lever. Clothes come out snowy white, washed as gently as by your own hands. The water stays hot, thanks to a special gas heater beneath the tub. You must see this marvel in action. Phone today for a special demonstration in your own home.

F. A. MILLER GIVES $1000 FOR PRIZES

Money To Be Awarded to Winners In School Garden Exhibit at East High School

Fred A. Miller, 2056 Barton place, president of the Goldman Shoe Co. has given $1,000 to be used in prizes for the best fruits and vegetables from the gardens of the school children of the city to be on exhibit Friday after 1 p. m., until Saturday at noon in the cafeteria space at East High school.

Children in all the elementary schools and in some of the junior and senior high schools have been raising flowers and vegetables all spring and summer under the direction of garden supervisors, headed by George Strong, who is also chemistry teacher at East High. Exhibits will be from the schools as a whole and from the individuals.

Mr. Strong is expecting 500 exhibits in flowers with about 8 or 10 table exhibits collected by schools; between 70 and 80 individual vegetable exhibits of several plates each; about 200 single plate vegetable groups and 25 table exhibits of vegetables.

Each of the schools in the city, including those on the East Side, are choosing representatives from the upper grades to visit the show and make reports to the respective schools next week. All members of Parent Teacher associations on the East Side are cordially invited to attend the show and take their children with them. The affair is open to the public free of charge.

Miss Helen Murphey, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Murphey, 2286 E. Main street, returned last week from [illegible] where she spent the summer.

TRAFFIC LIGHT IS AUTHORIZED FOR ELM —CASSINGHAM CORNER

A traffic light is to be installed at the intersection of Cassingham road and Elm street as a result of the passage of a resolution authorizing the expenditure Tuesday evening by Bexley council. The light is designed to protect the children who attend the Cassingham road building and was authorized after repeated requests by parents.

Whether a traffic light is needed at Broad street and Cassingham road so that school children living north of Broad street will have a safe place to cross is to be investigated by a committee of councilmen consisting of R. J. Wheaton, O. C. Manly and D. H. Kerr.

BISHOP HENDERSON TO DEDICATE UNIT

Will Speak at Service Marking Completion of First Unit of Bexley M. E. Church

Bishop Theodore S. Henderson of the Methodist Episcopal church will be the dedicatory speaker at the dedication of the new Bexley M. E. church Sunday, Dec. 2 at 10:30 o'clock. Bishop Henderson will be honor guest at this service, which will be the first one in the week of services to follow, in celebration of the completion of the first unit of the church.

This announcement has been made by Dr. Frank G. Fowler, pastor of the church, who has been re-assigned to the Bexley pastorate. The first unit of the plant contains an auditorium seating 500 persons and equipped with a pipe organ. Underneath the auditorium is a dining room with table space for 350 persons, a modern equipped kitchen, a kindergarten room and the heating plant.

The original plan for the church plant includes three units, one the cathedral part, one for the chapel and Sunday school activities and one for religious education activities, both educational and social. Although only the one unit will be available at present, the other two units will be built as soon as they are needed, according to the growth of the congregation.

Dr. and Mrs. Fowler returned recently from a motor trip through Pennsylvania and down the Shenandoah valley, returning through Virginia and West Virginia. Last week they attended the Methodist conference at Springfield.

Dispute Over Elm St. Walks To Be Settled Sept. 25 When All Councilmen Are Present

The matter of Elm street sidewalks proved to be an issue, that will not down, at Bexley council meeting Tuesday evening, when council decided to defer final decision on the placing of the walks until the next meeting, Sept. 25. Councilmen Bonnett and Pretsman, who were absent Tuesday, are expected to be present in two weeks and the postponement was granted in order that the entire body might vote on the matter now under dispute.

The protesting property owners, who were granted a temporary restraining order in Franklin County courts two weeks ago, were referred back to council by the courts. They were represented Tuesday night by Stanley Schwartz, who asked council to reconsider its decision of two weeks ago, placing the walks next the property line, rather than next the curb as petitioned by 100 per cent of the residents. He declared motorists alighting from their cars would rather step onto an asphalt walk than onto a muddy strip and that grass, shrubbery and trees would not grow in a three and a half foot strip left between walk and curb line.

Dr. E. C. Mills and William Fean also spoke on behalf of the protestants and in answer to their questions, Engineer Kennedy explained that the village had gone ahead with the laying of the sidewalks immediately after the last council meeting, not because of "malice aforethought," but because contracts had been let some time ago both for paving Elm street and for laying the sidewalks. The engineer explained also that 600 feet of walk had been laid between Cassady and Ardmore roads, at a cost of $480 and that if the position of the walk were changed, it would mean scrapping that already laid.

When Councilmen Wheaton, Kerr, Manly and Betz refused to change their position of two weeks ago, Attorney Schwartz asked for a postponement, that he might keep the matter out of the courts. His request was granted.

Want Area Extended

A petition by 30 of the property owners fronting or having a rear facing on Pleasant Ridge avenue asked that that street be included in the paving to Livingston avenue. William Yackle 904 College avenue was the spokesman. It was decided to refer the matter to the street committee and the engineer and to try to get the consent of the four other property owners affected.

The creation of an ordinance forbidding the burning of matter that would send out a noxious odor was discussed following the report of Marshal Shadrach that Bexley grocers were burning decaying vegetables, egg shells, old meat and cabbage. Complaints from Montrose avenue residents about high school students parking on both sides of the street were referred to Councilman Betz who is to confer with police officers.

The vacation of lots in the vicinity of North Parkview avenue extending to Alum Creek and designated as Maryland avenue were asked by O. A. Miller and Luella and Frank Rutherford in a petition, which was referred to a committee composed of Frank Bonnett, O. C. Manly and Samuel Betz. The petition of Charles Hood, 2433 Bryden road, that heavy trucks and hauling be prohibited on Cassady avenue after the start of the paving of Drexel avenue was referred to the street committee.

Drexel Contract Deferred

Awarding of the contract for the paving of Drexel avenue street car section between Main street and Dale avenue was deferred to allow the engineer to confer with the Columbus Railway Power & Light Co. concerning the leveling and balancing of the tracks. Marshal Shadrach was authorized to have S. L. Allspaugh remove the dirt which is extending into the street on Cassingham road at Dale avenue and the clerk was authorized to inform E. E. Ritter, 2409 Brentwood road that the village does not replace sod after the placing of street improvements and sidewalks.

The engineer was authorized to put in a street light at Grandon avenue and Charles street at the request of F. E. Probasco, 995 Grandon avenue, who offered to stand the expense. If a system of lights are ever installed on Grandon avenue, Mr. Probasco is to have his money refunded, council decided.

CHURCHES START FALL PROGRAMS

Last Two Weeks in September and First Week in October Planned As Dates

WILL HAVE TWO SERVICES

Churches of the East Side and Bexley are contemplating the start of their fall programs following the vacation period, when the pastors and many members of the congregation were travelling and resting in national and foreign spots.

Both morning and evening services will be held at Grace Lutheran church beginning Oct. 1. Dr. Golladay, pastor, has returned from a fishing trip to Algonquin National Park, Canada, and Mrs. Golladay has come home from Europe, where she toured with the Lutheran pilgrimage. The full program at Morgan Memorial M. E. church opens Sunday, Sept. 16, Rev. R. O. McRae having returned from the Methodist conference at Springfield.

Sunday will mark also the opening of the fall activities of the Wilson Avenue Church of Christ, including the gathering of the young people, 15 of whom attended the summer conference at Wilmington college.

The last Sunday in September the full program will be put in force at the First Presbyterian church. Plans are now being made by Rev. George L. Willets, who has returned from five weeks' stay in New York and Pennsylvania. Winter activities will start in October at Mayflower Congregational church, although repairs on the church and Sunday school room made in August have been completed to allow morning services during September.

The congregation of the Wilson Avenue Reformed church is hoping to get into the remodelled part of their structure, now in process of building, by the middle of October or first of November. Until that time they will [illegible] to worship in the morning at the old Eastwood avenue and the young people will [illegible] their group will tour.

Announcement is made by Stanton Motors, Inc., Chrysler distributors, of the appointment of the Pepper-Jones Co., 1174 East Main street, as East Side dealers for Chrysler and Plymouth motor cars. During the past two years the Pepper-Jones Co. has set up a record for Chevrolet sales and has made a large number of friendships through its spirit of service.

First Anniversary Is Time For Backward And Forward Look

In One Short Year The East Side And Bexley Paper Is Placed On Firm Footing

NEW DEPARTMENTS

The Eastern Times is exactly a year old today!

A year of progress, of expansion, of making friends and of establishing confidence in our integrity and in our business ability is being celebrated with this issue. Six pages full of news interesting to the East Side and to Bexley and of advertising for East Side and Bexley merchants, that will prove of benefit to residents, are the visible signs of this celebration. We wish our friends to interpret these signs as appreciation for their loyalty and as pledges that we are going ahead steadily.

The Eastern Times has no time for indulging in vanity, but a first anniversary is a time, both for looking back and for looking ahead. In both directions we have cause for pardonable pride. Just a year ago today The Eastern Times appeared at the doors of the East Side and of Bexley with no financial backing except the spoken word of friendly merchants that they needed and would support such a project. Ruth Parks, who had newspaper experience in Bremen and who wanted to come and live among her clients, had the vision of a community paper that would stimulate love and pride for the sections in which we live, and with that vision to guide her, started out.

Miss Parks Is Publisher

She chose as her editor Jean Fitzgerald and the two of them acted as the complete staff of the paper for five months. Miss Parks took entire charge of the business side of the paper and she has worked steadily ahead until after one short year, the paper is on a sound foundation. Miss Parks is now the publisher, having taken over the interest owned by J. A. Carpenter.

Miss Fitzgerald acted as reporter, copy boy, head writer, editor, make-up man and assistant circulation manager and so efficiently did she work that when she left to be married in February, she turned over to her successor a wealth of good will, as well as a wealth of news sources. Ruth Young White, who succeeded her, is an Ohio State graduate and has had six years experience on the editorial staffs of the Marietta Register Leader, the Columbus Dispatch and the London (England) Daily Express. Although she has made many new friends among her readers, she is always hoping to make others, week by week.

More Space For News

During the past year The Eastern Times has never missed a week. Some times four pages, sometimes six pages, the size has varied with the amount of news and of advertising. During the next year with most of the advertising on a contract basis, six pages will be seen much more often than last year. That will mean more space for both news and for advertising and we hope that never again will we have to leave out news sent in by interested readers. We regret that that has happened several times during the past year.

Several news departments will be added to the news department, namely: This Week's Bulletin, where notices of all sorts of meetings and neighborhood happenings will be printed for each day of the week; Among Our Merchants, where news of their progress will be recorded; Births, where new arrivals will be announced. More extensive lodge and sport news will be carried. We are expecting all our readers to cooperate with us in sending in articles for these departments or by calling the editor by telephone. They should be in the editor's hands by Wednesday afternoon.

Distribute 7,000 Papers

As for circulation, our campaign among Bexley residents has been completely successful with new subscribers being reported every day. On the east side we shall begin with our anniversary issue, distributing the paper as far south as Whittier street. That will mean that we cover a territory bounded on the south by Whittier street, on the east by the limits of Bexley, on the north by the limits of Bexley and by Broad street in Columbus and on the west by Ohio avenue, reaching 7,000 homes.

Another anniversary project will be the launching of the new classified ad section, ads for which will be used free of charge during the weeks Sept. 14 and 21. Since these ads have news as well as business value we are looking for such a section to go over big. The directory method of advertising has been successful and Miss Parks probably will continue a similar department.

Of course, with these new schemes of advertising on foot and with the growth of display advertising, Miss Parks has realized the need of an assistant. She has found her in the person of Mary F. Short, a graduate of the journalism department of Ohio State university and a former managing editor of The Lantern.

Thus with an increased staff, with increased confidence and with increased prestige, The Eastern Times begins its second year.

Mr. William J. Peters of Washington, D. C. has motored to Columbus to spend a week with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harley E. Peters, 228 South Drexel avenue. Mr. William Peters formerly was special counsel in the United States [illegible] counsel [illegible]

MRS. SARAH BILBY IS REAPPOINTED

Miss Ruth Laudahn Is Chosen To Head Children's Work and Story-Telling

REPORT FOR YEAR GIVEN

Mrs. Sarah Bilby was reappointed librarian for another year by the Bexley library board at its regular meeting Tuesday evening in the public library. Miss Ruth E. Laudahn of Wapakoneta, a graduate of the Carnegie Library school of Pittsburg, who has had two years experience in the library at Celina, O., and who catalogued the library at Wapakoneta last summer, was appointed first assistant. Miss Laudahn succeeds Miss Ruth Garbisch, who resigned to accept a scholarship at Columbia university.

The library board was unanimous in choosing Mrs. Bilby for a second year, expressing their satisfaction over her first year's work and quoting the library patrons' increased interest since her coming. Mrs. Bilby submitted her year's report and it was accepted by the board.

The report shows that the circulation figures for September, 1927 were 2376 books, an increase of [illegible] over the year before; for October, 2079, an increase of 316; for November, 1436, an increase of 39; for December 2814, an increase of 32; for January, 4440, an increase of 853; for February, 4495, an increase of 1155; for March, 5427, an increase of 1518; for April, 4690, an increase of 1075; for May, 4797, an increase of 1018; for June, 3294, an increase of 1618; for July, 3716, an increase of 1150 and for August, 3346, an increase of 722.

Mrs. Bilby was particularly pleased with the showing made during the summer months, when it was expected that circulation would drop, whereas there was an increase of more than 1,000 books every month except August.

Six hundred and seven new borrowers were added, showing a net gain of 481 during the year; a large number of whom were adults. [illegible] new books were bought, 500 of which were added copies, leaving [illegible] titles. Since 192 books were withdrawn the gain in book stock was 2199.

During Mrs. Bilby's first year [illegible] school libraries at East Main and in the Junior High building were opened. It is hoped to have Miss Laudahn take charge of the children's work in the [illegible] to start story telling. [illegible] building is finished.

ANNIVERSARY GREETINGS!

Just a year ago today The Eastern Times made its appearance at the homes of East Side and Bexley residents for the first time. An anniversary is always a thrilling occasion, but no anniversary unless it be the fiftieth or the one hundredth is more thrilling than the first one. From the haven of security of the end of the first lap, the creator of a new project can look back over the early days with an appreciative eye; he can remember the hardships of the first few weeks and he can thrill at the progress he has made. Several years of success, satisfying though they are, are never as full of absorbing interest, as the first few weeks when success is just around the corner.

And success in a small measure has come to The Eastern Times. We have never missed a week for 52 weeks and during those 52 weeks we have provided as interesting and as varied a selection of news and advertising as we have been able. But best of all we have watched ourselves getting better and better. We have put on a subscription campaign in Bexley and we have met an expectedly complimentary response, showing that we are giving a service that Bexley people like and appreciate.

East Side merchants, as well as those in Bexley, have acknowledged our worth by supporting us and bringing business to themselves. Week after week many of them have bought space and have felt repaid for their expenditure. Men, women and children in the homes that we touch have sent in interesting news items for our columns and have been generous in responding to telephone calls and to personal calls on the part of the editor.

On this our first anniversary we wish to thank our friends for their help and to ask them to cooperate with us in the bigger and better paper that we propose to issue during the second year of our existence.

MORRISON ROW IS SHOPPING CENTER

Proving Convenience To Men As Well As Women in Giving Values and Saving Steps

A row of shops that is proving a convenience to men as well as to women, not only in providing a center for the shopping district of Bexley, but also resulting in a saving in steps and in time, is that recently opened in the New Morrison building, 537-45 Drexel avenue, just off Main street.

A complete line of mens shoes is offered by the Bexley Shoe Repair Co. at 541 Drexel and the shop is equipped with modern machinery capable of the finest and most efficient shoe repairing. The Drexel Cleaning Co. at 545 Drexel does expert cleaning and dyeing both for men and women.

About a half dozen extra salespeople were added to the staff of the Eleanore Reddy Shoppe at 543 Drexel to take care of the crowds of school children who swarmed in to buy their books and their tablets and pencils. This shoppe was the headquarters for school supplies this year, the headquarters having been transferred from the Capital University Book store. Miss Reddy also carries stationery, gifts, magazines, books and operates a circulating library. Ray Johnson is owner of the shoppe.

Besides operating a barber shop at 537 Drexel, Thomas A. Wilson is providing facilities for a friendly game of billiards and is offering soft drinks, candy and tobacco. He has installed two billiard tables. The Bexley branch of the Western Union Co. at 539 Drexel is offering all the services for which the Western Union is famous.

Gorgeous wedding cakes in layers or in huge tiers, decorated in artistic style, may be had on order from the Morrison Bakery, operated by Murdo Morrison, who has had 25 years' experience in making bread, cakes and pastry. Each day he has a fresh line of cakes, cookies, various kinds of sweet and plain breads and crisp pastry.

East Side Dealers Declare New Era Introduced in Radio

New Types Superior to Older Models In All Recognized Lines; Various Features Added

FANS ENTHUSIASTIC

The keynote of radio technique, as sounded at the show, was for the utmost simplicity of radio sets. Controls have been reduced to what seems the irreducible minimum, consistent with efficiency.

The simplicity of the average socket-power radio set of today is truly astounding. One can purchase a set from the radio dealer, bring it home, connect the antenna and ground posts or wires with almost any antenna and ground, plug into nearest electric light socket or outlet, and the set begins to operate.

There is no fussing, fuming or cussing. What a contrast with a few years back, when separate components had to be brought together and then balanced up somehow for harmonious operation.

All of the receivers shown were self-containing, complete in one cabinet, necessitating no hiding of unsightly batteries, eliminators and other accessories.

Most of the larger sets will also have loud-speakers included in the ensemble, but those that are not so equipped need cause no worry for the separate loud-speakers which will be displayed will be even more beautiful than those of last year.

The cabinets, too, are works of art. Stripped of all unnecessary gadgets, they have been developed into pieces of furniture which will fit into any room. No longer is it necessary to "find a place to stick that set in."

In discussing the show with the East Side dealers it was impossible to judge which was the most enthusiastic about the particular sets each is selling. The consensus of opinion seemed to be that every new model introduced by the well established manufacturers is GOOD. Every dealer, however, had certain features in his radio which he preferred to those of the competitive lines.

First Automatic Tuning Device

The pioneer in the all electric radio which was brought into the field in 1925 came forth at the exhibition with a decidedly new feature. Zenith has been recognized as a leader in new developments from the beginning and in time with the precedent they have established have introduced the Automatic Tuning Device.

"As the old-fashioned hand-cranked automobile passed into oblivion with the introduction of the self-starter; the hand-tuned radio set of yesterday too, will soon become a memory of the past with the appearance on the radio horizon today of —Zenith Automatic Tuning", said Carl Braun of the Braun's Radio Shop.

The automatic tuners are easily set by the owner for the stations of his or her choice which are forever after available immediately at the touch of a button. Changes of stations can be made at any time by the mere turn of a button.

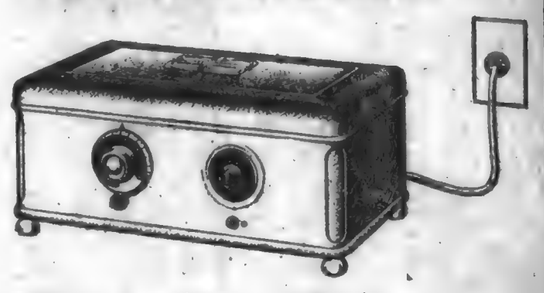
In Class of Its Own

In price, Majestic stepped into a class by itself this season. The remarkable price and quality combination was explained by Frank Knoderer, East Side Majestic dealer. "The whole secret of Majestic's amazing prices and quality," he said, "rests in the fact that everything about Majestic cabinets, chassis, electric power, and the Majestic dynamic power speaker all are built from raw materials in the Majestic plants. This fact, plus creation of the demand for Majestic radios, enables Majestic to produce a radio set of high quality at a low price.

Kolster Shows 16 Models

An unusually wide field of 16 models in electric and battery sets, to meet varied home conditions, and new artistic cabinets in both table and console models, are the features of the 1928 Kolster radio line, Carl Braun and Frank Knoderer each have several of the models on display in their stores.

Skeels' Add Two Lines



Brunswick Radiola and Fada radio are the two new lines which W. L. Skeels and Son at 410 South Ohio avenue have added to their extensive stock of musical instruments. This firm has been the leading East Side Bosch, Grebe and Crosley sales room for several seasons past.

In adding Brunswick Radiola and Fada radios they believe that they are in a position to meet any individual demands which a prospective radio owner may demand.

Although Brunswick is new in radio, they have placed themselves in a distinctive class in years past and are gaining rapidly in the radio field.

BEXLEY TEAM LOSES THREE BY INJURES

Burton Elder Tears Ligaments In Knee at Practice; Byall And Palmer Are Out

Bexley's football team seems to be pursued by the injury "jinx." Three of its hopes for an outstanding team this season are out because of injuries, two of whom are out probably for the entire season.

The latest victim is Burton Elder, 911 College avenue, who tore a ligament in his knee while trying out for a half back position Tuesday. He is able to attend his classes but will be kept off the football field for three or four weeks.

Mack Byall, 2384 Bryden road, sustained a scalp wound when he was struck by the motorcycle of Robert Betzinger on the first day of school, is unable to try out for a center position and Bob Palmer, 340 South Parkview avenue, captain and star halfback, will not be able to don togs this season because of a leg injury sustained at his summer camp in Michigan.

Byall is being kept out of school by his injuries.

LECTURES, MUSIC ARE COMBINED IN WINTER'S COURSE

Two Speakers, Violinist, Quartet, Singer, Pianist and May Festival Announced

GROUPS COMBINE EFFORTS

Combined efforts of the Capital University Culture club and the Capital Unversity Conservatory of Music have effected the arrangement of an unusual series of lectures and musical numbers for the coming winter season. The course includes four concerts and two lectures, opening October 30 with a concert by Miss Gray-Lhevinne.

Miss Gray-Lhevinne, young American musician of international fame, is not only one of the most interesting personalities in the musical world, but also one of the greatest women violinists. She will appear in the first number of the series in Mees Hall.

Dr. Edwin E. Slosson, head of "Science Service," a syndicated news bulletin serving papers throughout the country, will speak on November 5. Dr. Slosson, who has built up "Science Service" from its foundation, will lecture on the subject "Creative Chemistry," based upon his book of the same name.

FAREWELL TO FLONZALEY

The appearance of the Flonzaley Quartet in Mees Hall November 24 will mark the farewell concert by this organization, for they will disband after this season.

The fourth number on the series will be a lecture by Louis K. Anspacher, dramatist and critic, who will speak on the subject, "Drama as a Social Force in a Democracy." Mr. Anspacher is not only a dramatist, but he is one of the finest orators in America today. This lecture will be December 6.

STORY HOUR TIME IS ANNOUNCED

"Story hour time" for children in the first and second grades of the Cassingham road and Main street school buildings in Bexley will begin Saturday, according to announcement made by Mrs. Sarah Bilby, librarian. Miss Ruth Laudahn, new assistant, will be in charge and will tell one long story and one short one.

Miss Paula Hemminghaus, contralto, and Sergei Barsukoff, pianist, will appear in joint concert in Mees Hall, January 24. The concluding number of the series will be the annual May Music Festival, in which Capital's leading musical organizations will take part. Numbers by the concert orchestra, choral union, band and Varsity Glee club are on the program.

Bexley College Student Is Caught in Florida Storm at Jacksonville

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Manly, 425 South Parkview avenue, received a telegram Wednesday morning from their daughter, Miss Helen H. Miss Manly was not injured, but her train will be delayed at least one day.

The Bexley girl left Sunday for Lakeland, Fla., where she is to be a senior at South College, specializing in art. Lakeland lies in the 60 mile path which the storm took Sunday, but since it lies inland along the northern border of the path, Mr. and Mrs. Manly are hoping that that college escaped damage. Mr. Manly is a Bexley councilman.

CAP GIRLS FORM 1ST HOOVER CLUB

Seniors Join Organization and Circulate Petitions to Undergraduates

The first Hoover-Curtis club among the women students of an Ohio college was founded Wednesday at Capital university by Mrs. Depew Head, who, as vice chairman of the university bureau, has been appointed organizer of clubs among college women of the state.

Mrs. Head addressed women members of the senior class at a meeting Wednesday evening, at which President Otto Mees expressed his wholehearted support of the movement. Every member of the class joined the club and then formed a permanent organization with Miss Helen Bowers of Asheville as chairman; Miss Helen Wolter, of Bowersville, Michigan, secretary and Miss Ruth High, of New Washington, publicity director. The club has been named "The Capital College Women's Hoover-Curtis club."

Organization to include other women of the university will be completed Monday evening when Mrs. Head will address a mass meeting at the girls' dormitory. She will also address a meeting of faculty women Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the dormitory, with Mrs. K. G. Bush, 2424 Sherwood road, as hostess for the day.

Petitions of membership have been provided for the senior girls and they will go among the underclass women soliciting members. Members agree to wear Hoover buttons, to vote for Hoover and to influence their families to vote for Hoover.

ARE FINALISTS IN CHAMPIONSHIP RACE

Simpson Barton Team Plays Agonis In City Recreation Ball Wind-Up

The Simpson Barton Tire Co., whose recreation ball team won the championship of the Franklin Independent league, has entered the championship finals this week. The Agonis team, winner in the Noon Luncheon league, is to be its opponent, and since the teams are very evenly matched, the games will be hotly contested, experts say.

The first game of the championship finals was played Wednesday night at Franklin park; the second is to be played at Northwood grounds and if a third game is necessary, it will be played Monday night at Sunshine park.

Last week the Simpson Barton boys won from the West Market A. C., 4-0, and from Finneran shoes, the South champions, 5-1. Monday night they won from the Gasco team in the Industrial league, 3-1.

"TIMES" CLASSIFIED AD BRINGS FULL PAGE

One classified ad in the Eastern Times brought a full page ad to the paper. Just this little ad:

"APARTMENT WANTED—3 or 4 rm. furnished apartment wanted East. Private entrance and bath. Mr. Dickman, FR. 0620" resulted in the reaffirming of the opinion of F. W. Knoderer that the advertisements in The Eastern Times are read, and well read. It indirectly resulted in the full page Majestic Radio advertisement which Knoderer carried in our issue of September 14.

In fact Mr. Knoderer threatened to annihilate the entire "Times" staff if we ran another ad which kept his telephone as busy as did this one.

BIG YEAR STARTS FOR STUDENTS OF BEXLEY SENIOR HI

Senior Class Shows Increase of 400 Per Cent in Four Years — 1925-1929

GRADS HIGH STANDING

With a greatly increased enrollment, Bexley High school has started what promises to be the best year of its existence, both in numbers and in quality of scholarship, according to information obtained from the high school office by an Eastern Times reporter. The enrollment totals 325 boys and girls, a gain of 60 over last year.

In June, 1929, the senior class will graduate 70 pupils, a gain of 400 per cent over the class of 1925, when a class of 18 were given diplomas under the leadership of H. C. Dieterich, who came to Bexley as superintendent in the autumn of 1924. This year the freshman class numbers 115.

THREE NEW TEACHERS

The high school was quickly organized this year, regular classes having been held the first day of school. Three new teachers greeted the pupils: Miss Lucille Selbach, who was transferred from the English department of the Junior High school, and who had four years on the Zanesville High school staff before coming to Bexley; J. R. Ferbrache, teacher of science and mathematics, who had experience in Ohio High school and at Ohio Northern university, and Miss Leanore Valentino, graduate of Ohio Wesleyan university, who has taken over the physical education work among the girls.

The high school musical organizations, including the glee clubs, the band and the orchestra, are making rapid progress under Harold Grimm. The Girl Reserves and the Latin and Spanish clubs all have had programs this year.

ON ACCREDITED LIST

Bexley High school is on the accredited list of the North Central Association of Colleges, which means that all students who elect the proper courses may enter all the great universities of the Middle West without examination. Last spring the high school was inspected by George Morris, state inspector, who declared in a talk before the students that their school ranked among the best in the state. At present graduates who pursue the right courses and get high grades may go to Cornell and Dartmouth without examination. Two of last June's class, Charles Tracy and Arch Houstle, will enter Cornell this fall.

A large percentage of Bexley graduates go to colleges, choosing Ohio State, Ohio Wesleyan, Capital university and other Ohio institutions as well as Eastern ones. One of the enjoyable features of the school is the weekly chapel program, at which Dr. Otto Mees, Miss Mary Cannon of the Girl Reserves and Avery Clinger of the Citizens Trust and Savings Co. have spoken this year. Prof. George Eckleberry, vice president of Ohio State university, will speak at chapel next Monday.

FAMILY NIGHT FOR SOUTHWAY POST

The Auxiliary Unit to the Southway Post, No. 144, American Legion, will entertain with a family night for its members and their families Friday evening, Sept. 21 from 7 until 10 p. m. at the Washington Park shelter house.

Mrs. O. S. Schodorf, 558 Berkeley road, is chairman of the entertainment committee, which has arranged a program to be followed by refreshments and a get-together party.

PROWLERS REPORTED

Prowlers were busy in Bexley Monday evening, according to reports made to Bexley police. Mrs. Louis Mark, 2498 Sherwood road, called to report prowlers about 10:30 p. m. Mrs. Samuel Weinfeld, 509 Parkview avenue, reported that about 8:30 p. m. some one slammed the screen door and when she went to investigate she found a string tied to this door in the rear of the house, with someone pulling on it from the alley.

SEW FOR BAZAAR

Women of the Wilson Avenue Reformed church are asked to notify Claude Ready, 1309 Oak street, whether they can attend the all-day sewings Tuesday and Wednesday at her home. The women will make articles to be sold at the annual bazaar, the date for which will be announced later.

NO WORD HEARD FROM EVELYN GOLLADAY

No communication has yet been established with Miss Evelyn Golladay, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Golladay, 482 Oakwood avenue, who is teaching at Aguadilla, Porto Rico, in the very heart of the region devastated by the tropical hurricane of last week. Although Dr. and Mrs. Golladay have dispatched cables southward, they have gone through only as far as Florida, and as yet no cable communications have been perfected from Porto Rico.

Dr Golladay is pastor of Grace Lutheran Church. Enroute to Porto Rico Miss Golladay met her mother in New York when Mrs. Golladay returned from Europe, where she spent the summer as a member of the Luther pilgrimage party.

MEN'S CLUB IS TO CONTINUE SERIES

Bexley Community Organization To Give Programs of Dinners And Entertainments

The Bexley Men's club is to continue its dinner and entertainment series, which proved so popular last season, according to announcement made by C. L. Crippen, the president of the club. The first meeting will be held early in December in the new Bexley Methodist church, some time after its dedication, Dec. 2.

The program this season will consist of five meetings, instead of four as were held last year. Dinner followed by a program presenting an outstanding speaker or a well known musical group will be the mode of entertainment, the program to be free and open to the public. The committee is working on the complete program and will be ready to announce it within a week or two.

The Bexley Men's club is rapidly coming to be one of the outstanding community activities of Bexley. Although sponsored by the Bexley M. E. church, it is non-denominational and non-sectarian and provides the one social community enterprise in the village. Officers include C. L. Crippen, president; George G. Whitehead first vice president; L. C. Bush, second vice president; W. D. Lavely, secretary and H. D. Bangert, treasurer.

Tickets for the entertainments are to be had from any of the officers.

A. T. COPELAND CHOSEN

Alfred T. Copeland, 170 Ashburn road, has been chosen a member of the state committee of the Y. M. C. A. to represent the seventh district which includes Columbus.

East Side Pupils Need Home Encouragement In Gardening

"The Garden exhibit of the products of summer gardens raised by school children of Columbus show that pupils in the East Side schools need to be encouraged by their parents to learn the joys of gardening," George Strong of East High school, garden supervisor, told The Eastern Times in summing up the results of the exhibit held Friday and Saturday at East High. "Especially should they be encouraged to raise flowers, for they repay in beauty more easily than vegetables repay in money."

This comment was made by Mr. Strong in announcing the prize-winners, who received awards through the courtesy of F. A. Miller of the H. C. Godman Co., the donor of $1,000 to be used in prizes. Only seven firsts were taken by East Side pupils out of nearly 60 classes, he said.

What Is the Best Fate for Bexley?

Bexley folks have been asking themselves and East Side folks have been asking each other whether Bexley is to remain a separate entity or whether the attractive village is to decide to become a part of Columbus. Columbus city council may have been trying to crowd the decision by voting to annex Eastmoor, the Driving Park addition and land to the north of Bexley, thus surrounding the town on all sides.

So far village officials have refused to be crowded and rightly. Perhaps Bexley will eventually decide to be annexed; perhaps she will decide to become a city in her own right and continue her own government. Whatever she decides to do, the decision must come only after thorough investigation of both sides of the question: a thorough investigation of costs, of convenience and of civic duty.

All serious-minded citizens of Bexley realize that they are to be affected very definitely by the ultimate decision and they should be studying the question from all angles. The village council and the village officials have the matter very clearly in mind and they are making no decisions hurriedly nowadays, which will affect the future of Bexley, whatever the outcome. Let our Bexley residents be studying the question and be ready to indicate to their public servants, the elected officials, what their reaction is when the time comes for decision.

RAILROAD READY TO PROCEED WITH CROSSING WORK

Letting of Contracts Being Held Up While County Raises Its Share of Money

COMPLETION IN TWO YEARS

Plans included in the Norfolk & Western railroad grade crossing elimination program are ready and work will proceed as soon as minor details, such as impede the beginning of any such huge project, are smoothed out, W. I. Boulger, local counsel for the railroad declared Friday. At present, actual awarding of contracts is being held up to allow the county to devise a scheme whereby it can raise its share of the money, he said.

At the time the county bonds were issued several years ago, the agreement was that the railroad was to pay 75 per cent and the county 25 per cent. Labor costs were down then, so that money received from the sales of those bonds is not quite sufficient to make the 25 per cent today. The railroad has made a proposition to go ahead at once and pay more than its share, Mr. Boulger said, with the hope that contracts may be awarded within the next few days.

Work will be started south of the city at the Livingston avenue crossing. Engineers are to determine whether a permanent crossing will be erected at once at Livingston avenue on which to carry across work trains for the whole project, or whether a temporary crossing will be devised. Men will be placed at Mair and Broad street, also, so that preliminary work will be done simultaneously.

The railroad has received bids for the entire program and is hoping to award contracts next week. In anticipation telephone and telegraph poles have been moved already. After actual construction is started from 18 months to two years will elapse before completion.

A temporary crossing for street cars passing over the Main street crossing will have to be devised for a specially designed track, and the railroad already has on hands crossing frogs that will be needed.

WEEK-END RESULTS IN BIGGEST CATCH OF THIS SEASON

Frank M. Gould and son, Weldon 2599 East Main street, and Ralph Bailey, 761 Sheridan avenue, recently returned from a week-end fishing trip to Lake Erie, where they caught about 25 fish, weighing about 150 pounds in all. Among them was a two pound gold fish, and there were all sorts of other lake fish, weighing from one pound to three pounds each. All the friends and neighbors of the Goulds and of Mr. Bailey enjoyed royal feasts, for the catch was distributed with generosity.

Mr. Gould and his son considered their catch an unusual one, in view of the bad luck that has been meeting fishermen everywhere this summer. They have fished at Carp Lake, and 200 miles north into Canada and have spent many week ends at Buckeye Lake, but this trip to Lake Erie resulted in the only big haul of the season.

He will have to remain at Grant hospital for some time and will have to walk with a cane when he is able to be out.

Council To Ask Aid Of School Authorities In Solving Traffic Question At Buildings

Elm Street Sidewalk Controversy Settled by Compromise; Court Action Dismissed

TRACKS TO BE PAVED

The whole matter of protecting school children on their way to and from school and of regulating traffic for the best interest of those children is to be laid before Superintendent Dieterich by Councilman Manly with the idea of working out a system of cooperation between council and school authorities, by decision of Bexley council at its regular meeting Tuesday.

The traffic situation was brought up by a letter received from Paul C. Wright, 818 Sheridan avenue father of three children who attend the Main street elementary school. He complained because no traffic officer is on duty there, while at the Cassingham road school, there is an officer on duty in addition to the traffic light. He said that the traffic light at College avenue was no protection to children, because the amount of traffic turning onto Main street at College avenue resulted in their being no time when the crossing was clear.

Council expressed the opinion that because of the fact that the Cassingham school is a new one, with parents and children not trained to follow traffic regulations and with the number of street improvements going on in that vicinity, a traffic officer has been necessary. It was decided, however, to ask school authorities to cooperate by detailing the janitor or a teacher to watch the children morning, noon and afternoon, thus relieving the officer so that he can patrol all the streets of the village for traffic offenders, and make the whole village safe for pedestrians.

The entire question of traffic as it relates to school children was thoroughly discussed. It was decided to place a light at Broad street and Cassingham road, for the benefit of children in the north end of the village, the light to burn perpetually, instead of only at school hours as suggested by several councilmen. Chief of Police Gray suggested that parking be limited to the school side of Montrose avenue, while Solicitor Peters contended that it might be a proper school regulation to prohibit students from maintaining a car for the day.

The Elm street sidewalk controversy was settled by a compromise proposed by Attorney Stanley Schwartz: to let the sidewalks already laid between Cassingham and Ardmore remain and to place those between Ardmore and Remington next to the curb, five feet in width, the street to be graded to the lot line in conformity with the line of the sidewalk. The Elm street residents promised the dismissal of their court proceedings.

A petition asking for the vacation of Maryland avenue from Parkview to Alum Creek was tabled to permit conference with O. A. Miller, one of the petitioners, who was out of town. He was represented by Charles Pretzman and the other petitioner, Frank T. Rutherford, was represented by E. N. Huggins. A petition for the vacation of Ruhl avenue was referred to the engineer.

Council decided to take bids and award the contract at once for the paving of the street near the car tracks on Drexel avenue. The Railway Light Co. has promised to raise some of the joints of the tracks, but pointed out if they raised the entire tracks it would take four or five months for the ground to settle. Street Commissioner Shadrach was authorized to do repair work on the street, where bricks standing at an angle make driving dangerous.

Engineer Kennedy was authorized to lay sidewalks across driveways without altering the grade of the walks and to encircle trees where they lay in the path of the walks. Ordinances passed provided for the acquiring of real estate from Mr. and Mrs. Alvah Bancroft, jr. and from Miss Harriet E. Bancroft in order to extend Elm street and Remington road; levying assessments for the construction of a sanitary sewer in Park Hill drive; putting sidewalks on both sides of Cassady between Brentwood and Broad and between Main and Sherwood; improving Park Hill drive from Westland to Park drive; placing a lighting system on Stanwood road between Broad and Maryland; allowing the installation of an overhead feed line for poles on Drexel, Powell avenue and on alley east of Cassingham road.

ROCKS AND PIPES ON VILLAGE STREETS TO BE REMOVED

Bexley council is tired of permitting companies and individuals to leave obstructions on the village right of way and Tuesday started a movement to get rid of such obstructions. Solicitor Peters was authorized to write to the Hansberger, Marion & Berry Co., citing the prohibitory ordinance, in view of the fact that the company has left a pile of rock at the corner of Broad street and Cassady avenue for a year and a half.

BROKEN STEERING GEAR IS CAUSE OF QUEER ACCIDENT

Lillian Callif, 579 Gilbert street, a student at East High school, had an accident last week that she will not forget soon. She was driving from London to Columbus when the steering knuckle on the car broke, causing it to skid into some loose gravel. The car turned over and landed in an eight foot ditch, during which fall the steering gear came off, leaving Lillian still clutching the wheel. She was bruised and scratched and suffered the loss of a watch crystal and a pair of hose, while her companion, Mrs. Betty Neupoff of London, suffered a cracked rib.

LIGHT CABLE CUT BY ROAD WORKMEN

One Third of Bexley Streets In Darkness Due to Carelessness Of Highway Department

A third of Bexley streets were in darkness this week, due to the carelessness of employes of the state highway department, according to a report made to council Tuesday night by Water Works Clerk Barnett.

Last Friday a group of road men from the highway department were in Bexley repairing the markers giving directions for Route 40 and putting in some new standards, council was told. During installation they cut deep into the road without paying attntion to the position of cables for street lights and cut several cables and damaged others. The result was that the streets fed by circuits 3 and 4 were in darkness including the following territory:

North of Bexley park road on Drexel to the east corporation line of Broad street; Bullitt Park place; all of Stanberry addition; west of Drexel avenue to and including North Commonwealth avenue; the east side of Columbia avenue from Bryden road to South Commonwealth.

Although the matter was reported to the highway department at once, they had made no repairs by Tuesday night, Mr. Barnett said. A year ago the same thing occurred, he brought out, putting much of the village in darkness and the department agreed at that time never to put in new standards without getting a plan of the location of the cables.

Solicitor Peters was appointed to discuss the matter with the director of the department. The cost of repairing the cables will amount to about $100, Mr. Barnett declared.

ATHLETIC FIELD TO BE DEDICATED BY PRESIDENT MEES

Hugh Fullerton and Coach John Wilce Expected to Make Short Talk Also

DESIGNATED CAPITAL FIELD

Dr. Otto Mees, president of Capital university, will make the formal dedicatory address at the dedication program to be held on Capital Athletic field Saturday at 1:30 p. m. Hugh Fullerton internationally known sport writer, and Dr. John Wilce, coach at Ohio State university, are expected to make addresses.

The field, at Mound street, near Pleasant Ridge avenue, which will be designated as "Capital Field", was given to the university by the alumni, which group has promised also a stadium in the near future. It was used last year for baseball games, but its formal dedication was deferred until football games should start. The athletic authorities feel that the event marks the beginning of a new era in Capital's athletics and are inviting all members of the Varsity C association and all alumni.

The university band will start off the program, to be followed with singing of the school song. The addresses will come immediately afterward and will be short enough to allow the football game between Capital and Baldwin Wallace to be played at 2:30 p. m.

"LIQUID AIR" IS SPEAKER'S TOPIC

Elliott James, scientist and lecturer gave a helpful talk before students of Bexley High school last Friday morning, choosing as his subject "Liquid Air." He pointed out the possibilities of the use of liquid air and gave demonstrations.

In the absence of Vice President Eckleberry of Ohio State university, who was unable to appear because of press of duties in connection with registration, Superintendent Dieterich was the "pinch-hitter" at the chapel program Monday morning. He told the beautiful story, "The Keeper of the Streets." Dorothy Klingbeil sang two solos and Ruth Roberts conducted the devotional exercises.

MISS EVELYN GOLLADAY IS SAFE

Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Golladay, 482 Oakwood avenue, received a letter Tuesday from their daughter, Evelyn, who is teaching at Aguadilla, Porto Rico, in the heart of the storm area. Fears had been felt for her safety, as no word came last week from her. She told of going to the hotel for protection during the worst part of the storm and of finding the building where she taught roofless, when she returned. Her belongings were all ruined by the wind and rain.

Caught In Florida Train Wreck, College Student Met Hurricane

Waiting for relief day after day in a railroad car, the engine of which had jumped the track and was slowly sinking in the surrounding mud, while rain poured and wind howled, was the plight in which Miss Helen H. Manly, daughter of Councilman and Mrs. O. C. Manly, 425 South Parkview avenue, was left by the Florida hurricane. Miss Manly was enroute to Southern college at Lakeland, Fla., and was traveling just outside Jacksonville, when the storm caught them.

A letter written from the train Sept. 16 and received Monday by Mr. and Mrs. Monly describes the scene vividly:

"They say we are about eight miles from Jacksonville. It all happened because there was a washout ahead and the air brakes were put on quickly. Consequently the engine jumped the track and now it is sinking. It is still attached to the rest of the train and if it goes down too far we may turn over. The floor of one of the day coaches is about three yards above the floor of the car in back of it. I am in the third car from the rear, therefore, we did not feel the jolt quite as much as the cars ahead.

"It all happened so suddenly we didn't realize what it was all about until it was over. I was riding backwards and the lady opposite me was sitting facing me. All at once her head and my teeth came together. My upper lip was swollen where she hit me and although the swelling has gone down the bone in my nose is still sore. A man in the baggage car had a trunk fall on him, cutting his head badly, but aside from minor injuries the passengers are O. K.

"The accident happened about 9 o'clock Monday night and I didn't get undressed because they said the other cars might turn over any time. It is still raining and the wind is blowing hard. The washout is ahead of us and trees and telegraph wires have blown across the tracks, so that we could not move, even if the engine were all right. To the rear of us water has covered the tracks also. They say that we may be here for several days or possibly a week.

A postscript the next day goes on with the tale. "I am now on the train of Tampa Seaboard line, waiting for it to pull out of the Jacksonville station. It is three hours past time for it to start, as it is supposed to wait for a train that has not yet arrived. Well, the wrecker from Valdosta pulled us back on a switch about noon Tuesday. It had been on its way since midnight, but had to repair five washouts. We were taken to a trestle which had been washed away, but repaired so that passengers could cross, and then got on a relief train from Jacksonville.

"The north end of Southern college gym was blown down, I hear. The Jacksonville station is flooded and we had to walk on boards. The engine of our wrecked train has been turned over and left to sink, as it will take several days to get it out."

TREES FOR BEAUTY

More and more as people gain an increased amount of leisure time, as hours for workmen grow less, and as pioneer conditions pass away, we are thinking about beauty. And nothing gives a city beauty more quickly and more thoroughly than the presence of trees. The East Side can be proud of its abundance of trees, its mighty oaks and elms that rise in their majesty in front of our homes, making the simplest home beautiful and giving a shade that is appreciated by everyone who passes along the street.

Although the East Side, because of the fact that it is older than many other portions of the city and because it is more thickly built-up, suffers for want of playground space, still the very fact that it is built-up and that it is older as a residence center, results in an abundance of wonderful old trees. In some places man and progress have been bold enough to cut them down, as was the case when the double track was put through on Oak street; but in most of the streets, the original trees are still reaching out with their beauty and their shade.

We are of the opinion that the day will come when roads leading out into the country into all parts of the nation will be bordered with shade trees, as are the most beautiful of the East Side streets. What a joy it will be to drive along a shaded road, on the days when the sun is shining down its hottest!

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

DON'T CARE A "FIG"

THE expression "don't care a fig" or "no worth a fig" to signify indifference or disdain, is familiar in modern slang. One might say instead "I don't care—or that isn't worth—a snap of the fingers." And in this synonymous phrase we would approach the story of its origin.

For "don't care a fig" has no reference to the well-known fruit of that name. In this connection it is used for "fico," now archaic, which means an insignificant trifle, a snap of the thumb. "To insult with a fico," for example, is an expression, now obsolete, that was once familiar in everyday speech.

In various passages in Shakespeare we find the saying in both its old and modern forms. In Henry VI, we find "A fig for Peter;" in "The Merry Wives of Windsor," "Fico for the phrase"; and in Henry V, "the figo for thy friendship."

The Sunset Hour

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

DAY has been dark, and stooped with care,
But night is a roseate affair.
Many a day has come and gone,
The sunset lovelier than the dawn.
And so I do not mind the years
As my own sunset hour appears.
The flags depart, the bugles cease,
But evening shall have more of peace.

Let youth go forth to battle; youth
Cares more for triumphs than for truth.
Let youth seek treasures it may hold;
Age finds that there is other gold.
Let youth a kingly crown desire;
Age finds that fame and titles tire.
Let youth seek other splendors, I
Find beauty in the westward sky.

For one, the world to really know,
Must see it in the sunset's glow.
Though down the road the shadows run,
They point the pathway to the sun.
And, when the sun has passed away,
You who are young will have to stay;
For heaven youth will have to wait,
But we, the old, are near the gate.

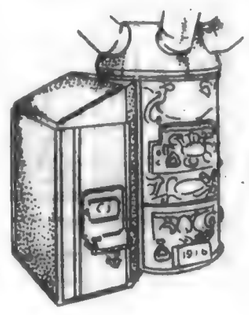
RADIO BATTERY DISAPPEARING

Socket Power Sets Featured By Practically All Exhibitors At Memorial Hall Show

Supremacy of the all electric radio receiving set was the most striking feature of the annual Columbus Radio Show, which opened Tuesday night at Memorial Hall.

Absence of the once popular battery-operated set is more pronounced than at any other previous local exhibition. Latest types of socket power sets were featured by practically all exhibitors.



Horn Disappearing

Dynamic cone speakers have displaced the former universally used horn type of speakers for the sets built without integral reproducers. More sturdy construction of cone speakers over the first models is evident to even the casual observer. The radio show just past ushered in for Columbus fans, a new era in radio. A new type of radio, one which resembled the old type in name only, made its initial appearance here before a public which had long waited for this day when the fickle contraptions of former years would graduate into the matured, dependable products they are now.

AMONG OUR MERCHANTS

One of the most outstanding features in the new deluxe, six-ply, balloon tire recently announced by the Miller Rubber Co. is the new process in compounding tread rubber that prevents cracking and checking from oxidation, according to Edward Looker, Miller tire dealer, 2248 East Main street.

The discovery and use of a new ingredient in compounding prevents rapid oxidation from the violet rays of the sun and, from heat and from other chemical actions of the air, chemists say, so that motorists can now carry this tire as a spare for an indefinite period. Formerly tires checked and cracked and went to pot merely from age, because the curing or vulcanizing process was continued after the tire left the factory and was put into service as a spare. Now the process of oxidation is arrested and motorists can carry the Miller de luxe without any fear of loss, Mr. Looker says.

Lookers have purchased the stock of the Ace Tire and Battery store, 2248 East Main street, and have added it to their stock in their Bexley shop.

ZONING COMMISSION GRANTS EXEMPTION

Florien Ziegler made application for exemption from the building ordinance of his premises at 48 South Stanwood road, before the zoning commission at its meeting last Monday evening. He asks permission to erect a dwelling with open porch approach, within six feet of the lot adjoining on the south. Since the owner of the house to the south, Mrs. Elizabeth W. Burba, has granted her consent, the zoning commission concurred in that consent.

Dana Westerman also appeared in regard to the residence for D. C. Dawson, 184 South Stanwood road, to ask for permission to building a projection of a true wall one foot in front of the building line. Building Inspector Dunlop was advised to allow this small exemption from the ordinance.

FOR THE GOOSE—

A MAN 'll get awful sarcastic about a woman not keepin' a secret he told her in the first place.

All men are jealous, but it's no compliment. They're just as afraid of losin' their back hair or the main button off their suspenders.

FOR THE GANDER—

The Scottish Rite temple in Washington is said to be reminiscent of the mausoleum of Halicarnassus, which was one of the seven wonders of the ancient world. It was designed by John Russell Pope.

CARS DAMAGED IN BEXLEY COLLISON

The Ford coupe belonging to C. J. Null, 1098 East Rich street, was the victim of a collision last Thursday when it was parked on North Remington road, one square north of Broad street. It was hit by the car driven by Neil M. Miller, who was coming south on Remington. No one was injured but both cars were damaged.

Triumph Over Ill Fate

Eighty-eight years ago, Miss Lucy M. Blanchard, of East Poultney, Vt., then a child, fell down the cellar stairs and was never able to walk again. Now at the age of ninety-one Miss Blanchard lives alone, gets her own meals and needs no attendant. "My wheel chair takes me around as my feet did," she says. When a young woman, she was able to get about on crutches, but she has not used them since 1856.

Not Fond of Change

The record of Jordan W. Coombs, of Belfast, Maine, who has lived in the same house for 80 years, is surpassed by Leason Martin, of Richmond, N. H. He was born on December 13, 1840, in a house that was probably built in 1835 and has lived there ever since—87½ years. He says that it seems pretty much like home to him now. Mr. Martin also has a record of attending 64 consecutive town meetings in Richmond.

THE WHY of SUPERSTITIONS

By H. IRVING KING

THREE LAMPS

TO HAVE three lamps—no more, no less—lighted at the same time in a room is accounted a bad omen by many thousands of people.

The genealogy of this superstition is defective. Some of the links of descent appear to have been lost in the course of the long ages—or at least the researches of the writer have failed to discover them. But the fact that by many people the three lighted lamps are considered a death omen gives us at least a clue to the origin of the superstition and connects it with two ancient beliefs:

First there is a suggestion of the lights which at certain dates were lighted by the ancients to guide back to their former dwellings the souls of the departed—a custom which is practiced today by many savage tribes and remnants of which are still to be found in continental Europe.

Secondly in three lamps—no more, no less—we get a hint of the peripatetic philosophy which gove-ned the schools as late as the Elizabethan era. This philosophy assigned to man three souls—the vegetable, the animal and the rational. "I scorn him with my three souls," says Ben Jonson in "The Poetaste," and in "Twelfth Night" Shakespeare makes Sir Toby Belch say, "Shall we rouse the night with a catch that shall draw three souls out of one weaver?"

It may well be that the underlying idea of the superstition is that three lighted lamps draw back the tripple soul of some dead member of the family and in superstitious lore returns of disembodied spirits are always looked upon with apprehension.

Too Dead for Him

Harry, who was six years old, had been taken to a museum in Muncie to see the collection of stuffed birds. When his father came home for dinner in the evening, Harry was encouraged to give his reaction to the collection at the museum.

"Tell father what you thought of the museum, Harry," said the mother.

"Well, dad," said Harry, "it was just like a dead circus. I'd rather go to the live kind."—Indianapolis News.

Wringerless!

No more buttons off

No more torn clothes

WHEN the wringer was taken off the latest EASY Washer, it was because a better method of extracting water from clothes had been found...The new method—which employs centrifugal force—has these advantages over the old:

It takes out more water than wringing does...It puts no strain on fabrics; does not crack silk or rayon garments. It cannot break buttons, nor injure hooks and fasteners. It does not stretch nor distort woolen garments...It leaves clothes evenly damp and free from deep, hard wrinkles. It makes drying much quicker. It makes ironing easier...Its operation is entirely automatic—and without an exposed part. It is safe!

The day of slowly feeding clothes into a wringer—piece by piece—is swiftly passing. With the new EASY Washer, an enclosed compartment replaces the wringer. It takes a whole batch of clothes at one time and whirls out the water in less than two minutes. All you do is move a lever. Things like feather pillows or blankets, which will not go through a wringer, are easily handled.

The fame of the EASY Washer was built on the vacuum principle of washing.

Like human hands, the EASY'S three vacuum cups move up and down and around—sixty-six times a minute—gently but positively cleansing, in an incredibly few moments. No garment is too dirty, no piece too bulky, no fabric too fine to wash perfectly in the new EASY.

We will gladly bring the new EASY to your home. A demonstration does not obligate you. And you can own an EASY on easy terms, with low monthly payments.

"A Community Newspaper For The East Side And Bexley"

Vol. II — COLUMBUS, OHIO, OCTOBER 5, 1928 — No. 4

Tax Rate For 1929 Set At $1.87 Which Is 7c Lower Than 1928

Decrease Is Due to Ract That Corporation Asked for Less Money For Year

OTHER VILLAGES HIGHER

The tax rate of Bexley corporation has been definitely set at $1.87, according to information furnished Friday to The Eastern Times by the auditor's office. This rate, which is lower than that for any other surrounding village, is one cent cheaper than was expected, when the tentative rate was fixed at $1.88. The high grade of employe at the municipal office, where heads of departments work many evenings as well as all day, are responsible for the economic management of the affairs of the village, Mayor Stephen Ludwig says.

The village rate for 1928 was $1.94 the reduction to $1.87 being due to the fact that the village is asking for $15,000 less for operation and has reduced the amount for the sinking fund nearly $20,000. The Bexley schools which have enjoyed a 20 per cent. increase in enrollment over last year asked for an increase of nearly $30,000 over last year for operating expenses and an increase of $20,000 for the sinking fund. The library which spent $11,160 last year asked for $13,702 for this year in view of increased library facilities when the new library is finished.

Figures for the village sumbitted to the auditor's office for 1929 are as follows: schools—$142,000 for operation; $63,281 for sinking fund: library—$13,702; corporation—operation, $75,000; sinking fund—$38,482. Last year the same figures were as follows: schools—$113,315 for operation; $43,005 for sinking fund; library—$11,160; corporation—$60,000 for operation; $58,431 for sinking fund. The 1929 rate has been set on the basis of no impairment of services in collecting garbage and refuse and in caring for parks.

That Bexley's new rate is low may be seen by comparing it with rates of other communities nearby: Columbus, $2.18; Grandview, $2.37; Upper Arlington, $2.18; Worthington, $2.45; Gahanna, $2.08; Westerville, $2.17; Marble Cliff, $2.33; East Columbus, $2.12; Dublin, $2.61; Reynoldsburg, $1.99 and Groveport, $1.90.

REV. DAVIS AND RASKOWSKI ARE CHAPEL SPEAKERS

The newly organized Leaders' club composed of boys of Bexley High school who are active in school affairs, arranged the chapel program given Monday morning at the high school chapel. Dr. Ralph Emerson Davis, pastor of Broad Street M. E. church gave an address, emphasizing the value of leaders in life and in school. Leo Raskowsky, all American tackle of the Ohio State football team, talked on "Good Sportsmanship", bringing out that before a man could be a good sportsman on the football field, he had to be a good sportsman in life.

Francis Lauffer, temporary chairman, presided and Paul Taber had charge of the devotions. A male quartet of the Leaders' club, composed of Burton Elder, Robert Palmer Francis Lauffer and Robert Woodward sang two numbers.

BEXLEY HIGH TORCH HAS FINE APPEARANCE

The staff of the Bexley High Torch is to be congratulated for the excellence of the first number of the paper for the season which appeared last Friday. The form has been changed from a four column six page sheet to a six column four page sheet, resulting in a professional looking paper which reads easily and in an interesting manner. The heads were well balanced and the news stories are clever and informative.

Francis Lauffer is the editor-in-chief; Paul Taber is business manager and Burton Elder, advertising manager. Marjorie Dieterich, associate editor, wrote the signed story on the front page. The business staff has sold enough advertising and taken in enough subscriptions to guarantee that the paper will be a financial success for the year.

Oak St. Fishermen Make Big Catch

In One Morning Get 17 Pound Muskallonge and Six Big Bass At Lake Scugog

Fishing that would thrill the heart of the most hardened seeker after adventure is reported by Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Beavers, 1715 Oak street, who with their daughter, Helen, have returned from a three weeks' stay at Lake Scugog, 150 miles north of Toronto. One forenoon the three of them took to the lake in a boat and came back for lunch with a muskallonge 42 inches long and weighing 17 pounds, and six bass, none of which weighed less than three or four pounds.

The muskallonge was caught by casting with artificial bait. Mr. Beavers brought the head of the fish home with him and their friends are interested to see that it has teeth an eighth of an inch in length. Mrs Beavers says that a 11 year old chap from Toronto caught a muskallonge which weighed 11 pounds. The fish is sliced for steak and is delicious in flavor and texture.

This is the second trip the Beavers have made to Lake Scugog and they declare that a resort where inexperienced fishermen can catch three and four pound bass is near enough to fisherman's paradise to suit experienced fishermen like them.

GIANT GUINEA BEAN SHOWN BY STOTZ CO.

A giant guinea bean, 54 inches, or four feet, six inches long, weighing 30½ pounds, has been placed on display by Harry Stotz in the window of the Edwin S. Stotz & Son, grocers, at Miller avenue and Main street. The vine, on which this curious vegetable was grown, was 30 feet long and produced nearly 500 beans, in spite of the fact that it grew from one seed. The average guinea bean, commonly called "hunky" bean, is about 12 inches long.

This bean was grown by Matt Balluf at Upper Sandusky, Ohio. The guinea bean is a rare specimen and a delicious when properly cooked. Some prefer it to the mushroom. The giant bean and the average-sized bean are shown side by side in the window, so that a comparison may be made.

$30,000 COSTLIEST HOUSE

A decided drop in building figures, both in number of permits and valuation is noted in the report made by the Bexley building department for the month of September. The valuation total for September, 1927, was more than twice as large as that of September, 1928, while permits for last year exceeded those of this year by 12. The valuation, however, is slightly larger than that of August 1928, even though the number of permits shows a drop as compared with August.

Twenty-two permits were granted in September, 1928 by Building Inspector Dunlop, their valuation amounting to $180,950. Eleven permits were for houses with a valuation of $165,400; two of them for remodeling with a valuation of $12,000 and nine of them were for garages with a valuation of $3,550.

Last year the 17 houses were valued at $316,000, this high figure being partly explained by the fact that a $125,000 house was built by Robert H. Beaton. The totals for last year were 84 permits valued at $321,890 In August, 1928 the totals were 38 permits valued at $173,800.

The biggest job for which a permit was granted in September was a two story stone and stucco house for W. C. Erdson at 145 Stanbery avenue to cost $30,000. William K. Daugherty is building a two story stone and stucco at 92 Stanbery avenue for $25,000 and O. M. Rose is building a two story stone and shingle with two car garage at 366 North Dawson avenue to cost $20,500.

Other permits were granted to Harry T. Young for a two story brick and stucco with garage at 2629 East Broad street to cost $18,400; O. M. Rose for a two story stone and shingle with two car garage at 374 Dawson avenue to cost $18,500; Joseph Sugar for a two story brick with two car garage at 2556 Sherwood road to cost $16,500; O. M. Blose for a two story brick and stucco with two car garage at 140 South Cassingham road to cost $10,000.

Adam Emig, two story brick and shingle with two car garage at 103 North Ardmore road, to cost $8,500; B. H. Edginton, two story stone and frame with two car garage at 215 South Remington road to cost $8,700; Florenz Ziegler, two story brick and shingle with two car garage at 48 S. Stanwood to cost $7,800; Mrs. John Isabel, two story frame with two car garage at 80 South Cassingham road to cost $4,750.

Walter Morrison is rebuilding the structure at 2260 East Main street, making a two story storeroom and apartment building at a cost of $8,000 and W. A. Bargar, 231 North Drexel avenue, is adding to and repairnig his dwelling at a cost of $4,000.

MOTORIST SMASHES CEMENT MIXER AND THEN DISAPPEARS

Bexley police have not yet been able to locate the motorist who ran into a cement mixer, owned by A. G. Pugh, contractor, as it was parked on North Cassingham road, north of Powell avenue, Sunday morning at 2 o'clock. The contractors said that they had left the mixer in front of a new dwelling which they were building and had left a light burning on it. The machine was completely demolished.

A Cassingham road resident told police that he had seen the motorist who collided with the cement mixer, trying to repair his car so that he could get away from the scene of the accident. By daylight Sunday both motorist and auto had disappeared.

The board has decided to withdraw from the community fund and conduct a seal sale in cooperation with the National Tuberculosis association and the Ohio Public Health association.

The seal sale will be conducted between Thanksgiving and Christmas under the direction of Mrs. Ralph W. Hoffman, executive secretary. Elliott, 680 College avenue, newly elected president, will preside.

IN ORDER TO VOTE YOU MUST REGISTER OCTOBER 11, 18 or 20

For those voters who did not register October 4, there are still three days set aside for the purpose, namely October 11, 18 and 20. No one can vote without registering on one of these four days, unless he is out of town on all of those days, according to John E. Crooks, clerk of the board of elections; who is making his usual appeal to voters to take care not to lose their votes because of their neglect of the preliminary necessity of registering.

For the benefit of those who move to a new precinct after they have registered in their old precinct, Mr. Crooks points out that they may call at the board of elections, 404 South High street, either on Saturday, November 3, or Monday, November 5, to obtain a transfer. Election booths will be open the afternoon and evening of November 5 to take care of such transfers, as they will not be handled on election day.

Any voter who has been more than 50 miles distant from Columbus on all of the registration days may go to the board of elections either on November 3 or November 5 and obtain an order permitting him to vote.

Voters in Eastmoor, which has been voted into Columbus by city council, will not be required to register this fall, and as usual Bexley voters will not be required to register.

THAT TRAFFIC PROBLEM

Residents of Bexley are to be congratulated for their civic spirit as evidenced by the large number who attended the regular council meetings and who make suggestions to their councilmen about solving certain village problems. The mayor and council frequently express their pleasure at being able to welcome visiitng citizens and the officials are always ready to consider the wishes of their constituents.

But it does seem as if more cooperation and help is needed in the problems which affect the welfare of the whole village, rather than that of one street or community. We have noted that larger turn-outs result when an apartment house is threatened in a one-family residence district or when a sidewalk is too wide and when a request is being made for the vacation of a street. Council needs cooperation on the traffic problem and few appear to offer their help.

The safety of children going to and from school and the safety of all pedestrians will never be guaranteed by laws, made by council, effective though those laws may be made. Safety can be guaranteed only by the cooperation of all, both autoists and pedestrians. The mayor, the council and the police force are asking autoists to drive slowly in school districts, to slow up at dangerous crossings, to stop speeding to make the green lights and to watch children playing along the sidewalks that any avoidable accidents may be avoided. It seems to be a simple problem, but unless everyone cooperates, it is a problem beyond the power and strength of any one man or group of men.

She is asking that the ministers and secretaries get in touch with her each week, as it means only one call for the church, while it means sixteen for the editor. Churches, if you consider The Eastern Times is giving you any valuable publicity, please cooperate with us to that extent. We are glad to use notices of any special services or any extra news.

SERVICE MEASURED NOT BY GOLD BUT BY THE GOLDEN RULE
Once Upon a Time the cost of funerals, in proportion to what one received, was too high. Some people have never forgotten that fact.
Today, however, one may call upon this splendid organization of ours with a definite assurance, that the cost of the complete service will be known IN ADVANCE, and determined entirely by the family, or those in charge of the arrangements.
